One tale eminating from the Hilltop's recent "bean extravaganda" has it one bean lover with a yen for a little extra flavoring carried a bottle of Heinz catsup in his hip pocket contents of which were used generously by him and his friends.

M. P. Haines, 113 Whitethorn-av, guessed to a bean the number on display at Penfield's Market. The count 1989 beans.

In Brief

Helen Tannahill, of the First Federal Savings and Loan, will return next week from a 16-day trip to California. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hartley, manager of the Grenfield Times, left last Saturday for that same sunny clime.

C. J. Kohn, local mortician, has been "unofficial" vice-president of Seiller's department store for many years now. C. J. classifies himself as "a dollar-a-year man."

Howard "Mose" Gentry has had seven collegiate offers to play football this fall including Ohio State and Capital U.—will more than likely take Cap.

That balloon seen soaring over the Goodyear corner on Broad-st, looks as if it could stand a little more air.

Millikin Hardware, 2420 W. Broad-st, founded in 1904, has the same numerals as a phone number RA. 1904.

Bill Metzmajer, ex-Hilltop posey man, is now in the employ of Uncle Sam in the postal department. Since taking his new job he has carried 10 or more different routes on the Hilltop.

They Always Come Back

Pat Schrock, ed. of the Greenfield Times, relates the story of the "Thomas Cat" strayed away more than three years ago that returned to his abode last week none the worse for his long outing. Thomas was a favorite pet of most of the business people of that town.

RADIOERS

Among the unusual requests that come to this desk for editorial backing or reform comes a plea for neighborly consideration of the rights of those who may not enjoy another's radio played at top volume of at unseemly times of day and night. We quote from a letter received in this morning's mail unsigned but nevertheless sincere:

"From early morn 'till past midnight radios roar out their raucus din. Different programs snap, snarl and scream at each other in the battle of the sound waves. It's difficult to get any sleep. Then comes the dawn and there begins an agenda of radio rampage probably 4-fold worse than yesterday's!

"So it goes; one and on! Louder and louder scream the radio loudspeakers. It's enough to drive half of our citizens mad. The other half doesn't seem to know that they are devoid of ecsamon courtesy and Christian consideration. The noise is enough to drive us all far, far away. We're all going nuts.

"Help! The Raucus Radio-ers must be told! Something must be done to save the populace! Reform! Change! Stop it!

"Listen, dear neighbors, lend an ear. Have a heart!

"Tone down your radios!"

Fire! Fire! Fire!

As a volunteer fireman Ray Coffman may not get on the job quite as soon as the smoke eaters on the big red wagon but he gets there and with equipment, too, Tuesday the Coffman Electric service truck caught on fire up on N. Oakley-av. The fire department was summoned and responded to the blaze quickly. Another phone call notified the store that the truck was ablaze. No sooner had the firemen extinguished the flames until up the street in a dead run comes Ray Coffman, fire extinguisher in hand.

From Here and There

George Guster post cards from Grimley, Mich. Says the temperature up there has been around 62 in the a. m.'s. "No fish yet but just wait," says optimistic George.

Clarence, the big game-fish fisherman from out at Westgate Garage, will be off to the North woods come Sunday. An annual visitor to the north lakes, Clarence Beaver and his party fish only for the big "Muskie." The party, made up of Clarence, the Mrs., son Gene, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Beavers, 1715 Oak-st, will leave for a three weeks trip to Brockin, Canada. Last year they got 31 fine specimens.

Dr. R. J. Miller and party are just back from a fishing trip to Wisconsin. Walter Davis, better known as Duke, and Curt Roberts, of the Yost Florist Shop, are dragging Chesapeake Bay this week in quest of some real fish. Walter says if he doesn't have better luck than in Michigan "never again."

Mayor Gessaman Has Had Varied Offices

Editors Note: This is the second in a series of articles on the Columbus Mayoralty candidates.

By John Hoot

MYRON B. GESSAMAN

Myron B. Gessaman, for the past term mayor of Columbus and now candidate for reelection on the basis of his administrative record in that office, was born in Youngstown, Ohio, 44 years ago. He received his primary and secondary education in the public schools of that city. He then entered the Western Reserve university at Cleveland. He interrupted his studies here to enlist in the overseas service of the United States Army. After the war in which he served for ten months in both Italy and France, Gessaman returned to the university and resumed his studies.

He graduated from law school in June, 1920 but incidentally had been admitted to the Ohio bar the previous year. Shortly afterwards he moved to Columbus and in 1923 was appointed assistant city attorney by Charles A. Leach, who at the time was serving his fifth year as city attorney.

In this office Gessaman established a reputation as an efficient defender of the city in its damage claims cases and also figured prominently in aquiring the property for the present civic center.

In 1928 he resigned his position and was appointed assistant prosecuting attorney of Franklin county. He held this position for three years, further building his reputation as an able prosecutor.

Was Representative

In 1932 Gessaman was elected state representative and was returned to that post in 1934. During his second term he was chosen Republican floor leader by the members of his party. It was also during this term, that he was endorsed for mayor of Columbus by a city Republican caucus in Memorial Hall. He was elected and took up his duties as head of the city government on January 1, 1936.

Two years ago Gessaman was appointed by Mayor La Guardia of New York City as a member of the advisory board of the United States Conference of Mayors. Later he was appointed as a member of the Urbanism Committee of the American Municipal Association, which was organized for the purpose of bringing about a better understanding between the cities and the federal government in regard to interrelated and overlapping problems.

As a member of a committee of the American Bar association organized for the same purpose, Gessaman has been interested in legislation for the promotion of slum clearance and federal housing.

Vice President

Three years ago he was elected vice-president of the Ohio League of Municipalities, an organization composed of mayors and other elected city officials whose main purpose is to sponsor legislation beneficial to cities, towns, and villages.

At the time of the writer's interview, July 14, 1939, Mr. Gessaman, feeling that it was yet too early in the campaign, refused to discuss campaign issues or problems facing the city.

Questioned as to his present relations (smooth or rough?) with the Republican party organization, he said:

"I want no inference made, that I'm antagonistic to the Republican organization. I've always worked for the best interests of the Republican Party and I always intend to. There is no such thing as a feud between me and the Republican organization. I want the support of all Republicans in the city."

HOGS DON'T WEAR HATS

I heard Pat say as he forked up hay
That he was mad as a hornet one day
I asked him the cause and with a brief pause
These words to me he did say.

I am looking for a guy who can tell me just why
A guy with wisdom of [illegible]
Why slim men and fat say I should wear a big hat
While driving my hogs to town.

These hogs are mine and they all look fine
And I will wear any hat I can get
I bed'em and fed'em and with great care I bred'em
And no one has cause to fret.

I heard a friend say in a positive way
And I don't call his words divine
Bes he to me 'Pat' if you wear a big hat
They can tell which one is the swine.

A REAL Improvement

The above illustrations give a clear-cut example of the type of home improvements which may be financed through the Federal Housing Administration's Property Improvement Credit Plan. Both views are the same kitchen, transformed from the dull-appearing room in the upper view into the bright, cheerful work-lightening kitchen in the lower view. The sink is banked with ample cabinet and work space which helps expedite the preparation of meals.

Many Accidents Result of Failure to Give Correct Signal

Section 6310-22 of the general code of Ohio states: "Drivers of vehicles before turning, stopping or changing their course, shall make sure such movements can be made in safety and shall cause signals to be made of their intention in a way visible outside the vehicle."

There were causes in direct violation of the statute quoted above, over 450 accidents on the state highways outside of municipalities during 1938, according to Traffic Safety, a booklet devoted to safety and issued by the state highway department.

Law Indefinite?

So many individuals excuse themselves for the failure to signal their intentions of turning by saying that the law is so indefinite. They don't know just what is the proper method of signalling. Always—if you don't know the proper way to signal, or if there is a question in your mind—simply thrust your arm out of the window, the writer of Traffic Safety suggests.

Who hasn't heard the angry remark, "Why didn't you stick your hand out." And immediately we have bristled up with an antagonistic attitude even when we knew we were wrong.

Correct Method

The accepted methods of signalling are simple, the Traffic Safety booklet points out. The arm extended horizontally from the car shows the intention of stopping. The arm raised slightly above horizontal signals for a right turn, and when the arm is lowered slightly from a horizontal position is means a left turn.

After the signal of intention has been given, the motor operator should look to see if the turn—or stop—can be made in safety, both for himself and for other motorists or pedestrians. The General Code further states that "there shall be a clear view to the rear of their vehicle by direct view or by mirror."

To see what is behind you when making a turn or stopping is when you use this mirror. Above all, in the operating maneuver, as in all other driving, be alert.

Round About The Hilltop

Seventh Man Assist

Hugh, down at Charley Kent's food emporium, was credited with an assist from the bleachers last week in the game with Columbus Coated fabrics down at the hospital diamonds. It happened like this.

Hugh was on the bench back of home plate. His team was in the field with the bases loaded. A throw came in wild from third out of the catcher's reach. Unconsciously Hugh scooped the ball up from his position on the bench. Momentarily he realized he had no business with the ball and shoved it in to the catcher. The catcher tagged the runner out at home and then began a series of wild throws that permitted the opponents to score three runs. In the confusion the umps never saw the "eleventh man" assist at home.

10th Ward Post To Be Filled Soon

Uneasiness in the ranks of West side and Hilltop Republicans was evident again this week upon announcement of the selection of a committeeman from the Ninth Ward to succeed Charles E. Edmiston, 167 W. Park-av, who resigned his post last fall.

Stewart Wagner, of 887 W. Richst, has been recently named to the post left by Edmiston. He is a provisional appointee of the state highway department.

Since Edmiston's resignation Mrs. Ida Hamilton, Souder-av, has been filling that post.

Several Republicans of the Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh Wards have expressed their dissatisfaction with the approval of Wagner by County Chairman William Schneider. Their claim is that he has not been active in party work.

It is believed the appointment will be made soon from one of the following:

Harry Haddow, 300 Columbian-av; Cecil Kahes, 152 Highland-av; John Moore, 57 S. Wheatland-av; Jarred Little, 464 S. Wayne-av; Frank Hogan, 36 Hayden-av; M. B. Chaffin, 645 Wrexham-av; Earl Brougloe, 536 Nashoba-av.

Hilltopper Heads Industrial

RELATIONS

George A. Strain Has Been "Tinner," Soldier, Labor Leader

A soldier, sheet-metal worker and an industrial leader. Those three positions cover, in an outline form, the past life of George A. Strain, 140 S. Roys-av, now head of the Industrial Relations department of the state of Ohio.

George Strain

Born March 16, 1890 in Adrian, Mo., the Strain family moved to Ohio shortly after the birth of George. He was admitted to the O. S. and S. O. Home at Xenia, O., in 1904, graduating from that same institution in 1910. While at the Xenia home Strain studied the sheet-metal trade and secured a position as a "tinner" in an Akron plant shortly after graduation.

World War Vet

Later he went to Springfield where he worked for a short time in a second sheet-metal shop. With the war scare in 1913 Strain enlisted in the regular army at Springfield and was stationed at the Ft. Hayes barracks on Cleveland-av. He spent a few months in Mexico chasing Pancho Villa during the Mexican uprising and shortly after was sent to the Philippine Islands where he served for two years.

With the entrance of the United States into the World War in 1917 Strain joined the artillery and saw service for 22 months overseas with the second division of the 15th Artillery unit. He is now a member of Franklin Post No. 1, American Legion.

Columbus In 1928

Strain came to Columbus in 1928 following service as an active officer in labor unions. He was named as secretary of the Columbus Trades Council, an organization composed of 19 unions in the building trades, a short time later. He also served in the capacity of business agent for that organization.

With the announcement prior to the campaign of John W. Bricker

Four Outfits Are Round

WINNERS

Two Other Local Entries Undecided For Champ Series

Four Hilltop softball teams were sure of positions in the city-wide "Champ of Champ" series this week and possibilities were such that two others might secure places in the meet are the season ends. According to Warren Gerber of the City Recreation department the series will probably get under way shortly after Aug. 21.

Winners of the first and second rounds respectively in the West church league No. 1, Calvary Presbyterian and Rose Memorial Presbyterian are to be representatives from the Westgate park Monday night circuit. The Presbyterians gained the second round flag with a convincing 6-3 win over Calvary last Monday for their sixth straight win. In the other contests St. Aloysius rapped Glenwood M. E. 13-4 for the Methodists sixth successive setback.

Win 13 Straight

The third seat in the city championship series goes to the West Park M. E. aggregation for its work in winging the initial two rounds in the West church league No. 2 and having compiled a record of four straight in the third set along with 13 successive wins in the league without defeat. The Methodists won two Monday night at McKinley-av playground when the number two outfit, Avondale U. B., was the victim of an 8-5 victory and Highland Avenue Friends fell by an 8-0 count.

Ed Eberhard twirled the first contest for the winners and Chuck Alford came back in the number two fracas to blank the Friends. Alford turned in a two-hitter and each pitcher banged out a homer while doing mound duty.

In other twin-bills Monday Hillcrest Baptist won two, a 5-5 decision over Hilltop C. of C., and a 15-0 walk-away from Hoge Memorial No. 2, while Highland Avenue Friends won over Hilltop C. of C. 6-2 and Avondale eked out a 2-1 win over Hoge.

Kent's Assured

Only one team in the Hilltop Merchants league is assured of a place in the series, that being Kent's Modern Market. The Grocers won the second round with a 5-0 record and have yet to engage Corner Cafe in a first-round playoff to decide the winner of that round.

Trampled on quite a bit during the opening two rounds, the Spears Funeral home combine has won three in a row in the third set. They edged McDonald Lumber 2-0 their last time out to take the lead. In the other contest played at Westgate park Thursday last, Corner Cafe spanked Kent's 8-1.

In two-bills last night Corner Cafe was to meet McDonald Lumber and then Westwood K. of P.; Spears was pitted against the K. of P. men and the Sullivant Avenue Merchants, and Kent's was to play the Sullivant Avenue Merchants and the McDonald Lumbermen.

Here's List Of Vacation Days

First vacation for Columbus school children after resumption of classes Sept. will be Monday, Oct. 10, when the Central Ohio Teachers' association meets in Dayton.

Charles L. Dyer of near Rome, who was seriously injured June 26, in an accident which claimed the life of his 13-year-old grandson, Leland Dyer, 270 Nashoba-av, filed suit in common pleas court this week for damages amounting to $75,000 against the Ohio Cartage Co.

Cyclers Compete At Shelby Races

Hugh and Dick Smith, Jim and Jack Roberts and Mary Starbuck, accompanied by their coach and sponsor, Bert Ray, of Ray's Cycle shop, left Columbus early Thursday, Aug. 3, for Shelby, where the state final races were held on that day.

Ray's Western wheelmen have won city and central Ohio championships. Through their help the national championship bicycle meet will be held in Columbus in September.

Sunday they will ride to Delaware, leaving at 11 a. m.

Rides are also scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday evening of each week at 6 o'clock.

Cyclists past 16 years of age are invited to join the club.

Bowling League To Re-organize Tuesday

With the opening date tentatively set for Aug. 26, and improvements for the bowling pleasure of Hilltoppers being planned, the first meeting of the Tuesday Night bowling league will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., at the Hilltop Bowling Alleys.

The meeting is planned in order to re-organize the Tuesday night league. Plans are being made to balance the competition in the circuit making it an 800 league with members carrying 160 averages.

The new pin-setting machines, cushions and kick-backs are being installed and the re-surfacing of the alleys is now under way.

Progress Edition Of Record To Be Published Sept. 8

The Hilltop has much to be proud of. In fact it has so much to be proud of that it affords a special occasion for a little "crowing" and all these laudatory words and photos will be contained in a special Progress Edition of the Hilltop Record to be published on Sept. 8.

Work has been started on this big special edition of the Record which will appear in tabloid form and contain a complete word and picture story of the Hilltop as it is today, the most progressive and substantial community of the city.

Special photographs are now being taken and all organizations of the community are invited to participate by being represented in the edition. Suggestions will be gratefully accepted as will photographs of new homes, buildings and individuals of the community. The editor will reserve the right to use only such material that is in keeping with the theme of the edition.

Publishers of the Record promise that this will be by far the most outstanding edition of the paper ever published and will surpass the Historical Progress edition of a few years ago. Several thousand extra copies will be distributed. Details will be available to advertisers.

Begins Twenty-Fourth Year As

JANITOR

John Bostic Came To Columbus During Depression Of 1913

School Will Start September 5; Matilda Stuart Is New Principal

The nights are becoming a little cooler, the days shorter, and with the return of the fall weather will come the return to school for the Hilltop's younger set. The opening date for the Columbus public schools is set for Sept. 5, and janitors at the local schools are preparing their halls of study for the coming of the Hilltop's young populace.

Out at the West Broad elementary school, John Bostic, a Hilltopper practically all of his life, is beginning his twenty-first year as janitor at the local school and his twenty-fourth as an employe of the Columbus Board of Education. He resides at 140 N. Eureka-av.

New Principal

Bostic readily recalls his many associations with Miss Harriet Judd, former principal at West Broad, who retired at the close of the last school term. Miss Judd had spent 30 years teaching in Columbus schools, 28 of which were on the Hilltop at West Broad. The new principal at the local elementary school will be Miss Matilda Stuart, 197 Highland-av, former principal at Highland Avenue elementary school.

Born in Galion county, Bostic spent his early years on a farm. He came to Columbus in the fall of 1913 during one of the nation's depression periods when, as he describes it, "they were laying people off by the hundreds." He rented a residence on the Hilltop and has lived here ever since.

Began In 1916

He began his work with the school board in 1916, and except for a few years of service in other Columbus schools, he has supervised the building at the corner of Hague-av and W. Broad-st. Bostic was born Feb. 24, 1873 and has yet to serve seven years before retirement by the state board of education. In discussing a recent bill of the state legislature which called for retirement of janitors at 65, (vetoed), he said, "Lots of janitors are just as good at 65 as they ever were."

Married to Cora Bostic in 1897, he has one daughter, Mrs. Mary Sullivant who lives in Linden. He recalls the Hilltop of old, a large corn-field on S. Burgess-av, and west of Hague-av on the south side of W. Broad-st all farm-land. Also former farm-land was the Westgate section, from Powell-av west.

Likes To Fish

Although not an accomplished fisherman, Bostic does like to fish whenever he can find time. His principal hobby, however, is farming and shortly before his retirement he plans to buy a few acres of ground for farming purposes near the city.

Other employees at the school under Bostic are Frank Westall, 1900 Sullivant-av, and William C. Brooks, 181 Clarendon-av. Brooks is two years the senior of Bostic and will retire shortly before him. Another Hilltop janitor who has seen many years of service is Frank Kreuter, 485 Belvidere-av, a janitor at John Burroughs elementary school.

Bostic likes children, and said that the many boys and girls he has seen come and go at West Broad are just like the average. Many children come nearly a mile to school at the local institution and he thinks with a new school in Westgate addition, if and when one is erected, the new section of the Hilltop would grow much faster. The addition is progressing rapidly and in time it will probably require a new school building.

"Lewis for Mayor" Rally Is Tonight

Opening a series of meetings that will be held in the 10th Ward in behalf of John M. Lewis, a "Lewis for Mayor" rally will be held tonight at 8 at 37 Hayden-av.

Mrs. Ethel George, a former member of the school board, and Attorney John Ward, will be the principal speakers. Charles Middleton, 10th Ward Democratic Committeeman, will preside. The public is invited.

PLAN RE-DEDICATORY SERVICES AT ST. PAUL

Re-dedicatory services for the re-opening of the auditorium of the St. Paul Evangelical Congregational church following its remodeling will be held Sunday, Aug. 20, it was announced this week. Bishop C. H. Mengel of Allentown, Pa., will be the principal speaker.

CONVALESCING AT HOME

Billy Born is convalescing at his home, 936 S. Harris-av, from a fractured knee he received in a fall. His friends are all welcome to come and see him.

Welch Passes Bar Examination

Among the 285 successful applicants in the June Ohio State Bar examinations was Russel S. Welch, 364 S. Brinker-av. He was one of the 25 Franklin county residents who passed the test.

Welch, 30, is a graduate of Central high school and Franklin university.

Convalescing

Recovering from a recent operation is Mrs. C. C. Wilcox, who broke her pelvis bone when she fell from a second floor window at her summer home, 4840 Trabue-rd. A Hilltop woman, Mrs. Wilcox is now at Mt. Carmel hospital.

SEILLER HAS SALE

Seiller's semi-annual remnant sale will begin Wednesday and continue to Thursday, Aug. 31. The doors will open at 9:30 a. m. Reductions have been made and the store will feature a close-out on all summer merchandise to make room for incoming fall stocks.

Hilltop Police Always On Job

Even though they are not on duty on regular details, Hilltop members of the Columbus police department are always on the job, as was shown in a special instance Monday evening.

Detective Sergt. C. C. Cole, 214 N. Chase-av, was sitting on his front porch when he saw a man prowling around a neighbor's house. As Detective Cole arose from his seat the prowler ran.

Soon four other officers, Patrolmen Bernard Shoaf and Norwood E. Folk, 167 N. Chase-av, and Corporals George H. Tiller, 196 N. Chase-av, and Charles E. Frances, 217 N. Chase-av, were aiding in the search. Later the prowler, who gave his name as Carl Braithwaite of West Jefferson, was apprehended.

In the future Braithwaite will know better than to prowl on N. Chase-av. The 40-year-old West Jefferson man will have to pick out a neighborhood minus a "colony" of policemen.

Cruea Announces New Low Rates

Beginning Monday and continuing throughout the remainder of the summer, children up to 14 years of age will be permitted to swim at the Hilltop swimming pool on Mondays and Fridays for 10 cents each, Charles A. Cruea, manager, announced this week.

In line with the new rates for the two days only 15 cents will be charged on those days for the older children and the parents. Co-operating with the City recreation department on the project, Cruea said the children must be clean and lifeguards will be stationed at the entrances to inspect the swimmers for cleanliness.

Tomatoes

Grown As Hobby

Hobbies, the extra-curricular activities of many of the Hilltop's business men, sometimes produce excellent results as can be attested by three Hilltoppers who reside on Crescent-dr.

A recent discussion of tomatoes by a group of business men while lunching at the Davis Restaurant brought a report from Dr. Fred Sulzberger, local optometrist, that his neighbor, John D. Ison, 2942 Crescent-dr, had several tomatoes larger than anything he had ever seen.

A trip to the Ison residence readily established the fact that Ison, a former farmer and at present a concrete contractor, has grown some fine specimens of that American dish. In addition to the tomatoes he has beans and strawberry plants in his garden directly behind his home, and a heavily laden pear tree.

Between the two residences, that of Ison's and Sulzberger's, is a fine looking flower garden, the work of the two missus'. The men take care of the small garden which each is cultivating across the street at 2950 Crescent-dr. Dr. J. H. Czatt has for his spare time activity a flower plot. The gardens and lawns throughout this Hilltop area show that much time and care have been given to their cultivation.

Hilltop To Get New Fire Truck

A new fire truck, costing approximately $13,000, will be delivered to the Wheatland-av fire station in about two weeks, it was announced this week. The Wheatland-av station is the lone one on the Hilltop and the truck, a 750 gallon pumper, will add to the safety of local residents during fires. The Seagrave Co., builders, had hoped to finish the truck this week but unforseen difficulties interferred.

P. A. Malvick Opens Barber Shop

Announcement was made this week of the opening of a new barber shop at 17 N. Westmar-av by P. A. Malvick, a Hilltop resident. He has been in the barbering business for over 30 years.

He is now remodeling the shop.

Mr. Malvick is a member of the American Legion.

The Earl Pfaltzgraffs have gone rural minded having recently purchased a four-acre tract and stable at 4490 Dublin-rd. Their modern stable boasts a knotty pine tack room and houses "Lady", Mrs. Pfaltzgraff's gravel mare. Evenings and Sundays finds them and their friends partaking of the fun and relaxation.

as for governor, Strain was the only labor official to publicly announce his support. He was a delegate of the Columbus federation of labor for several years.

Six Divisions

The present set-up of the Industrial relations division is divided into six sections; mines and mining, labor statistics, boiler inspection, examination of steam engines, factory and building inspection and the minimum wage. The office of the department is located in the State Office Building.

Under Strain's supervision are 200 employes, many of whom are scattered throughout the state serving as inspectors. Only experienced men are hired as inspectors. Different types of inspectors call for different tests. For instance, a boiler inspector must hold a license for at least four years; an elevator inspector must pass a certified examination.

Likes To Fish

Although time seldom permits him to do so, Strain is extremely fond of fishing and hunting. He shuns a short sojourn into nearby fishing waters when the cares of his office slacken up a bit. For short week-end excursions Strain has a retreat in Shawnee Hills, located north of Columbus.

The Strains were married in the month of June, 22 years ago and have one son, George jr. The younger Strain will be 15-years-old in March.

The Altar society of St. Cecilias church will give a noon day party, August 17, in the basement of Schmeltzers restaurant, 5178 W. Broad-st. The afternoon will be spent in games.

Round About The Hilltop

With Interest

The prize story of the week comes from Charles Apel, teller at the Hilltop bank. Back in the days when Charley was new at the window in walks a guest of the state of Ohio from across Broad-st and with an air of considerable bearing planks down a check for $50,000.

"Cash that," he says to the astonished young bank clerk. Charley still unaware of the identity of his customer consulted Curt Wilcox, manager of the bank, who recognized the would-be financier. A plan of procedure was soon agreed upon.

"Tell you what I'll do," says Charley to his customer. "We'll deposit it and let it draw interest."

"Sure," chuckled his customer as he went happily out the door. "We'll let it draw interest."

With The Vacationers

Jack Logan, Paul Lugger, Bob Jackson and Robert Colby have been in the Michigan back woods . . . Clarence Story and family back from a week at Torch lake. Clarence believes in real outdoor life. No cabins for him. He carries tent, boat and all other needed camp items on his car. . . . Mrs. Donald Waymer, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Shoffner, salesman for the Heinz Co. and Jack Schmelzer of Schmelzer's restaurant, are back from a motor trip to the west coast.

From The Garden

When it comes to raising beans Mary Ellinger takes her place among the first raters. Mary shows concrete proof of beans two feet in length grown in her own garden . . . Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Rowe, 67 S. Eureka-av, were the possessors of a 19¼ inch banana muskmellon this week. The melon was grown on a farm owned by Mrs. Rowe's cousin near Chillicothe . . . The Wilson residence at 64 S. Wheatland-av, reports the blooming of a Cereus, rare night blooming specie on Tuesday night. This column regrets being unable to get a photo of this unusual plant.

Of This And That

Pete Hartley, 356 S. Boys-av, got his hand in the washing machine wringer Monday . . . John Miller is doing announcing down at station WCMI, Ashland, Ky. . . . Carl Bagwell, Highland-av grocer, is as proud as punch this week all because he became a grandpa for the first time last week . . . Some one called Seiler's and asked if it was the liquor department the other day . . . Visitors to Hillards last Sunday afternoon might have glimpsed Dr. C. O. Gramer and Ed Stauch sitting on a store bench swapping yarns with the villagers. They were returning from Bellfontaine where the Doc had just broken 49 out of 50 birds at the skeet shoot that p. m. . . . A dead man only lacked 18,000 votes of being elected lieutenant governor of Kentucky in an election just passed. Could be they thought it was an economy move? At least the guy couldn't spend their money.

Canine Harmony

A. C. (pop) Waymer's grandson has a bull pup that sits up and howls when he sings. To pop's singing he won't make a whimper. Rev. C. L. Seward plans to see the Cincinnati Reds soon but says he will buy his own tickets after the recent experience at ticket buying of some other Hilltoppers.

On a recent fishing trip Phyllis Ross let hubby Harold do all the hook baiting and fish taking-off-ing. Attempting to be brave on one occasion and release the small finny denizen herself she received painful lacerations on her fingers. "The humility of getting bited with a thing like that," moaned Phil.

What No Manicure?

W. J. Mangold, owner of the Wetalene Laboratories, 734 E. First-av, declares that lipstick and nail polish applied to otherwise unattractive plugs lured the fish in great numbers on a recent fishing trip at Bass Lake, Mich. As is often the case, necessity proved the mother of invention.

Finding himself without red plugs, the only kind that seemed to be getting results, Mangold set about touching up some of his dull plugs with lipstick, the nearest thing to red he could find about camp. Nail polish was applied to make it more durable. A limit catch was landed in short order as others in the party followed suit with equally good results.

Three West High Seniors Tour 8500 Miles Of West Sans Flat Tire Worries

Shown above, left to right, are Jack Snyder, Howard Terry and Ed Phillips, three Hilltop boys who recently returned from an 8,500 mile jaunt to the west coast, visiting also through Mexico and southern U. S. The trio will all be seniors at West high school this fall.

After spending 29 days in vacation traveling through 17 states, including California, Nevada, Texas and also Mexico, three Hilltop boys, Jack E. Snyder, 314 Nashoba-av, Howard F. Terry and Edwin E. Phillips, 356 S. Eureka-av, all seniors at West high school, returned home Aug. 8, all acclaiming the San Francisco fair as the high point of their trek.

Leaving Columbus July 11, the group headed south to Nashville, then down further south to New Orleans. From the Mardi Gras city they journeyed west over to Texas, visiting Houston, Galveston and Laredo while in the lone star state. Passing through Texas the boys went over the border into Mexico. The one strange Mexican law which they noticed was the fact that motorists must sit and wait while pedestrians cross the street, waiting for an opening to pass through. If you become a little vexed old John Law goes to work.

Mardi Gras

On their route to Los Angeles from Mexico the trio visited the Painted desert, the Petrified forest and Boulder dam. The car ran out of gas on the desert and the group was forced to hitchhike 35 miles at 11:30 p. m. to buy fuel. Next came Long Beach and the San Francisco fair with all it's beautiful displays.

The return trip to the Buckeye state took the wandering caravan through Reno, the divorce center, Salt Lake City and Denver. They swam in the Great Salt lake following like performances in the Gulf of Mexico at Galveston and the Pacific ocean at Los Angeles. The "biggest thrill" of the journey was coming down Pikes Peak. Then it was off to Topeka, Kansas City, St. Louis and home.

$60 Each

The cost of the gas and oil for the 8,500 mile trip amounted to $150, each boy contributed one-third of the sum. The majority of nights were spent in a tent with cots they had brought along with them. And the heart-gladdening fact remained that nary a flat tire occurred to hamper the boys. The longest single day jaunt was the trek from Nashville to New Orleans, a distance of 600 miles. For one American dollar you can get five Mexican

The school activities of the boys include: Ed, reserve football hopes to become a candidate for the squad this fall; Jack, West junior high baseball, former Hilltop tennis champion and a member of the Spanish club, and Howard has served two years of baseball at the Buckaroo school.

Grocers Beaten In Tournament

The Hilltop's lone entry in the central district tournament, Kent's Modern market, was eliminated in a quarter-final contest Tuesday night at the State Hospital diamond as the defending champs, Ferguson's Auditors won a 2-0 decision.

Prior to Tuesday nights game the Hilltoppers had won two straight decisions, but in both wins the locals had played ragged ball, and the pitching was far inferior as a whole to that which they had been twirling in the Hilltop Merchants league.

Alford Pitches

In Tuesday's well-played game Chuck Alford took the mound for Kent's and with the excellent support of his mates, held the hard-hitting auditors to three bingles. One of these, however, was a circuit clout by Ralph Solt, who opposed Alford on the kopje. Solt gave up two blows, singles by Richey and Dunlap, but these did little damage as the speed-ball hurler fanned 16 batters.

Independent Sales Tax Agencies Inexcusable, Says County Treasurer

"The existence of independent sales tax agencies in the city of Columbus is inexcusable." This statement was made by Henry Frank, treasurer of Franklin county, in an interview this week with the Hilltop Record.

The county treasurer receives ½ of 1% for the handling of sales tax stamps, while the independent agents receive 1%. "The saving of ½%, which would be effective should the county treasurer's office handle the entire distribution, would be a considerable item," said Frank, "and would save the state of Ohio a lot of money."

In Columbus the distribution of sales tax stamps is handled by the county treasurer's office, the state treasurer's office, plus an independent agency on N. High-st, operated by Miss Garnet Rhodes, sister of James Rhodes, at present a candidate for city auditor.

The section of the state law concerning the distribution of sales tax stamps provides, that the county treasurer shall be the agent for the sale of the stamps but also authorizes the state treasurer to appoint independent agents, where he deems them necessary.

"For the first two years," said Mr. Frank, "the distribution in Columbus was handled by the county treasurer, and quite satisfactorily too." Beginning in 1936, however, the state treasurer appointed other agents for handling the sale of tax stamps in other sections of the city, apparently for the purpose of facilitating distribution. But early this year in the interests of economy the independent agencies were abolished, with one exception, this being the agency operated by Miss Rhodes.

Independent political observers are asking the following questions: If economy were the motive, why wasn't the Rhodes agency abolished along with the rest?—or—if independent agencies are to be maintained for the convenience of various sections of the city, why shouldn't they be maintained in Linden, on the Hilltop, etc?

On the latter point Mr. Frank sheds an interesting side-light. "Since the discontinuation of the Hilltop agency," he said, "Harry Englehard, Ray Elliot, Ralph Siniff, and other employees of the treasurer's office, who are residents of the west side, have been making deliveries to this section after office hours and at their own personal expense."

Mr. Frank continued: "The store-door delivery of sales tax stamps, begun by the independent agents, is just another unnecessary expense. It was originally intended, that part of the 3% discount given the vendor on the purchase of stamps, should offset what it would cost the vendor to go to a central office for his stamps."

For those interested in the vagaries of politics the final question boils down to this.

Why, when all other agencies in the city of Columbus were abolished this year, was Miss Rhodes permitted to retain her lucrative position? It is being increasingly rumored, that the N. High agency is nothing less than a political plum awarded Miss Rhodes in consideration of her brother's full time activity in the state Republican organization during the successful gubernatorial campaign of Mr. John Bricker.

The following figures represent the amounts received by the Rhodes agency as a result of the 1% commission allowed it for the sale of tax stamps:

For the month of April $377.36.
For the month of May $808.19.
First two weeks June $485.00.
Last two weeks June $500.00 (approx.).
First two weeks July $600.00 (Approx.).

According to Mr. Frank's reasoning half the above amounts could have been saved the taxpayer had all stamps sold in Columbus been distributed through the county treasurer's office.

Williams Issues First Grid Call

First call for West high gridders was given by George Williams, Buckaroo mentor, this week and candidates for the squad are to report at the school building at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon. Coach Williams requests each boy to bring a lock for his locker at that time.

Several positions have been left vacant with the graduation of many stalwarts last June, and Coach Williams, recently returned from a coaching school at W. Virginia university, is anxious to round his squad into shape. The opening frocas for the Bucks will be with the Newark team away from home on Sept. 16, less than a month away. South will provide the opposition in the first home game as well as the initial City league encounter, set for Sept. 23, two weeks later.

According to probate court records, Charles Cruea, manager of the pool, was denied a dancing permit in that court Monday by Judge C. P. McClelland. Cruea said that through protests from Valleyview residents directly north of the pool, the permit had been temporarily withheld.

Candidates Speak At 11th Ward Club

Speakers at a meeting sponsored by the Eleventh Ward Republican club last Tuesday evening at VFW hall, 2893½ W. Broad-st, included the following:

Russel S. Welch, candidate for council; H. C. Hartman, council incumbent; Lytle G. Zuber, candidate for municipal judge; Albert Gregg, candidate for council; Ed Trautman, candidate for council; Chas. R. Petree, candidate for municipal judge; Ben Ogler, candidate for municipal judge; Senator Bob Hoffman; Avard R. Coyle, candidate for city auditor; Llewelyn Lewis and Mrs. Lorena Caldwell, candidate for council.

Mr. Coyle made no platform pledges but said that his 17 years real knowledge of the duties of the auditors office qualified him for the position of city auditor.

Lewis, in defense of the present city administration said, "We are operating on less per capita than many other cities. By our work ye shall know us," he added.

Mrs. Caldwell said, "A woman's point of view should be brought into council." "A woman in council could give good intelligent service to supplement the man's position," she added.

Everything Ready For Opening Of Hilltop Schools

Miss Stuart To Succeed Miss Judd At West Broad

Only two weeks remain before the opening of school on Sept. 5, Tuesday following Labor Day, and although Hilltop boys and girls hate to be reminded of the fact, it won't be long until the education centers of the Hilltop and West side are opened again.

According to the city board of education, only one change will occur in the principals offices in the Hilltop schools. Miss Matilda Stuart, 197 Highland-av, will become the new principal at West Broad elementary school, succeeding Miss Harriet Judd, who retired this summer.

Reighley Returns

Other principals on the Hilltop will return to the same schools they headed last year. Dr. H. H. Reighley will again serve as principal at West high school, Vance Smith at West junior high school, E. B. Graham at John Burroughs and West Mound schools and Helen Kennedy will begin her second year at Highland Ave. school.

The lone new addition to the Hilltop principals group, Miss Stuart has been a Columbus resident all her life. She formerly resided in the northern section of the city, but later came to the Hilltop community.

All new pupils at West junior high this fall are asked to be at the school next Thursday, Aug. 24, from 10 to 12 and from 1 to 3 o'clock.

Miss Stuart attended Highland school and graduated from West high school in 1915. She attended the Columbus Normal school, Ohio State university and spent a year at the university in Nanking, China. During the summer she has been doing some extra-curricular work at the Ohio State university.

Teaches 18 Years

For 18 years Miss Stuart has been associated with Highland school; first as a teacher and then as principal. She served as principal of Highland and Bellows school at the same time. During the past school year she was associated with the Lincoln Park school.

Display Shows "Lefty" Keefer Has Talents To Spare

They call him "Lefty." But to those who don't know him that well he is known by the name pinned on him at birth 19 years ago, Warren Eugene Keefer, a native of the state of Colorado and a graduate of West high school, class of '38.

On display at the Moraine Flower shop, corner of W. Broad-st and Eureka-av, is a modern architectural display built by Warren. The stone work was done with a little aid from his father, a brick mason union head, with the stone used in the construction coming from the Marble Cliff quarry. The rest of the work, everything, including the model modern auto depicted, was the work of the boy.

Talented Builder

He is a talented builder, designer and architect as shown by his work at West high, his work in the evenings with his instructors, and his work following graduation. For eight months he worked in New York city doing work for the Chrysler display at the worlds fair there. But even though he did have a position there he longed for home and returned to the community here in May.

Born in Austin, Colo., May 11, 1919, Warren moved with his family to Ohio in 1927 and the family took up residence on Wilson-rd. At present they live at 86 N. Burgess-av. He attended Hilltop schools and at West high, his alma mater, "Lefty" was a member of the Hi-Y, the Triangle club, Spanish club, and served in the capacity as vice-president of the senior class.

Other Talents

The Keefer boy has been drawing "ever since I could hold a pencil" and his work in that line proves his point. About six months ago he took up photography and now is an accomplished photographer, owning a Kodak junior 620 and having built his own enlarging machine. Besides photography he is an ardent sports fan, played baseball and basketball with the Hi-Y while in school and loves to play tennis and swim. Another hobby is fishing, and according to his father, "the fishing habit just runs in the family."

If your Engine is full of hard carbon
You'r loosing just plenty of power
I would not deceive And I hope you believe
That you'r wasting your coin each hour

If your Engine is gummed up with carbon
Sometimes you will not know it
It may sound funny But you'r wasting your money
Your expense account will show it

Don't put it off till your pistons stick
Don't wait until you stall
It'll cost you plenty Perhaps about twenty
Your motor to over-haul

Your gas and oil may be of the best
Your car may be sublime
That carbon pest Will spoil all the rest
And cause you to loose your time

We will remove all the surplus carbon
For just a dollar bill

Riding Academy Reduces Prices

An equestrian's paradise, a new network of bridal paths over broad and wooded meadows of a 200-acre tract in which no highway riding is necessary, was announced by John Davis, owner of the Hilltop Riding academy.

Davis told a reporter of the Hilltop Record this week that since the new policy of half price for week days has gone into effect, riding at the academy paths has considerably more than doubled in popularity.

Instead of riding only a few days a week as previously, Davis explained that a great many of the riders are now making a daily jaunt over the cool paths of academy tracts.

Experienced teachers are available for beginners. Fifty educated horses are provided, one for every kind of rider. The pony track for children is a popular feature for the youth of the Hilltop.

Richards Stars As W'gate Edges Tuttle

With diminutive Jake Richards, West high star, twirling for the Westgate Indians, and Jerry Katherman, North high ace, on the kopje for Tuttle Field, the Indians took a 7-6 decision from the Tuttle boys Wednesday afternoon on the Westgate diamond.

Richards allowed only five hits in the win and got two singles and a triple in three times at bat. The locals won the fracas in the final frame when Richards singled, Rogers tripled and Liston sacrificed to account for two runs.

SPORTS by Woody Owens

Despite the fact that several Hilltop softball squads have completed campaigns in local circuits, activity along the line in the Hilltop Merchants league and the West Church league No. 1 was still hot this week as play-off positions in the groups were being decided.

Hoge, Calvary Clash

Hoge Memorial trounced Calvary Presbyterian for the third successive time in the West Church league No. 1 Monday night by a 7-2 margin. The only blow gotten off Eddie McFadden, Hoge twirler, was a circuit clout in the initial round by Chuck Marziof. The Hogemen won the second round title and in the feature game of the Hilltop Monday, will battle with Calvary for the first round pennant, each having won once in that round.

Merchants Win

The rejuvinated Sullivant Ave. Merchants, with the aid of a forfeit by Kent's Modern market, won the third round flag chase in the Hilltop Merchants squabble. They downed Spears funeral home's squad by a 6-3 score to clinch the title. Although they played Westwood K. P. last night, the outcome had no bearing on the crown as the other five entrants in the circuit had each lost two decisions.

In other games in the league last Thursday evening at Westgate park, Spears lost to Westwood K. of P. in the first game after three straight wins, and Corner cafe returned to form to win two, one from McDonald lumber, 10-2, and the other from Westwood, 4-3. Kent's beat McDonald, 9-1, in their other game.

Eberhard Twirls

In the feature contest in the West Church league No. 2 at McKinley-av diamonds, West Park M. E. retained its undefeated status in the final game of the campaign by edging Hilltop C. of C. 6-5 in nine innings. Lefty Ed Eberhard occupied the pitchers box for the winners and fanned 13 in his winning effort. The Methodists were undefeated in the three rounds of the league, and will probably serve as the only entry from that league in the city "Champ or Champ" series.

In other final league games Avondale beat Hillcrest Baptist 10-9 and Hoge Memorial No. 2 defeated Highland Ave. Friends, 11-3. Don Preston whacked out a single, double and triple in three trips for Avondale.

Files Suit

Mrs. Maria Woodland, 1967 Fairmont-av, filed suit in common pleas court recently suing Mrs. Mary Tonti, 1909 Floral-av, and Mrs. Mary Frank, 1935 Floral-av, for $5,000 each.

Unconscious Boy Revived At Pool

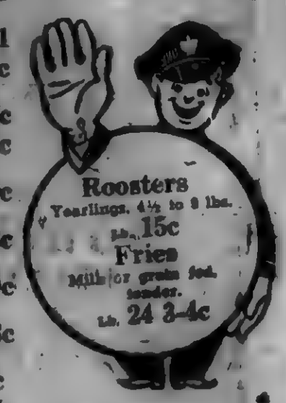
Donald Bricker, 10, 212 Schultz-av, was revived by a life guard and the fire departments inhalator squad Monday afternoon after he was found lying unconscious on the bottom of the Hilltop Swimming pool, Valleyview-dr and N. Hague-av.

Other swimmers saw the boy on the bottom of the pool and called to Harold Moore jr., a life guard, who brought the boy to the surface and applied artificial respiration until the firemen arrived.

Beacon Golfers Defeated Sunday

The Beacon Light golfers fell victims to the Minerva Lake divot-diggers Sunday at the latter course and the lakemen went home with a 26½ to 24½ win following a hard-fought match. Co-medalists in the meeting were Charles McKinnon and Lew Kingery, both of Minerva Lake, while Charlie Herron, Erv Friend and David Deahler turned in the best cards for the losers.

Ryan-Kidwell Compete



Dick Ryan and Jack Kidwell journeyed to Dayton Sunday to play in the Walnut Grove Country club pro-amateur match, and the duo stole fourth prize money in the competition. Only three points separated the first four prize winners.

The Beacon Light course is now the scene of the club championship matches, the event having begun Monday and scheduled to continue until Sept. 10, a period of four weeks. A Bogey-Handicap system contemplates unlimited entries before Sunday as each player must play 9 holes per week. The entrance fee is $3.00 per person.

Evidence is at hand that Mexican Indians knew dentistry 1,000 years ago. On the whole, though, their cruelties were probably not so refined.

MODERN POETRY

EDITED BY ESTHER WEAKLEY

DUSK

In the twilight of the evening
When the dew begins to fall,
When the sparrows and the song birds
Huddle close in tree tops tall,
Contentedly their chirping cries
Slowly die in one last refrain.
When the stars begin to peep through
The heavenly blue again,
It is then I love to sit and dream
For the world is now at rest;
Here and there, lights come flickering
And gracefully meet the test
Of darkened rooms, removing gloom
As far as a ray dare gleam,
So like my thoughts, come flooding through
In a warm, ecstatic stream.
Jacqualine Louise Pfeifer

FOURSOME

They were only little fellows
With tousled heads and barefoot toes,
Having fun out on the terrace
Where the grass should grow.

There were Gene, Dick and David
Calling Joe to come and see
How to pull carts up the terrace
Where the grass should grow.

Long before these lads are twenty
There'll be days to mow the lawn;
Will they remember how we scolded,
Or the days when they had fun?
Winifred Camp

BRIEF PHILOSOPHY

No vine or tree
Will bear good fruit
When blight is eating
At the root.

Philosophies
Will not unwind
Till spirit joins
With heart and mind.

A hand outstretched
Or a wave unfurled
Might hold a sand grain
Or the world.
Texas Sweazy Webb, in "Talaria."

SMALL THING

I found a kitten crying at my door;
Suddenly it seemed that this had happened once before.
Some dear, small thing, fearful of the night,
Shying from my slightest touch in sudden, trembling fright.
I held the kitten closer; then, remembering, I knew
The small thing was not a kitten . . . it was you.
Jean Comeans Long, in Columbus Dispatch.

WONDERFUL GIFTS

'Tis a wonderful thing
To be able to form an opinion
Of people and things;
But more wonderful yet
To withhold what we think
If to others
A sadness it brings.
Katherine Neal Smith, in Ohio State Journal.

I LOVE THE EARTH

The following is the work of H. A. Patzer of 2406 Glenmawr, Columbus.

I love the earth in her raiment of spring
Giving new life to each living thing.
I love the earth in her summer perfume,
Spreading the scent of each colorful bloom.
I love her rich-tinted robes in the fall,
When she is dressed most richly of all.
Even in winter, in death, so serene,
I love the earth, I think she's a queen.
Source of the best and the worst of us all,
Finally each of us answer her call.
Back to her bosom so gently to sleep.
While Mother Earth her vigil will keep.
I love the earth, she's so big and so true.
And I have a feeling that she loves me, too.
—H. A. Patzer.

Round About The Hilltop

Modern Paul Bunyan

Members of the Tom Davis Luncheon club, known for the elasticity of their hunting and fishing stories, were put to shame by one Gus Sternberg, traveling enamel ware salesman, this week when he was introduced by Ed Melvin. Stories that ordinarily hold the interest of the group were dwarfed by the experiences of this super sportsman. Some of the members attempted to compete with him, some were amused, others gave up in disgust.

* * *

Veteran Tradesman

Surely the title of most modest man of the week should go to B. J. Westlake, printer at 2834 W. Broad-st, who has just started his fifty-ninth year at his trade.

"That rates a story," I said to him as he was telling me about the many years he has been at his job.

"Oh! No." was the reply. "Wait until I have completed 60 years and then you can run the story."

How many of us feel that unimportant is our positions regardless of how modest they might be?

Westlake started work as a "printer's devil" in 1861. Worked the first five weeks without pay—the next six months for $1 per month. He is in his shop early every morning. Quits work promptly at 3 p. m. He was the founder of the Hilltop [illegible]

Conventioners

Ernest Brown, Walter Sprenger and Chester Wagner, local Legionnaires, are possible candidates for commander of Camp Chase post.

Vacationing

George Painter postcards the family from California where he is vacationing . . . From the World's Fair in New York comes a postal from Mr. and Mrs. Otto Scharn, 240 N. Warren-av. Back from a week in the Big Smoky Mts., the Carolinas and Virginia are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hauntz and Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Jones . . . The Elmer Hagenbergers spent part of their vacation in Cincinnati and Kentucky . . . The Ed Melvins spent Sunday at Lake Erie which numerous other Hilltoppers are frequenting.

* * *

Among the unusual requests that come to this office from time to time was the one of Leo Phillips of gun battle fame. Leo had purchased a new belt for his trousers that did not contain enough holes to lend the proper support. The extra holes were punched and Leo went merrily on his way.

* * *

This and That

Blessing, the telephone man from out Broad Street got a good case of seasickness on Lake Erie Sunday . . . George Coffman dropped in the other evening. Has been working in Maryland . . . Chester Herbert and Herb Davis were among localites who took in the Cincy-Card ball game Sunday . . . Sue Cleveland in her haste to get started on her vacation put her hat on backwards and didn't discover the difference until she had gone several hundred miles . . . Russel Seely from down on Racine Avenue is the very proud papa of a 6½ pound baby girl born last Saturday . . . H. K. Kemp of the Mechem Shoe Store is on vacation this week.

Gracebelle Day is not married as some reports would have it. She will join Benny Goodman at Buffalo this fall and will be billed at the Waldorf Astoria hotel this winter, our scout reports . . . Dr. N. T. Miller, ardent baseball fan, often watches relatives Don and Paul Rogers perform in Knothole League at Westgate. The boys are doing all right too . . . Howard "Moon" Gentry will be off to Florida shortly to attend Florida A. & M., the only colored school in that state. He will play football in weather averaging 85 degrees . . . Elsie Ireland, 810 Chesterhire-rd, will leave Sept. 7 to assume her duties as a fine arts instructor at the Bainbridge public schools.

200 Attend Dem. Meeting

The ninth and tenth Ward Democratic clubs held a Shade-for-mayor meeting Friday, Aug. 18, at Glenwood park shelter house. More than 200 attended.

Councilman Arvin Alexander spoke in behalf of Councilmen Millikin, Addison and Lohman, who are candidates for reelection. Each of the foregoing candidates spoke briefly.

Hilltop Cook Is Baker Deluxe

A Hilltopper for 16 years and a cook nearly all of his life, John Fry, 3248 Union-av, is an expert cake maker. His latest piece of work, the 73½ pound delicacy shown above, was used recently in celebrating the wedding of a Columbus girl.

An Englishman by birth (he was born in London), Fry enlisted in the Canadian army at the outbreak of the World War and saw service overseas as a cook for four years. He is married and the father of six children, five of them boys.

36 Inches High

But to return to the cake. Prepared especially for the wedding dinner, the tiny bell in the center of the topmost decoration has the word, "marriage" inscribed on it. The cake proper is 36 inches in height and is made up of seven tiers.

Each of the two bottom layers weighs close to 15½ pounds and it required seven and one-half hours to cook each of them. On the second tier the two sections weigh nine pounds each while the third layer weighs 13 pounds. The final tier, also containing two parts, weighs nine pounds.

Fruit Cake

In making the cake Fry used 15½ pounds of fruit. (It's a fruit cake.) Three pounds of flour, 17 pounds of sugar and 16 dozen eggs also went into the construction of the mammoth structure. The cake, including all of the ornaments and decorations, required four days of work. Fry said.

Memorial Planned By Hilltop War Veterans

A memorial to Hilltop veterans of the World War, sponsored by Camp Chase Post No. 96, American Legion, with the cooperation of other World War and civic groups, will be built at the Wicklow-rd entrance to Westgate park, Commander Arthur J. Bellar announced this week.

The memorial, to be in the form of an archway, will be financed by popular subscription and Commander Bellar estimated the cost at $500. He stated that he hopes the memorial will be sufficiently completed next Memorial Day to hold dedication exercises at that time.

Persons interested in contributing to the project are asked to contact the Record office, 14 S. Oakley-av.

Hilltopper Celebrates 90th Birthday

Mr. G. A. Sawyer celebrated his ninetieth birthday dinner Tuesday.

His children and grandchildren planned the dinner and it was given at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Daisy B. Johnson, 284 Midland-av.

Mr. Sawyer has three children, F. B. and Thomas A. Sawyer and Mrs. Johnson.

He has seven grandchildren, Mrs. L. L. Jackson, Mrs. Leo Shaw of Shelby, Mrs. Kurt Steinbach of Cincinnati, Tom Sawyer jr., Ralph, Ted and Bob Johnson, and six great-grandchildren.

Only one death has occurred in the family, that of Mr. Sawyers' wife, Ellen, who died 16 years ago.

Hauntz Addresses 19th Ward GOP

Ray G. Hauntz, candidate for council, has returned from his annual vacation trip and is now going into his campaign full blast. He is scheduled to speak at several political gatherings this week and next. Last Tuesday he spoke to members of the nineteenth Ward Republican club, who assembled at the home of George Marshall, 221 E. Oakland Park.

Hauntz stressed the advantages of cooperation among council members and between mayor and council. Said Hauntz: "City affairs can be most satisfactorily administered through cooperation. Squabbling can accomplish nothing."

Several Policies Announced In

Green Platform

Denounces Present Administration; Pledges Strictest Economy

In a manner that Jimmy Walker himself might envy, Floyd F. Green, Hilltop candidate for mayor, Monday evening fired the volleys that officially opened his campaign. Before an overflowing assembly in the Crystal ballroom of the Southern hotel he presented his platform. The meeting was sponsored by the Metropolitan Green for Mayor committee.

Chairman Roy B. Weed extolled Mr. Green's virtues. Ernest Villiers spoke for Green as a representative of the young business men of Columbus. A male duet rendered a chorus about "Floyd Green" to the tune of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Certain planks were in effect positive denunciations of the policies and practices of the present administration. Said Mr. Green: "Our people have the right to know the financial condition of their city. Columbus papers one day will carry headlines, saying the city is financially embarassed, then someone will discover a fund of fifty or a hundred thousand dollars, that has been completely overlooked. Financial maneuvering must stop in favor of a modern bookkeeping system."

In respect to law enforcement he said: "I am definitely opposed to spasmodic drives in any form." He continued: "There must be continuous year around enforcement of our traffic laws. A quota system, which compels a police officer to bring in so many dollars in fines each day, will not be tolerated during my administration."

Green deplored the system of traffic arrests, which forced honest police officers to hide in alleys and "run in" innocent victims for technical violations.

After giving assurance that adequate forces will be maintained for police and fire protection, Green said: "It is not necessary to board up engine houses in order to force the taxpayer to vote for additional levies. Our people will not bow to a resentful mayor."

In addition Green pledged himself to strictest economy in all departments of city government—to the maintenance of an adequate relief system, to the strict observance of the civil service laws and the elimination of payroll padding, to the securance of the lowest possible utility rates for the consumer, and to the provision of adequate playground and park facilities for all classes of citizens.

HBMA Plans Hilltop Homecoming

A Hilltop homecoming is planned for about Oct. 15 by the Hilltop Business Men's association.

Tentative plans were made at a meeting of a committee from the association at the American Legion headquarters Tuesday evening.

The committee is headed by Edgar Planck and consists of Ray G. Hauntz, Tom Roan, John Bentz, M. W. Seiller, W. H. Jones, Otto Schatz, R. M. Day, C. J. Kohn, C. C. Hartley, Jos. M. Briggs, Dr. M. W. Bates and Dr. J. H. Czatt.

Details of the plans for homecoming week will be announced in the Record next week.

Meeting Planned

The first fall meeting of the association will be in the form of a pot-luck supper, Joe Briggs, chairman of the meeting, announced, and will be held at Westgate park Wednesday evening, Sept. 13, at 7. Arrangements have been made to secure the use of the shelter house for the outing.

The meeting will be in charge of the Hilltop insurance salesmen and Briggs asks that each member of the group bring a basket supper. The association will furnish the coffee, ice cream and lemonade. Members of the group and their wives are invited.

Millikin Dissatisfied With Present

GAS RATE

Claims Decision Unsatisfactory; Would Negotiate With Gas Officials

"The recent decision of the State Public Utility commission setting a 56.22c (average) rate for Columbus gas consumers is of vital importance to the Hilltop." This statement was made by council president, W. L. Millikin in an interview this week with the Hilltop Record.

Said Millikin: "The whole Hilltop is on the old Federal line and has been getting gas at the 48c rate. The increase will be more sharply felt here than in those communities where consumers have been paying 55c.

By way of illustration Millikin picked up an old gas bill of his own representing a consumption of 4,000 cu. feet. The bill amounted to $1.92 (48c x 4). "Under the new rate," he said, "I would have to pay $2.40—an increase of 25%.

"The 56.22c rate approved by the commission is deceptive. This is an average rate. Instead of paying a flat rate per thousand cubic feet, the consumer under the new setup will pay 75c for the first thousand feet and 50c for each thousand feet thereafter. This operates to the disadvantage of the small consumer," said Millikin, "and the increase, even to those who have been paying 55c, will be much greater than it would appear to be on the surface."

Both council and the city attorney are in a quandry as what to do next. The utility commission has decreed that the new rate must go into effect immediately. City attorney, John L. Davies, says the law permits an intervening period of 30 days during which the city may petition for a rehearing. Such a petition would probably be made on technical grounds. It has been suggested by the city's special counsel, James W. Huffman, that the commission has set up "valuations" in arriving at its rate base, which have been previously thrown out by the courts. "If the commission refuses a rehearing," said Millikin, "the city will probably continue its fight in the courts. We'll get the money somehow," he added.

"Although C. I. Weaver, president of the gas company, has publicly indicated a readiness to negotiate the matter with council," Millikin continued, "to date there has been no move on the part of gas company officials in this direction. I would be in favor of meeting them around the council table," he added.

"Unless some satisfactory solution can be arrived at through negotiation," Millikin concluded, "I will submit another 48c rate to vote of council. There is no basis for anything higher than this."

Gas consumers west of Wheatland-av, over 4,000 of 56.22 rate. C. I. Weaver, president, bills based on the new rate, will be the first to resident of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., said this week.

The rate was fixed by the Public Utilities Commission last Friday and will affect about [illegible]

Three Added To West High Faculty

With the summer park and athletic program drawing to a close and less than two weeks remaining prior to the opening of the Columbus public schools on Sept. 5, school officials are preparing their institutions and completing their faculty adjustments.

Three new teachers have been added to the faculty at West high school. They include: Robert Richards, a graduate of Cedarville college in 1933, who has been teaching at Pasadena high school near Dayton since 1936. He will teach history.

E. V. McPherson, a graduate of Muskingum college in 1934, who has been teaching at Twinsburg since 1934. He will teach geography. Miss DeLane Schindler, a graduate of Ohio State university in 1927, who has been teaching at Steubenville. She will teach business English, salesmanship and English.

The West high school office will be open all day on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 1 and 2. On these two days all new pupils who are moving into the local district and those who were not enrolled in the school in June should register. New pupils from West and Starling junior high schools need not come at this time. The teachers will meet at the building at 8 a. m. Saturday.

"Several vacancies have not been filled," [illegible] according to the Columbus board of education, and these will be filled in the next hours prior to the opening of school if possible, a complete list of [illegible] will be published [illegible] ord.

Magly Field Is Scene Of Activities As

Bucks Hold First Grid Drill

In response to the call for football candidates at West high school given by George Williams, Buck mentor, last Saturday, 85 prospective Buck grid greats took over the practice gridiron at Magly Field Monday morning after the coaching staff had issued the grid togs Saturday afternoon.

Included in the array of hopefuls were six lettermen and the entire reserve squad from last year. The principal returning strength for the Cowboys lies in the backfield where four monogram winners, Ned Bell, Paul Rogers, Bill Hart and Warren Carter, are expected to carry the brunt of the attack. Possibilities were that Hart would seek an end position.

Garnes, Carpenter Back

The other two lettermen who will form the nucleus for the local team are Carpenter, lanky end, and Bill Garnes, a burly tackle. Among the line candidates expected to see service during the coming campaign are Tom Scoles, Jack Frederick, Cliff Lerdm, Russ Alban, Carpenter, Garnes and McConnell, not yet reported, while several reserve members from last year's team are expected to enter the grid scene.

Prominent among the non-letterman backs are Earl Webb, who saw service last year, and Al Williams, fast-stepping colored lad.

Coach Williams is starting his second campaign at the helm of Buckaroo grid fortunes, his last year's team winning two, losing six and tieing one. However, West was never beaten by more than two touchdowns and that on one occasion. Five times opponents scored twice in a single game but the battling Bucks usually retaliated with a score of their own, and even outscored their adversaries in the nine-game sked by a 77-72 margin.

A lightweight team last season, the Bucks should be a little heavier this campaign. In early drills they have possessed that same spirit shown by the 1933 fighters and with a little better break in talent, should do well in the coming season.

The squad has been divided into two sections with about 35 members composing the first squad and the sophomores, all inexperienced, making up the number two section.

Assisting Coach Williams in the coaching is George Collins, assistant coach, and Dale Ross, West junior high mentor. The Buckaroos have been holding practice sessions twice daily since Monday, at 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m., and will continue to do so until the opening of school on Sept. 5. From then on the sessions will be limited to one per day.

Local Vets To Picnic Sunday

The annual picnic and reunion of the Veterans of the 17th Regiment of Railway Engineers and their families will be held Sunday at Westgate park, it was announced this week.

This regiment was recruited by former Vice-president Charles G. Dawes, and men representing every state in the Union and Mexico comprised its roster. As these men were recruited they were sent to Atlanta, Ga., where they were in training.

Serve Overseas

On July 27, 1927, the regiment embarked for overseas duty, landing at Liverpool, England, on Aug. 12. The soldiers paraded through the streets of London on Aug. 15, amid the cheers of the English people. They were the first foreign troops to parade in London since William the Conqueror.

The outfit first entered France on Aug. 19, and although this regiment was solely in charge of Base Section No. 1 at St. Nazaire, France, many of the men were scattered throughout the French country.

Many Hilltoppers

The regiment returned to the United States in March, 1919, and mustered out of the service shortly afterward.

A number of the members of the Tri Mu class of 1916 and 1917 of the Glenwood M. E. church enlisted in this regiment. Those included Scott Thorne, Raymond Byerly, Harley Carter, George Wagner, Raymond Weil, Clyde Huston, Callis Matheny, Chester Wagner, Bernard Kinnison, Gerald Meeks, Graham Watts, Frank Dorsey and several others.

FIVE DAYS LEFT IN SEILLER SALE

With still many bargains on hand for Hilltop buyers, the Seiller August sale is nearing the end of its swing. However, five days still remain with late summer merchandise at reduced prices on hand.

Calvary, Hoge And West Park Are

Church Winners

Three Teams To Represent Local Independent League In Finals

Calvary Presbyterian gained the fifth and final Hilltop position in the City recreation department's "Champ of Champ" series Monday evening at Westgate park when it edged Hoge Memorial Presbyterian 4-3 in a first round play-off contest. Hoge won the second-round flag with a record of six wins in the same number of starts.

Following its win over the city church champions, Calvary was to open play in the fight for the city softball title last night when Hansberger Memorial, champs of the North church circuit, was to provide the opposition at McKinley-av diamond No. 4.

Three Independent

In the Hilltop Merchants league, which plays at Westgate on Thursdays, three teams won the separate rounds. The play-off for the first round winner went to Corner Cafe, the Cafemen pasting the sliding Kent Market ten for an 8-3 decision. Only one other contest was played last Thursday, the Sullivant Ave. Merchants combine eking out an 11-10 decision over Westwood K. of P. The Sullivant lads had already cinched the third round championship last week.

A trio of four-baggers were instrumental in gaining the Merchants the decision. Owens' homer in the seventh with two men aboard supplied the tying punch after Sicoles and Bill Boyd had banged out round-trippers. In the extra frame Owens led off with a single; and after Bill Boyd and Boyer had duplicated the feat, rode home on P. Myers' single with the sacks clogged.

The fifth Hilltop representative in the play-off for the city title is the West Park M. E. team. The Methodists won the three round titles in the West church league No. 2 without a great deal of trouble and are unbeaten in church play to date.

Hoge Draws Bye

Hoge Memorial, winners of the city church pennant for the past two seasons, drew a bye in the first round of contests Thursday and will see action Monday against the winner of the First Baptist-Trinity Lutheran fray. The Hogemen are favorites to re-

We Cast Our Vote For Green

An Editorial

The Hilltop Record is interested in good government in Columbus and Franklin county while at the same time being interested in everything that is good for the Hilltop community.

In recent years the Record has taken an editorial stand on many matters pertaining to this business of better government and the selection of proper representation to secure the same. Our attitude and our editorial statements have been entirely independent and have been based on a thorough investigation of every possible fact we could obtain.

Earlier this year we stated our hopes of being able to support a man for mayor of Columbus, one that had all the many qualifications we so much desired and knew to be necessities for the proper administration of this office. Until now we have refrained from making any such endorsement and have devoted our time to an investigation of the five candidates in the race.

It is after such a study of not only the candidates but the problems that face any city administration that we have arrived at the belief that the best interests of the entire city can be served to advantage by the election of Floyd F. Green as mayor.

Mr. Green's candidacy has been conducted to date on a high level and his platform contains as many progressive ideas as one might expect of any mayoralty candidate.

But it is not this platform or the fact that Green is a Hilltop resident that brings forth this endorsement. Rather, it is the fact that we have by our own research determined he is the best of the five candidates for the job.

Green is a business man, who is likely to give the citizens of Columbus a business-like administration. He has pledged himself to efficiency and economy and has asserted that he will not tolerate a situation wherein staff members hold their positions as a result of "political loyalty" but must be technically qualified for the positions that they hold.

In a statement for publication he has said that he will not be obligated to any individual or faction but will be the representative of the city as a whole.

Green is a man who combines the qualities of forcibleness and geniality in such a manner as to make an extremely popular mayor. This statement may at first seem facetious. But the fact is, that a man who can earn the confidence of the people will accomplish much more than a man who does not possess these qualities.

In view of these facts we believe that Mr. Green, a man comparatively young, sufficiently progressive, and experienced in the affairs of both government and business, will do a good job of administering the affairs of the city.

And so it is that we are asking other Hilltoppers to investigate what this man has to offer Columbus if elected mayor. We have no political axes to grind, will expect nothing from Floyd Green if he is elected, will continue to maintain our stand for good government and will be the first to criticise him and part with him should he fail to live up to the opportunity of doing the job the people of Columbus are asking him to do when he takes office.

We Recommend

The Record believes Hilltop voters will be better served by the election of:

Floyd F. Green for Mayor

Ray G. Hauntz for Council

Avard R. Coyle for City Auditor

Robert Draper for School Board

A former Hilltop resident, Miss Eva Louise Boddy, became the bride of Lieut. Frederick Steel, in a military wedding at Fort Lewis last week.

The bride wore a gown of white silk net, fashioned on princess lines with leg-o-mutton sleeves, a full skirt ending a train. A long veil cascaded from a Juliet cap of pearls. She carried a white prayer book with white orchids and streamers of lilies of the valley and baby breath.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of blue frosted organdy, accented with pink taffeta sashes and large pink horsehair hats trimmed with blue ribbon. Each carried an arm bouquet of blue iris, pink sweetpeas and roses tied with blue ribbons.

Mrs. John F. Kaylor, sister of the bride, also a former Hilltop resident, acted as her matron of honor. Capt. Kaylor gave the bride in marriage.

B. W. Steel, father of the groom, was best man. The ushers were fellow officers of the bridegroom.

The couple, after leaving the chapel under an arch of glittering sabers of friends and ushers, were honored at a reception at the officers club. The wedding cake, cut by the bride, with her husband's saber, was surrounded by white flowers and maidenhair fern. The table was lighted by tall white tapers.

Did They Get Married?

The young couple went to the Preacher's house
And told him they wanted to marry.
"It is church time," he said, as he put on his blouse,
And he invited them to tarry.

And go with him to the meeting place.
And after they'd sung the last song
He would marry them with cheerful grace,
And he would not detain them long.

"Those wishing to marry come forward," he said,
After all the service was through,
"And I'll see that you are properly wed."
To the young couple this was glad cue.

Thirteen women and one man, it is said,
Did not hesitate or falter;
But the Preacher got pale as the dead
When they all started for the altar.

West Park M. E. also drew a bye and will clash with Hope Lutheran Monday.

The independent play-off will start Wednesday with Sullivant Ave. Merchants challenging Goebel Beers and Kent's Modern Market opposing Knickerbocker Theatres. The third Hilltop independent squad will not swing into action until a week from Monday, Corner Cafe having drawn the third bye given to local squads. The Cafemen will do battle with the winner of the Kahn Jewelers-E. G. Bacheeib mix-up, both teams members of strong circuits.

Mother—Darling, you were awfully late last night. I'm afraid I'm old-fashioned, but I should like to know where you go.

Sally — Certainly, mummy. I stood with—Oh, well, you don't know him, and we went to several places I don't suppose you've been to, and finished at a quiet little club—I forget its name. But it's alright, isn't it, mummy?

Mother—Of course, darling. It's only that I like to know.

Hoge, West Park Eliminated As

Calvary Wins

McFadden, Eberhard Victims Of Surprise Upsets In Church Play

By Dave Shiflet

Semi-final contests in the church bracket of the annual city championship softball tournament are set for tonight with Calvary Presbyterian, lone Hilltop entry to survive tourney play, scheduled to meet Hope Lutheran at Sunshine park. In the second game First Baptist and Holy Rosary will tangle for the right to meet the winner of the other semi-final in the church finals.

Two startling upsets in the quarter-finals saw the other two local entries, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian, church champions the past two years, and West Park M. E., winner of 14 successive games, fall by the wayside. Hoge was the unsuspecting victim of a 1-0 setback at the hands of First Baptist in a tightly played contest, while the Methodists took it on the chin from the Hope Lutheran ten by a 5-4 count.

Comer In Form

After playing to a 3-3 deadlock for eight innings Monday (the game was called off account of darkness), the Calvary aggregation returned to the wars Friday last to trounce Hansberger Memorial 5-0 and then quickly disposed of Washington U. B. Monday evening by the same identical score. In both games Fred Comer chunky twirler, was in excellent form, allowing the U. B.'s only five blows in the latter tilt.

A wild seventh inning was the downfall of the West Park team in their final softball contest. The Methodists led up to that point but two walks were instrumental in a three-run outburst by the winners. Ed Eberhard was the victim of the onslaught. Although Ed McFadden, Hoge ace, gave up only five hits, his opponent, Bob Keating, was touched for three singles. Hoge lost the game in the sixth when the Baptists marked up their lone tally.

Merchants Play

Last night the Sullivant Ave. Merchants, third round winners, were to meet Kent's Modern Market in a game which went a long way in deciding the Hilltop Merchants league pennant winner. The winner of this important game is to meet Corner Cafe at a future date. The Cafemen drew a bye in the drawings. The winner among this group will get a chance to perform in the city tournament.

Galloway Plans Homecoming Monday

Plans for the sixth annual homecoming at Galloway, sponsored by the Galloway Booster club, were announced this week by I. R. Amerine, president of the organization. The homecoming date has been set for Labor Day, Sept. 4, and a large program of entertainment is planned, by the committee in charge.

Features of the entertainment include athletic contests, band concerts, displays and parades. Afternoon festivities include a trio of baseball contests, bicycle races, horse-shoe pitching and other bontests, while in the evening boxing and wrestling contests are planned. These will be followed by an amateur hoe and street dancing. Hilltoppers are cordially invited to attend the homecoming, President Amerine said.

Succeeding Rev. Brandfellner, vice-president of the Hilltop Ministerial association, will be Rev. W. E. Seesholtz, a former pastor of the St. Paul church. Rev. Seesholtz has been presiding elder of the conference for the past eight years.

Rev. Brandfellner will deliver his farewell sermons this Sunday and will leave for Chicago next week. Mrs. Agnes Bentz Taken By Death

Death late Monday afternoon claimed the life of one of the Hilltop's oldest residents, Mrs. Agnes Bentz, 384 Wrexham-av, who was born in Westerville and had lived on the Hilltop for more than 58 years. She was 87 years old.

Funeral services were held from St. Aloysius church Wednesday morning with Father John Forrest Loviner, a former Hilltopper now connected with St. Anthony's Guild, Paterson, N. J., delivering the mass. Burial was made in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Surviving Mrs. Bentz are six children, Miss Mary Bentz, well-known local real estate agent; John Bentz, 245 Wrexham-av, proprietor of the Hilltop Plumbing Supply; Mrs. Agnes McConnel, 3025 Sullivant-av; William Bentz, 1914 Sullivant-av; and George and Frank Bentz, both of New York city. Also surviving are nine grandchildren.

All-League Team Named

With the complete sked in the Hilltop Merchants league having been played and softball activity on the Hilltop rapidly decreasing in favor of football, the work of several players in the six-team circuit stands out as being particularly noteworthy of mention.

Thus it is a fitting tribute to those who have performed best during the past season in their respective positions that we announce the Record all-league squad. Dominating the nominations is the Kent Modern Market team with four candidates and Corner Cafe with three. Each of the other quartet has at least one representative on the mythical squad which follows.

1b—Frank Richey, Kent
2b—Herman Mitchell, Kent

Draper Files School Board Petitions

Robert Marvin Draper, 74 N Roys-av, filed his petition Thursday afternoon at the county board of elections, thus officially declaring his candidacy for the Columbus board of education. His petitions contained nearly 2,000 signatures.

Draper has been practicing law since 1932, when he joined the staff of the Duffy and Duffy law firm. In 1934 he joined B. B Bridges with whom he was affiliated until July of this year. At the present time he is practicing independently. He has offices in the A. I. U. citadel.

Only Three More Days Until

Vacation's Over

6,000 Hilltop And West Side Children Resume Classes Tuesday

Summer vacation for more than 6,000 Hilltop and west side students will come to an end Tuesday morning when public and parochial schools will be resumed for the fall semester.

Burgess Will Be Host To Conference

Burgess Avenue U. B. church will be host to the annual conference of the Southeast Ohio United Brethren churches when they hold their annual meeting next year, it was announced this week following the final session of the group in Lancaster.

By action of the conference Rev. D. S. Mills, pastor of the Avondale U. B. church, was renamed district leader and was returned to his pulpit for the coming conference year. Rev. J. H. Harris and Rev. E. E. Burtner, pastors of the Hilltonia U. B. and Burgess Avenue U. B. churches, respectively, were also returned to their churches for the conference year.

Announcement was made this week of the shifting of two junior high school classes to John Burroughs grade school. Al Letham and one other instructor will be the two teachers assigned to the classes. All class meetings excepting manual arts and home economics will be held at John Burroughs.

Three changes will occur in the faculty of West high school while the two local junior high schools, West and Starling, will have the same teaching staff, according to present plans of the board of education. A few minor changes in the grade schools will be announced later.

Mrs. Ruth Newhall, fourth grade teacher at John Burroughs, will be voluntarily transferred to Leonard school. Replacements for Miss Frances Williams and Miss Mayme Treber, both on sick leave, will be named later. The two teachers will return to their positions when physically able, E. B. Graham, principal, said.

Pupils of West high school are expected to report to classes Tuesday with books, officials at the school said this week. Free text-books are to be provided in all subjects this year and the book-room at the building will be open from 10 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. tomorrow, and on Monday from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. This does not apply to pupils in the junior high school.

B. E. Wiggins, boys' and girls' physical education instructor at John Burroughs, was retired this year following many years of service to Columbus public schools. He was the oldest physical education instructor in the city.

The teaching force at St. Mary Magdalene school will continue this fall without any change. Two replacements are to be made on the faculty of the St. Aloysius group, the second Hilltop parochial group.

West High Line Is Green---But

Veteran Backs Raise Hopes; School Cuts Practices

With two weeks down and two weeks to go ere the West High Buckaroos open their grid campaign at Newark with the Wildcats of that town, Coaches George Williams and George Collins are hard at work preparing their young charges for the opening tussle. Daily at Magly Field for the past two weeks the candidates have gone through numerous calisthenics and formations is the two practice sessions, preparing for that awaited date—Sept. 16.

Green Line

Short scrimmage sessions were on the docket for the footballers during the past week and two strong points were evident; the line is green, inexperienced, and the backfield promises to be just the opposite, all veteran. Making up the quartet for the most part during these twice a day sessions have been Rogers, Carter, Williams and Bell.

With the opening of school Tuesday the locals will hold drill only once per day, that in the afternoon following school. For the most part the Bucks are in good physical condition despite the heavy work-outs. Only a few small scratches and other miscellaneous marks mar the players.

Aquinas Begins

Along with Aquinas High, the Cowboys were first to begin practice for the coming season. West and the Terriers, who perform here Oct. 20, were the only two City league squads who did not hold spring football practice and thus are permitted to start football practice two weeks in advance of the others. Aquinas has 11 lettermen returning, seven of whom played regularly last year.

Although no final choice has been made, those holding down line positions during the past week included: Hart and Carpenter, ends; Frederick and Garnes, tackles; Westerman and Brandenburg, guards; and Alban, center. However, these posts are not permanent and closely contested races will probably be evident for the majority of the line positions.

"Experience Is Important," Carlisle Tells Republicans

A "Coyle for Auditor" rally was held Wednesday night in the crystal ballroom of the Deshler Wallick hotel. The main speaker was John F. Carlisle, former president of the Buckeye Republican club. In a backhand slap at James Rhodes, opposition candidate, he said: "When the people of this city elect a man to a public office, they expect him to remain in that office and perform its functions instead of running for another."

He said further: "Experience is vitally important in this, the most important of all city offices."

Avard R. Coyle, the candidate, was present. He commented briefly, "My 17 years of experience as chief deputy in the auditor's office should certainly qualify me for the position of city auditor."

Well over a hundred people attended the meeting.

Mr. Mavis Gets His Signals Twisted

Was the announcement from Mayor Gessaman's office two weeks ago to the effect that the city's new pumper truck would be stationed at No. 17 engine house just a political move? This office was notified at that time that the Hilltop was to be the recipient of the department's newest piece of fire fighting equipment a fact reported to readers of this paper on the strength of its source.

A report checked with the Mayor's office to the effect that the new truck would not be brought out here was denied emphatically last week. All arrangements to have representatives of the Hilltop present to receive the new truck Friday noon were supposed to have been made and a Record photographer was to be present to catch the event.

At the stated time Record photographer, Dave Cornwell and the publisher of this paper were on hand for the occasion only to be informed that a change in plans had been made and that the truck was at the West Side engine house.

Said Steve Mavis, secretary to the Mayor, "The fire chief decided it would be more advantageous to station the truck there since it would serve both the West Side and the Hilltop."

With that fact we have no quarrel. If in the fire chief's estimation the West Side was the most logical place to best serve the entire western section of the city that is the place for the truck. But why was that decision reached only at the eleventh hour? Our guess is that it wasn't.

Members of the No. 17 crew apparently knew a week in advance that the new truck would not be brought out here, yet that fact was EMPHATICALLY denied by Mr. Mavis.

60 Hilltoppers Registered At University

Eight more Hilltoppers, having successfully passed admission requirements, were registered at Ohio State university this week. Freshman admissions have now passed the 2,300 mark, including 60 from the Hilltop and West Side.

Included in the latest group to pass the entrance tests are the following: arts and sciences, Marilyn J. Lisle, 680 Wiltshire-rd; commerce and administration, Kathleen I. Hackett, 626 Chestershire-rd, and Erma J. Calland, 77 N. Wheatland-av.

Dentistry, Donald W. Stauch, 5303 W. Broad-st; engineering, Charles L. Sammons, 108 Avondale; Paul Barnette, 8 S. Wheatland-av; Charles H. Nell, 1990 Sullivant-av; and nursing, Vera A. Weaver, 334 S. Warren-av.

Thanks, Miss Ireland, For The Kind Words

"Attached please find 30c for the two line ad for riding breeches run in last Friday's Hilltop Record. I received four calls on Friday and sold them on Saturday which is proof your ads are read immediately and thoroughly. Sincerely, Elsie Ireland, 618 Chestershire-rd."

It's notes like this that come to the Record office each week that convince us of the pulling power of Record want ads.

And Miss Ireland's experience can be repeated by yourself if you will but call RA 1125 or bring your ad to the Record office, 14 S. Oakley-av. The cost is small and results are most gratifying.

THE OLD COUNTY FAIR

Let's go to the fair free from worry and care
There is nothing elsewhere that can compare
We should all attend just to see an old friend
You won't be sorry for the time you spend.

They will look for you there at the old county fair
You'll see young and old from most everywhere
If you take that crusade you will be overpaid—
When you see old DOBBIN in the live stock parade.

You'll see birds of the air and lions from their lair
Which have been groomed with the greatest of care
Hook up the old mules, let's act like old fools
And for one day of fun let's close all the schools.

If you want to look neat put some shoes on your feet
And old man gloom we will leave on the street
It will be jolly to ride the whirl-a-round trolley
And fill up with spinach and real hot tamale.

I'll take NELLIE and MOLLY because they're both jolly
And for eats they'll get nothing but real hot tamale
We will fight for our rights to see all the sights
And come home and sleep for THREE DAYS AND NIGHTS.

PASSION
Ah, all consuming passion
You relentless flaming wench
You charge with every fashion
With each day you entrench.
Sweet incense, your vanity
Mad desires, your strength
Susceptible to flattery
You'll go to any length.

SORROW'S MASQUERADE
The sunny smile or merry jest
May not bespeak a carefree breast;
They are, perchance, a painted mask
That keeps an aching heart unseen.

You see the joys we seem to feel
Know not the sorrows we conceal;
The laugh that speaks ill luck, of care
May hurl defiance at despair.

So thank the friend who does not tell
The heart-sick hours he knows so well,
Else views to you where sunbeams rise
Would often turn to clouded skies.

HANDS
Wee baby hands soft and white
That smooth your cheek or brow;
Slender hands whose fingertips
Affirm a sacred vow.
Hands that bear upon them marks
By sacrifices scarred—
Knotted, hard and worn are they,
The beauty of them marred.

Precious hands! though they may
Be helpless now, and old.
Hands whose deeds stand mightier
Than silver or fine gold!

The Hilltop Record

The Hilltop, Columbus, O.
Friday, Sept. 8, 1939
Vol. XXIII, No. 21
Total No. 1167

6539 ENROL HILLTOP SC

Folks, Meet The Gr

Here are the Greens . . . Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Green and daughter, Irene, at their home, 3040 Crescent drive.

Oh, yes, by the way . . . Mr. Green is a candidate for mayor of Columbus. You've probably heard of him.

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

A Public Official Worthy Of The Job

We've stated before that we'd like very much to see Avard R. "Chub" Coyle elected City Auditor because he is well qualified for the job.

Of all the positions to be filled in coming elections this is in our opinion one of the most important for the voters of Columbus to decide upon. It is so important because it will prove whether the thinking people of the city are the ones who go to the polls and vote.

If the people of this community and all over the city are interested in expressing themselves for good government they will vote for either Coyle or Holloway, depending on their politics.

Coyle has had 17 years of experience in the auditor's office and is a first rate citizen of Columbus seeking election on the fact that he is qualified by experience. He is not a politician.

His opponent, Jim Rhodes, is a politician of the school of which we take no part. Personally we have nothing against Rhodes and have told him as much but do not feel that he is in any way qualified for the position.

Furthermore we do not feel that the endorsement of the county Republican organization means anything as far as endorsing the best man. It stands to reason that Harry Arnold, and Bill Schneider can always use such politicians as Jim Rhodes.

Current propaganda in Rhodes' favor is saying among other things that he worked his way through Ohio State. Registration records there show that he was enrolled one quarter in 1932.

We have yet to have anyone tell us of any good reasons why he should be elected to this important job. Any number of good reasons can be given for the election of "Chub" Coyle.

80 Tabloid Pages Today

Today's Hilltop Record presents 60 tabloid pages known as a Progress Edition in which we have endeavored to give a true picture of what the Hilltop is and has to offer.

As one may learn by reading into these 60 pages we are quite proud of the Hilltop, and we believe rightfully so. And we are saying as much in this edition.

A great number of "Thank You's" are in order at this time and rather than overlook any individual we are saying in one all inclusive way, "Thanks loads, for the very fine cooperation." And the same goes to every member of the Record staff and shop force for their fine efforts.

The production of such a paper is quite a job for a small newspaper but it has been a pleasure to work at such a task. This edition was in the making four weeks and was properly spaced out so that it worked in nicely with all our regular work.

We trust our efforts are well received.

Business Men To Go Pot Luck

The Hilltop Business Men's association will hold a pot-luck supper Wednesday night, Sept. 13, at 7 p. m. in the shelter house at Westgate park. Members and their wives will attend. Games and other types of entertainment will be provided.

The meeting will be in charge of the insurance men of the association, Jos. M. Briggs, presiding.

Housewives and Grocers Get Headaches as Food Prices Soar

Reverberations of the war scare came to the Hilltop this week as local housewives and grocers took on a goodly number of headaches trying to figure out the ifs, ands and whens of the food market.

Local food merchants report that during the past few days commodity prices have shot upward in such a manner that it has been practically impossible to know how to purchase. Replacement costs of many items are far higher than selling prices of a few days ago.

Although wholesalers of sugar, flour, meats, etc. give assurance that there are ample supplies on hand, consumers have rushed the market for these items and prices have reacted accordingly. Speculation, war profiteering etc., it is felt by many, are other factors in the situation that should be taken into account.

In an attempt to shed light on the problem, interviews with various Hilltop merchants have been made at random. They have registered their opinions as follows:

C. H. Campbell, pharmacist: "As yet there is no discernable difference in the cost of drug products. However, many chemicals must be imported and consequently won't be readily available in war time. This is bound to affect prices eventually."

George Painter, grocer: "Farmers are holding back so they can get higher prices on meats. It is foolish for people to rush in and buy up supplies."

Chas. Kent, grocer: "Sugar is costing me 24c more today than it sold for last Saturday. Yet there is no scarcity. Newspaper headlines have scared the consumer and he is beginning to hoard."

Ray Haunts, grocer: "Prices are in a turmoil. Sugar costs have gone up $1.36 on the hundred pounds. My entire stock ran out in a day's time. If people would buy their normal needs and abstain from hoarding goods, it would have a moderating effect on prices. Sudden demands deplete stocks, consequently, prices go up."

George Renker, Westgate Electric: "Our prices have not been affected as yet. Judging from past experience they probably will."

Arthur Beller, steel goods salesman: "Dealers in Franklin and Madison counties are buying up stocks. Although prices of materials have not gone up as yet, the market has stiffened up. Until the war scare came along it looked as though prices might drop."

W. L. Millikin, hardware dealer: "Cost of nails have gone up 55c a keg. Copper, cobalt, lead and zinc go to make up many of the products I handle. They are useful as war materials too. In view of the increased demand, prices of products made from these materials will rise."

Hazel Jester, Donaldson bakery: "Our prices haven't gone up as yet. If flour goes up, however, naturally bread prices will go up."

E. D. Coffman, Coffman Electric: "No price changes yet, but I'm looking for anything to happen."

Jack Merriman, Seiler's: "We've bought up all our immediate wants. Our prices won't be affected immediately, I've no inkling as to what will happen in the future."

Carl Sherburn, Record advertiser for the past ten years without missing an issue, refrained from quoting prices this week, stating that rapid advances make it impossible to make accurate quotations, but assures the public that his prices will be in line with those offered by any other local stores. He showed a Record reporter a large stack of orders for sugar from local customers. So far he has been able to fill all orders.

Form Ogier Clubs

Ben Ogier, candidate for judge of the municipal court for the term beginning Jan. 1, announced that Atty. Charles Edminston, 127 W. Park-av, former committeeman of the ninth ward is chairman of the Ogier for judge committee of that ward.

Atty. A. A. Bunnier, 1498 Union-av, is chairman of the tenth ward Ogier for judge committee.

Atty. Brough Bickley, 838 S. Terrace-st, and Atty. Olin Parrett, 373 S. Powell-av, is co-chairmen of the eleventh ward Ogier for judge committee.

Drivers Licenses Now On Sale

It's that time again . . . time to get your driver's or chauffeur's license.

On the Hilltop these may be obtained in the Hillcrest church building at Eldon and Broad-st. Thomas Winnes, 2480 W. Broad-st, is local deputy registrar.

Henry A. Koontz is deputy registrar for the West Side and has licenses on sale at the Home Appliance shop, 1205 W. Broad-st.

New Library Hours

The Hilltop branch library will return to its customary winter hours beginning Monday, Sept. 11. During this time the library is open daily from 1 a. m. to 9 p. m. and on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

93 Years Young Next Wednesday, Mrs. Pemberton Still Mows Lawn

Next week she will turn another big leaf on the calendar. She will be 93 years old on Sept. 13. Feeble? Not by a long shot. She mows her own lawn, walks to the grocery, does her own housework, and weeds her own garden. She plays the piano like no one else, we know at her age.

She's Mrs. Charles Pemberton, 57 S. Hague-av, Hilltop's No. 1 veteran.

The house in which Mrs. Pemberton lives is only slightly less notable than the occupant. It is the only one of 160 structures that once stood on old Camp Chase. It was officer's headquarters from 1861 to 1865.

Thirty-three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton moved here from Newport, Ky. Five years later Mr. Pemberton died. He had been city work house foreman and an inventor of several wire gadgets. With the exception of a dog and a thriving family of cats which share her quarters, Mrs. Pemberton lives alone.

She recalls the day when there were only two homes on Hague-av. Fisher's brick house was being built just across the street from her own.

Mrs. Pemberton was born in Scotland. She came to this country at the age of 35.

Bowling
Gets Under Way In Local Leagues

Activities at the Hilltop Recreation bowling alleys are getting unday way in anticipation of a big season. League bowling began last Tuesday night.

The Tuesday nighters and Social league participated. In the former league high individual score was made by Charlie Miller 215, 533), high team scores by Hertenstein foundry (876), and Bat club (2337). In the latter high individual scores were made by Don Fox (255) and John Thomas (636). Sherburn market team made both high single and high three game scores (965 and 2676).

According to proprietor Bill Wolfe, several improvements have been made in the alleys including new pin setters, kickbacks and cushions. All bowling surfaces have been completely renovated.

Jap Invasion Is Blessing Says Feng

"The Japanese invasion of China, beginning in July, 1937, and continuing through the present, was a blessing in disguise."

This statement was made by Paul Feng, Chinese missionary and Bible student, a graduate of the University of China Bible school and the Bible school of Asbury college, Wilmore, Ky. Until Wednesday of this week Paul was the guest of E. L. Skipper, 61 N. Terrace-st, well known in local church circles and a member of the Highland Ave. Friends church.

Westward Ho!

In explaining the opening statement in a detailed form, Paul said that the Japanese have driven many of the Chinese through their warfare and the Chinese have been forced to develop that section of their country which has been scantily populated down to the present. Still further on the China-Japan question, Paul predicted the war between these two would soon be over if other countries refrain from furnishing the Japanese army with supplies.

In a discussion on the schooling problems of the two countries, Paul, speaking in perfect English, told your reporter that boys and girls in China are forced to pay to go to school, quite a change from the American school system. As for the average Chinese boy or girl going to college, that is virtually impossible. The American people can do this, generally, while the older Chinese attend lectures to learn what they can.

According to Paul, the average wage paid to the Chinese laborer is $35. Not per week either; that's for a month of work. At present an American dollar in China is worth nine dollars in the Mexican money used there. However, prices are higher in China. When entertaining your guest in the Oriental country you give him tea and a seed, sweetly flavored, from a certain species of watermelon found in China.

Very Religious

Very religious in his character, Paul was raised in a Quaker mission in China. He learned to speak English there, studied the Bible, and was privileged to come to America to continue his studying. He will return to China with one of the Quaker missionaries from this country Sept. 30. Probably the best story he will tell to his wife and his young son on his return will be on the statement he gave us, "I expected to see a lot of machines, but I didn't expect to see so many kinds in the houses. They even beat eggs by machines in America."

BUSSES TO REPLACE CARS ON BROAD

An improvement long desired by Hilltop residents and a major plank in the four point program of the Hilltop Business Men's association is about to be realized.

At a meeting of the utility committee of city council with executives of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. Wednesday night, Ben W. Marr, president of the company, announced that within the year trolley coaches would be substituted for street cars on W. Broad-st.

It is assumed that the line will now be extended beyond Hague-av to the city limits. The extension was not heretofore possible because of the difference in gauge of tracks beyond Hague-av.

Traffic congestion caused by the large unwieldy street cars will be largely eliminated by the substitution of motor coaches which can move freely from street center to curb.

According to statements of utility executives the improvement will be made at a cost of $700,000. In addition to this the substitution will involve the elimination of equipment valued at $900,000.

The city will realize $6,000 on the improvement as the result of a stipulation that the utility pay two per cent of its gross revenue from trolley coaches for the maintenance of streets.

Expansion Project Started Here By Sun Oil

Work on a $75,000 expansion project at its bulk plant on W. Broad-st at Wilson-rd was begun last Friday by the Sun Oil Co. The program involves the construction of two giant storage tanks, each capable of holding 400,000 gallons of gasoline.

It is said that these tanks are the largest of their kind ever constructed in this district. The present bulk plant provides for the storage of only 90,000 gallons.

The expansion program was announced after arrangements had been made with the Shell Petroleum Corp. and the Standard Oil Co of Ohio for the use of their pipe lines between Columbus, Toledo and Lima. Through these lines gasoline will flow from the Toledo refinery of the Sun Oil Co. to the new storage tanks. The enlarged plant will be the company's point of distribution for 21 central Ohio counties.

Chaffin Gets GOP Post

Michael R. Chaffin, 545 Wrexham-av, was elected Republican committeeman from the tenth ward to succeed Henry A. Koontz, when the GOP central committee met Friday night.

Koontz resigned his post when he became a candidate for city council.

Chaffin was born in Harrisburg in 1896. A World War veteran and an engineer for the Pennsylvania railroad, he has been a Hilltop resident for about 20 years.

Labeling himself as a strictly organization man, he said: "In my new post my aim will be to get as many Republican votes as I can and to keep harmony in the tenth ward ranks."

He added: "If I can do as good a job as committeeman as my predecessor, Henry Koontz did, I'll be satisfied."

Bucks Ready To Go

Priming for their battle with Newark a week from today and practicing without the services of their veteran fullback, West high footballers never-the-less retained "that ole spirit" and zoomed their paces in a manner that shows the squad is finally rounding into shape.

The first and most serious casualty of the young season at the Hilltop institution occurred this week when Paul Rogers, veteran back counted on to carry a major portion of the offensive duties, was lost to the team for the entire season due to a broken collarbone. Rogers was a mainstay on the football, basketball and baseball squads last year and was certain to due the larger part of the punting and passing for the local charges. The accident took place in blocking practice Wednesday.

According to Coach George Williams, Ned Bell, another veteran, will shift from his duties as a blocking back to take up the work of the fullback. This will leave the position wide open. Bell and Al Williams will take over the punting while the former will probably do the passing.

A second injury, but one less serious, put Ray Medlick on the sidelines with a bad ankle. He should be able to go by the middle of next week, however. Medlick is one of the reserve halfbacks, and is expected to see plenty of service with the squad this season.

NEW FALL TERM
Opens Septemb... EVENING ... Last Year Noted

A total of 6,539 students are back to work in Hilltop schools this week according to figures given by the Columbus board of education. Schools opened the fall semester on Tuesday and in most instances classroom work got under way in full swing on Wednesday morning.

According to the Holy report, a comprehensive survey of Columbus schools, the number of students enrolling in the lower grades and those enrolling in the higher grades are decreasing and increasing respectively.

This situation is primarily due to two factors: (1) The decline in the birth rate and (2) a general appreciation of the value and utility of advanced education.

Hilltop schools have borne out this theory over a number of years. West high's enrollment of 1,257 last year was the largest in its history, while this year's figure tops it by exactly 100.

Total elementary enrollments on the Hilltop have consistently declined over a period of years. Last year's total showed a decrease of 315 below the previous year.

It appears, however, that this downward trend has come to an abrupt halt. Elementary enrollment this year even shows a slight increase. Total school enrollments to date as compared with last year's enrollment are presented in the following table:

West high	1257	1257
West Jr.	1373	1374
W. Mound	85	70
Starling	1198	1190
W. Broad	607	645
John Burroughs	974	947
Highland	499	517
St. Mary Magdalene	230	202
St. Aloysius	316	325
Total	6539	6626

West Jr. shows the greatest decrease. Enrollment dropped from 1,374 last year to 1,373 this year. The addition of a seventh grade to John Burroughs and the consequent retention of 93 students who ordinarily would have passed on to West Jr. accounts for a large part of the decrease.

Exceptionally heavy enrollments at St. Mary Magdalene have necessitated the addition of an extra classroom.

Dr. C. B. Marquand of West high has been granted a leave of absence from school duties to take a 90 day provisional appointment in the research department of the Ohio Unemployment Compensation Commission. E. B. Dickey, who has been teaching at East Palestine for the past three years, is substituting for Dr. Marquand.

Mrs. Martha Langdon is substituting for Mae Jones at West high due to the illness of Miss Jones' father.

Because of a somewhat congested condition at West high school, approximately 60 seventh grade pupils will remain at John Burroughs for one semester only. According to information obtained from the office of the board of education, the pupils on their own accord have decided to stay. The arrangement made was not compulsory.

The additional grade, not heretofore taught at John Burroughs, has necessitated the bringing in of two new teachers. These are Miss Grace Anderson and Al Latham, who have been teaching at Fairmoor and Southwood schools respectively.

NEW SERVICE STATION

Dwight and Edward Tunison have opened the Tunison Sohio Service station at Wilson-rd and Broad-st. The station is now being remodeled and will carry a complete line of Sohio products, batteries and tires. The station will be open 24 hours a day.

What Causes Body Odor?

Clinical tests and scientific opinion show bacteria are present on the skin under normal conditions. Perspiration has no offensive odor when it exudes from sweat glands and ducts, but acquires an offensive odor as the bacteria cause decomposition of the perspiration intermingled with oil, desquamation of the skin and foreign substance.

Bub-L-Joy Milk bath gives unbelievable cleanliness and keeps away body odor for a longer period of time.

Four W. C. T. U. Groups Active In Community

Fifty-two years ago the first WCTU in Franklin county was organized, and shortly afterward three were in existence and a county organization was formed.

The first WCTU to be formed on the Hilltop was Frances Willard, and its first members were women from and in the vicinity of West Park Avenue M. E. church. That was 45 years ago. One charter member is still active in the county work, Mrs. O. H. Dyar, 166 Crestview-rd. Another is Mrs. Ella Boyd, 110 N Yale-av, former police woman of Columbus.

This union is still very active and has a membership of 100. Gradually the scope of its territory spread until it now numbers some of the city's most outstanding women among its members who live in all parts of the city. Mrs. Ellen Swinehart, 1495 Michigan-av, is president; Mrs. Fenton Fish, 754 Bedford-rd, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Dyer is treasurer.

Second union to be formed among the women of the Hilltop and its adjoining territory was Sullivant, and true to its name it had many members among the women on that street. This group of women has always been active among the underprivileged groups, and the passing of Mother" West, as she was lovingly known, has left much sadness among the people who attend the Nazarene churches and those who come to God's Holiness mission.

This union mothers two LTL groups, children who are being taught the effects of alcohol on the individual and community life. Mrs. Ada Hyder, 101 Miamiav, is president; Mrs. Carrie Swarts, Grove City R. D., is corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Hutchison, 332 Pavey-st, treasurer.

Largest of all these unions is the Hilltop union, with a membership of 180. Organized within the membership of Glenwood church, it has embraced all the community churches and is rapidly becoming one of the foremost of the county's 27 groups. The president, Mrs. Bertha Mayer, has been outstanding in state work for the large number of new members she has secured each year. Two women from this union, Mrs. Ethel Titus Worthen and Mrs. J. A. Fippen, have been the evangelists for the county WCTU for the past six years. Mrs. Annabelle Davis, 111 Wheatland-av, is secretary, and Mrs. Arthur Glass, 87 S. Princeton-av, is treasurer.

Nine years ago Hoge Memorial union was organized by the women in that church. Under the leadership of Mrs. D. F. Barnes, S. Westmoor-av, it grew in membership and activity until three years ago the name was changed to Victory.

Youngest of all Hilltop unions it is by no means the least active. The present officers are Mrs. Pearl Hunter, 573 S. Terrace-st, president; Mrs. A. L. Wagner, 51 N. Burgess-av, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ola Runyan, 125 S. Wayne-av, treasurer.

ALTHOUGH the potency of Adolph Hitler may at the present be reaching the stage of descendancy there remains that it was his power to order peace or war for the world which has brought the present situation. It is idle now to speculate as to what might have been the state of the world today if the "mad-man" of Europe had long ago reached the obscurity toward which he has thrust in direction. All that stands forth that it was one man—one who can be less than normal in thought and action—in fibre and thought, who has chosen in his genital deviousness to plunge civilization over the brink toward chaos.

One Man's Power

To those of us of an older generation—the generation which lived and fought through the last world conflict it still seems unreal that once again the war-dogs should have been unleashed. It all comes about because unbridled power was in the hands of one man—one whom history must record as "mad"—yet, because of that very madness had the power to do that which he has done.

If there be those among us who have ever doubted the wisdom of Democracy—the distribution through congress or parliment of the forces of government the career and acts of Adolph Hitler should impress every thinking person with the virtues of the democratic order of things.

We cannot believe but that the world at large must feel that the German people are not as one in following the acts of Hitler—yet, his was and is the power to plunge them into another war along with the rest of the world. And when this war is over, and may it be short and decesive—it should have served a purpose of value to the countless generations yet to come that absolute power in the hands of one man leads not alone to ruin for the people, but a halt to the progress of civilization as a whole.

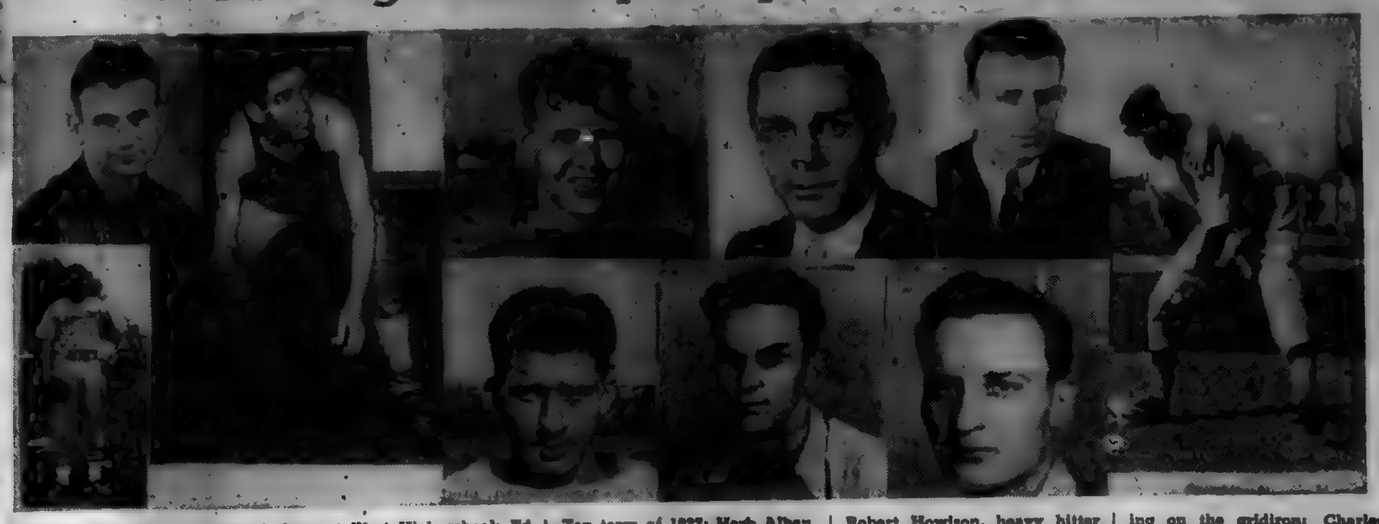
There Shall Be War and Rumors of War

There is war war war they are fighting over there'
Bombing planes with grace will soar almost everywhere;
The fighting now is on and they ll fight 'till ninety-one,
And no one will ever know just why it all begun.



They have fought for forty years at least, so it appears,
The widows and the orphans have spent their days in tears;
Then war they'll have another and kill off all their brother,
That lust to kill it seems to me there is no way to smother.

They'll drop those bombs the darkest night any place they see a light
Our soldiers pause to find the cause and they'll put up a fight,
They'll avoid it if they can BUT YOU MAY SEE A FIGHTING —MAN—
Cause they're stirring up a hornet's nest when they fool with Uncle Sam.

When people fight their neighbor with a sharp and bloody sabre
It makes confusion and chaos out of labor;
I am not so very brave and that fighting I don't crave
I AIN'T MAD AT NOBODY—I AM YOUR FRIENDLY —NEIGHBOR.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I am replying to your front-page editorial of August 25th entitled "WE CAST OUR VOTE".

We all have a right to our own opinions, and as a resident of the Hilltop, and after "having devoted my time to an investigation of the five candidates in the (mayoralty) race," would like to compare our decisions.

You state:

"Earlier this year we stated our hopes of being able to support a man for mayor of Columbus."

I remember your articles very distinctly and noted that when you mentioned possible candidates for mayor, you didn't even mention our present mayor, even though it was a known fact that he would try for a second term, so I interpreted from your articles that your mind had already been made up and you were waiting for the appropriate time to announce your choice.

You state:

"Green is a business man."

My wording of this would be "Green had no business of his own but is a salesman, and possibly a good one, but the mayor's duties are of the executive type!"

You state:

"He (Green) will not tolerate a situation wherein staff members hold their positions as a result of political loyalty but must be technically qualified for the positions that they hold. * * * He will not be obligated to any individual or faction but will be the representative of the city as a whole."

Although you word it as a pledge by Green, you evidently believe it or want the Hilltop residents to believe it. I, personally, consider this the weakest part of his platform. By uttering such a misstatement of facts, can we believe ANY of his promises?

The blunt facts are, he is merely a figurehead for die-hard Harry Arnold and his followers. A thorough investigation will reveal this to be a fact and an easy way to do this would be to find out where all the money is coming from to plaster his picture on billboards all over the city and points nearby. Shade is not the only machine-controlled candidate in the race. If Green were mayor, not a man could be appointed to a city job without the approval of a representative of H. Arnold, and each municipal employe would have to kick in to the organization if he valued his job.

You state:

"Mr. Green, experienced in the affairs of both government and business."

I grant you that Green was elected to council some few years ago. Have you advised the public what his stand was on the 65c gas rate question at that time? Does his four years as councilman and his job as cement salesmen for an out-of-town concern overshadow the experience and qualifications of our present mayor?

Green's slogan is "Get out of the red with green", but he doesn't say how!! He surely would not do away with the relief problem facing the city at this time.

You state:

"And so it is that we are asking other Hilltoppers to investigate what this man has to offer if elected mayor."

I have done this, and you have my reactions. I sincerely trust your decisions are purely your own and that no "salesman" has sold you on the idea. Also that you will thoroughly investigate each statement I have made that might be contradictory to yours. I trust you will also give this space in your paper, not necessarily on the front page, but just so the residents of this community may be inspired to do a little investigating themselves.

Yours very truly,
J. HARCOURT CRAYER

Dear Sirs:

Will you please print in your paper just who sponsors the Westgate park? Is it a city park, one maintained by the Hilltop residents, one of the Westgate lodges, or just who is responsible for that lovely "spot"? We, as well as quite a number of new residents, would like to know.

Thanking you for your kind reply in your paper.

Signed by several new residents in your community.

Editor's note: Westgate park is a city operated and owned park, and is maintained by the city and open to the public.

Irving Wagon Actve In Big Brothea Association

Irving Wagner is another Hilltop man who is doing much for the progress of the Hilltop as well as other sections of Columbus, by his work with boys. He is executive secretary of the Big Brother association of Columbus, whose headquarters are located at 55 S. Sixth-st. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wagner and lives with them at 37 N. Westmoor-av.

Before becoming connected with the Big Brother association Mr. Wagner was probation officer in the boys' department of the juvenile court, and was also active in Boy Scout work. He has been with the Big Brother association five years and has received international recognition because of his work in the development of the summer camp for delinquent boys. He has written several articles on this phase of his work. He established Camp Kaloha, near Old Man's cave, in Hocking county.

Mr. Wagner's work in Columbus is not so much with delinquent boys as with the underprivileged. The purpose of the organization is to aid the boys in adjusting themselves socially, mentally and emotionally, and to care for the individual needs of the boys by studying them and helping them to get along with people. He says that boys become lost in the maze of new things they have to encounter and some of them come to the association, themselves, for help, while others are sent by parents, teachers, social organizations and courtrooms.

He says he has learned from observation in his long association with boys and their problems that too many parents do not take their jobs as parents seriously enough, but take it for granted, and do not prepare themselves to be parents. He thinks this training should be given in the schools as progress in the training of children can go no further without the parents' better knowledge of their job.

The LOOKOUT

by John Wolfe

John Wolfe

Why I should contribute a spot of copy to the "Hilltop on Parade" when I'm no longer a Hilltopper is a bit vague. At heart, perhaps, I have certain credentials which entitle me to certain rights and privileges of the position all Hilltoppers hold.

Let it not be inferred that my residence in the perpetual smoke and haze of the fourth side is preferred to the haven of light and purity that is the Hilltop. I would, however, prefer connection with the north side state institution than any affiliation whatsoever with either of your two state establishments out here. This crack, of course, will lead to many remarks, all of which I can predict with remarkable accuracy. Now that some of my friends have opportunity to wisecrack, I'll tell one tale not told before that shoulda been told:

For Instance

Our good friend Ed Wilson once came to our house smoking a fine cigar. Not long afterward, we found our canary unconscious on the bottom of the cage. With Mom in charge, the atmosphere was cleared in no time at all — and the canary revived.

On the War

Assuming now the god-like versatility which seems to be the prerogative of all columnists, we'll discuss the war . . . It's like Curt Wilcox said the other day: "Why, dummit, there's so much happening right now that when our children grow up and study history, they'll have to throw out about the first 2,000 years so they can remember it all."

Ted and Gay

Notes Picked Up

Mae Jones, the West high latin teacher, will continue her leave of absence for a short while yet . . . Dr. C. B. Marquand, chemistry instructor at West, will probably be on a leave of absence this year to head a research project . . . Jack Bellar, Denison U. lineman, and Jerry Spears, Ohio State gridder, are aiding George Williams with the Buckaroo grid aspirants . . . Sam Wilfis in . . . Still plugging hard for John Lewis, "the best of the lot."

Shop Talk

Quotations (from the column of the estimable Dr. G. W. Crane): "The average college . . . does not render much essential sex information except the innocuous prattle about bees and flowers and pollen." I'd write the guy a letter about innocuous prattle, but then, he'd analyze me and where would I be?

Came a letter to the OSU Botany Dept. tother day, accompanied by a well-pressed plant specimen. "Dear sirs: Will you please inform me as to the name of the native herb enclosed and its medical value. I have heard that it may be given on to children for bedwetting. Sincerely, etc." Man the lifeboats!

• • •

It'll be quite a race for the presidency of the West High Alumni association, what with the fire-eating George Hardy opposing sedate Jos. M. Driggs. Unannounced is Joe's platform, but Hardy's all ready to establish democracy if elected.

Notes and Nubbins

Virginia Gilliland will be at Washington State next year. She's the Hilltopper who topped them all in the recent state pharmacy exams . . . Don Kingery, not seen for years, in from Pittsburg for a few days . . . Hilltopper seen most often on the North Side: Walter Potts, who brings daughter Marjorie home from work each eve . . . Seen on West Broad-st: Dr. C. E. Brady, just strolling . . . Bill and Margie Boyd, walking home from a show, leaving their flat-tired car parked for the nite . . . That pretty girl with the brown curls . . . (Shucks, Harry Thornton, he's not blind yet, anyhoo) . . . See where P. Fulton made the Hilltop all-star softball team this year again. Wonder what game he got his hit in this year. Hiya Paul.

Hauntz Busv With Campaign

Since returning from his vacation, Ray G. Hauntz, Hilltop grocer and candidate for city council, has plunged headlong into a seemingly endless series of campaign meetings.

Last Sunday he spoke before the congregations of two east end churches. On Tuesday evening he put in his appearance and spoke briefly at meetings sponsored by the fourteenth, sixth and thirteenth ward Republican clubs espectively.

Wednesday noon Hauntz attended a luncheon of the Buckeye Republican club. Thursday evening he was the radio guest of Johnny Neblett in the broadcaster's booth at Redbird stadium. Last night also he spoke before the Gessaman meeting in Central high school auditorium.

Pointing to his civic activities in the Hilltop and the things he has accomplished in the interests of this community, Hauntz said: "If I am elected to council, I will do all possible to help other parts of the city as much as I have in the past helped my own community."

Brown Is Active In Music Circles

Prominent in Hilltop orchestra and band work during the past few years, Hal Brown, 156 Southampton-av, today is one of the leading musicians in the community. Brown is a member of the West High Band Parents club and is one of the staunch supporters of the local high school band.

But the music in the Brown family isn't limited to Hal only. Daughter Lois, a senior at the S. Powell-av institution, is secretary of the West High band and during the football season blends her talents with the other musicians in leading the Buckaroos to victory. Mrs. Brown, another music enthusiast, is secretary of the Band Parents club.

Born and raised in Lykens, Pa. Brown is a Pennsylvania Dutchman. For 16 years now he has participated in music as a professional concern and has traveled in nearly every state in the union. His orchestra plays nightly and when they strike up a tune Hal is always doing his share of tooting with the saxophone. Among other special occasions they have performed for are the Hilltop Minstrel, the HBMA spring dance, and the American legion show held this spring.

Ogier Committees

Ogier attended Ohio State university and obtained his law degree from Franklin university in 1930, was admitted to the bar the same year and has been practicing law in Columbus since that time.

He is a member of the Indianola Methodist church, is Junior Warden of Humboldt lodge of Masons, a member of Scioto Consistory and Aladdin temple, Kiwanis club, Eagles, Moose and Old Timers' baseball association.

Mr. Ogier is 37 years old, is unmarried and has three children by a former marriage who attend Crestview school and reside with him at 124 Tibet-rd.

TENNIS TOURNEY

A tennis tournament open to residents of the West Side only will begin at Westgate park Saturday, Sept. 9, according to Victor Sabo, manager of the courts.

There will be two events, men's singles and men's doubles. All entries must be in by Friday, Sept. 8. The fee will be 25c.

The tourney will be sponsored by Cleo Cola and Floyd Green.

Store Sponsors Model Building Contest

Broad-Hague hardware is sponsoring a model contest for builders of airplanes and boats. Details may be had at the store.

There are two age classes, 8 to 16 years old and 16 to 20 years. Three divisions, include solid scale model airplanes, flying scale model airplanes and shipbuilding.

Winner of the contest will be announced Oct. 14, but all the models must be in the store to be judged by Oct. 7.

FORMER WEST PLAYER

Coach Harold Wise will have at least one former West high boy playing football for him at Ohio university this fall.

Howdy Harrison, all-high end of the West championship team of 1937, coached by Wise, has been "invited out" for football practice and reported at Athens for duty Monday.

OPENS SIGN STUDIO

A. L. Faudree is announcing the opening of the Faudree Sign studio at 2285 W. Broad-st. He specializes in all kinds of commercial signs and art work. He has had 26 years' experience and was owner of the Hilltop Sign Co. for 10 years.

A trailer carrying a Shetland pony is making its rounds about the city advertising Amos V. Hopper for council. Hopper will give the pony or $25 in cash to the youngster who can make the most words out of "Amos V. Hopper for city council."

Robert Griffith, 2043 Palmeto-st, entered Mt. Carmel hospital Tuesday where he submitted to a surgical operation Wednesday. He expects to be able to resume his studies at Ohio State this coming term.

Oscar Dildine Is Committeeman

Oscar Dildine, tenth ward Democratic committeeman, in an interview regarding his work as an organization man, made these statements:

"My whole work and ambition as tenth ward committeeman has been to unite the Democratic voters of this ward and to do those things which will be for the welfare of the party and the Hilltop community in general."

"The party organization was in bad condition when I was elected," he continued. "It was split up into several groups. I pledged myself to unite it, and I think I have been successful in this."

According to Dildine, party unity is now a fait accompli. In last year's gubernatorial primary the organization was interested in supporting Governor Davey. "In spite of the fact that many Republicans voted for Sawyer in the primaries in order to defeat Davey," said Dildine, "Davey was defeated by only 11 votes in the tenth ward."

Dildine gave assurance that the work of a committeeman is humanitarian as well as political. "Many needy families who have been suddenly left without means of livelihood are provided for through the organized efforts of party workers," he said. "In this respect my time and energy are at the disposal of all people at all times," he added.

Dildine was born Sept. 29, 1900, in Georgesville. In Columbus he attended the Highland Avenue elementary school. He has worked for years in the interior and exterior decorating business. A Hilltop resident all his life, he now lives at 384 S. Wayne-av.

Since last November Dildine has been an assistant clerk at the country board of elections.

Fleming Is Newsie

Harry Fleming, 703 N. Warren-av, has been called the "Hilltop's most famous paper boy," acquiring this name through nearly 10 years of service to the Charity Newsies. He has been an active salesman at every sale of the annual benefit edition. He is paymaster in the treasurer's office at city hall and has been in that capacity for over 20 years.

Westgate Wires 8000 Farms In Four Years

Ray Bowyer, 229 S. Burgess-av, has just returned from a business trip of more than 3,600 miles, which carried him through Kentucky, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana. The trip was made in connection with the farm wiring activities of the Westgate Electric shop, of which Bowyer is in charge.

He anticipates making another trip shortly which will take him through North Carolina, Georgia and Iowa in addition to the aforementioned states.

Westgate's farm wiring is a part of a nation-wide rural electrification program, the purpose of which is to secure low electric rates for rural consumers.

Said Bowyer: "Our (Westgate's) activities extend over many states. We have been wiring farms on REA since the program was first started nearly four years ago. In fact Westgate Electric wired farms on the first REA project in the United States. This was the so-called "Pioneer Project."

He continued: "Since that time we have wired more than 8,000 farms. If the farms were located side by side on one road with approximately three farms to the mile, we would have wired 2,700 miles of farms to date."

On its farm wiring jobs in various states Westgate maintains about a hundred employees. They receive their weekly pay check direct from the Hilltop office.

The Hilltop

There's a warmer, friendlier feeling
When you get to the top 'o the hill
There's something that's appealing
About the folks that gives you a thrill.

You'll find they're all good neighbors
And when they greet you with a smile
As you return from your daily labors
It makes you feel life's really worth while.

No matter where you travel
To Berlin, Paris or Rome
You'll find at the end of the Rainbow
The "Hilltop", your Home Sweet Home.

Insulbric Is Used On 300 Homes

More than 300 homes were reconstructed with Insulbric by the Bromley Siding Co., 744 S. High-st, during the past year in deals involving a total of $200,000, according to George W. Bromley, general manager of the company.

Insulbric is constructed of a combination of real brick, genuine celotex and a patented mastic construction which produces a strong thick product guaranteed to give years of satisfactory trouble-free service, Mr. Bromley asserted.

Purpose of Insulbric is not only to enhance the beauty of the home, but to enable a saving of 20 to 50 per cent in fuel costs, it was reported. Homes are made cooler in summer and warmer in winter because of the insulation afforded. Drafts are reduced to a minimum and painting costs cut.

The Bromley Siding Co. are the only exclusive distributors and approved applicators of Insulbric in Franklin county.

Dexter Washer Sets Record

A swirling cyclone did what wear could not do. It stopped a Dexter Defender washing machine being used in a breakdown test.

This stock model Dexter Defender ran day and night from April 8, 1933, to July 23, 1935, when nature in an angry mood directed a cyclone against the 80-foot brick stack of the Freshman-Dexter Co. heating plant, smashing everything in its path, including the famous Defender.

Nobody will ever know how long the washer would have run, it was pointed out by Carl Freshman of the company. But everybody knows that a new world's endurance record was established.

For three years, four months and 18 days this Dexter Defender ran 24 hours a day without a stop, without lubrication or attention of any kind.

This is equivalent to 285 years of washing service in the average home.

The Twin Tub Dexter washer, featured by the Freshman-Dexter Co., eliminates soaking clothes. It is a "two successive suds" method whereby the laundry is placed dry in lukewarm soapy water, then into hot soapy water.

This convenient method is found only in Dexter washers and is recommended by the Good Housekeeping Institute.

The Freshman-Dexter Co. now has on display all the major home appliances, including electric and gas ranges, irons and toasters. The firm's offices and showrooms are at 37 W. Gay-st.

Troop 161 Rates High

Camp Chase post troop No. 161 is rated among the 10 finest troops in the Central Ohio Area, involving 165 troops and some 4,000 scouts. The troop is under the active leadership of Kenneth Babbs, 110 Cypress-av, and a troop committee, composed of Harry K. Marsh, 165 N. Wheatland-av, chairman; David Shiflet, 45 Eldon-av, assistant scoutmaster; Dr. C. Finneran, 30 N. Wayne-av; F. H. Morgan, 97 master; Leo Konkler, 188 S. Eureka-av; Elton Stratford, 2198 N. Terrace-av; Ray McVay, 453 S. Warren-av, and Harry Sherwood, 69 N. Huron-av.

Records at hand reveal the Camp Chase post troop outstanding in the matter of maintaining the interest of boys, high scout advancement and excellent program. The troop has for years led the entire area in numbers of boys participating in the annual training camp at the Lazarus Scout reservation, and has provided leadership for Cubbing activities for younger boys.

Softball In Final Stride

Softball activity on the Hilltop hit its final stride this week as eliminations in the city title chase began to cut down the number of contestants. The feature contest involving a local squad was to have been played last night when Calvary Presbyterian, West Side Church league winner, and Holy name, North Church league entry, were to clash for the church championship of the city.

The Presbyterians were slight favorites to take the title. A new champion was sure to be crowned as Hoge Memorial, winners for the past two successive seasons and defending champs, were eliminated in the play-offs. In the finals a year ago Hoge walloped the Holy Namers by a resounding 19-1 count.

Another contest involving local squads was to pit Kent's modern market against Sullivant-av merchants for the play-off of the league title. The winner of this conflict, to have been played last night, will play Corner cafe next week for a clear claim to the pennant.

Two Hilltop teams were eliminated in the city series Tuesday evening when E. G. Buchsieb shut out Corner cafe 1-0 and Goebel beers trimmed the Sullivant-av merchants by a 5-0 count. The third local squad in the title chase, Kent's market, played to a 2-2 deadlock with the Knickerbockes theatre combine.

THE SONG IN MY HEART

A little song keeps singing in my heart,
The very fibers of my soul a part.
It flutters as the winds of fate pass by
Doomed, when born, within my heart to die.

But O, my feverish soul, be calm and hark!
The voice of God is speaking through the dark,
"Forget thy foolish pen and watch with me,
And then thy little song shall set thee free."

Round About The Hilltop

From the Pacific

Comes a story of George Palmer, local grocer, who on a recent tour of the west was enjoying a peaceful swim at one of California's swank beaches, when along comes a mighty wave with such impetus that George was dragged back up on shore with such force that his trunks were pulled off. George admits it was all a bit confusing.

Back From Bermuda

Edith Calland, owner of the LaNora beauty shoppe, is back from a week's cruise to Bermuda. The return trip included a four day stay in New York and Washington with a two day visit to the big fair. While in New York the party of which she was a member enjoyed the hospitality of the Waldorf Astoria hotel. Edith was one of a group who won the trip in a recent contest.

Seiller shaking hands with a dozen customers after returning from vacation . . . West high gridders going through their paces . . . Boys and girls trudging back to school . . . From My Note Book

George Collins, West high coach, has been looking for a house for over three weeks. He gave up his house to spend the summer away from the Hilltop and when he returned he was without a place to live . . . . Rev. E. E. Burtner, B. U. B. pastor, traded his car the other day and couldn't find the keys to his old car when it came time to drive it away . . . . John Eckard is now on the staff of this sheet . . . . Fletch Campbell, his grandfather, C. G. Campbell, and his aunt, Hattie Campbell of Troy, N. Y., visited the New York fair . . . . Owen Hays, pharmacist at Campbell's drug store, is back from the San Francisco fair . . . . Margaret Miller, who has been employed at Wright field, Dayton, will be transferred to Fort Hayes about Oct. 1. . . . . A letter from the Lee McGonigals, formerly of 65 S Westgate-av, now in Almeda, Calif, requests that this paper be mailed to keep them informed of the Hilltop . . . . Annie McDonald's middle name is Grace. Annie came out second best in an encounter with a bicycle last week. (Not in the bicycle derby.) . . . . W. Hayden Jones will take a one year leave of absence from his work of directing the Hilltop male chorus . . . . Clyde Good was not without the services of a cook last week when his mother was busy at the state fair . . . . Howard Ingals is enrolled at Office Training school . . . . While the Herbert Deems were spending a quiet week at the lake 34 Columbus visitors dropped in on them for a visit . . . . Unusual requests that come to this department was one last week to translate a letter written in Spanish . . . .

Post card greetings from Hilltop travelers included D. C. Finneran from Akron and Sam Willis from down in the Smokies.

A local paper says England's Laurence Olivier acting on the Selznick sound stages and Columbus' Harold Bratt, 384 S. Burgess-av, trouping the boards at the Holy Family high school, resemble each other. Columbus scouts report that Bratt in addition to having the Olivier profile has plenty on the ball as a young leading man . . . . Dorothy Kavanaugh and Jayne Hartley visited in Va. over the week-end . . . . The Don Smiths are back from a trip through the east including Washington and the famous "Skyline Drive" . . . . Fishing at Houghton lake, Mich., over the week-end were George Renker, C. J. Rice, John Crooks, William Foster, Clyde Bundy, Miles King, Wilmer Sarlin, Dick Fultz, Walter Brinkley, Glen Glasgow and Earl Marshall . . . . Jack Bellar leaves for Denison U. today where he will report for football Monday. Scouts say that he will see plenty of action this fall . . . . Jack and Jerry Spears, promising Ohio Stater, were limbering up with the Buckaroo team this week.

Dry Speaker At Avondale Sunday

Miss Ethel Hubler, nationally known speaker on the alcohol question, both on the platform and over the air, will speak at Avondale U. B. church Sunday evening, Sept. 10, at 7:30.

She will review the promises made by those who sought repeal of the eighteenth amendment and will discuss the manner in which these promises have been kept. Up-to-the-minute statistics on bootlegging, drunkenness, drunken driving and liquor consumption will be presented.

Chorus To Meet

The initial meeting of the Hilltop male chorus for the fall season has been called for Monday evening. The meeting will be at the Neil Avenue Methodist church. A dinner will be served at 7 o'clock. All former members of the chorus have been invited to report for the season just beginning.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st, has a 17 year old son, making four generations of Reeds who have been neighbors of Mr. Wagner's. The Wagner family lives at 37 Westmoor-av. Yes sir, it's a small world!

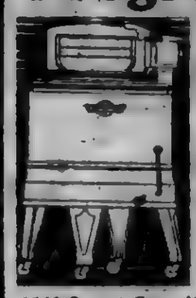
Mr. and Mrs. Wagner will celebrate their fortieth wedding anniversary Sept. 14.

TO MEET SEPT. 14

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Columbus chapter 206, Women of the Moose, will be held Thursday evening, Sept. 14, at the Moose hall. Miss Viola Miller, 758 S. Front-st, senior regent, will be in charge of the meeting.

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 340 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.



Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administra-

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 2046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken. "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was, that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3086 W. Broad-st, has a 17 year old son, making four generations of Reeds who

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Westgate Pharmacy Recently Enlarged

Westgate pharmacy, located on the Hilltop for seven years is one of the more modern and fully equipped stores in the community.

The store handles a complete line of pharmaceuticals representing such drug manufacturing companies as Ely Lilly, Parke Davis, Squibb, Upjohn and other leading companies.

The store carries Schrafft, Bunte and Johnson candies, also Fairmont's ice cream. A modern soda fountain and prompt delivery service are other conveniences founded by the store.

The pharmacy was recently remodeled, resulting in a larger prescription department. There is always a registered pharmacist on duty.

West Side Neighbors Greet The Hilltop

Shown above are members of the staff at the White Rose Laundry, 814 McKinley-av. A rapidly growing concern, the laundry now employs 32 people and has developed into one of the better laundering establishments in the city. The slogan of the company, "Thrift-i-Service," is found in its work and the company specializes in wearing apparel as well as household accessories.

More and more Hilltop housewives are turning to the WHITE ROSE LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANERS as the answer to thrift, convenient and prompt 24 hour service in laundering and dry cleaning for their families. Because the WHITE ROSE LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANERS are so close to the Hilltop, your near West Side neighbor takes a special interest in catering to the needs and best interests of Hilltop people.

Your Dentist

Your dentist is a vital force in your Hilltop community, in assuring the best in mouth hygiene and general good health. Only on such special occasions as those commemorating the progress of a community is the public prone to realize the full importance of the dentist in the general welfare.

"See your dentist twice a year," is a slogan designed to bring the fullest measure of good health to everyone. By allowing one's dental needs to go unattended over too long a period, much can happen that will tend not only to produce the pain of tooth ache, but will affect the entire health of the individual as well as members of his family and friends.

The dentist of today knows how to care for teeth with the utmost simplicity of effort and without pain to the patient. The old days of dreading to go to the dentist are past. The dental profession has indeed kept pace with the modern scientific inventions making for greater human comfort and welfare.

The dentists of the Hilltop are among the very best in the city of Columbus, and stand ready to serve the residents of our community with the best knowledge of the dental profession, and with the personal interest that comes from attending a friend and neighbor. It behooves the public to consider the dentist and the service he performs for each of us, at such times as the first of the month, when his monthly statement is rendered. The dentist, too, has creditors, and we must pay him promptly so that he may meet his obligations. Otherwise we embarrass a good friend and one who has served us well.

New Super Highway

Will Provide Two Lane Entrance To Hilltop From West

Some time this month the contract will be let for the reconstruction of highway 40 between the city limits and West Jefferson. In contrast to the old interurban which took Columbus residents to and from the city, this new modern highway, composed of two lanes of 24 foot stretches of concrete, will more safely speed travelers on their way.

The new stretch will be one foot lower than the old and there will be a 10 foot parkway between the two.

A reinforced concrete bridge over Darby creek one and one-fourth miles east of West Jefferson is also planned, which will cost approximately $198,000. Total cost for complete construction of the highway has been estimated at $800,000.

This will provide one of the finest main entrances to Columbus and serve as a western gateway to the Hilltop.

Semper Fidelis Circle Is Active

The Semper Fidelis Circle of Robert Morris chapter, OES, was organized in 1928, for the purpose of binding the Star Points and their Matrons in closer friendship to one another. Each year the Worthy Matron and her five star points are invited to join.

Those who have served as president for the organization are Delcina Fox, Nell Jane Price, Minnie Vollman, Gladys Dean, Anna Orumm, Florence Clark, Juanita Cline, Irene Case, Esta Sharpe and Martha Lind. The present officers are Mrs. Florence Emerick, president; Mrs. Carolyn Thatcher, vice-president; Mrs. Iva Edwards, treasurer; Ruth Downs, chairman of arrangements; and Mrs. Pearl Tracy, secretary.

Noble L. Allen

In the spring of this year the West High Parent Teachers' association elected Noble L. Allen president to succeed Gift N. Harper. He has also been active in the West Broad PTA. Allen is an active Hilltop worker, having lived here all his life. He is a graduate of West High school, attended Ohio State university, and was graduated from the university of Cincinnati in 1928. Six years ago he went into the business of funeral directing for himself.

Aside from his business he is active in a number of social and fraternal groups. He is a member of Westgate lodge, the Robert Morris chapter of the Eastern Star, Westwood Pythian Sisters, Pi Sigma Eta, national professional fraternity, and is past chancelor of Westwood Knights of Pythias.

Mr. Allen has one son, Noble L. Allen jr., who is 13, attending West Junior high school. He resides at 2586 W. Broad-st.

Hilltop Has VFW Auxiliary

Three years ago 18 wives of veterans of Foreign Wars signed a charter to form the Westway VFW Auxiliary. At the present time they have a membership of 65. Mrs. Alice Wolfe, 381 S. Warren-av, was the first president of the gorup, serving two terms. Mrs. Margaret Phelps, 106 S. Harris-av, was second president, and Mrs. Emma Kunzi, 3133 Ellis-pl, is the present head of the group. Other officers for the year are Mrs. Geneva Suver, 47 N. Harris-av, senior vice-president; Mrs. Martha Lee, 945 E. Livingston-av, junior vice-president; Mrs. Gladys Entwisle, 347 S. Hague-av, secretary; Mrs. Stella Garrison, 643 S. Wayne-av, treasurer.

Meetings of the group are held the second and fourth Thursday evenings of the month. Members of the VFW Auxiliary specialize in relief and hospitalization work.

A year following formation of this organization a junior auxiliary was started, of which Bertha Boord, 1691 Sullivant-av, is president; Margaret A. Walters, 26 N. Wayne-av, senior vice president; Mary Jane Zulauf, 136 S. Roys-av, junior vice-president; Gracie Kessler, Huron-av, secretary; Betty Wolfe, 381 S. Warren-av, treasurer.

There are 26 daughters in the junior auxiliary.

One of the problems which confronted authorities at old Camp Chase was that of smuggling of forbidden articles into the enclosure. Whisky was put into cans labelled "canned peaches" or into milk cans with false bottoms which would contain a quart or so.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 470 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 38 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Beautiful Westgate Park Is Very Inviting Spot On Hilltop

The Hilltop is justly proud of one of the finest parks in the city, Westgate park, and takes full advantage of all the comfort and enjoyment that it provides whether it be on the tennis court, the baseball fields, or the shade of the tall virgin timbers. Here are outdoor recreational facilities for all ages and of the finest in the city. Recent improvements at Westgate have provided a new lake, fountain and numerous other develop-

Hilltop Has Three Fine Parks

Few communities in the city can boast of three fine public parks. This the Hilltop may do without reservation. Recent developments and improvements at Glenwood, Holton and Westgate have made these parks the envy of the city. And there is still more to be done along these lines.

Intensive work on Holton park was begun five or six years ago. A pleasant stream enters the park at the northeast corner, meanders lazily through the park, and after flowing under a beautiful little bridge emerges at the southwest. An attractive stone facing has been built along the bank, where it is steepest.

There is a wading pool for small tots. Three fine tennis courts, modern playground apparatus, and a ball diamond have been provided. A stone shelter house offers comfortable picnic facilities on the hottest of days. Very recently grading and leveling work has added much to the appearance of the grounds.

Glenwood park is the oldest recreation center on the Hilltop. Here are a juvenile playground, two tennis courts, and horseshoe and volleyball courts. The city recreation department hopes that more activities can be provided in the near future. At Glenwood also is an enclosed shelter house, which provides winter season recreational opportunities.

Gem among gems is the beautiful Westgate park. Work was started on this park four or five years ago. Greatest improvements, however, have been made since February of this year.

A beautiful lake, skirting the north edge of a large wooded area, is the central theme. The lake is 700 feet long and varies between 100 and 125 feet in width. The maximum depth is three feet. There are stepping stones from the water level to the top of a terraced slope. At the west end is a large spray fountain. Feeding water enters the lake through holes in an attractive stone dam.

The landscaping of the park, still in process, will feature shrubs and flower beds. Three-corner benches will be built around trees, and roasting ovens will be provided for picnickers.

Westgate park offers the most modern of recreational facilities. It has one of the few tiled athletic fields in the city. There are four ball diamonds on the field and a small diamond on the playground. The six tennis courts with chain link backstops are second to none in the state. A full line of playground equipment has been installed. In addition there are volleyball, softball and horseshoe courts. The large shelter house serves as an excellent center for social activities.

Holton and Westgate parks were built with city funds and with the aid of WPA labor. The citizens of the Hilltop owe debts of gratitude to the local civic and business organizations which have been influential in obtaining and developing these parks and to the city park department for its splendid cooperation and work done in the interests of this community.

Fern Sharp Has Interesting Radio Program

By Esther Weakley

For a long time we had heard about Miss Fern Sharp's radio program on station WBNS, but never bothered to listen in for we supposed it was just another woman's program. Then somebody told us that Miss Sharp lives on the Hilltop, so we decided she must be good, so we listened in—and she is!

Her voice is natural and friendly and very pleasing and her program most interesting, not only to women but men as well. She is justly proud of her men fans, which are legion. She is the daughter of Dr. C. L. Sharp, 2263 W. Broad-st.

Miss Sharp has been with station WBNS for the past two years. She is a graduate of Ohio State university, having received a B. A. degree. She has traveled extensively, both in the United States and abroad, and lived for a time in New York City, where she has many friends among the-atrical and literary people.

She does free lance writing, and writes articles on food, art and other subjects for many of the leading women's magazines; has done program planning and restaurant management work; has been a radio critic; has written plays; is in constant demand as a speaker; had her own abstracting business for eight years; does water color and oil painting, and sells her paintings, yet this versatile lady finds time to enjoy gardening, and she likes people and dogs, particularly her own wire-haired terrier, one Jon.

Miss Sharp is a champion of women and says that we should prepare ourselves to take our rightful place in the world, for our time is coming. She thinks we should do no farm-storming and waste our energy being aggressive, but should plod along and some day we shall have the opportunity of doing the thing we want to do. She thinks the home-maker has a great future and there should be a better understanding between the home-maker and the rest of the world; that it does not recognize the power of woman for its future

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3065 W. Broad-st, has a 17 year old son, making four generations of Reeds who

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

The Doghouse

Salt And Peppers

Are Hobby of Mrs. Walter Curliss Who Pinches Own Salt

She owns more salt and pepper shakers than anyone on the Hilltop, and probably in the entire city, yet Mrs. Walter Curliss, 300 S. Hague-av, claims, jokingly, "we pinch our salt at the dinner table."

A most unusual collection is this owned by this Hilltop lady. She started collecting salt and pepper shakers about a year ago and to date has about 136 sets. And for the most part they are like the animals of Noah's ark, they come in pairs. A few of the antiques she owns have no mates.

It started out when she happened to get a few sets on hand and noticed how pretty they were and then the more she got the more she wanted and so today she has salt and peppers from almost everywhere. If her friends go away on a trip they remember Mrs. Curliss with a salt and pepper set.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Green brought her a set of orange ones from Florida. She has a tryolon and perisphere from the worlds fair, a couple of Indians from the Thousand islands.

Included in the great array of colorful midgets are dogs, soldiers, Mexicans, Dutch windmills, roosters, pickles, corn, beer barrels, lanterns, guns, and too many shapes and sizes to describe here.

"How do you select the set to use when guests come?" she was asked.

"I go to the kitchen and get the ones from the stove," was her reply.

P. S. Mrs. Curliss will welcome more salt and peppers.

MR. AND MRS. McNAMEE CELEBRATE 50 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McNamee, 2443 Sullivant-av, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in May of this year, holding open house for their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. McNamee are 71 years of age.

Mr. McNamee travels several thousand miles a month in his work as superintendent for the American Arch Co.

Before washing any print or colored garment for the first time take an extra minute or so to test the belt or a sample of the fabric by squeezing it in a tumbler of tepid water unless the garment is guaranteed color fast.

Camp Chase Auxiliary Formed 1930

[illegible] years ago a group of women, all wives of veterans of the World War, banded together in the K. of P. hall at Burgess and Broad street and formed the Camp Chase Post auxiliary. They have held the largest membership record two times in the state, and were ninth largest in the United S[illegible]te time.

[illegible]day and Saturday preceding Memorial Day, women of Camp Chase auxiliary join with women of other units throughout the county in the selling of poppies. They have donated books to the local library. The Franklin county choristers originated in this group, formerly being called the Camp Chase chorus. They are active at all times of need.

Past presidents of the organization include Mrs. Hoar, Mrs. Mildred Williams, Mrs. Lillian Richardson, Delia Wagner, Mabel Rogers, Mildred Myers, Edna Bellar, Bertha Planck and Mrs. Wilson. Officers for the present year include Mrs. D. C. Finneran, president; Mrs. Claude Hasson, first vice-president; Mrs. C. O. Macabee, second vice president; Mrs. Helen Kirkpatrick, secretary; Mrs. Effie Swiger, personnel secretary; Mrs. J. C. Bowser, treasurer; Mrs. E. H. Brown, chaplain; Mrs. Ruth Cunningham, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Nell Cummins, historian; Irene Hitchcock and Marie Williams, color bearers; Mrs. G. B. Myers, relief chairman; and Mrs. C. D. Thompson, junior auxiliary advisor.

There are 254 members in the organization at the present time.

DANIEL DAY TO GET SEWING PATENTS

As a result of 14 years of study and experiment Hilltopper Daniel Day is ready to receive patents for his completely automatic sewing machine. Daniel Day was born in Gallipolis and lived for several years in Dayton where he owned a tire business. He resides on N. Southampton-st.

The machine built by Day can be made into any size from four inches into the largest factory sized machine.

Green Outlines Platform In Race For Mayor

Floyd F. Green, Hilltop candidate for mayor, is at present in the midst of a more than vigorous campaign. The first volleys were fired Monday evening, Aug. 21, when Green made public his platform at a meeting sponsored by the "Metropolitan Green for Mayor" committee.

Certain planks were in effect positive denunciations of the policies and practices of the present administration. Said Mr. Green: "Our people have the right to know the financial condition of their city. Financial schemes and maneuvering must stop in favor of a modern simplified bookkeeping system."

"In respect to law enforcement," he said "I am definitely opposed to spasmodic drives in any form." He continued, "There must be continuous year around enforcement of our traffic laws. A quota system, which compels a police officer to bring in so many dollars in fines each working day, will not be tolerated during my administration."

In addition Green pledged himself to strictest economy in all departments of city government—to the maintenance of an adequate relief system—to strict observance of the civil service laws and the elimination of payroll padding—to the securance of lowest possible utility rates for the consumer—and to the provision of adequate playground and park facilities for all classes of citizens.

Green was born on July 10, 1899, on Columbus' east side. His father, for years an employee of the Pennsylvania R. R., was a member of the B. of L. F. & E., affiliated with the A. F. of L. As a boy Green worked at neighborhood odd jobs. He supplemented his high school education with courses at the Columbus Business college and LaSalle university.

Green gained his first salesmanship experience with the Jacobs Mfg. Co., For the past 13 years he has been associated with the Southwestern Portland Cement Co.

Green was in the 1931 mayoralty race on the Republican ticket. During the four previous years he served on the city council. Always active in civic and business organizations, he is past president of the Hilltop Business Men's association, the Columbus Lions club, the Builders and Traders Exchange, and a member of the Columbus Lodge of Elks, Fraternal Order of Eagles, United Commercial Travelers No. 1 Council, Fraternal Order of Orioles, Loyal Order of Moose, American Business Council, Old Timers Baseball club and the Masons.

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 351 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken. "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was, that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served As Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Hilltop Record Has Served Community Faithfully For The Past 23 Years

Growth Is Parallel To Community

Three years ago the Hilltop Record, its editorial and mechanical staff, pledged to the Hilltop community, in a page similar to the one presented here, a future of progress in service and entertainment.

...se in the accomplishments and progress of the past few years as well as progress made during the complete 23 years of the Record is well merited and is typical of the growth and improvement of the community the paper represents.

This year the Hilltop community pointed with pride to the building of 400 new homes in its midst—400 new families have been or will be added to the group of citizens known to Columbus as Hilltoppers. To keep up with this growth the Record has increased its circulation from 6,750 in 1936 to 10,000.

The Hilltop Record has been acclaimed the best weekly paper in Columbus, equally one of the best in Ohio.

"We are pleased—but not satisfied with the progress of a better paper each week. The Hilltop Record staff will continue to be of service and to present a constant source of enjoyment to this community which in itself is progressive and deserving of a progressive representative," states C. C. Hartley, publisher.

Record One Of Four Hartley Papers

The Hilltop Record is one of a group of four papers published by Hartley Newspapers, an organization founded August, 1938, to unite the three papers which were owned at the time by C. Carlton Hartley.

The most recent addition to the family of newspapers is the Fairfield Times of Lancaster, a weekly published since November, 1938. The paper has a circulation of 6,500; is printed at the Columbus plant, but has offices in the Civic Loan building at Lancaster. Adrian Fuller is manager of the Fairfield Times.

The Fayette Times, weekly paper of Washington C. H., purchased in June, 1938, was judged the most outstanding weekly newspaper in Ohio at the recent Ohio Newspaper association show, though it was less than one year old. Jerald Fortney is manager of this paper.

The Greenfield Daily Times, published in Greenfield, and under the management of Mr. E. F. Hartley, father of C. C. Hartley, is the only daily paper in Highland county and is the oldest member of the Hartley Newspaper organization. Pat Shrock is editor of this paper.

Three firms of the organization have job printing shops and an engraving plant is anticipated. There are approximately 40 members of the Hartley Newspapers organization.

Included in the masthead of each paper is the belief of the publisher that "Where there is no vision, the people perish." The editorial policy is centered around this belief and each paper is operated with the desire to inform the people of each community so that they may see ways of developing a better place in which to live.

Headquarters of the group are at 14 S. Oakley-av.

PUBLISHER

C. Carlton Hartley

Hartley has published the Record since 1936. He and his wife and children, Carl and Luanne, live at 356 S. Roys-av.

Our Policy . .

That there is a place in this community for the publication of a good newspaper is evidenced each week.

This issue of The Record witnesses the fine spirit of cooperation shown by these business people. For this we extend our very grateful thanks and reiterate our promises to continue to make the Record the finest community paper in Ohio.

To maintain the satisfaction of publishing a better paper from week of week we have adopted a definite editorial policy . . . that of a progressive program for the Hilltop and one of honesty and sincerity in our expressions. We will at all times continue to be independent politically and otherwise.

Publishing such a newspaper with the hearty cooperation we have had from our employees shall continue to be a personal pleasure.

MECHANICAL STAFF OF HILLTOP RECORD

Henry Jones — Bill Moore — Homer Prince — Chet Rinehart — Don Bailey

Westlake Active As Printer Yet

S. J. Westlake, founder of the Hilltop Record, is active as a printer at 2354 W. Broad-st. He founded the Record in 1917 and along with it operated a job printing business. The paper started as a four column sheet containing ads and church notices on the front page.

Orange Shirts Deliver The Record

In order to insure prompt delivery and efficient service of the Record each Friday morning the Orange Shirts of the F. Altman & Son are used. Main office of this firm of distributors is at 416 S. Third-st. F. Storing, manager, has provided exceptional cooperation in this work.

Hastings Published Record 10 Years

For the 10 years previous to 1936 R. D. Hastings, 86 S. Ogden-av, was publisher of the Record, and developed it into one of the finest community papers in the state. He is at present publisher of the West Jefferson Star at West Jefferson, O. The paper was sold to C. C. Hartley in 1936.

Oldest Of Community Papers

April 27, 1940 will mark the twenty-fourth birthday of the Hilltop Record, Columbus' and Central Ohio's oldest community paper.

Todays issue will be the 1067th weekly issue of the Hilltop Record, published consecutively since Apr. 27, 1917.

The Record was founded by printer S. J. Westlake and has been a continuous source of information to Hilltop residents, not missing a week of publication in the past 23 years.

The first issue of the Record was a small sheet of four pages, nine by 12 inches, containing a few advertisements, some being on the front page and almost no headlines. The front page contained news of Hilltop churches and a few news items. It was printed downtown for a year when the work of publishing was moved to the Westlake shop. The press used was a hand fed cylinder, two pages at a time, some portions going to press on Saturday.

Contained in the editorial of that first issue was the following quotation: "We have no predictions to make concerning the future of the Record, but we promise to do our best to make it an interesting newspaper devoted exclusively to the Hilltop and vicinity."

Management of the paper was taken over by R. D. Hastings in 1929 and C. Carlton Hartley, former editor and present publisher of the paper, purchased the Record Jan. 3, 1936.

On Feb. 4, 1937 the Ohio Newspaper association awarded the Hilltop Record a certificate of merit for the most outstanding work in the special edition field of all weekly newspapers in Ohio.

The Record has not attempted to compete with other papers but has made an effort to be of service as well as to entertain Hilltop residents. The use of local pictures with exclusively local news backed by a definite editorial policy has been one of the policies adopted by the paper.

Record Can Print Anything From Card To Paper

Job printing of all kinds is done by the Record Printing Co., publishers of The Hilltop Record. This modernly equipped plant can produce anything from a calling card to a newspaper.

The firm has recently installed two new Linotype machines and numerous fonts of new types for use in all kinds of printing.

The Record is a Union shop and can provide the Union label.

Want Ads Are Result Getters

Two most popular methods of determining if a newspaper has advertising pulling power is to ascertain if it has a large want ad and grocery section.

The Hilltop Record has both. For the past 10 years the Record has carried a large number of food ads regularly. For more than 10 years the ad of Sherburn's grocery has appeared in the same position regularly every week.

More than 250 to 300 want ads are carried each week and an unlimited number of testimonials of results obtained are reported to the Record office weekly. Want ads are accepted by phone or at the office until 9 a. m. Thursdays.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st, has a 17 year-old

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Fairfield Times Editor Writes His Impressions Of Hilltop

Editor's note: The following is an article written by Adrian Fuller, prominent newspaper man, speaker, and editor of the Fairfield Times, at the request of the Record.

By Adrian Fuller

The first job the writer had in Columbus was selling the Columbus Citizen at the corner of Broad and High-sts. That was a long time ago but we quickly became conscious of the fact that the Columbus of those days was largely east, north and south. The western boundary for practical purposes seemed to be the Scioto river. Indeed, we were scarcely conscious of the fact that there might be something beyond the river, for our customers all seemed to take street cars in other directions.

Later, we heard the term west side used in uncomplimentary terms. Why, we didn't know. But, we were in grade school out at Ohio-av, and one reasons little about things at such an age. But, again we had the impression that in Columbus, it was only the north, south and eastern sections that counted, and that the river marked the boundary of all things worth while as far as Columbus was concerned. All of this was between 1900 and 1910, and we believe for the great mass of Columbus people our youthful impression as to what the west side amounted to was like it was generally considered by adults.

It was our lot not to see the west side until many years later, and the revelation of accomplishment in building a community within a city, one with a consciousness closely integrated for the good of those who lived and worked there was one which has impressed us ever since.

We became, it seemed more or less, a regular visitor out to the Hilltop. A brother, Francis (Peg) Fuller became coach and teacher at West high school. Then there were speeches we made before various organizations such as the West high alumni, Parent-Teachers association and at the Hoge Memorial church. So we became acquainted with the Hilltop by personal visits.

But, downtown, where we were engaged in newspaper work of a different sort than when we sold papers at Broad and High-sts, those many years ago the stories we heard of the Hilltop and the west side were at considerable variance with those in the early days of the century. We heard that the Hilltop people were exercising a great influence in city government in Columbus. We were told by politicians that no other section of the city was so aggressive in securing for it the improvements needed, or were more interested in what went on at the city hall. In fact we came to realize that we were hearing more of the Hilltop and its accomplishments than we were of any other section of Columbus. Having been out there we could understand why? And we could also understand why when city officials sought re-election or new candidates sought preference, they wanted to be sure of the people on the Hilltop, for there was the biggest bloc of votes in the city. At least we had been told this by politicians.

We kept hearing about the Hilltop Business Men's association. Some one said it functioned better for its purpose than did the Chamber of Commerce down town. And recently having been more closely associated with Hilltop business men we readily believe that is so.

And all of this represents PROGRESS in great degree.

It is a far cry from the years we have written of in some foregoing paragraphs. And all of the things which have happened —the leaders responsible and the diligence of Hilltop organizations during the intervening years will be duly chronicled and illustrated in this Progress edition of the Hilltop Record.

This in itself is but another evidence of the community interest, and we are glad to comply with Mr. Hartley's request to write this piece for this edition which serves the useful purpose of preserving in written and pictured form the steps of impressive progress of a fine American community—an increasingly important part of the capital city of the state of Ohio.

MIB CHAMP

In 1930 Jimmy Lee of 602 S. Eureka-av was named national marble champion at Atlantic City after he had competed in the finals there in a nation-wide contest.

STORE OWNER

M. W. Seiller

One of the best known and progressive men on the Hilltop is M. W. Seiller, owner of Seiller's department store, located on the Hilltop for 30 years. Mr. Seiller has enlarged his store four times, each time presenting more and varied selections for the convenience of Hilltop residents. Mr. and Mrs. Seiller reside at 29 Eldon-av. They have two daughters, Eleanor and Dorothy, both Phi Beta Kappas.

NIGHTINGALE COTTAGE HAS BENEFICENT PROGRAM

Organized for the purpose of presenting a tubercular preventorium to the children of the Hilltop and vicinity between the ages of two and 13, the Nightingale Cottage, located on Brice-rd, has been active in beneficent projects since 1931.

Hilltop wings were founded by Mrs. Samuel Black sr. and organized by Mrs. C. F. Shell. In 1933 Wing 13 had an original membership of nine and at the present time boasts a membership of 45. In 1936 it had the largest membership of all wings. The Fidelis wing which disbanded in 1937, was composed of a group of high school students with a rating of third largest of all Nightingale wings.

Meetings of Wing 13 are held once a month and the work of the organization is supported by pledges and Christmas seal sales.

Mrs. C. F. Shell, 641 S. Ogden-av, who was the organizer of the group has been its president for eight years. Other officers are Mrs. O. H. Born, 236 S. Harris-av, vice-president; Mrs. Ray Wilcox, 208 S. Harris, secretary; Mrs. Frank Nassano, 144 S. Eureka-av, treasurer.

DR. SHARP HAS MOTORIZED BED

An interesting contribution to the field of medical science is the invention of a motorized "nurse bed" patented by Dr. C. E. Sharp, 2263 W. Broad-st.

The bed, designed as an aid for crippled, convalescent, aged and sick persons, is controlled either by cords or push-buttons, enabling the occupant to change positions with little effort and without the assistance of a nurse or attendant. Dr. Sharp has devoted his entire life to the practice of medicine in Columbus.

Hilltoppers Give Generously To Relief

Since the southern Ohio flood disaster of the winter of 1936-37, Hilltop people have undeniably gained for themselves a name for being generous. They have been generous to the point of sacrifice, contributing over $1,000 in flood crisis besides the offerings donated through the schools.

Scores of trucks carried clothing and bedding to Memorial hall; games, magazines and entertainment equipment were offered abundantly and wholeheartedly.

When calls went out for money, C. G. Wilcox at the Hilltop bank reported that $111.75 was contributed—solicited only by radio—on the first day. An old man past 70 made the first contribution and there followed many more. The American Legion reported that practically 100 per cent cooperation was received from Hilltop homes.

$1 FOR FIRST COPY

George Pekras, manager of the Rivoli theatre, paid $1 to the Hilltop Record for the first issue off the new press when it was placed in operation Sept. 27, 1928. The $1 was framed by Mrs. R. D. Hastings and is now retained by her.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 488 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Neshoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Melodeon Is For Sale Today

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st, has a 17 year old son making

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

The Doghouse

Beauty And Life In Ryhme Is Expressed By Hilltop Poets

Hilltop Leads In Production Of Poetry

The Hilltop has more writers of poetry than any other section of Columbus. While the majority are in the amateur class, there are a few professional writers whose work has appeared in the better magazines. Each writer has been represented in newspaper verse columns, poetry publications, or poetry anthologies.

Those who write, but whom we were unable to contact are: Mrs. John H. Bennett, 146 Columbian-av; Rev. P. W. Drumm; Miss Rosabelle Hipp, 334 S. Harris-av; Miss Elsie Ireland, 610 Chestershire-rd; Mrs. Leslie Keyser, 83 Powhatan-av; Mrs. Helen Lisle, 2847 Sullivant-av; Miss Barbara Littman, 719 Racine-av; Miss Frances Newlon, 134 N. Burgess-av; Mr. H. C. Shetrone, 75 N. Chase-av, and Mrs. Allovette Zellner, 201 Eldon-av. If we have omitted any writer, it is because we do not have a record of having their work submitted to the Record. There are several high school pupils whose work we have read which is exceptionally fine, but whose names we do not recall.

—Esther Weakley, Hilltop Record Poetry Editor.

Ethel Titus Worthen

Though Mrs. Ethel Titus Worthen has had the full responsibility of rearing a large family, since the death of her husband many years ago, she has found time to be active in church work and to publish a book of her own poetry. She has also many poems printed in newspapers and other publications.

In her note which accompanied her poem printed here, Mrs. Worthen says: "This poem was inspired by the Hilltop bank robbery. I would never be in sympathy with wrong-doing but I thought of the bandits mothers, often good women who are bowed in grief by their childrens misdeeds."

Her poetry is sincere and usually written in a religious vein of which the following poem is an example:

THE BANDITS MOTHER

Somewhere, there must be a mother,
Perhaps with silvery hair . . .
She thinks of her wayward boy
And kneels for him in prayer.

Or, perhaps she is spared the heartache,
Asleep, long years ago . . .
And needs not know the wicked deeds
Of her boy, a public foe.

Ferne Parsons Norris

Mrs. Ferne Parsons Norris is another of the better known Hilltop poets. Her home is at 79 N. Wayne-av. She was former president of the Highland Ave. PTA and believes that poetry appreciation should be taught in the schools as well as music and art appreciation. Poetry is often read aloud in her home, since her children and Mr. Norris love it, also.

She has written poetry since she was a child and her poetry has won several prizes and has been widely published and is universally enjoyed.

Mrs. Norris prefers the sonnet form of verse, an example of which is printed below:

I HAVE FOUND GOD

I have found God in many a lovely thing—
Deep rivers, stately hills, the silver sea;
The ecstasy of each recurring spring
Finds ever answering ecstasy in me.
A sunset, coral, amethyst and gold,
An oriole on leafy bough concealed,
Pouring our liquid beauty clear and bold . . .
In all such ways is God to me revealed.

Then I have found Him in more precious ways . . .
In peace that follows anguish, pain and prayer;
In rest and silence after weary days;
In handclasp of a friend when grief we share.
But God's own self, serene as His blue skies
I have found deep within a child's pure eyes.

Ada May Dyer

Every resident of the Hilltop knows about the Dyer Piano school which was conducted by Mrs. Ada May Dyer at her home at 272 S. Hague-av, for 10 years.

Since she was a young girl she has written not only poetry, but dramas, music, scenarios and prose. She has also taught elocution, music, Latin and literature. Mrs. Dyer is a native of Maine. She has read her poetry and given talks before several church and social groups and is a member of many educational organizations.

Mrs. Dyer is known as the "Dog Poet" and has written many fine poems about dogs.

DEPARTURE

When we have reached three score and ten,
The world is passing by,
There is no one to sit and mope,
No need to sorrow and sigh;
For we are ripe for reaping
And the harvest soon to be—
A sort of graduation
To the great eternity.
A time for meditation is
The turning of the road,
The time to nurse a hobby and
Let others bear the load;
For we have labored earnestly
With book or plow or pen,
Have passed examination
And found infancy again.
For while we have been waiting
We have builded day by day
The place of destination—
The home where we will stay.
Then we will need no raiment
Nor can others us attend
For our mansion will be waiting
When we reach our journey's end.
Then we will do the things we like,
Will greet those we have known.
In course of our p[illegible]sion we
May see the great white throne.

Ola S. Runyan

Mrs. Runyan's home is at 125 S. Wayne-av. She has written poetry since she was 10 years old.

Her hobby is reading. She is the mother-in-law of Mr. Vance Smith, principal of West junior high. Mr. Runyan was at one time superintendent of schools at London, also at Plain City.

Mrs. Runyan has a box of poems she wrote during her college days and while [illegible] was teaching, but we have chosen this poem for we are sure that none of them could be more lovely than this, one of her more recent verses:

THREE DAYS

She held him, sleeping, in her arms,
Her precious little son;
And loved and hoped and prayed and dreamed,
That happy summer morn.

She watched him march away one noon,
Eyes lifted to the flag;
And love and pride and hope and fear
Were in her anguished eyes.

She saw, above an open grave,
A flag-draped casket, and
As in a dream, heard gun salute
And Taps. Then, it was night.

O. O. Tope

Mr. O. O. Tope is a comparatively new writer, though he says his love for poetry dates back to the World war. Mr. Tope lives at 285 Lennox-av, Rome, and is employed in the post office. He is the father of three children.

Most of his poetry has been inspired by his work with the Boy Scouts, and music, flowers, boys and old books and papers are his hobbies.

The majority of Mr. Tope's poems are short and he has the faculty of singing a great deal in a few words, as shown in these two short verses:

UNIVERSAL

Sin is a tool
Of a thousand shapes,
Large and small
And a lie
Is the handle
That fits them all.

SILHOUETTE

It does not take a man of giant mold
To cast a giant shadow across the way,
And the person whom we meet today,
Who seems neither big or fine,
May cast a silhouette sublime
Across the canvas of your life—or mine.

Edith Gortner

Miss Edith Gortner is perhaps better known as an artist than poet, since she has only recently attempted to have her poetry printed. She lives at 437 S. Chase-av, and writes under the name of Fredricha Kathleen Winslow.

Miss Gortner's paintings have been exhibited all over the world and one water color was given honorable mention in a contest sponsored by the Federal Art schools. She studied cartooning, illustrating, water color and oil painting, also design at Ohio State university and has designed many scrolls, letter heads and color photographs. She teaches a Sunday school class of girls and is interested in YWCA work.

Her hobbies are reading and writing poetry and she especially likes Keats, Elizabeth Barrett, Browning and George Bernard Shaw. Here is one of her poems which we think a small gem:

MY PRAYER

(Inspired by Navin's "Spirit of God")

I do not ask for heavenly scenes—
With angels strange,
Blinding celestial fires.
But may I see
With new, awakened eyes,
The human things . . .
Oh, hallow my desires.

Mary Rutan Byerly

Mrs. Mary Rutan Byerly lives at 29 Whitethorne-av. She is the mother of five children and has written verse since 1919. Her work has appeared in anthologies, poetry magazines and newspapers and this year Mrs. Byerly had a book of 126 of her poems printed.

Her hobbies are making scrapbooks and quilting. She has also written two songs on which she holds copyrights.

This poem is from Mrs. Byerly's book, titled Poem Petals:

THINGS I LOVE

I love the strumming of a steady rain
The smell of spice-wood and the fresh-turned sod,
The feel of sunshine through a window pane
A life in springtime pushing through a clod.
I love the laughter in a baby's eyes,
Hawaiian voices trilling quaint and low,
The magic charm of dawn and spacious skies . . .
Fireside lights of home and their cheery glow.
I love the stars that shine above my head,
White ribboned roads that have a common trend,
A treasure chest, and books that I have read,
The shielding presence of a proven friend.
I love the jingling sound of china ware,
Old patterned pictures and a two-fold chair.

Florence Denham

We are proud that The Hilltop Record printed Mrs. Denham's first poem a year or two ago, under an assumed name. Mrs. Denham lives at 178 N. Eureka-av, and while she is one of the newer writers, she is among the best. Her poems have been widely printed and reprinted and deservedly so.

Mrs. Denham is a native of Missouri and taught art in the schools there. During the World war she was with the Military Intelligence division under Col. Rupert Hughes.

PARTING

Our hearts were so dejected
When Summer turned to leave
That Autumn took compassion
And granted her reprieve.
As children at the hour to go,
"Last Look!" exclaim at starting,
We grasp her hand in effort to Prolong the pain of parting!

Hilda Brooks Green

Mrs. Hilda Brooks Green is one of the professional Hilltop writers, and lives with her mother who is another poet, Mrs. Virginia Eaton, 418 S. Roys-av. Mrs. Green is a widow and the mother of one daughter, Helen, who is a pupil at West junior high school.

Mrs. Green is an artist as well as musician, having graduated from Morris-Harvey college, Barboursville, W. Va., where she completed a course in art and music. She has made many lovely paintings and has illustrated her own poems and those of her mother.

She has written many lovely poems, the one used here being one of her most recent:

HILL-BORN

Our valley-weary hearts would heed the call
To seek the cool, moist frangrance of the hills.
Where routine is forgotten, only the trills
Of oriole, wood thrush, and cardinal

Are heard. Among the rocks arbutus twines
With blue hair bell beneath a dogwood tree.
Here restlessness, by magic alchemy,
Is changed to peace within these lofty shrines.

Claudia M. Adams

Miss Claudia M. Adams lives at 433 S. Warren-av, and is one of the younger and better known of the Hilltop poets. She is a graduate of West high school and will enter Ohio State university in the fall.

Claudia writes for her own amusement and poetry is a hobby, and her other hobbies are dogs, music, walks in the rain, and she dreams of traveling. She has won many prizes for her poetry which has been widely published.

This poem by Miss Adams appeared in Sunday Verse:

APPRAISALS

His eyes hurt and surprised,
The little lad watched me
As I emptied his pockets . . .
String, stub of a pencil,
Two marbles, top, rubber band . . .
I asked, Why do you keep such trash?
I leafed through a scrapbook,
Small blue eyes shyly peeped
Over my shoulder . . .
Concert program, pressed rose,
Theater stub, bit of ribbon . . .
I saw the wonder in his eyes,
Why do you keep such trash?

Clarence Lahr Weaver

Clarence Lahr Weaver is the editor of the only all-poetry magazine published in Columbus, and lives at 376 Derrer-rd. He also edits Museum Echoes and Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Quarterly, which are published by the Ohio State Museum where Mr. Weaver is employed as head of cataloguing department of the library of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society. He is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university where he received his degree of bachelor of library science and also of Western Reserve library school.

Mr. Weaver's hobbies are gardening, books and poetry. His poetry has been printed in many publications and his poetry magazine, Quickening Seed, is included in the list of the better magazines. The poetry contained in this magazine is of high quality.

Following is one of Mr. Weaver's fine poems:

THE BRAVE

A man is brave but once in life:
When hand-to-hand he meets his foe,
Though body descend in dust to death,
The light of victory's in his soul.

A woman is twice-brave and fine:
At first when contending to bear her sons;
And twice, when smiling she sends them forth
To cudgel the earth with their hearts and hands.

Gertrude P. Weaver

Mrs. Gertrude P. Weaver lives at 367 Derrer-rd, and is the mother of four children. She attended Ohio Wesleyan university three years and studied play production and writing under Charlotte Chorpening and the Goodman theatre of Chicago.

She has written many poems and plays for children, several of which have been locally produced. One of her plays, The Shadow of God, was presented at Glenwood M. E. church during the Religious Drama Festival last spring. A class in puppetry at Ohio State university has produced her children's play, Secret of the Old Shoe, and Indianola M. E. church has also produced one of her comedies, Where's My Hat? While living in Cleveland she was a member of the Cleveland Heights Civic theatre, which produced many of her plays.

Mrs. Weaver has contributed to several poetry magazines and this poem by her was printed in Quickening Seed:

PRAYER FOR A BRIDE

The misty veil about your face—
The music and the candle light—
Crescendo of your song of love
Will end for you tonight.

It was a dream you held so long,
So beautiful, so fragile, light;
But you have bought reality—
You sold your dream tonight.

Please God, let its fragrance linger;
Through all the years its glow must last,
Her dreams must tinge reality
And through reality hold fast.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Traffic Regulations

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

"Ever aware of my duty to the public, I will never pass up the opportunity of securing lower and lower rates for the consumer.

"I have it from reliable sources that the gas company has vowed to defeat present council members because of their failure to arrive at a rate favorable to that company. The front page editorial method is being used to that end."

Henry A. Koontz, 495 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray C. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken. "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Carthage fair grounds near Cincinnati this week was Eugene Constans, 24, of 416 S. Hague-av.

Mabel Millikin

Mrs. Mabel Millikin has written poetry for her own pleasure about one year. She has one hundred and fifty poems to her credit and it does not betray the fact that she is a beginner.

Mrs. Millikin is the wife of Wyatt L. Millikin, president of City Council, and they make their home at 53 S. Warren-av. She has been quite active in Girl Scout work and inaugurated the first cookie sale held in Columbus, during which thousands of dozens of cookies were sold. She also spent seven years in YWCA and YMCA work and is active in church affairs as well as in various other organizations. She also helped organize the Columbus alumni of Wittenburg college and Logan County association.

Following is one of her nature poems in which she excels:

THE STORM

The earth is wrapped in silence,
Flowers bow their lovely heads,
Trees stand motionless,
Skies frown gray as lead.

A crooked smile flashes,
The heavens speak with thunder,
Echoing harsh and loud,
Breaking peace asunder.

As though ashamed of anger,
Wells of tears o'erflow.
The smile of sunshine breaks
Then all nature is aglow.

Rosemary and Cora K. Gooch

Mrs. Cora K. Gooch and her daughter, Rosemary, reside at 511 Columbian-av, and are both well-known as writers of excellent poetry. Rosemary is 15 years old and the youngest member of the Verse Writers' Guild of Ohio. She is a pupil of West High school and several of her poems have been set to music and sung at many clubs in Columbus.

Mrs. Gooch is associated with the Industrial Commission of Ohio, in the Division of Safety and Hygiene, and is a member of many literary and business organizations.

We consider this verse by Rosemary very fine. It received honorable mention in a recent poetry contest.

TO AN OLD BROOCH

Turquoise set in tarnished lace,
Woven on a fairy loom
Of raindrops on a cloudy day
And shadows of a cool, dim room.

This poem is by Mrs. Gooch:

QUIET NOON HOUR

It is a little rift of blue
Like you see on some dark day
Suddenly look down at you
From great, drifting clouds of gray.
Just a little bit of peace
From the surging press of things
Just a little feather gay
From Time's swiftly-beating wings.

Virginia Eaton

Mrs. Virginia Eaton is one of the professional writers of the Hilltop. Her home is at 418 S. Roys-av. She has written very good poetry for years and is in demand as a reader of poetry.

Her work has appeared in the volume of historical poetry which is compiled by Mr. William Boylin of Chicago for the past three years. This is a distinct honor and one of which Mrs. Eaton is proud. She is a member of several literary and poetry organizations, a charter member of the M. A. Poetry Society and a member of the executive board of the Verse Writers' Guild of Ohio.

Mrs. Eaton's poetry has appeared in most of the better magazines and newspapers over the country and her work is internationally known.

This poem is one of her most recent:

NO SLEEP

When comes the last long rest
I want to lie
Upon a hill where wild winds chant
A tender tune through trees near by;
Where sunbeams dance and shadows slant
Across the grass.
And if no flower blooms but this,
A wild rose, I shall feel no pain
For butterflies will pause to kiss
The petals as they pass.
But when the rain
Or dewdrops cling
Like tears in eyes too proud to weep,
Then I shall stir, remembering . . .
Then, then I shall not sleep.

Jacqueline Louise Pfeifer

Miss Jacqueline Pfeifer is one of the younger Hilltop poets and is a pupil of West High school. She studied writing verses while attending John Burroughs school, and is to have a book of two hundred of her poems published soon.

Besides her school work she finds time to be active in church work, sing in the Burgess Avenue United Brethren church junior choir, and is a member of various school clubs.

Jacqueline plans to enter Ohio State university and will major in French. At the age of three and one-half she was the youngest toe dancer in Columbus, having studied at the Jorg Fasting School of the Dance.

This poem proves that she possesses talent for writing verse:

HOPE ETERNAL

Hope, eternal daughter of mortal,
Ever spins her dreams in the cosmic dust
Of the glorious moon and unfolds a plan
To the sinner and saint, just and unjust.

Here upon her grand, celestial loom
She weaves the milky way, a silver span
Of faith, across the ominous gloom
To guide the weakling we call man.

Virginia Haley Inskeep

Mrs. Inskeep was Miss Virginia Haley until last March, and is a graduate of West high school, class of 1937. Her home is at 167 Lechner-av.

Virginia is one of Columbus' best-known models, and has modeled in several downtown department stores for the past three years. She is at present with the F. & R. Lazarus Co. She estimates the times she has been photographed to be approximately one thousand. She has modeled on many camera trips, and has appeared in several short movies, one of the more recent of which was taken at Headley Inn, outside of Zanesville.

Mrs. Inskeep's hobbies are writing poetry and taking candid camera pictures. She is attending dramatic school at Columbus Art Center.

This is one of Virginia's recent poems:

WHY?

"All things must end,"
I once was told.
But little did I think it true.
I knew our love
Would always last,
But—where are you?
Now I know;
When recalling love,
Gone—with a sigh.
Ah yes! 'Tis true
"All things must end."
But why; oh! why?

Helen Lisle

Mrs. Helen Lisle is one of the Hilltop's most popular writers of verse, for her charming personality has won for her many friends. Her home is at 2847 Sullivant-av.

She is the daughter of the late Dr. Edward Herbst. Her hobbies are her daughter, Marylin, music and poetry, which she writes merely for her own pleasure.

She has for many years been secretary for a local firm of attorneys and is a member of several literary organizations.

Mrs. Lisle's poem which follows is from the Poet's Round Table Anthology:

SPRING SONG

Lilac plumes waving
Laced with silver rain—
Young moon in the sky
Tripping a silvery lane!

Pale green of creeping grass,
Flutter of a wing—
I live again old ecstasies,
Revived by Spring!

TOMORROW

Esther Weakley

More lofty, man-dreamed towers will pierce the sky;
Majestic rivers made to serve man's needs;
More giant planes will soar, Icarus-like;
Swift-darting trains will hyphenate far shores;
More miracles of science will be known,
But homes will be the bulwark of the land
Where lawns are cluttered up with boys and dogs
And sunny kitchens have their cookie-jars,
Where small, play-weary children will be tucked
At twilight, into fuzzy sleeping-suits
And mothers will hum tuneless lullabies . . .
Still aged men will doze, while restless youth
Will dream and love and struggle to destroy
Old prejudices; conquer new frontiers . . .

* * *

God, may we never hear again the whine
Of shrapnel, and staccato bark of guns!
May the world of tomorrow know the [illegible]
That was Yours, after Your Gethsemane.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st, has a 17 year old son making

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Friends Rescue Home Serves Well

Thirty-four years of service to the Hilltop and community is the record of the Friends Rescue Home, 245 N. Powell-av. The home was founded by Evangeline Reams, and is a participating agency in the Community Fund and has served hundreds of girls during its existence.

Founded on N. Harris-av in 1906, the home was supervised by Miss Reams until 1931 when she was fatally hurt in an auto crash enroute to Marion, Ind. Since that time the home has been supported by the Community Fund, local churches, especially the Highland Avenue Friends, and the Ohio yearly meeting of Friends churches.

Originally, only 10 or 12 girls could be cared for, but in 1918 the present site was purchased by the board and at the present time 22 girls can be accommodated. The staff provides numerous activities for the occupants of the home, including various social events such as pop-corn making, taffy pulls and wiener roasts in the evenings. Sewing, crocheting, embroidery work and various phases of house work also keep the girls busy.

Miss Jennie Tate is superintendent at the home.

Greetings

To Parents and Pupils:

At the beginning of this, another school year, my first wish is that all pupils may bring to school the memory of a safe and pleasant vacation.

I hope that the pupils will find their assignments at school pleasant, their work profitable, and the coming year wholesome and enjoyable in every respect.

I hope also that a spirit of helpfulness and understanding may prevail about the schools that will measure up to the fondest expectations of parents and pupils.

Hoon Bros. To Build New Shop On Broad Street

In line with the general progress of the Hilltop, Clarence N. Hoon, of Hoon Brothers, general roofing and sheet metal contractors, rear 27 N. Powell-av, has announced that he will shortly build the most modern shop of its kind in the city of Columbus on his new lot on W. Broad-st, east of the Big Four tracks.

Mr. Hoon started in business on the Hilltop in 1922 in a small way, but has expanded until today he employs ten men and does some of the outstanding general roofing and sheet metal contracting work of this community.

Some of his most recent jobs have been the roofing work on the new homes of Newton Thatcher, Clarence Williams and Ed Planck.

Auditor

Newton J. Thatcher

Newton J. Thatcher is now in his second term as county auditor.

He resides in his new home at Crescent-dr and Blane-blvd with Mrs. Thatcher, a deputy county auditor herself before her marriage.

Mr. Thatcher was graduated from West high and OSU. He was one of the first reporters for the Hilltop Record, and was a reporter for the Columbus Monitor in 1917. He served later as state examiner of public offices, as deputy county auditor and tax accountant.

Sunset Literary Circle Has 29 Year Record

Twenty nine years ago a group of Hilltop women joined together in a desire for self culture and organized helpfulness to the community to form the Sunset Literary circle.

"Infinite is the help that women can yield to women," became their motto. They organized at the home of the late Mrs. Charles W. Lentz on Apr. 10, 1910, and have engaged in many helpful projects, including obtaining a library for the Hilltop, which was maintained at West Broad Street school, and contributing to the Pan-American Fellowship fund of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs.

The charter members were Mrs. John Daugherty, Mrs. Irene Hott, Mrs. James E. Judd, Miss Lillie Judd, Mrs. Charles W. Lentz, Mrs. W. C. Posite and Mrs. Lafayette Woodruff. The present membership is 38.

Mrs. R. J. Miller is the present president of the group, other officers being Mrs. R. L. Underwood, first vice-president Mrs. B. T. McCullough, second vice-president; Mrs. W. N. Barlow, recording secretary; Mrs. T. R. Fletcher, corresponding secretary.

Living presidents of the group include Mrs. James E. Judd, Mrs. Lafayette Woodruff, Mrs. Irene Hott; Mrs. J. M. Ater, Mrs. John E. Sheeders, Mrs. C. V. Williams, Mrs. Malcolm C. Grove, Mrs. Frank P. Ireland, Mrs. Charles W. Haldy, Mrs. O. C. Metzger, Mrs. L. N. Earle, Mrs. R. E. Hecker, Mrs. R. E. Cromer, Mrs. Thurman R. Fletcher.

The club meets every second and fourth week from October through May.

Nearly 50 years ago L. G. Dolder rented a team of roan horses to the street car company during the fair season. The need for transportation was so great that the car company had to borrow horses from local farmers.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 489 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

11th Ward Club To Meet

The Eleventh Ward Women's Democratic club will resume its regular schedule of monthly meetings at the home of Mrs. Pauline Brokaw, 189 Eldon-av, Thursday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 o'clock.

Dailey-For-Mayor Clubs To Meet

The tenth and eleventh Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

All candidates for municipal court, council, auditor and the general public are invited.

W. Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, will be the principal speaker. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for those in attendance.

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Carthage fairgrounds near Cincinnati this week was Eugene Cousins, 26, of 416 S. Hague-av.

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Traffic Regulations

The Spectator By C. C. Hartley

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

7200 Hilltoppers Dial Thru Here

A few years ago the Bell Telephone Co. erected a new building at the corner of W. Broad-st and Ogden-av to facilitate services of Hilltop subscribers. This building houses the Randolph exchange.

Far from being an eyesore, it lends charm and dignity to its surroundings. Both inside and out it is notable for its spotless cleanliness.

Upon entering the building the visitor is faced with row upon row of tall steel frames along which range dialing mechanisms, trunk switches, and hundreds of miles of tiny copper wire. The air is filled with the clicking of a thousand tiny switches.

Henry L. Blessing, the supervisor of the plant, will explain to his visitor with painstaking precision the function of each unit. The visiting layman will seldom understand but never fails to be fascinated and impressed.

In the basement are the emergency engines. "The power may fail," said Mr. Blessing, "but the service never fails." In one corner are silently whirring engines. These send out the busy tones.

The exchange handles 3,996 lines serving approximately 7,200 Hilltop subscribers. It employs four people, two during the day, one in the evening, and one at night. The service is continuous, 24 hours of the day. Said Mr. Blessing: "Our plant has ample room for expansion. We'll go right along with the Hilltop in this respect."

Mr. Blessing was born in Jeffersonville Feb. 25, 1901. Here he attended the elementary and high schools. He graduated from Ohio State university in electrical engineering and then entered the employment of the Bell Telephone Co. He has been with the Hilltop branch since June, 1937.

Asked what he liked in the way of recreation, he said: "I like to fish, but I don't catch anything." He has always liked work where electricity was involved. "Other things seem too dry," he said.

CHASE WAS SENATOR

Salmon P. Chase, after whom Camp Chase was named, was once a United States senator and later was elected governor of Ohio in 1855 and 1857.

95 YEARS TOO SOON

In 1845 the board of education passed a rule which forbade any Columbus boy over 10 years old from attending school taught by a female teacher.

BREAD, BEANS, BACON WAS CAMP MENU

Bread, beans, bacon and coffee composed the regular fare at most of the Camp Chase meals of 75 years ago. Occasionally, however, corn and potatoes were a welcome addition.

On rare occasions a foraging expedition brought in rared victuals, such as young pig, chicken, etc.

ASKED MANSION HERE

In February of 1917, M. W. Westlake, then councilman, introduced a resolution asking that the governor's mansion be built on the Hilltop at the top of the hill above the Institute for Feeble Minded.

LAST PAGET

Paul O'Brien was president of the last class to graduate from the old West high school building in June, 1928.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st, has a 17 year old son making

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogdensav, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

The Doghouse

Where The Hilltop Begins

Out where the skies are bluer,
Out where the air is purer,
Out where the smoke clouds are fewer—
That's where the Hilltop begins.

Out where the children are merrier,
Out where the homes are cheerier,
Out where folks are friendlier—
That's where the Hilltop begins.

Out where happiness is found,
Out where peace and contentment abound,
Far from the city's grime and sound—

formerly of the Hilltop.

RUG WEAVER

Homer Graham hasn't woven rugs for nearly six months, because other employment is more profitable at the present, but the rugs which he has on hand, representing hours of work and dollars of investments have been praised by prominent buyers, have won prizes at state fairs and made their creator a man of note among the Hilltop's many outstanding people.

Mr. Graham started weaving rugs in 1933, has at times spent 15 hours a day. Many of his rugs have been sold, many are on exhibition at his home, 3103½ W. Broad-st.

Unit on Hilltop Is In Third Year

On Feb. 16 of this year Westway Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 3441, located at 2383½ W. Broad-st, celebrated their third anniversary on the Hilltop and also a national forty-first anniversary of the destruction of the battleship "Maine." Officers for the year include Ray Bpord, commander; Lee Stevens, senior vice commander, and Harry Zulauf, quartermaster.

The VFW was organized in 1935, started with an enrollment of 50 members which has increased to 135 at the present time. All members in the organization have had foreign service.

The first year of the club Geo. Chambers served as commander, George Ell as senior vice commander and Frank Wolfe as quartermaster. The second year the officers were Ed Miller, commander Ralph Hartman, a senior vice commander; and John Cross, quartermaster.

Regular meetings of the veterans are held twice a month on the second and fourth Thursdays. Their emblem is the Cross Malta.

Former Prexy

Otto H. Magly

For 29 continuous years Otto H. Magly guided the destinies of West high students and pupils. Many of his first pupils sought his aid when scholastic problems confronted their children. From the old West high on Central-av, Magly moved with the school to the finest high school building in Columbus and central Ohio. He was West high's first and only principal until July 8, 1937 when his resignation from active duty was accepted by the school board.

"A great number of years of effort, by a gentleman whose sincerity, courage and honesty has never been questioned, has left rich impressions in the minds of thousands of students—"

The finest athletic field in the city bears the name of a fine principal. Magly field was named thus with the unanimous vote of West high students.

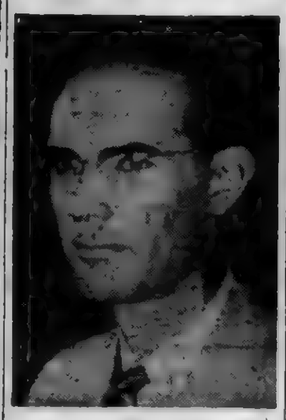
HOWARD TAFT OPERATES BROAD-HAGUE POULTRY



That Hilltop people like good chicken is attested by the business done each day by the Broad-Hague Poultry Market, 22-24 S. Hague Ave.

The store has recently been remodeled and painted to insure cleanliness and sanitary shopping facilities.

Taft studied animal husbandry in 1922 and thereby learned the art of properly dressing chickens. Before he opened his business at Broad and Hague he had operated a poultry market at his home for a year and had previously been in business for three years on the North Side.
The Broad-Hague Poultry Market dresses and delivers chickens free. They are ready for the oven or pan. Their eggs are direct from the farm daily and all are candled before selling.
The store is open until 8 p. m. daily and until 10 p. m. on Saturdays.
Delivery service may be had by calling RA. 8000.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

The Spectator
By C.C.Hartley

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the parf bf someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man* of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 495 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nanhoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Hoys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

11th Ward Club To Meet

Dailey-For-Mayor Clubs To Meet

The tenth and eleventh ward Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

All candidates for municipal court, council, auditor and the general public are invited.

W. Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, will be the principal speaker. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for those in attendance.

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Carthage fair grounds near Cincinnati last week was Eugene Constans, 21, of 116 S. Hague-av.

Draper Is Candidate For School Board

Robert Marvin Draper, 74 N. Roys-av, is the Hilltop's candidate for membership to the Columbus board of education. His petitions containing 2,000 names were filed at the county board of elections Aug. 26.

Draper has been practicing law for eight years. In 1932 he joined the staff of Duffy and Duffy, law firm. He joined B. B. Bridges in 1934 and maintained the partnership until August of this year, when he began independent practice. At present he has offices in the AIU citadel.

In no sense a politician, Draper has already earned wide-spread support from prominent individuals (official and non-official) in both political camps. Numerous school heads and those interested in education have endorsed him.

He is 33 years old and married, has lived in Columbus since 1910. He attended the Highland Ave. school and graduated from West high school in 1924. In 1930 he received his degree in law at the Ohio State university and later did graduate work in the college of education at the same institution.

Active in community affairs, Draper is a member of the Masons, Eastern Star, Charity Newsies, Athletic club and the Columbus Bar association. He is also chairman of the St. John's Boy Scout troop and secretary of the Yellow Dog Bowling league.

Draper is a horticulturist by fancy. His flowers have taken four firsts and four fourths at recent state fairs. According to his own account he holds the championship for the world's worst golfing without a struggle. He teaches Bible class at St. John's Lutheran church.

In his campaign Draper has urged that greater consideration be given by the voter in his selection of school board members. "After all," he said, "the school board is responsible to a degree for the molding of future generations and is fully responsible for the expenditure of over half the tax receipts."

Thomas To Support City Wide Program

Belief that business men who have a sense of civic responsibility should permit their names to be placed before the voters so as to assure a more business-like administration of public office, has prompted A. C. (Tommy) Thomas to consent to enter the race for city council. Thomas conducts his own insurance business at 21 E. State-st.

"What helps business helps us all," Mr. Thomas pointed out in an interview with a reporter of the Hilltop Record.

When questioned on his attitude toward public improvements, particularly those affecting the Hilltop, he stated that as a member of city council it would be his policy to vote for the best interests of all sections of the city, and that careful consideration would be given to all of the things of interest to the Hilltop community.

"Because," as Thomas points out, "what helps the Hilltop helps Columbus."

ROCK FROM PARK

The big rock so often noticed in the Confederate cemetery was hauled from the northeast corner of what is now known as Westgate park. It took a team of eight horses to move the boulder, and was a government job of the year.

Work Plus Hobbies Provides Interesting Career For Shetrone

Outstanding are the accomplishments of H. C. Shetrone. It has been said that he spends more time on his hobbies than most men spend on their daily work yet his accomplishments show that he has put in working hours equal to the best of them.

H. C. Shetrone

Mr. Shetrone is director of the Ohio State Archeological and Historical Museum. He has written a score or more of scientific papers, traveled extensively, explored dozens of mounds left by the ancient moundbuilders, served on the staff of the New York Sun, lectured extensively, written the book "The Mound Builders."

His hobbies are fishing, gardening and playing bridge. He resides at 75 N. Chase-av, where he keeps a watchful eye on the many plants and flowers in his magnificent gardens.

Dr. Bates Has Modern Hilltop Animal Hospital

Morgan Willard Bates, DVM, 2128-30 Sullivant-av, is the Hilltop's only veterinarian. Graduated from Ohio State university in 1932, Dr. Bates has since then practiced at his present address. He administers to all types of small animals and pets with medical care, surgery, boarding, grooming, vaccinations, etc.

Dr. Bates' hobby is horses. He owns five riders, hunters and runners. Recently Dr. Bates rode his own jumping horse in the horse show of the Fayette county fair at Washington C. H., his former home town, and won third prize in the event.

He has also ridden at the county fairs at Hilliards and Plain City this year. In previous years he has ridden in the state fair, the Fairfield county fair at Lancaster, and others. He rides to the hounds in fox hunts staged at the Rocky Ford Hunt club, of which he is a member.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st, has [illegible]

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

The Doghouse

Hilltop Poets

George E. Wagner

Mr. George E. Wagner lives at 11 N. Westmoor-av, and is the father of five sons. He is a tailor by profession.

Mr. Wagner has held the office of treasurer of the Verse Writers' guild of Ohio for many years and his work has been widely read and is very popular among poetry-lovers. Many of them are written in humorous vein, as the one below:

ADIPOSE

Elias Potter was a slender youth
The first years of his married life;
His thinness even seemed uncouth
To Evaline, his loving wife.

The cause of her aesthetic pain
Did not for many years remain,
For, as the seasons sped space,
His girth expanding filled more space;
His clothing, as he grew more stout
Became too scant ever near worn out.
He tried each exercise he knew
But still his swelling girdle grew.

His rotund body stretched his vest
Toward north and east and south and west.
The belt he wore of good tough leather
Gave place to two, fast sewed together.
Such adipose he kept on loading
His wife feared he would be exploding.

She oft advised, not always quiet
That he reduce by lighter diet.
"You eat," she said in fervent tone,
"Enough to make a coyote groan!
If you would curb your awful hunger
You'd thin down like when you were younger.
No matter what you do or where you're at,
Your food all turns to swinish fat!
You cram with pudding, pork and mutton
And grow a more inflated glutton.
You grow so fat I often wonder
Some day you do not burst asunder!"

Elias felt no just desire
To match in heat with his good wife's ire;
But with soft answer turned her wrath,
Which greatly smoothened life's rough path.
Perhaps he heaped coals on her head
When he, in pompous diction said,

"I have for your remonstrance to demurr,
In your just censure I concur.
My slender stature immature
I know you found hard to endure.
When I had hopes in some good measure
In this respect to mend your pleasure,
My figure waxing somewhat courtly,
At first was stout and then grew portly.
With that I think you were content,
But I went on—grew corpulent.
No way to stop the fast increase,
I soon grew fat then quite obese.

"While this, my darling, is all true,
One fact has passed quite over you;
The cause stands paramount and clear
Of all your numerous distresses:
Your culinary excellence my dear,
Begets my gastronomical excesses."

Mabel Nader Jones

Mrs. Mabel Nader Jones says she is "plain Mrs. Johnny Jones" and her chief occupation is bringing up three of the Hilltop's "Jones girls," and—having seen the girls—we know she is doing a grand job. She and her family reside at 168 S. Terrace-st.

Mrs. Jones says she is just a common or garden variety of poet but nobody who has read her work agrees with her. She is interested in politics, especially as they concern the Hilltop. Her hobbies are books, people, music and flowers.

Here is one of her latest poems:

SEPTEMBER

Now morning glories fall to close their eyes at noon,
And the sunflower's head hangs heavy in the sun,
The while a few pale leaves come fluttering down,
And locusts never cease their wearying croon.
The tall trees whisper loudly, shaking tired limbs
That want to be unclothed, for sleep, and speed
The last small transients that they shelter on their way
And little flowers that gaily play, it seems
Are children with flushed cheeks, who should be put to bed.
When October comes to tell her bedtime story
To Nature's children, may she leave sweet dreams.

Esther Weakley Edits Record Poetry Section

Mrs. Charles A. Weakley, known as Esther Weakley to Hilltop people and all who read her poems and columns, has collected and edited the poetry page in this special edition of the Record.

Mrs. Weakley has been poetry editor of the Hilltop Record for a number of years. She is poetry advisor for the Columbus Counseling Bureau (Junior Chamber of Commerce) and poetry editor for two local newspapers and another Ohio paper.

THANK YOU!

The Record is indeed grateful to Esther Weakley for her work in compiling the list of Hilltop poets and their works presented in the Progress edition and also for her past fine contributions to the paper.

She also writes prose articles for several publications.

Mrs. Weakley is corresponding secretary for Verse Writers' Guild and a member of several poetry and literary clubs. She writes as a hobby but manages to sell most of her work. She resides at 3 Belvidere-av.

A Fitting Tribute

THIS Progress Edition pictures Westgate park as it has been developed in the past year, and as it was dreamed of and planned by Milton W. Westlake, late Hilltop councilman.

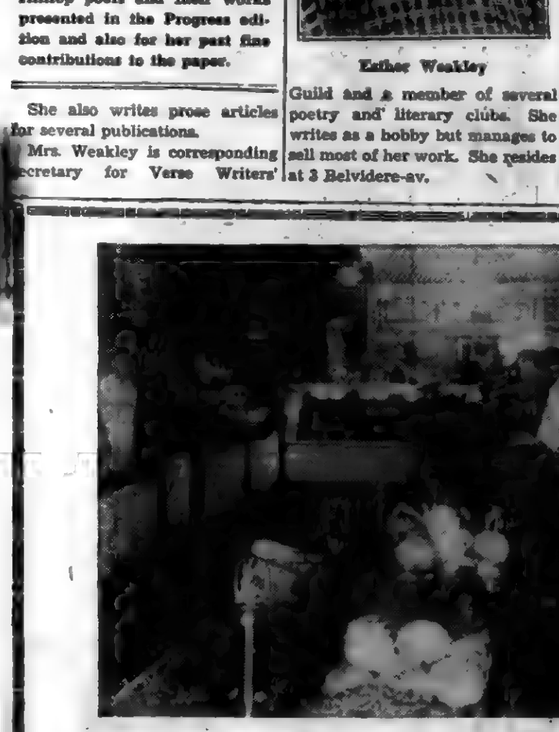
One of Mr. Westlake's finest contributions to his many worthwhile deeds of service to this community is best exemplified in Westgate park as it stands today, one of the most beautiful spots in the city. Due credit is of course given to the very fine cooperation extended by Robert Hessenauer, superintendent of parks.

The Record has for some time advocated that the name of this park be changed to Westlake park in fitting tribute to our late councilman. It is our hope that a change in administration will see fit to so honor his memory.

Jantzen Family Are Scouters

Herman L. Jantzen is another enthusiastic and untiring worker in the interest of the Boy Scouts, and is scoutmaster of Troop 181, of the Hillcrest Baptist church. His entire family is interested in scouting.

Mrs. Jantzen was Den Mother when Mr. Jantzen was Cub Scoutmaster. She denies that she is a "Scout widow," and says she is with Mr. Jantzen, all the way. Their two sons, aged 16 and 19, are Eagle Scouts. The Jantzens live at 819 S. Terrace-st. Mr. Jantzen is a telephone repairman.



His hobbies are scouting, Indian lore and model railroading. He was largely instrumental in the recent leasing of a 60-acre farm three and one-half miles from Columbus, to be used by the many troops in the southwest district. The farm is south of the Sullivant Avenue airport and is for the purpose of giving the boys an opportunity to enjoy outdoor life and will be used for over-night camping hikes, scouting ceremonies and summer camp. The boys are busy building cabins, bridges, dams, outdoor fireplaces, and walling up springs. They hope to have a swimming pool completed by next summer. The work the boys do at this camp will win credits for them toward their merit badges. Troop 181 has Indian investure services and the ceremony is given in full Indian regalia.

The charter was opened with 45 names. Present officers are Annouise Allen, past chief; Nellie Durfey, most excellent chief; Edith Temple, jr., senior; Frances DeNuna, junior; Delia Crawford, manager; Ida Morley, mistress of finance; Bessie Smith, mistress of records and correspondence; Hazel Dean, protector; Hazel Bercaw, outer guard; Avonelle Overholt, captain of degree staff.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Traffic Regulations

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

"Ever aware of my duty to the public, I will never pass up the opportunity of securing lower and lower rates for the consumer.

"I have it from reliable sources that the gas company has vowed to defeat present council members because of their failure to arrive at a rate favorable to that company. The front page editorial method is being used to that end."

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been office manager and auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken, "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

11th Ward Club To Meet

The Eleventh Ward Women's Democratic club will resume its regular schedule of monthly meetings at the home of Mrs. Pauline Brokaw, 189 Eldon-av, Thursday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 o'clock.

Dailey-For-Mayor Clubs To Meet

The tenth and eleventh ward Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

All candidates for municipal court, council, auditor and the general public are invited.

W. Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, will be the principal speaker. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for those in attendance.

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline tank exploded at the Cartage fair grounds near Cincinnati this week was Eugene Chesterson of 418 S. Hague-av.

Hilltopper Seeks Post Of Auditor

Avard R. "Chub" Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av, will be the Hilltop's candidate for city auditor in the September primaries.

Coyle is conducting his campaign primarily on the basis of 17 years non-political experience in the auditor's office. Far from being a politician, Coyle is quietly building what promeses to be a considerable following in all sections of the city. Because he has never been active in politics, he has apparently been denied the official sanction of the county Republican organization, which to all effects and purposes has endorsed candidate James Rhodes. For his henchmen Coyle must rely on his close friends, who to date have displayed overwhelming enthusiasm in going down the line for "Chub."

Coyle, who is 42 years old, was born on Columbus' west side and has lived in the city all his life. He has been a resident of the Hilltop for 26 years. He graduated from West high school, entered the service of the U. S. army in April, 1917, and served in the 136th Field Artillery for the duration of the war.

Coyle gained his first auditing experience when he was employed by the New York Central railroad in 1919.

In 1922 Coyle entered the city auditor's office and served continually in that department until March of this year, when he resigned to become a candidate. He was appointed chief deputy auditor in May, 1925, and worked in that capacity until January, 1935, when he was made accountant in the department. He was reappointed chief deputy in 1936 and held that post until his resignation early this year.

He is a past commander of the American Legion post No. 82, a member of the "40&8", the Masons, the Scottish Rite and the Shrine. He is also past president of the Municipal Employees association, a member of the Buckeye Republican club, the Franklin County War Veteran's Republican club and the Thirty-seventh Division Veteran's association.

Coyle is married and has one son. He has previously held no elective office in the city.

Parks Home Was Formerly Quaker Church

Old-timers among the Hilltop's many churches recall that the residence of Dr. Parks, located at 3540 W. Broad-st, was at one time a Quaker church. Today, following remodeling, it is one of the best houses on the outskirts of the city.

CAR FOR 15c

Prize contests sponsored by the Hilltop Business Men's association have been numerous but perhaps none so interesting as the one started in December of 1928 at which time they gave away a Ford sedan. The auto was won by a man who had but one purchase, 25 cents worth of cigars.

FIRST SCHOOL

The first school house on the Hilltop was built on Clarendon-av. On Sundays Rev. W. B. Chadwick held church services there.

Trautman Seeks Seat In Council

Seeking the nomination for one of the seats in city council, Edwin H. Trautman, in a statement yesterday, declared that if elected, he will give, not only the west side, but the entire city of Columbus, a square deal.

Mr. Trautman, with his father, "Uncle Billy" Trautman, operates the Foreign Grocery Co., one of the largest and most successful retail establishments in the city, employing 25 people.

"In the grocery business," continued Mr. Trautman, "you have daily contact and dealings with the public and the fact that ever since we started the grocery 29 years ago our business has continued to grow and prosper, certainly proves that the public has been given a square deal."

Mr. Trautman has a host of friends on the west side and is proud of the fact that a great portion of the signers of his petition were Hilltop business men. He resides at 876 Linwood-av, is married and has one daughter, Marjorie, a student at Ohio State university.

Former Head of West PTA

Gift Harper

Gift N. Harper has proven himself one of the Hilltop's most active men in his capacity as president of the West High Parent-Teacher association. During his two terms as president of the association membership reached a new high with over 1,000 parents and teachers being represented. In 1936 the organization boasted the largest membership of any group in the state. During his administration, the first mothers club at West senior high was formed. His successor to the post will be Noble L. Allen, 2586 W. Broad-st.

Mr. Harper is also active in church work being a member of Hoge Memorial church where he is head of Boy Scout troop 173. He is a member of the Knights Templar order of the Masonic lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Harper and sons, Ralph and Harold, live at 484 S. Roys-av.

PAVED BROAD STREET

Completion of the W. Broad-st paving from Wheatland-av to Hague-av came about in the fall of 1935. The contract was awarded to B. F. Patterson.

Hauntz Seeks To Serve Community In Council

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years a member of the Columbus board of education, is now in the midst of his candidacy for a seat in city council.

Hauntz filed his petitions July 20, approximately two weeks after his somewhat unexpected decision to seek election to this office. Drafted into line by Hilltop voters Hauntz said, "I have no personal desire for the office. However, in view of the fact, that I have been requested to offer my services in council, I feel an obligation to my community, and I will abide by the wishes of the Hilltop and other sections of the city, bearing in mind, that, if I am elected, I will endeavor to serve the best interests of the city as a whole and will vote on matters of importance according to the way they will benefit our citizenry."

Disclaiming any political ambitions Hauntz continued: "I most certainly am not in this for political reasons and do not intend to use the office (if I am elected) as a stepping stone to something else." Hauntz was also emphatic in having it understood that he did not want to connect his present campaign in any way with his past record on the school board.

Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience Hauntz concluded: "I'm not running against the other candidates; I'm running with them. The more friends I have the more chance I have working with them, if I am elected." Continual bickering in council, he feels, is unnecessary. "If council were run on a business like basis," he said, "much more could be accomplished."

Hauntz was born in Columbus. As a boy he carried newspapers, worked as a night clerk for Postal Telegraph and at the Columbus Savings and Trust Co. For four years he was employed by the Pennsylvania railroad.

After the war in which he served as sergeant in the 306th Trench Motar battery, Hauntz returned home and bought out his father's grocery business. He is now proprietor of a thriving business at 2210 W. Broad-st.

Always active in civic affairs, Hauntz has been twice president of the National Retail Grocer's association, vice-president of the West Side Board of Trade, president of the HBMA and president of the Lions club.

Peaceable, affable, and at times even beaming, Hauntz seems to enjoy life immensely. His philosophy makes work a pleasure and recreation more pleasure. He plays golf, takes a trip every summer, doesn't fish or hunt, smokes cigarettes, and is happiest spending his after hours around the fireside with his wife and daughter.

Hilltop Streets Named For Former Residents

Many Hilltop streets have in the past been named in honor of prominent Hilltop citizens. Harris-av was named for William Harris and Warren-av honored his son, Warren. Powell-av was captioned for Frank Powell.

Chase-av is reminiscent of the well known Camp Chase which honored Samuel P. Chase. Clarendon-av was formerly Price-st, and Hawthorne was changed to the present Whitethorne. Parks is now Wayne-av. Nearly all of the streets on the Hilltop run north and south.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st, has a 17 year old son, majoring ...

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

6000th Broadcast To Be Made By Jim Cooper Soon

By Esther Weakley

We recently took a trip down through the hills of Licking, Muskingum and Perry counties and talked to many people who live far from the traveled highways and who we thought might not know what a radio looks like, but they all listen to Jim Cooper's news broadcasts. Some of them depend entirely on him for news of the doings in the world beyond their own hills.

Mr. Cooper has lived on the Hilltop for the past three years, at 522 Belvidere-av. He is married and has one daughter, Patty Lou, age 12, who will enter West high school this fall. He and Mrs. Cooper were on the legitimate stage for 25 years and have also done radio skits together.

He has been news commentator on station WBNS for seven years and broadcasts four times daily. In September he will complete his six thousandth broadcast and has had the same sponsor (The Gas Co.) for the seven years, this being the longest record on that station. He estimates that he has about three-fourths of a million listeners, especially to his early morning broadcasts.

He has broadcast from his home recently, since his sojourn in the hospital and the thousands of cards and letters he has received during his illness attest to his great popularity.

He tells us that his entering the field of radio is a long story, and we are sure it is an interesting one. However, we are glad he did enter, for we are an ardent "Genial Jim Cooper" fan and hope to be able to listen in for years to come.

Takes Local Firemen 15 Seconds To Dress and Get on Their Way To Fire.

Hilltop Engine House

They dress, slide down stairs and drive the fire truck over the plate in the doorway in 15 seconds.—and it takes some people an hour to dress,—but inhabitants of fire house No. 17 located at Wheatland and Broad-sts have to be fast or it may mean a life, let alone a job.

Roll call and change of units comes at 7:55 a. m. and if a man is late even a minute he is compelled to work 24 hours without pay. The men must not go to bed before 8 p. m. and must be up at 7 a. m. There are three alarms, one ring meaning a fire, two and three rings meaning a call from headquarters.

On the triple combination pump at the Hilltop house, there is 1,900 feet of hose. This hose is changed every 30 days whether it is used or not, and if a hose has been used it is changed the next day. Used hose are never taken out unless completely dry.

COMMITTEEMAN

Dale Dysart

Dale Dysart, 49 S. Eureka-av, is the Republican committeeman of the Eleventh ward. He was a candidate for the post in the August, 1938, primaries, having been chosen by William Schneider, county chairman, as a "harmony" candidate, following much bickering among the Republican forces.

"The earth shook," said White, describing his experience in an earthquake; "cups and saucers flew all over the place."

"Great Scott," exclaimed Jones. "That reminds me. I forgot to mail my wife's letter."

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues as the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binna-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Hoyt-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

AS MEN DREAM

Night is a speckled bird
Winging its way
Across the years —

From day to day.
Seeking a darker sphere
To hide the scars
Men gaze upon

And call the stars.
Night is a singing bird
That passes on —
Leaving a melody
Which men call dawn.

Grace Phillips, in Columbus Citizen.

WHEN THE CHROMATIC STAGE

You lean toward the song with palms outspread.
It beats through sensative finger tips,
Streams up the arms and leaps to the head,
Swirls in the brain, spilling drops on the lips;
Then, trill over trill and note after note,
It falls to an aching dam in the throat.

Sara Bard Field, in "Fantasy."

DIVORCE

Our yesterdays wait
In summer's high cathedral
On a hill
Where we left them
When we parted —
They are waiting, waiting still.
I did not know the sun and stars
Would grow dark with your going . . .
Nothing is left but a mound of petals,
A cold night wind blowing.

E. W., in "Skyline."

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

Aerial View of a Portion of the Western Section of the Hilltop

THE task of building the community for tomorrow rests, in very large measure, with the business and civic groups of that community. Around such an organization a community program is developed. This organization must sell the community to itself and work consistently and persistently in order that the way may be paved for the actual improvements that go to make up the progress of a community.

With cooperative effort in the community the Hilltop Business Men's Association has become a force of usefulness.

No business man can live independently of the activities of his fellow citizens. He labors under a costly system of self deception if he tries it. This is a day and age of cooperative effort. Farmers have demonstrated that to many city dwellers. The Hilltop Business Men's Association is selling this idea every day in the year. This group enjoys the cooperation of the people of this community.

The Hilltop Business Men's Association stands for all that is good for the Hilltop. It has been a spokesman for every improvement of recent years. Members have sought to be a contributing factor to the friendliness and neighborliness that is so ever present among Hilltop folks.

They stand ready to serve you at all times. Your part in this matter of community cooperation can best be expressed through your continued patronage of Hilltop business and professional people.

Traffic Regulations

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 W. Boys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she ...

Served As Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

Gessaman Seeks Office On Record

Columbus is fourth in a field of sixty-six cities of from 100,000 to 300,000 population in the United States from the standpoint of low per capita cost of city government. This fact is established in a report just released by the Municipal Record, official publication of this size class. The paper is published at Salt Lake City.

Albany, N. Y., has the highest per capita cost of all of the sixty-six cities, $52. The per capita cost of city government in Columbus is less than $10.

Mayor Myron B. Gessaman in a message to the people of the Hilltop on the occasion of the Record Progress edition points out that his administration has aimed to apply business principals rather than politically expedient methods to municipal administration.

On taking office, Mayor Gessaman explained that he was confronted with the problem of reconciling both the ever increasing demands for the extension and improvement of municipal activities and service, and the rising cost of operation with the limitations of the city's rapidly decreasing revenue.

Every city department under the mayor's jurisdiction was studied thoroughly to see where savings could be made. During the present administration, the bonded indebtedness of the city has been decreased by $4,543,432, according to Mayor Gessaman.

He explains that the future holds encouragement, assuming that the state develops a permanent plan for the financing of direct relief. He believes that under such circumstances, the city's bonded indebtedness can continue to be reduced, and that revenue which is now being used to pay off bonds and interest can be released from the sinking fund and be used for general operating expenses.

During his administration, the mayor states that the city has never defaulted on its obligations and its conservative financing has been reflected in the low interest rate on all municipal bonds which have been refunded under law. Today these bonds carry interest charges as low as two percent instead of four and five percent of a few years ago. This means a direct saving to the taxpayer, he added.

BOOSTER

Cliff Kohn

He has been called the "most affable" of Hilltoppers. He has worked in the real estate business, been associated with the Buckeye Steel Co. and upon his arrival on the Hilltop became associated with the Hilltop Undertaking Co. in 1919 and three years later set up his own business at 2456 W. Broad-st. C. J. Kohn belongs to Westgate lodge, West Gate chapter Westgate council, Scottish Rite, Shrine, Westwood K. of P., Robert Morris chapter Eastern Star, Hilltop lodge of Odd Fellows, the Mercator club, is a thirty-second degree Mason and a past president of the Hilltop Business Men's association.

Cussins & Fearn Started On West Side

Wonder how many of the old folks now living here on the Hilltop remember the original Cussins & Fearn store in old Franklinton at W. Broad and Sandusky-st.

From this one store (later expanded to 649 W. Broad) Cussins & Fearn have grown to 24 stores and a public garage now serving all Ohio.

Cussins & Fearn is the only strictly Ohio organization that completely distributes and mails large catalogs to all the homes in the communities they serve. Over 300,000 of the new fall issue containing 148 pages have just been distributed.

This time saving book makes it easy to compare prices and do window shopping right in your own home. Any Hilltop or west side resident who has not received a free copy is invited to ask for one at any C. & F. store.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3086 W. Broad-st, has a 17 year old son working

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

The Denbow

Addison Runs On Record

Rodger N. Addison, 37, 59 W. Patterson-av, is a candidate for re-election to city council. He has been a member of council for the past eight years and is running on his record.

He sponsored the city traffic survey that resulted in reducing fatal accidents by more than 65 per cent.

Addison sponsored legislation that now controls the taxicab companies. The number of cabs operating on the streets has been reduced from 634 to 188.

Addison sponsored the building of the Hare orphans' home. He also assisted West side councilmen in insisting that the West side receive its share of sewer construction.

West High senior Robert Hall served as "mayor" of Columbus when the Hi-Y boys of the high schools took over the city management for a day in May. He resides at 223 S. Westgate-av

Lehman Seeks Council Post

William L. Lehman, 33, 743 W. Gay-st, has been a member of city council for the past two years, having been appointed to serve the unexpired term of the late Frank C. Karns.

He has taken interest in financial conditions of the city. Only recently when the administration submitted a budget that was some $300,000 out of balance, it fell to his lot to cut the city budget to meet the city income and still when the budget was enacted by council the essential functions of government are now being maintained.

Lehman will be remembered by many residents of the West side, where as a member of the Eagles lodge he managed the food distribution centers in association with the West Side Church of Christ.

He has always been interested in the welfare activities of the city and has endeavored to improve the facilities of the parks and playgrounds and just as soon as the income of the city allows, additional expenditures for the recreational department will be included in the city budget, he promises, so that the playgrounds of Columbus will compare with those of other cities of comparable

Distelhorst Milk Gets Good Rating

Sanitation with a capital "s" is the one thing that impresses the visitor at the Distelhorst Milk Co. plant at 749 Brown-rd. Mr. Distelhorst receives many compliments from the public and from the city board of health on this phase of his dairy business.

All milk bottles are scalded and sterilized at the washer and are never touched by the human hand from the time the bottles are put into the washer until they leave the bottler already filled and capped.

The machinery and floors are washed and sterilized daily. Special care is taken in the selection of drivers to insure health. Milk is hauled to the plant from producers in insulated covered sanitary trucks. The public is invited to inspect the plant at all times.

Mr. Distelhorst moved to his new Hilltop home at 2991 Crescent-dr Sept. 1.

HUTCHISON HERE FOR 12 YEARS

ESTABLISHES RECORD

Mose Williams

Mose M. Williams, since joining the agency force of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., has made an outstanding record. In 1937-38 he finished first in his agency of 120 men, in the number of lives written. He has been a member of the company's honor society, the 4-L club, ever since he joined the company three years ago, which is the longest consecutive monthly membership held by any agent in the state of Ohio.

For the first seven months of this year he has written more lives than any man in the state associated with his company. This year he is putting forth every effort to receive the company's most coveted honor—membership in the "Marathon Club."

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. provides all forms of life insurance and annuities, and is well qualified to assist in arranging life insurance to fit your needs. Mr. Williams may be reached by calling RA. 0758 or MA. 6287.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been employed by the city for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Dailey-For-Mayor Clubs To Meet

The tenth and eleventh ward Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

W. Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, will be the principal speaker. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for those in attendance.

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Carthage fairgrounds near Cincinnati last week was Eugene Constans, 20, of 416 S. Hague-av.

Koontz In Council Race

Henry A. Koontz, four years ago a candidate for council, is once again in the race for that office, and, according to his campaign speeches, is "out to get those 186 votes" by which he was defeated.

Koontz was born Nov. 25, 1910, on Columbus' West Side. He attended the Chicago Avenue and Avondale elementary schools and graduated from West High in 1919. In 1922 he took his degree from the college of pharmacy at Ohio State university. He has been associated with the Mykrantz drug firm since that time. For the past seven months he has been manager of the Mykrantz store at 2403 W. Broad-st.

Koontz is a member of the Columbus Lodge of Masons, the Scottish Rite, the Phi Delta Chi fraternity, and the Buckeye Republican club. For the past five years he has been a director of the West Side board of trade. Until a few weeks ago he served his fourth term as ward committeeman of the tenth ward. He is also president of the Tenth Ward Republican club.

According to his own statement, Koontz is the only council candidate who to date has been formally endorsed by the county Republican organization. He also has the assurance of Mayor Gessaman that the administration will not oppose him in any way.

Not caring to make any definite campaign pledges, Koontz said that he would meet issues as they come up. "A great many candidates," he said, "are promising to get municipal swimming pools, parks, etc., for the voters. I'm heartily in favor of this sort of thing," he continued, "if I know where the money is coming from. You can't do these things, if you don't have the money." Koontz did say, however, that he would favor the Rail Light company paying for its franchise, providing that there would be no increase in fares.

Dailey Sees City Waste

Editor's Note—This is another in the series of interviews with Columbus Mayoralty Candidates.

By John Hess

Herb Dailey, a man who can swear as gracefuny as he can render inspiring passages from the Bible, has led a varied and interesting life.

He was born Jan. 19, 1880 in Middleport, O. He attended school there, until he was 15 years old. The next few years found him working on the cranes and under the vessels at the Carnegie Steel Plant in Middleport.

Next he moved to Columbus, learned the sheet metal trade, and found employment with the Voglegesang Company (predecessors to the Columbus Heating and Ventilating Co.) and later with Blackwood-Green and Company. During this time he became very active in labor circles. He was business agent for Local No. 53 of the Metal Trades Union affiliated with the old Trades and Labor Assembly and an officer of the latter organization. He was also president of the Building Trades Council in the city.

After a few experimental dives into the cold waters of politics, (on one occasion he ran for state senator and was defeated in the primaries by a narrow margin), Dailey was appointed in 1932 to fulfill an unexpired term in council. In 1933 he ran for reelection and was the only Democrat on the municipal ticket who was elected in that year. "At the end of four years," he said. "I was prevailed upon to run again and once again was the only Democrat elected."

In 1935 Dailey ran unsuccessfully as the Democratic organization's candidate for mayor. For the past six years in council he has been chairman of the finance committee.

Dailey opposes the much discussed sewer rental charge. "If the by-product of the plant were processed and sold as fertilizer," he said, "this would bring in revenue of not less than $300,000 a year, quite enough to operate the plant. The need for the rental charge would thereby be eliminated."

Questioned as to the financial problems of the city, Dailey made the following comments:

"The city is practically bankrupt. There are two things, which must be done. First, new sources of revenue must be discovered. Second, inefficiency in city operations must be eliminated."

PATTIE IS WINNER

Pattie Pennington, 346 S. Harris-av, a recent pupil at West high, placed second in the Gateway to Hollywood contest held in May of this year.

4500 VIEW DISPLAY OF MECHANICAL CITY

More than 4,500 Hilltoppers visited the mechanical city display which was presented at the First Federal Savings and Loan association during the week in which it was on display in February. The "city," consisting of 30,000 pieces and 100 mechanical characters in motion, depicted activities of various trades, occupations and pastimes.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st.

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Guarding The Health Of The Hilltop

"Depend on your Physician—He is the guardian of your Health.

"No single factor in your success and happiness is as important as the care that your physician gives you and your family. In that mutual relation of physician and patient lies the greatest happiness for you since that physician to whom you trust the health of your family is constantly on the alert for all those influences that might tend to lower the vitality of any member of your family and he is the first to find those things that advance your interests. His duty is to safeguard you and to shield you from the harmful ravages of disease and to direct you in a course of life that will insure you the safest and best way of living so that you may enjoy life to its fullest extent.

"Your family physician spends many hours in study, observation and comparison with research workers in order that you may have the help that will keep you and yours in condition to work and play your best. Your physician constantly cooperates with the Department of Health and all allied agencies in the fight to eliminate all danger of disease scourages, epidemics and unsanitary conditions that may strike down the members of your family. He is an active and alert enemy to all influences that might be dangerous to you and he is constantly fostering those efforts that make your community a better place in which to live and safer for you and your family.

"Your part is to single out a physician as your FAMILY PHYSICIAN and trust in him. Give him the opportunity to study the constitutions of each member of the family, to know their needs and frailties and to know that their health is his particular responsibility and you will find that he is more than merely a physician, he will be friend and protector to you and the first to give good advice in your dilemna, help in your troubles and support in your every effort to progress. Play fair with him and, should you need advice, he will be the first to extend the helping hand, the first to come to your aid and, if need be, the first to extend credit to you. Do not expect him to be forever generous if you have failed to do your part.

"Be faithful to your family Physician and he will be your true friend."

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

Glenwood Has New

Buckaroos, Newark Clash In Grid Opener Tonight

The Spectator

By C. C. Hartley

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 488 Hiltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken. "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 160 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

YOUNG HILLTOP MERCHANT WINS MANY CUSTOMERS WITH HIS SMILE

Elmer Jones is one of the Hilltop's youngest merchants, being only 19 years old. He has been a cripple from birth, but in spite of this has kept busy and always has a friendly smile, whether you buy his wares or not.

Elmer lives at 58 Belvidere-av and for three years sold magazines to a large group of customers. He won many prizes for selling the most magazines. Now he is making and selling lawn ornaments, match boxes and other articles. He will soon start making out bowls for the Christmas trade.

He does the work himself, but says his sister helps a little with the painting.

This young man's merchandise is cheap and well made and the service is convenient and courteous. He will call at your home.

Legion Selects Man of Year

For three consecutive years the Camp Chase post of the American Legion has named a Hilltop Man of the Year. In addition to being awarded this title which is extended as a reward for outstanding service to the Hilltop, the American Legion also presents some token of appreciation.

In 1937 S. Talmadge Magann, former pastor of Hillcrest Baptist church, noted for his interest in charitable organizations and outstanding activities in the Legion, was awarded this honor.

Ray G. Hauntz, for his outstanding work in the Business Men's association and interest in Hilltop activities in general, was awarded the "Man of the Year" distinction for 1938.

The year 1939 saw Dr. J. Y. Bateman awarded the honor. His work in establishing a recreational program at the State hospital brought him the title.

Dr. McNamee Is Chiropractor

Dr. E. E. McNamee

Dr. E. E. McNamee, 2543 Sullivant-av, has been practising chiropractic on the Hilltop for the past eight years. He is a graduate of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, Davenport, Ia., has completed a course of study at Lincoln School of Chiropractic, Indianapolis, and took post graduate work in the Metropolitan Chiropractic college, Cleveland. He holds the degrees of D. C. from Palmer and Ph. C. from Lincoln.

Previously he attended Rio Grande college, while a resident of Fulton, Mo., where he was graduated from the local high school. He has one daughter, Mary Jo, three. He is a member of the Hilltop Business Men's association, and is active in that group in the minstrel show and the bean dinner.

Dr. McNamee is a fisherman in his leisure moments. He recently landed a 28-inch blue catfish in Buckeye lake, wading into the lake at midnight and using both hands to assist in the landing. He was bitten on both hands, but managed to land the catch. He is also fond of hunting for pheasants and ducks.

Commander

Arthur J. Beller

Arthur J. Beller, 326 Algonquin-av, is present commander of Camp Chase post of the American Legion and holds a 20 consecutive year card, having been active in legion work for 20 years.

He has served in the American Legion as executive committeeman, second vice-commander, 1933, has held two offices in the 40&8, he has been active in Camp Chase post since 1931, coming to the Hilltop from membership in Franklin post No. 1.

He was state chairman of Boy Scout work in 1931-32 and in 1934 he was department director of junior activities.

In March, 1938, the Occident staff of West High school was invited to handle the editorial end of publishing the Hilltop Record for one week. Copyreading, news writing, editing and proof-reading were all taken over by the high school journalists.

Since that time the event has been an annual one, with those contributing being feted by the Record.

In keeping with a growing community the Gearhart Hardware has increased its floor space in recent years to accommodate a growing business; a business that has been built on a sensible, old time belief that the customer is entitled to a dollar's worth of merchandise for every dollar spent. The Hilltop has reacted kindly to this policy by giving its continued patronage.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st.

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Our Dancing Daughter

Gracebelle Day

It is only fitting that in a Hilltop Progress edition we should cite the progress of the Hilltop's most famous dancing daughter. She's played in nearly all the major cities in the U. S. has played extended engagements in Europe, has been acclaimed "Sweetheart of the American Legion" by Robert Bently post of Cincinnati. She has also made her debute in the movies.

Gracebelle (Gloria) Day is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Day, Hilltopers for many years. A graduate of West high school, she danced her way to fame, but still finds time to return for local shows, the most recent being the Camp Chase post American Legion show, held in the West high auditorium in April.

Extends Greetings On Issuance of Progress Edition

Mr. C. Carlton Hartley,

The Hilltop Record

Columbus, Ohio

Dear Mr. Hartley:

I should like to take this opportunity to congratulate you on the issuance of your progress edition dedicated to a most progressive community.

For many years, I have watched with interest the fine community spirit on the Hilltop and I am certain that your paper has played an important part in the development of this community spirit.

With kindest regards, I am
Sincerely yours,

MEMORIAL BURIAL PARK OPEN SINCE 1922

In 1922 the Memorial Burial park, located at 6939 W. Broad-st, on the national highway, was dedicated, thus affording the Hilltop one of the finest burial parks in this section.

The charter of the park is strictly non-sectarian and is restricted to members of the Caucasian race. It is operated by the Memorial Burial Park association.

MRS. WRIGHT HAS OLD PIANO

One hundred and eight years ago Mrs. Evers' oldest son played violin, cornet and piano and passed his talent on to his only daughter, who is now director of the Hilltop School of Music.

EARLY ROADS BAD

In the days of Camp Chase the only paved road in the community was the national pike. Throughout the "hinterlands" were mud roads and early settlers recall that often it took an hour or more to travel a mile on wet days.

During the last two years in addition to running the drug store he has been secretary to the Hilltop Business Men's association. Traffic Regulations

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 488 Hiltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 83 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3048 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city ...

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st, has

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

BEANS

Hilltoppers Devour Great Quantities At Annual Bean Day Event

One of the latest annual events to be added to the list of the Hilltop's popular "institutions" is Bean Day sponsored by the Hilltop Business Men's association. On that day thousands of Hilltoppers and Columbus citizens come out for an enjoyable afternoon and evening at Westgate park.

But the weatherman always affords to produce a sufficient amount of sunshine; business men serve hundreds of pounds of beans, cartons of crackers; children vie for prizes galore, climbing greased poles and catching greased pigs; jitterbugs dance to their hearts' content; mothers and fathers watch ball games, play games and enjoy band concerts; political candidates shine; and everyone eats beans!

For the past two years every business house has offered a prize for customers guessing the correct number of beans in glass containers. It has been estimated that more than 150 prizes are given away for this event alone. Beside the bean guessing contest prizes are given for every other contest, the bathing beauty contest being an added feature this year.

TWO DITCHES

During the Civil war two government ditches, used for drainage purposes by Camp Chase, were constructed. One crossed Broad-st about where Seiller's store is now located. The other crossed W. Broad-st at Hague-av. Both drained in the Scioto river.

11th Ward Committeeman

Nine times Sam Willis ran for Democratic committeeman of the eleventh ward; nine times Sam was elected. It all dates back to the first time, when Al Scales, Frank Ireland, Dr. Hamlin, Tom Murnane and John Lucas asked him to run for the position in 1916.

Sam Willis has been a railroader, grocerymam, student at Ohio Northern university, but his field is politics; he likes people, likes to be with them; therefore, he's in his glory watching every political move, counting votes.

He speaks quietly and confidently, likes to puddle around in the flower garden. He has operated four stores on the Hilltop; at Hague and Broad, Sullivant and Denver-rd. Harris and Sullivant and Oakley and Sullivant.

In 1906 he came to Columbus from Jackson county and began work with the N. & W. railroad, working as train dispatcher, and was finally appointed city clerk.

Sam and Mrs. Willis reside at 145 S. Roys-av.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest misnove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 351 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3048 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

It Took Two Wars To Get Me To The Hilltop!

Editor's note: Clyde Moore, a Hilltopper, has a host of friends who follow his daily editorials and column in the Ohio State Journal.

By Clyde Moore

When I was a lad in the western Alleghenies, I used to listen rapturously to tales spun around the fireside by tall, bearded men who had ventured far and lived dangerously.

Many and varied were the yarns they told of adventures they and their friends had experienced. The dangers of the hunt and the thrill of battle had been theirs, and they told their stories with the natural art of men who knew when to talk and when to listen.

Clyde Moore

Of all the fascinating recitals that flowed from their lips as they smoked their pipes and drew upon the resources of the past for entertainment, none made me draw my chair closer to the knee of the raconteur and set my ears at high pitch than those dealing with the Civil war, already enriched and romanticized by having gathered more than two score years upon it.

Sometimes, when conversation turned to this exciting period of history, there was one old man who would grow reminiscent and relate experiences he had undergone in a far distant and, to me, rather terrible place which he called Camp Chase.

Prisoner of War

He had been a prisoner of war there and had suffered great hardships. War prisons were not noted as being pleasure resorts anywhere, and while Camp Chase had not been by any means the worst in the Civil war, especially when compared with Andersonville, it was by no means a luxury hotel.

This man had suffered from the monotony, the lack of adequate food, the squalor, mud, flies and disease.

He had been in no position to enjoy the scenery, the spreading bushy plain with the trees in the distance, for a 15 foot board wall shut off the view, and vigilant sentries discouraged any attempts to view the panorama.

Indeed, so displeased was he with the surroundings and the old, formal type of Yankee hospitality, that he decided to escape and flee back to the mountains. He wanted to get away from the death and disease. The daily mournful bugle notes caused by blowing of taps was wafted over the walls of the compound, marking the burial of another Confederate soldier in the nearby graveyard. It fired his determination to run the risk of getting shot in an escape. Plans for the getaway were worked out with a comrade prisoner—but alas for plans. The night they were set to slip away the comrade was stricken with typhoid, and it was necessary to stay and nurse him. The opportunity to escape had passed.

Ultimately the prisoner was exchanged and returned to his home. Although somewhat broken in health for a time, he regarded himself as lucky to be back, as he recalled that desolate cemetery, with its rows of yellow topped graves, where 2,200 Confederates lay beneath the Buckeye soil at Camp Chase.

Hearing these recitals, I determined that some time I would visit this faraway Camp Chase, and although it seemed to be as distant as Cathay, some day I would get there, walk over the ground and view the scenes. In my boyish way I hoped that I might find a few old bayonets and perhaps a sword or musket lying around.

It's funny how things work out through peculiar whims and caprices of fortune, in a way never anticipated.

Let us now indulge in a movie stunt and spin the wheel of time to shift the scene to 1917, when there is a bigger, better and far more expensive war than the fracas of the 60's under way. Grandsons and great-grandsons of the blue and gray are uniting and marching shoulder to shoulder in olive drab, to make the world safe for insolvency and pave the way for dictators.

It is a cold, cheerless morning in November at Columbus barracks, and we see a tall, lean, rather hungry looking recruit, whose insignia proclaims his membership in the artillery, enter the "Y" hut. There still clings to his uniform the pungent essence of mothballs, which indeed was one of the few things that could not be entirely lost in the army, unless the uniform was lost too.

Home Cooked Food

The secretary of the "Hut", knowing the devastating effect of army food upon a young stomach, mercifully asks the soldier if he would be at all interested in a nice, home-cooked dinner. An unnecessary question indeed!

It seemed there was a kindly and patriotic family out on S. Oakley-av, who believed in the theory of Napoleon that an army travels on its stomach, and wishing to do its bit in a practical way for democracy had invited the "Y" to send a soldier out to dinner.

In exactly the time it took to travel the three blocks to the car line in a brisk and thoroughly unmilitary lope that soldier was aboard a W. Broad and Mt. Vernon car headed for the promised dinner.

The car rattled along with that unhurried speed characteristic of trolleys in wartime days. Indeed it moved with the pace of a snail with a very weak set of arches as well as a few bunions. As block grew into block, and the ambling yellow rattletrap went on, the soldier began to wonder if he would ever reach his destination. Then he wondered if he would ever get back to the army before the war ended, or worse still before taps. He also wondered if he would reach his destination before he starved to death.

But all things must end, including a street car ride, and the soldier finally got where he had started, and found himself cordially welcomed by the Frank Hauer family. To his surprise he learned that the site of the historic Camp Chase which he had once resolved to visit but had forgotten about until then, was only a few blocks west.

That same afternoon he was introduced to a young lady, a neighbor of his hosts, and then it was that he realized history was repeating itself. He was a prisoner of war, too, except in a far more pleasant way than his grandfather had been. Unlike his grandfather, however, he found the Hilltop, as it had become known, a most entrancing, indeed a heavenly, place.

So, to complete this yarn in a hurry, I went to France, finished the war, and then came back to the Hilltop and married the girl, Miss Marguerite Carter.

Today, our home on Binns-blvd is not far from where Grandpa Moore dwelt in his government barracks. The trees, two feet thick, grown since the Civil war, have for decades been mingling their roots with the dust of the soldiers who are sleeping in the Camp Chase cemetery. A short time ago my oldest boy, Jack, playing near our home, found a minie ball, dropped by some Union soldier, a grim reminder of the day when from the southerner's point of view at least this was not an ideal home section.

It took two wars to get the Moores established on the Hilltop. It would take a bigger one than those two combined to make me live anywhere else.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed, who lives at 3066 W. Broad-st.

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

A.A Press Director Is Hilltopper

By Frank M. Colley
(Director of Press and Radio Bureau, The American Ass'n)

On a recent visit to Greenfield, where my good friend, C. C. Hartley, publishes what I consider to be the finest small town daily in Ohio, I was asked: "What is the hardest thing to do in connection with your work?"

The easiest way to answer would be to ask another question: "Did you ever try to change over night from a rabid Red Bird fan to a position of neutrality? Did you ever try to change from someone who believes "good old Columbus town" in general and the Hilltop in particular is the finest place in which to live, to someone who must admit there are seven other wonderful cities in the country?"

If you didn't, then possibly you can't realize such a task has been my hardest one in baseball. When I joined the league as press and radio bureau director, from the Dispatch, in January, 1937, I had to drop my Columbus partisanship and become strictly neutral, and of course I have to admit to club officials and baseball writers that Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Toledo and Louisville also are marvelous places in which to live.

Aside from that I wouldn't say this is such a tough job. As long as I can remember I've preferred attending baseball games, talking and writing baseball, even to eating and sleeping, and anyone who has noted the avoirdupois I tote around must realize that, regardless of the sleeping part, I also like to eat.

Active During Winter

Brother Hartley has asked me to tell just what my job is. For one thing it's trying to keep baseball writers and radio announcers in the eight cities satisfied with feature stories, statistical information, and anything else that will be of help to them or of interest to their readers and listeners.

Yet that's a small part. The league season ends Sept. 10. Then I'll have to attend the playoffs and junior world series, running until approximately Oct. 1.

Many people, I presume, think after Oct. 1 there is nothing to do in baseball for several months. From Oct. 1 until the annual meeting of the league in late November, I'll be engaged in drafting schedules for 1940, and if you think that's an easy task, arranging one that will suit eight clubs, try it some time.

Last year I drew up and discarded 67 schedules, for on checking closely, I'd find that while they might be nearly perfect for seven clubs there would be some bad features for the eighth. Finally I have the umpires on my schedule hands. It's my job to assign the umpires for every series, and the aim is to have every umpire work approximately the same number of games in each city and the same number for every club on the road. That would be easy if the pairings were the same throughout the season and if no games were rained out. But you can't control old J. Pluvius, and you can't control injuries to umpires or illness that forces changes in pairings. All of this combines to provide one of the biggest headaches you have.

Frank Colley

About the first of June each year The American Association publishes its annual edition of The Sketch Book, which gives the complete information on all the clubs, all-time records and data on the current campaign to date of publication.

Birds Were Hilltoppers

Since 1939 was baseball's centennial year, this season's edition was by far the most elaborate ever attempted by a minor league. The Centennial Edition of The Sketch Book contains a complete history of all clubs from the start of the league in 1902, as well as records not usually available.

I still have on hands a few extra copies of The Sketch Book and if any of the good baseball fans of the Hilltop would like one for their archives, all they need do is to drop me a card at The American Association and I'll gladly send them a copy with my compliments, as long as the supply lasts.

The Hilltop has always been baseball minded. Ever since the stadium was built on W. Mound-st, it has seemed more or less a part of Hilltop activities. Several outstanding Red Bird players have been residents of what all of us who live there consider "the best part of Columbus." Off hand I particularly recall Nick Cullop, Jack Rothrock and Eddie Morgan and there have been others.

While the seasons of 1938 and 1939 have been the best the American Association as a whole has experienced in more than a decade, they have, it must be admitted, been disappointments in Columbus.

Yet, before panning the Cardinal ownership too hard for not putting winners in here the past two seasons, look over the record for the nine years of St. Louis control, and you will find three pennant winners, and three other clubs which finished in the first division, with three in the second division.

In the decade just preceding the taking over of the club by St. Louis, the team finished in first division once, and that time in fourth place, finished last five times, seventh twice and sixth twice.

So after all there isn't much reason to complain, and you can put it down now as a prediction that when the 1940 season ends the Red Birds are going to be there or thereabouts, and I do mean first or close to it. And it is a good bet that the Hilltop will furnish more than its full quota of fans in helping to pull the club through.

Charter Member

One of the charter members of the Hilltonia U. B. congregation is Mrs. Mabel Pennell, 418 Townsend-av. She readily recalls the past history, including the beginning of the organization and the erection of the church. Dayton Blake is the Sunday school superintendent in the Hilltonia church.

Candidate

Robert Marvin Draper

Robert Draper, resident of 74 N. Roys-av, is a candidate for the school board in the coming election in November. He is associated with Bridges, attorney, at 50 W. Broad-st.

Eureka Is Hilltop's Own Ice Plant

Along with other available facilities the Hilltop has its own ice plant, the Eureka Ice and Coal Co., located on the northwest corner of N. Eureka-av and Valleyview-dr. The present building, built nearly two years ago, has special equipment for ice production.

A. G. Custer is proprietor of the modern plant. The establishment produces 25 tons daily and two delivery trucks take care of the house-to-house distribution.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Dilson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3048 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

The tenth and eleventh ward Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Carthage fairgrounds near Cincinnati this week was Eugene Conners, 20, of 416 S. Hague-av.

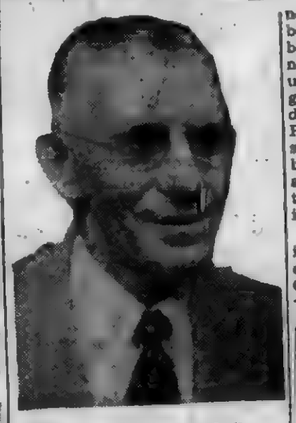
Dr. N. T. Miller First Hilltop Chiropractor

Dr. Newton T. Miller, 2645 W. Broad-st, was the Hilltop's first chiropractor and electro-therapist. He began practise here in 1920.

Dr. Miller holds a bachelor of arts degree in pre-medical course from Ohio State university. Later he was graduated from the Palmer School of Chiropractic, at Davenport, Ia.

Before coming to the Hilltop, Dr. Miller served as principal of the high school at Green Springs, and coached all of the athletic teams at that institution, including football, baseball and basketball. On one occasion, he recalls that the basketball team of Ohio State on a barnstorming tour played his Green Springs five.

From Green Springs, Dr. Miller went to the high school at Bath, as principal and athletic director.



Dr. N. T. Miller

His particular hobbies are fishing and hunting. He fishes in Deer creek and Big Darby, and hunts for rabbits and birds with dog on the farm of Carl Wade at Georgesville.

Dr. Miller is married and guardian of two boys, Paul and Don Rogers, senior and junior respectively at West high. Paul was last year named all-city third baseman by the Dispatch, and holds letters in football, baseball and basketball. Don is a member of the baseball and basketball squads and has a reserve letter in baseball.

Dr. Miller was born in Medina. During the World war he served 19 months in the United States army medical corps at Camp Greenleaf, Chickamauga Park, Ga.

Every Hilltop Boy Knows "Pop" Campbell

P. A. ("Pop") Campbell

Every boy on the Hilltop knows and loves Pop Campbell, whether he is a Boy Scout or not, for Pop is every boy's friend. He lives at 44 Whitethorne-av and is the father of two sons. He is an interior decorator, but scouting is his real life. He is serving his fifth year as chairman of troop committee and chairman of organization in the southwest district.

Pop doesn't think boys need to be saints, he doesn't expect them to be, but he knows they are all sound at the core and need to be understood, and to be kept busy. He knows that boys should never be disappointed and should always be told the truth, and should be treated as adults.

He thinks parents should be young with their boys, and be one of them, not forgetting when they were young. Pop says that parents cannot bring the boys up to them, but that parents can live their lives by going back to boys.

He also thinks that more men should get behind the scout movement, and says that police records verify the fact that scouts are seldom implicated in crimes of any kind. He says that the mere fact that a boy is a Boy Scout does not mean much, but it is the advancement he makes as a scout that counts. This is up to the individual.

Mr Campbell thinks each boy should have a hobby and should ride it hard.

It is his duty to organize new troops and settle any disputes that may arise, and since he has charge of 18 units, he is kept busy, and he loves it. Some weeks he is gone every night, but he is never too busy to call upon any boy who is ill or in trouble. If a boy asks him a question he cannot answer he takes time to look up the answer for he has never given them cause to lose confidence in him and the boys know Pop will never give them a wrong steer. Pop says no boy WANTS to be bad and that they must have an objective and should be made to feel that we parents are stringing along with them.

He and the other men active in scouting hope that all parents of Boy Scouts will attend the Court of Honor, held Sept. 28.

Agonis

Awards Made To Scholar Athletes At West Each Year

Yearly in each of the six city league high schools an award for outstanding work as a scholar-athlete is presented to boys who have contributed in this fashion to their high schools. As is the case among the other quintets, West high school has her warriors, prominent in the class room as on the athletic field.

Winners of this award presented annually in each of the high schools by the Agonis club and known as the Agonis award include David Ballard, 1928; Roger Mason, 1931; Woodrow Wills, 1932; Charles Casey, 1933; Clifford Boye, 1934; Gerald Hoffman, 1935; Charles Larkin, 1937; Frank Richey, 1938; and Richard Colburn, 1939. No notations of on the Agonis plaque at West years not filled in were present high school.

Recent athletic stars at West include Ed Hughes, Robert Richardson, Howard Gentry, Ray Redmond, Richard Francis, Frank Richey, Jack Bellar, Aple Kimbrel, Ray Stinson and Howdy Harrison, all of whom have finished their sports career at the local high school.

MODERN HILLTOP FOOD MARKET

To find good FOOD one looks for a MODERN MARKET. Capretta's Market is one of the most modern on the Hilltop. CARL CAPRETTA, who has had many years' experience in handling meats and groceries, has one of the largest meat departments on the Hilltop. In addition he handles a complete line of fresh fruits, vegetables and poultry, dressed free, and maintains a PROMPT delivery to Hilltop housewives.

This is what happens!

When the oil binder in dried paint shrinks this happens. The paint cracks, chips and curls. The color powders off. The way to prevent this premature failure is to use O'Brien's T. T. O. Paint. T. T. O. is made with Tung Oil that is actually pre-shrunk by the patented O'Brien Thermolyzing process. T. T. O looks better, wears longer. Ask your painter, or call us.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Mass Churches

In 1914 the population of the Hilltop was something less than 10,000 and there were but four churches. Today, 25 years later, the population has tripled, but the number of churches is six times as great.

New homes under construction as pictured above are numerous in the Westgate, Broadview and Wiltshire sections.

One of the most optimistic indications of a progressing Hilltop has been the rapid increase in the number of new homes being built, especially during the past two or three years. Recognized as a community of home owners, most of this building has taken the form of individually owned single residences with one floor plan houses gaining in popularity.

The average valuation of these new homes and lots on which they are built has ranged from $5,000 to $10,000, depending on the type of structures and the location in respect to transportation facilities, schools, churches and business houses. Several new homes are valued up to $18,000 and $20,000.

A few doubles, duplexes and apartment houses have been built but the demand for rental properties has not been satisfied nor is it adequate at the present time. Fewer multiple housing units have been built on the Hilltop than in other sections of Columbus. This bears out the fact that the community has a larger percentage of home owners than other sections of the city.

The greatest number of new homes have been built in the Westgate, Broadview and Wiltshire sections west of Hague-av. However, many homes have gone up in the earlier developed additions where lots had been undeveloped. Valleyview has experienced considerable growth.

Frame dwellings have always been popular on the Hilltop and have continued to be during the past two years. Stone chimneys and stone fronts and archways have increased in recent months especially in the higher price homes. Insulation, air conditioning and other modern features have been included in a goodly number of the better homes.

A large portion of the new homes are built by contractors for individual owners according to their plans. Others are built for sale by contractors who buy up lots in desirable locations and invest their own capital. Money for loans on Hilltop property has always been considered a good investment by banks and building and loan associations. Few persons with a few hundred dollars saved up have been unable to become home owners during recent years.

The trend to home ownership has not been confined to new construction. Numerous realty and insurance firms having money invested in rental properties have found a ready market for the sale of such houses once they were reconditioned. Homes in this category have usually sold for from $500 to $2,000 less than new properties and have represented a safe investment for the man with a modest income who desires to buy instead of continuing to pay rent. In many cases this has resulted in the property being kept in better condition than otherwise might have been the case. The pride of the property owner has made many neighborhoods take on a much neater appearance than previously. It is not unusual to find streets where all but a very few homes are privately owned.

Most of the Hilltop's business and professional men have seen fit to invest in some of the better properties in their community, thus bearing out the contention that they all take pride in the section of the city in which they live.

Highland Garden Club Seeks Many Park Improvements

One of the newer women's organizations on the Hilltop is the Highland Garden club, organized for the purpose of beautifying gardens on the Hilltop and for promoting a garden center, location for which has been secured along the river front. The organization is also interested in helping any programs for improving parks or other public sites with shrubbery.

Thirty-five Hilltop women now comprise the club which is headed by Mrs. C. E. Sharp, 2263 W. Broad, who has been its president for the past two terms.

Mrs. Elmer Myers is vice-president; Mrs. John Nutting, secretary, and Mrs. Ray Haunts, treasurer. The club meets once each month at the homes of its members. Presenting charity gifts at Christmas is one of their activities as a group.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hiltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binna-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

11th Ward Club To Meet

The Eleventh Ward Women's Democratic club will resume its regular schedule of monthly meetings at the home of Mrs. Pauline Brokaw, 189 Eldon-av, Thursday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 o'clock.

Dailey-For-Mayor Clubs To Meet

The tenth and eleventh ward Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

All candidates for municipal court, council, auditor and the general public are invited.

W. Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, will be the principal speaker. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for those in attendance.

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Carthage fair grounds near Cincinnati this week was Eugene Christian, 21, of 416 S. Hague-av.

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Secretary

C. H. Campbell

C. H. Campbell has been secretary of the Hilltop Business Men's association for the past two years. He is also secretary of the Business Men's chorus, having held that position since its origin. He has taught science, history, Latin, math and English after attending Ohio State university, and served three years in the army in 1918 as a bacteriologist in the medical laboratory. He is a devoted Hilltopper.

In 1924 he started his own drug store which has been located at its present site since that time.

"Doc" Campbell has two sons and resides at 91 Westmoor-av.

Treasurer

C. G. (Curt) Wilcox

Mr. Wilcox, manager of the Hilltop office of the Ohio National Bank, is treasurer of the Hilltop Business Men's association, a position he has held for several years.

In addition, he's kept busy in the capacity of publicity chief of all and sundry events scheduled by the association. With wife and son, he lives at 2307 Palmetto-av.

Elite Social Club Founded In 1920

The Elite Social club, one of the older of Hilltop organizations, is represented by approximately 15 women who meet two days of each month for a social gathering. The organization was founded in 1920 and was headed at the time by Mrs. Ada Houdashelt, now a resident of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Anna Fisher is the present president with Mrs. Nora Jenkins and Mrs. Birdie Spangler, vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

One Saturday of each month husbands are invited to the meetings which are sponsored by the dinner club, incorporated in the social group.

Living — The American Style

By Mrs. Leslie Keyser
83 Powhatan Ave.

I like the Hilltop because it is LIVING, the AMERICAN STYLE. Here within the reach of the average citizen is an opportunity to own a precious bit of land and a house suitable to one's needs. Here are paved streets, lighted and patrolled at nights.

Here is an unlimited water supply and an efficient sewerage system. Here are adequate schooling and recreational facilities and established churches of many denominations. Here are banks protecting your savings, and earnings. Here are merchants who anticipate your needs and professional men and women who stand ready to render their services.

Here on the Hilltop, one finds LIVING—American style. Here on the Hilltop we have seen that right thinking is effective in right action and that the result, as always, is spelled PROGRESS. Here on the Hilltop we have come to understand that the building of a community embodies more than bricks and stones and dollars and cents.

We know that it is made of many things, hopes and joys, smiles and tears and all the emotions that constitute the human experience of each one of us, as well as our forebears. We know that we must have individual contributions and spiritual aspirations as well as cooperative and unified planning to have a successful community.

We know that opportunities and privileges are the result of a progressive community and that awards are offset by responsibilities. In the scales of community justice, the Law of Compensation balances the Law of Progress. LIVING — the American style — one never gets something for nothing.

LIVING—American style, the laborer is "worthy of his hire" and "one reaps as he sows."

It is a strange place, this community—a paradox at times idealistic to the nth degree, spirituality personified—and then again it is a community of rugged realists who, like Walt Whitman, know that there is "something in the slum of things that sings and sings."

It's a strange place, the Hilltop, teeming with activity, and representing every class and creed. People differing widely in racial temperaments, traditions and training—yet who amalgamate to form a versatile population ready to meet any emergency or to fit into any enterprise the community offers.

I like the Hill.

It's a strange place.

It is LIVING — AMERICAN STYLE.

Church Of Christ In 24th Year

The Hilltop Church of Christ, corner of S. Burgess-av and Olive-st, one of the several local churches which has athletics as part of the church program, celebrated the twenty-third anniversary of the founding this past year.

Rev. L. S. Wilkes, the fourth pastor of the church since its organization in 1916, has occupied the pulpit since 1933 when he succeeded Rev. J. N. Johnston, pastor for 18 years.

The congregation, numbering 80 when the church began, now totals 300. Paul Cochran is the Sunday school head.

WPA 1939?

The huge granite boulder in the Confederate cemetery on Sullivant-av was hauled to its present location in 1899. It took eight teams of horses to transfer the rock from Westgate park to the cemetery, and the job was done as a government project.

AFTER NEARLY 30 YEARS

IT'S A FACT!

M. W. Seiller

To think of the progress of the Hilltop section of Columbus is to think of Seiller's complete store for all the family. Founded nearly thirty years ago by L. M. Seiller and operated for the past 20 years by M. W. Seiller, the store has grown with the thriving, prosperous section of the city which it serves.

Four times the store has been enlarged during the years since it was founded in 1909. Most recent of these improvements and additions was the installation of a complete, modern basement department during the current year. This added four thousand square feet of floor space to this growing store.

Today Seiller's employs a staff of twenty-five Hilltop people to care for the needs of the ever growing clientele. In every department stocks are more compete and up-to-the-minute than ever before. With such famous lines as Kayser, LeGant, LeVine, Loomcraft, Jantzen, Lee, Cooper, Curlee, Hyde Park, Goodmate, Interwoven, Arrow, etc., to choose from, wise shoppers are coming to Seiller's for women's wear, men's wear, children's wear, work clothing, home needs, floor coverings, etc., and are saving time and money.

Seiller's is a Hilltop institution. As the Hilltop makes further strides in community progress, Seiller's will advance and expand to ever meet the demands of the men, women and children whom it serves.

YOU'LL FIND THAT YOU STILL DO BETTER AFTER ALL AT

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

No more active, progressive organization of its kind in Columbus or in the state can be cited than the Hilltop Business Men's association, headed this year by Charlie Kent. For the past 12 years prominent Hilltop business men have headed the organization and many have been the accomplishments attained by the group.

The construction of highway 40 to West Jefferson and the new bridge to be built are representative of the type of progress the association is securing for the Hilltop. The Hilltop bean dinner, the annual spring dance, the Hilltop minstrel are representative of the enjoyment sponsored for Hilltoppers by the association.

Since the organization of the group in 1927 R. O. Harrison, George Painter, Herbert Dachna, Gene Todd, C. H. Campbell, Floyd Green, C. J. Rice, Dr. John Czatt, Dr. M. W [illegible] and C. Carlton Hartley have served as past presidents.

Officers for the present year include Charlie Kent, president; Alvie Nafzger, first vice-president; John Riepenhoff, second vice-president; C. H. Campbell, secretary, and C. G. Wilcox, treasurer.

"Community Cooperation", the slogan of the association, is exemplified by the group.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administra-

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 52 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 W. Boys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken, "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was, that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

Dr. Breese Only Osteopath West Of High Street

Dr. Arthur E. Breese

Dr. Arthur E. Breese, 2405½ W. Broad-st, has been practising osteopathy on the Hilltop for the past 14 years. At the time he came here there were less than half the present number of doctors on the Hilltop.

Dr. Breese was the first tenant of the new Melvin building and has been the only osteopathic physician west of High-st during the succeeding years.

He is a graduate of the American School of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo., having entered that institution in 1918. He was graduated in 1922. He was previously graduated from the high school at Hilliards, O., where he was born and raised. After finishing high school, Dr. Breese farmed and taught school in Perry and Norwich townships for several years before entering college.

He has four daughters, Mrs. Bernice Hamilton, Annabel Nippert, Mrs. Virginia Moore and Miss Laura Breese, all residing in Columbus.

Dr. Breese's hobby is fishing and in the past few years he has fished most of the streams from the Muskingum river to Deer creek. He is a member of the Odd Fellows lodge at Hilliards. Before coming to the Hilltop he practised osteopathy at Sedalia and St. Louis, Mo.

Hilltonia U. B. Church Plans Expansion

In September, 1938, several met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Hollister to consider the advisability of organizing a church. A month later an organization of 40 members was formed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Compton, 1605 Sullivant-av, this same group to be, in later years, the Hilltonia U. B. church congregation.

The Southeast conference appointed Rev. W. E. Jones as pastor and proper officials were elected. Services were held in the homes of members for a year. Then three lots were purchased at the southeast corner of Columbian and Springmont-avs, and in July, 1937, ground was broken for the present brick building. This building will serve as the pastor's home following the erection of a regular church building.

Rev. J. H. Harris is the present pastor and has served in that capacity since 1934. The church has 125 members. The church debt is nearly cancelled and plans are now being made to raise funds to build a new church.

W. Hayden Jones, director of the Hilltop male chorus for 10 years, was director of the Hoge Memorial choir for 13 years and was also director of the Miami Presbyterian church choir.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first Mr. Reed, and this Mr. Reed

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Highland Ave. Friends First Church On Hill

The first church building to be constructed on the Hilltop was the Highland Avenue Friends church which was built in 1893 and today is the oldest standing church in the community. The first meeting of the congregation was held in 1899 at a Sunday school started by William P. Ong at the corner of Whitethorne-av and W. Broad-st.

Mr. Ong supervised the erection of the present church building located at the corner of Highland-av and Floral-st. The church was first known as the Maple Grove Friends Meeting.

Several Pastors

The second pastor of the Friends church was Mrs. Triphena Morris of Mt. Gilead who was called in 1894. She was followed by Rev. David Lewis and in November, 1899, Mrs. Lydia Romick became pastor, being followed by Joseph and Adelaide Hadley.

Rev. DeWitt Foster succeeded the Hadleys and when he and his family went to Orange, N. J., Rev. Frederick J. Cope was extended the call, serving for three years. Then came Rev. Robert Pelt for three years.

Following Rev. Pelt was Rev. Elizabeth W. Ward, who was aided by Elizabeth Mott. She in turn was followed by Rev. William Kirby in 1912 who was succeeded by Rev. John Pennington in 1915.

Building Remodeled

In 1918 Rev. Herbert A. Handy was made pastor and after serving for two years, was followed by Rev. Daniel G. Hodgin, whose stay was for three years. Under the pastorate of Rev. Edgar Elford, who served from 1923 until 1925, the church building was remodeled and the present parsonage, 62 N. Burgess-av, was bought.

Rev. Carson Fox and his wife, Vervia P. Fox, on furlough from mission work in China, served the church, the former having died several years later while in mission work in Luho, China. Then came Rev. Walter R. Williams, another Chinese missionary, and he was followed by Rev. Claude A. Roane, who served for two years.

Rev. Albert J. Freyhoff was called to the pastorate in 1930, serving for four years. He was succeeded by Rev. Charles E. Haworth, who served the church for the past five years. According to a recent announcement, however, Rev. Haworth will relinquish the pastoral duties to Rev. Herbert A. Handy, pastor of the church during the years, 1918-20.

Sponsor Home

The Friends Rescue home here was begun by Miss Evangeline Reams nearly 35 years ago and for many years it was sponsored by the Highland Ave. church. Several years ago it was turned over to the Ohio Yearly meeting of the Friends church.

MANY AT OPEN HOUSE

More than 3,000 Hilltoppers visited the new West high school when open house was held there April 7, 1930.

Ministerial Assn. Active In Community

Leader in the moral and spiritual program of the Hilltop is the Hilltop Ministerial association, composed of the community's leading pastors.

Officers of the group, which meets monthly and is scheduled to meet Sept. 12 at the Hillcrest Baptist church, are: president, Rev. C. E. Haworth; vice-president, Rev. F. Brandfellner; and secretary-treasurer, Rev. Clyde Wendell.

Other active members of the group include Rev. J. H. Harris, Hilltonia U. B.; Rev. E. E. Burtner, Burgess Avenue U. B.; Rev. Alfred Wold, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian; Rev. G. J. MacDonald, Hillcrest Baptist; Rev. O. L. Seward, Glenwood M. E.; Rev. H. B. Anthony, Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene; Rev. B. H. Williams, Wheatland Avenue M. E.; Rev. Jacob Ashburn, Oakley Avenue Baptist; Rev. J. W. Crumrine, Sullivant Avenue Friends; and Rev. L. S. Wilkes, Hilltop Church of Christ.

Suceeding Rev. Haworth in the Highland Avenue Friends pulpit this month is Rev. Herbert Handy, former pastor of the same church. A successor to Rev. Haworth as president of the association will be chosen at one of the early fall meetings of the group. Rev. Brandfellner, pastor of the St. Paul Evangelical Congregational, will serve in the president's capacity until a new one is named. Rev. Wendell is the minister at Westgate Evangelical in addition to serving as secretary-treasurer of the group.

Stone Quarry Chapel Is Branch of Missionary Alliance

The Stone Quarry Chapel, McKinley-av, is a branch of the Christian and Missionary Alliance and was founded on the Hilltop 20 years ago. The church building is 15 years old, the congregation being composed of 60 members. Rev. P. J. Musselman, 2143 McKinley-av, is the pastor.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administra-

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2639 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3048 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

MILLIKIN ANSWERS SPAPER STORY

Millikin president of council, has chosen this channel to editorial attacks of the Columbus Dispatch. The council of misfeasance and negligence of in agreeing to a $300,000 light rate reduction ould easily have afforded a $700,000 reduction its own published financial reports.

rtain of the citizenry in mind I can frankly say that with the arrangement made by council with the agreeing to a $300,000 light rate reduction is pos-

000,000, an amount which makes the much hooted $300,000 seem insignificant by comparison.

"As a representative of the people I do not intend to let the case of electric rates ride with this last reduction. The $650,000 rate reduction of five years ago and the $300,000 reduction of this year have set precedents for other reductions in the future.

"Ever aware of my duty to the public, I will never pass up the opportunity of securing lower and lower rates for the consumer.

"I have it from reliable source that the gas company has vowed to defeat present council members because of their failure to arrive at a rate favorable to that company. The front page editorial method is being used to that end."

Two Catholic Churches Serve This Community

The first Catholic organization on the Hilltop was the St. Aloysius church group, organized in 1906 under the direction of Father J. J. Cahalan. According to Father R. E. Schwarz, present head, the first building was constructed in the fall of that same year, a combination church, school and rectory, with 92 children attending the school.

Rev. Cahalan went to Boston in 1910 and Rev. Schwarz succeeded him. At that time the church debt amounted to over $27,000, and after this was paid, plans were begun for the construction of a new church parish. Work on the present building, located at the intersection of W. Broad-st and Midland-av, was started in 1927.

Rev. Schwarz said that the first attendance record at the church showed close to 75 members, a small number indeed when compared with membership of today which nearly touches the 2,000 mark.

The present structure, including the interior decorations, cost $160,000. All of the statues are worked in marble, the vestments are handwoven silks on which are religious designs. Three windows of the parish were made in Germany and the altar was built in Italy. Station crosses in the church are the only sets like them in the world.

One of the younger church organizations on the Hilltop is that of the St. Mary Magdalene church, located at the corner of Parkside-rd and Roys-av. The smaller of the two Catholic church groups in the community, it was founded in 1928 when Most Rev. Bishop James Hartley authorized Father Raymond Bauschard to have architects draw up plans for an eight room school and church.

Following bids for the contract in January, 1929, they were released the latter part of February, with soil being broken on Apr. 19. The corner-stone for the new edifice was laid two months later, on June 19.

Bishop Hartley presided at solemn high mass, the first services in the new building held on the first Sunday in September of that year.

The classes, including grades one to eight, are taught by five sisters of St. Francis, Joliet, Ill. Rev. Bauschard is the head of the church and the school.

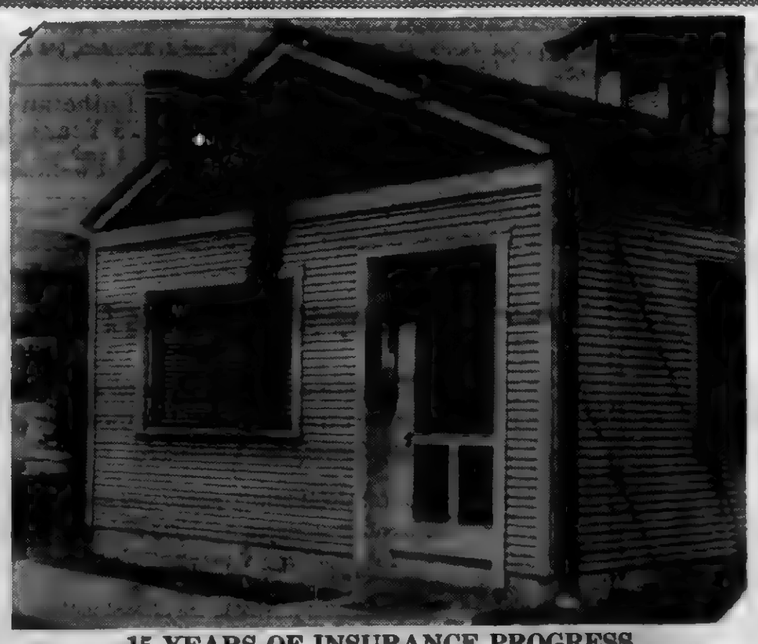
Rev. Ashburn Dean Of Local Ministers

Dean of the Hilltop's pastors is Rev. Jacob Ashburn, 176 S. Oakley-av, pastor of the Oakley Ave. Baptist church, located at the corner of Oakley-av and Sheridan-st.

Rev. Ashburn has served that colored people's church on the Hilltop for more than 22 years, having taken that position March, 1917. Before accepting the pastorate he was a teacher at Lynchburg college, Lynchburg, Va.

Since accepting the church position, Rev. Ashburn has seen the membership grow from 47 members until today the church roster contains 456 persons. He is married and has three children, Evelyn, Reginald and Julian.



Congratulations to the HILLTOP on its growth and progress. We wish to thank the citizens of Columbus and vicinity for our growth. Fifteen years ago MEMORIAL BURIAL PARK was an old estate but today there are more than 2800 persons buried therein, more than 5,000 families owning lots and over $48,000.00 in our PERPETUAL CARE FUND. We are now erecting a CREMATORY, COLUMBARIUM, and MAUSOLEUM TOWER and upon its completion we will be able to offer you every known method of burial within the confines of MEMORIAL BURIAL PARK. We invite you to drive through our Park and inspect all of these developments.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken. "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was, that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "There is a spin and

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the [illegible]

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

Hilltop Churches Invite You - - - - - -

Bethlehem Lutheran Has Beautiful Bldg.

Probably the most beautiful Protestant church on the Hilltop today is the Bethlehem Lutheran, Racine and Harris-avs and Vida-pl (south of Sullivant-av, east of Hague-av).

The structure is made of Columbia limestone and trimmed with Indiana limestone. When completed in 1936 the seating capacity was 200.

The church is headed by Rev. Elmer J. Klamfoth, 783 Bedford-av.

Hilltop Lutheran Served 23 Years

The current year will witness the twenty-third anniversary of the founding of the Hilltop Lutheran church, corner of W. Broad and S. Terrace-st. The church was founded Jan. 1, 1915, and the first service was held at 15 N. Oakley-av.

Since that time the church has progressed until today it is one of the leading churches on the Hilltop. It is affiliated with the United Lutheran in America, whose membership is well over the million mark.

The fifth pastor to serve the Hilltop Lutheran church is Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, who accepted the charge in August, 1938, following the resignation of Rev. W. G. Leubin, pastor for seven years.

Rev. Mitchell is a graduate of the Hanna Divinity school of Springfield.

Scouting To Forefront On Hilltop

Scouting is a volunteer movement. Fewer than one thousand professionals serve boyhood through Scouting in the United States, while nearly four hundred thousand volunteer service every week in the year.

District officers in the Hilltop district of the central Ohio area council include:

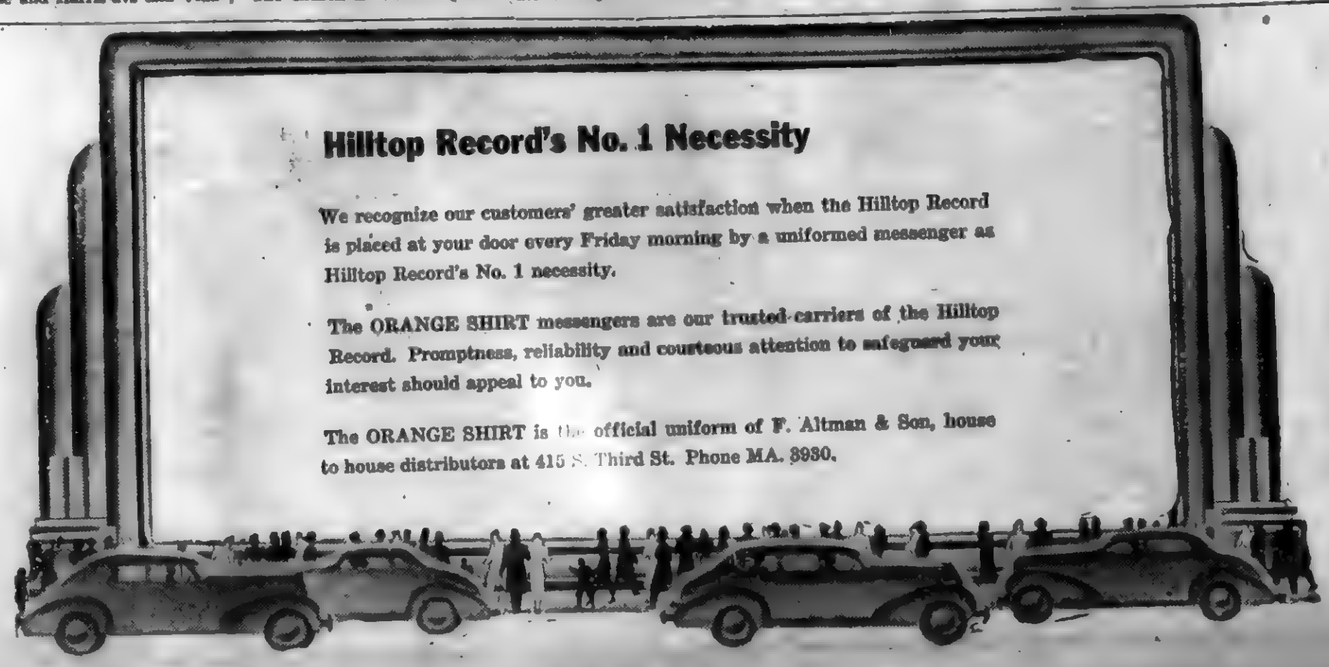
C. M. Riggs, 172 Guernsey-av, district chairman and vice-presidept of the central Ohio area council; Howard Miller, 229 Binns-blvd, district scout commissioner; Perl Campbell, 44 Whitethorne-av, chairman of the organization and extension committee; C. C. Hartley, 356 S. Roys-av, chairman of the committee on Scout advancement.

St. John Lutheran In 21st Year

The twenty-first anniversary of the founding of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, 2745 W. Broad-st, was celebrated this year with appropriate ceremonies. Rev. L. L. Cooperrider, 47 Binns-blvd, is the present pastor of the church.

On May 21, 1914, a congregation of 17 members erected and dedicated the first chapel of St. John's at 66 S. Burgess-av, now the J. J. King residence. Of these 17 charter members 11 are still residents of the Hilltop.

Serving the church during its early beginning was Rev. E. J. Klamfoth, then full time pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Rome, and at present minister of Bethlehem Lutheran church, Vida-pl and Harris-av.



Dr. L. B. Turner, 45 Midland-av, is one of the community's oldest physicians and with Frank Allen was instrumental in the founding of the West Gate Masonic lodge.

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administra-

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal wop the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koonti, 435 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koonti is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3049 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Hoys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Cattle pen at the fairgrounds near Cincinnati last week was Eugene Constans, 23, of 410 S. Hague-av.

Photographer

Dave Cornwell

To Dave Cornwell goes much of the credit for the photographic layouts in this special edition of the Record and the state prize winner of 1935.

Dave has given unstintingly of his time and effort to produce the large array of pictures which show the "Hilltop on Parade" in this issue. Practically all of the "shots" are the result of his labors.

Not easy is the task of gathering such an array of pictures as you will find in the Record this week. The arrangements to be made and the selection of the events and items of interest to be pictured make up only a small portion of the total outlay of time. On the shoulders of Dave has fallen the tough job of getting the pictures when the light is right, when the traffic does not obstruct the views. Shooting and re-shooting, Dave has finally presented his collection for your interest and entertainment.

Photography is a hobby with Dave, but as in everything he does, he puts his whole heart into the job. For the best whole-hearted job, the Record says: "Good work, well done! Thank you, Dave Cornwell."

Chief Factors

The two chief factors leading to the establishment of the Hilltop community in its present location were Camp Chase and the 1913 flood. With the flood came a migration of thousands to the Hilltop, where no flood waters could threaten.

Occident Club Meets Twice Monthly

The Occident club, a social organization meeting the first and third Fridays of the month, was organized in 1911, making it among the well established groups on the Hilltop. Three of the charter members are still living and active in work of the club. Mrs. Lena Elliott, Miss Nora Wenger and Miss Winifred Mott are the charter members, Miss Mott serving as the present secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Don Latham is president of the group which consists of 16 members. The next meeting of the group will be at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. John Burgess at Buckeye lake.

Many Honored

The Excelsior Society, honorary scholastic organization at West Junior High school, has initiated more than 900 members since its inception.

Hilltop Flying Field Is One Of Best

The best airport in the city . . . that is the description given the Sullivant Avenue airport by most flyers.

Competent authorities agree that the Hilltop field is better suited for a flying field than any other in the city. This is because of prevailing southwest winds and the absence of smoke from the industrial section of the city.

At present the local field is operated as the Jones Flying Service under the direction of Gomer Jones. The service comprises a hangar and 106 acres. The hangar houses five planes.

In conjunction with the field a student flying course is conducted and about 40 students are learning to fly.

Ray Hauntz:

"The report of Dr. Holy on his survey of the entire city for the board of education showed the Hilltop to be one of the fastest growing communities. The Hilltop will continue to grow, and when the present program of the HBMA has been realized and the new super highway out West Broad-st has been completed, it is safe to predict that the size of the Hilltop will double in the next 10 years."

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Oakley Ave Baptist Congregation

The Oakley Ave. Baptist church, one of the oldest organizations in the community, is served by the Rev. Jacob Ashburn, who has been pastor there for 22 years. Prior to his call to the local church, he was a professor at Lynchburg college, Va.

The Oakley Ave. Baptist church is the largest colored peoples church on the Hilltop.

Immanuel Baptist In Sixth Year

The sixth anniversary of the founding of the Immanuel Baptist church, 2092 Sullivant-av, was celebrated in early May, the date of the founding of the church being May 10, 1933. On that day seven families gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Siler, on Hilltonia-av, and laid the foundation for a Sunday school.

The first session of the school was held on Mother's Day, May 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Endsley, 407 S. Terrace-st. There were about 30 present and a simple organization was effected.

Rev. Leroy Wortman is at present pastor of the church, formerly called the "Hilltop Baptist Mission," and the congregation numbers nearly 100 persons.

Dr. E. J. Billman Has Practised Dentistry 20 Yrs.

Dr. E. J. Billman, dentist, 1230 W. Broad-st, has been practising on the West side for 20 years. He was graduated from the College of Dentistry at Ohio State where he also took his pre-dental course. He holds the degree of A. B. and D. D. S. from that institution.

While in college Dr. Billman was a member of the track team. At one time he played professional baseball in the Muskingum Valley league with the Trimway team, alternating in the positions of first base and pitcher.

Dr. Billman came to the West side in 1919, where he lived until two years ago, when his family moved to 2249 Yorkshire-rd, Arlington. Dr. and Mrs. Billman are the parents of two children, a daughter, Betty, 14, and a son, Jack, 11.

Betty will enter Ohio State this fall in the course in liberal arts. She was graduated from the Columbus School for Girls. Jack is a student in the Arlington school.

Dr. Billman's principal hobbies are flowers and fishing. He maintains a flower garden at his home. The Billman family owns a cottage at Indian Lake where they spend their spare time during the summer months, and where Dr. Billman does the major portion of his fishing.

At vacation time he fishes each year in Wisconsin. He has many interesting stories to tell of his experiences in quest of the finny denizens, but the one about the fish that got away after pulling his boat around the lake for a Saturday afternoon cruise is perhaps the most interesting.

BERCAW BEAUTY SALON
76 S. Richardson RA. 2064

Hoge Church Located On S. Eureka Ave

Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church, 29 S. Eureka-av, was founded in a saloon across W. Broad-st, from the present parsonage, in 1905. The Sunday school was founded first and from that grew the church organization.

Ground was first broken for the new church building at the present site on July 1, 1908. In April of the following year, although the church was not yet completed, the opening services were held with Rev. C. G. Watson in charge. Funds for the construction were made available through the "Memorial Fund for Church Extension."

Dr. James A. Hatfield was called to the church later in 1907, and he served as pastor at the Presbyterian church until 1918. A year later Rev. Richard E. Shields became pastor and during his seven year period of service an addition to the church, costing approximately $44,000, was completed.

Rev. Shields was followed by Rev. Harry C. Hutchison, a former president of the Hilltop Ministerial association, in December, 1928. Rev. Hutchison retired from active service in the ministry in July and he was succeeded by Rev. Alfred J. Wold, the present pastor.

Latter Day Saints Have Church Here

The Reorganized Church of Christ of Latter Day Saints, located at 586 Wheatland-av, is one of the younger churches on the Hilltop. It was founded here nearly 10 years ago and the congregation formerly met at a meeting place on Oakley-av. The church proper is six years old, the church membership amounting to 112 members.

Mrs. Dorothy Crop, formerly Dorothy Wright, was the first person to be baptised in the church. Her baptism took place on New Year's Day, nine years ago. Otto Wright is superintendent of the Sunday school and Rev. P. C. Welch is the pastor.

Friendship is a chain of gold,
Shaped in God's all-perfect mold;
Each link a smile, a laugh, a tear,
A grip of the hand, a word of cheer;

As steadfast as the ages roll,
Binding closer soul to soul;
No matter how far, or heavy the load
Sweet is the journey on Friendship's Road.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 2046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

11th Ward Club To Meet

The Eleventh Ward Women's Democratic club will resume its regular schedule of monthly meetings at the home of Mrs. Pauline Brokaw, 189 Eldon-av, Thursday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 o'clock.

Dailey-For-Mayor Clubs To Meet

The tenth and eleventh ward Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

All candidates for municipal court, council, auditor and the general public are invited.

W. Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, will be the principal speaker. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for those in attendance.

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Carthage fairgrounds near Cincinnati this week was Eugene Corcoran, Jr., of 416 S. Hague-av.

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Traffic Regulations

The Spectator By C. C. Hartley

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administra-

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

Burgess U. B. Church

One of the youngest pastors on the Hilltop is Rev. E. E. Burtner, pastor of the Burgess Avenue United Brethren church, located at the corner of Sullivant and Burgess-avs. Rev. Burtner was called to the local U. B. pulpit in September, 1938.

The Burgess Avenue church is one of the two United Brethren congregations on the Hilltop. Evangelistic services are frequently held. Ray Anderson is the present Sunday school superintendent.

During the 23 years since its founding in 1916 the membership has grown from the original 11 to a number well over the 400 mark for the structure.

At that time church services were being conducted in a little school house on what was then Price-av, now Clarendon-av. The building is now a private residence.

Bullock Gift

The board accepted the present site of the church as a gift from J. H. Bullock June 28, 1894, and the society assumed an indebtedness of $300. In honor of Mr. Bullock the JRB class in the adult department of the church school was named.

Sixteen years later to the day, on June 28, 1910, the corner stone of the church was laid. The parsonage was erected in 1902, and was practically paid for in the same year.

Forty-six years after its organization, the church today contains a membership of over 2,000 listed. Rev. O. L. Seward, 74 Highland-av, is the present pastor.

HAD SPECIAL EDITION

On May 20, 1918, S. J. Westlake, former owner of the Hilltop Record, issued a special Memorial Day edition containing a service flag printed in red and blue with a star for each Hilltop man in the war. In order to get this information he made a complete house to house canvass of the community.

Highland was the second street paved on the Hilltop, Broad-st being the first.

Glenwood Largest Church

The largest Protestant church on the Hilltop is the Glenwood M. E. organization, located at 64 Highland-av. The first meeting of the group was held on a Monday evening, Mar. 20, 1893, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Six on Price-av, and the chief topic of discussion was the organization of a Methodist society on the Hilltop.

The only church on the Hilltop at that time was the Friends church which had just been established. Thus it was that the Methodist group was the second church begun on the Hilltop, a temporary organization being formed at the opening meeting, with W. H. Thompson chosen as class leader with M. O. Randolph nearly a month later.

Permanent Organization

The permanent organization as a church society was formed Nov. 19, 1893.

At the opening meeting of the board of trustees the subject of a new church being built was of considerable interest to those present. The motion to create a new church building was made at a meeting Mar. 15, 1894, passed, and solicitors were immediately appointed to raise funds

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

First Federal Contributes to Growth

One of the outstanding organizations of its kind in central Ohio, the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, 2369 W. Broad-st, was the first building and loan association in Columbus to be federalized.

The company was organized in 1922 as the Hilltop Building and Loan Association and opened offices at 14 S. Wayne-av. The association has served the community continuously since that time. W. C. Eidson is president, having served in that capacity since 1928.

With federalization in 1935, the company opened a downtown office at 53 E. State-st.

Accounts in the institution are insured up to $5,000. Assets of the organization have grown to more than $5,000,000 under the federal plan. Dividends are paid or accredited twice yearly, on June 30 and Dec. 31.

H. G. Deems is secretary of the company; present members of the board of directors are L. C. Clime, Willard Eidson, Dr. T. R. Fletcher, Dr. T. S. Fox, John H. Lucas, W. L. Millikin, G. B. Nessley, Judge Cecil J Randall, E. H. Stauch, Charles Walton and Dr. Howard Whitehead.

First president of the organization was J. W. Dinsmore, one of the founders. He was succeeded by Ezra Hill in 1927 who served until the election of Eidson the following year.

The first board of directors included Dr. T. R. Fletcher, Dr. H. Whitehead, J. W. Dinsmore, Ezra Hill, J. H. Lucas, W. L. Millikin, E. H. Stauch, H. A. Adler, H. G. Butler, D. H. Elliott, W. J. Jones, W. H. Orebaugh, Fred Postle, Charles Spring and J. W. Worrell.

Webber's Place

The Webber property at Burgess-av and W. Broad-st originally comprised 100 acres of rich farm land and was purchased from Lucas Sullivant. Today, the 14 room house is located on a two acre plot, recently diminished with the erection of a row of apartment houses on Burgess-av.

First Church

The first church building in the Hilltop section was constructed in 1869. It was the Highland Avenue Friends church, still in existance on Highland-av.

Expansion Projects Are Good

By O. H. Craft

The character of a community reflects the individual and cooperative capacity of its citizens.

A retrospective view of the Hilltop, its progress and developments, is a subject of much satisfaction and pardonable pride to those who have lived and worked in the community, and observed its rapid growth during the past 25 years, from a few hundred homes to near ten thousand homes and some 30,000 people.

The prospect for expansion during the years just ahead is even greater than it has been in the past.

In my experience as a real estate broker, I find an ever increasing number of good substantial people seeking residence on the Hilltop. Unfortunately we have not been able to meet this demand, and have been obliged to turn them away to other sections of the city. There is a keen demand for attractive rental units, there is always a chance that these people we turn away would become permanent tenants of the Hilltop or ever home owners. Herein we have been weak in not recognizing and providing for those who were attracted our way.

There is already a very high percentage of home ownership in the Hilltop section, and the tendency is on the increase with much vigor. There is an abundant evidence of a growing consciousness of expanding community responsibility.

The home is the first complete unit and the foundation stone of organized society. Whatever tends to encourage home ties and responsibilities may, almost without exception, be classed as good. The urge to own a home is a good fundamental principle. Possession quickens the sense of responsibility and broadens the vision.

The Hilltop offers many choice building locations, platted and with all the necessary utilities for modern construction, and there is abundant additional unplotted land for almost unlimited expansion. Financing conditions are easier than they have been for years, and rates are low. Slapstick construction has been largely eliminated. The door of opportunity to home ownership is wide open. Many good substantial homes of the older vintage are on the market at low prices and on easy terms. These easy and favorable conditions will not prevail indefinitely.

The Hilltop has reason to be proud of the record and number of its citizens who have assumed a commanding interest in public affairs, and the manner in which these hold to a proud tradition of a young and vigorous community, and the mutual respect of the city at large, of which we are of course an integral part.

The mercantile interests of the community are showing evidence of keeping pace with all of these forward looking demands.

The educational facilities of the community are good, and none anywhere should make a better showing.

The community is well churched, and the opportunity for spiritual development is limitless.

Looking ahead 25 years, what will the Hilltop be like? Much depends on you, me and us. Fifty thousand people? Not impossible, not improbable. What will conditions be like when the population will have been doubled? Imagination and industry will do even greater things, if we have an ideal and a goal, and are willing to have a definite part in bringing them about.

Your Guide To Quality Lumber

For 30 Years

We look with pride to the part we have played in building the Hilltop during all these 30 years. On every hand we see houses that have been built with West Side materials. Houses that are standing the test of time by offering their owners economy, beauty and durability.

Traffic Regulations

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traf-

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been employed in the auditor's office for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

F.O.E. Lodge Extends Hand Of Fellowship

The hand of good fellowship and greater acquaintances are major points in the program of the Fraternal Order of Eagles but outstanding in the accomplishments of the organization have been their fight for the establishment of Mother's Day, mothers' pension laws, workmen's compensation laws, old age pensions, unemployment insurance, etc.

But in addition to this the organization offers its members substantial weekly benefits for sick members, funeral benefits for dependents and various forms of relief.

Aguila Aerie of the Eagles has its home at Chase-av and Broad-st, which is open to members at all times.

The local lodge was organized Jan. 12, 1936, and moved to their new headquarters Oct. 4, 1936.

Rivoli Theatre

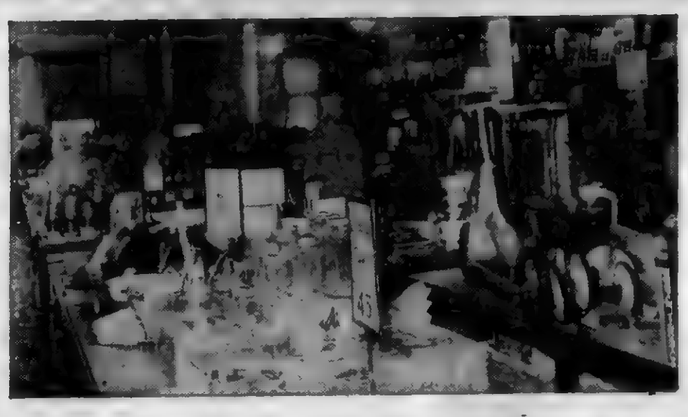
Howard Miller Has Two Daughters But Is Active In Boy Scouts

Howard G. Miller is another Hilltop man who works untiringly and without compensation for the future Hilltop, through his activities with the Boy Scouts. He is district commissioner of the southwest district and lives at 229 Binns-blvd. He is an employee of the Seagrave Co. and has no sons, but is the father of two daughters.

He has been active in scouting for nine years and has charge of the troops in the southwest district with several neighborhood commissioners working under him. Mr. Miller and the other men in charge of scouting on the Hilltop are very anxious that the public, and especially the parents of Boy Scouts, attend the Court of Honor to be held Sept. 28, either at the state office building or West high school.

Some of the statistics which Mr. Miller gave concerning scouting are that there are 13 scout troops, one sea scout troop and four packs in this area; that annual round table meetings are held at Pomerene hall, Ohio State university; that meetings are held once each month at Camp Chase post or Camp Lazarus to discuss scout welfare, prepare reports to be sent to headquarters, and to investigate any difficulties which may have arisen among the troops; that this district has been considered one of the leading districts in this area of five or seven counties; that scouting needs cooperation from the layman and more men interested in scouting and in the youth of today, and in their mental and physical development.

"Pop" Waymer Is "Head Man"



Words such as "genuinely homey, plain, honest and sincere" are used to describe A. L. "Pop" Waymer, one of the Hilltop's most popular men. Waymer was born in Athens county. He has been in business in his present location, 2365 W. Broad-st, for nearly seven years.

He and his wife reside at 264 S. Warren-av.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the Rev.

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Getting Along With People Is Simple For Herb Deems

People like him make a community substantial. He works hard and seriously; his smile's the broadest, his "good morning" is the cheeriest; his laugh the heartiest; his temper the evenest; in this community. And he's "nuts," simply "nuts," about trains.

He'll stop at the depots in every city he visits, and stand and gawk at the big locomotives, gape with boyish wonder as the caller twangs out the destinations of departing trains, rub his hands and grin in anticipation as the Twentieth Century Limited thunders into the shed. He's watched it roll into Cleveland several times

He's H. G. (Herb) Deems, genial, and we mean genial, secretary of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association for the past 10 years.

He's a Hilltopper from birth, and followed the scholastic trail of many another localite from Avondale to Highland to West High to Ohio State. At West he was vice-president of the senior class, enjoyed the mathematics classes of W. W. Wager more than any other, but has a warm place in his heart for C. Lee Leahy's dramatic classes.

Herb Deems

He earned his first dollar peddling papers on the Hilltop and recalls the time when he had but one customer west of Wayne-av. Since that initial buck, he's met the demands of wife and son, Ralph, for bread and butter through association with the Scioto Valley Traction Co., Ohio Bell Telephone Co., and the West Side Lumber Co. He was assistant manager at the latter establishment for 12 years.

Ask him how to get along with people—he does it so well one has a right to ask the question, and he'll tell you there are lots of answers to that question. That, by the way, is the correct answer and you suspect that Herb knows most of them in that particular field.

Herb Deems: has been barbered at Budd's Barber Shop since he was 12 years old . . . shoots golf in the low 120's . . . is a rabid Ohio State and West High grid fan . . . once drove to Michigan for an Ohio State football game via West Jefferson . . . was superintendent of the Hoge Memorial Sunday School for 15 years . . . reads the Reader's Digest and Saturday Evening Post regularly . . . announces the radio programs of the First Federal . . . participates regularly in the Hilltop Business Men's Minstrel . . . is a past patron of the Order of Eastern Star and a past president of the HBMA . . . belongs also to the Lions Club, Hoge Memorial Church and Westgate Lodge.

Charles Riggs Devotes Much Time To Scouts

Charles M. Riggs is another Hilltop man who is planning for the future Hilltop welfare by working hard for the Boy Scouts. His home is at 152 Guernsey-av. and he has lived on the Hilltop for the past six years. He is merchandising manager at the Creasy Co.

Mr. Riggs has been active in behalf of the Boy Scouts for the past five years and is vice-president and chairman of the southwest district of Boy Scouts of America, central Ohio area, and is also chairman of the camping committee.

Labor Head

George Strain, 140 S. Roys-av, was appointed head of the Industrial Relations department of Ohio in July of this year. He was born in Adrian, Mo., and came to Columbus in 1920. Since that time he has been a soldier, sheet metal worker and labor leader.

Hilltop Scouts Most Active In Columbus

Some of the most active scout troops in the city are to be found on the Hilltop. An increase of 60 members since the first of the year indicates that the movement is growing.

Hilltop troops boast of 33 Star scouts, 20 Life, and one Eagle.

Following is a list of the various scout troops of the community, their sponsoring institutions, and scoutmasters.

Joe Palumbo, who operates the Radio Cabs Co., has been a resident of the Hilltop for the past 10 years. He resides with his family at 3015 Crescent-dr. Mr. and Mrs. Palumbo have one child, a daughter, Josephine, 15, who will enter her first year in senior West high the coming school term.

Mr Palumbo, who was born and raised in Columbus, directs a large fleet of taxis, the Radio company being one of the major transportation systems of the motor car field in this city. Mr Palumbo's hobby is ocean cruising off the Florida coast, where he spends his winter vacations with his family.

Our Appreciation

Mr. Mechem

From our many years experience in the shoe business in other parts of the city and other localities out of the city in a great many respects we have found the Hilltop community the most agreeable and appreciative of any with which we have been connected. We spent more than 12 years in one location and have endeavored to show our appreciation of the fine support the community has given us by handling only quality merchandise that brings customers back to buy more shoes. It has been our policy to handle only quality merchandise at reasonable prices. We have purposely kept away from inferior grades which we realize will not give satisfaction.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administra-

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 488 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken. "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 38 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Making Other People Happy Is Pleasant Hobby Of Jane Jones

Jane Jones

An interview with Jane Jones, 60 Powhatan-av, proves that we have a woman of limitless accomplishments among our friends. Mrs. Jones, the wife of Henry Jones, pressman at the Record, has been secretary of Hoge Memorial church for 13 years under Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Hutchinson, which work she thoroughly enjoyed, she states. She is intensely interested in her work, which occupies some of her time every day in the week.

She looks forward to working with Rev. and Mrs. Wold in the same capacity as church secretary. Mrs. Jones has been junior superintendent in the Sunday school for 10 years. She is a member of the Ladies Aid, the Eureka Missionary guild and the choir of Hoge Memorial.

She sings in some quartets, plays the piano a little; can do most any job around the church.

Her biggest hobby is making friends and she is happiest when she can do the least little thing to make someone happy. She likes to entertain and intends to do much of it in her new home, a home, by the way, which she designed and planned herself. She had "lots of fun" in planning her new colonial residence on Powhatan-av and those who have seen it accept Jane Jones as somewhat of an interior decorator.

She thinks the Hilltop is the finest place in the world to live, though she does give some credit to her home in Venedocia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jenkins of that city. Mrs. Jones attended Wooster college and Miami university, taught 15 years in Van Wert county.

She belongs to a bridge club made up of Hilltop women, preferring auction to contract herself. She belongs to a women's Welsh club and to the Tuxtalia Story league.

Having no children of her own she has her nieces and nephews as guests each summer. She and Mr. Jones celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary Aug. 28

Rev. Wendell At Westgate

The church began with the merger of the Evangelical Association and the United Evangelical churches into the Evangelical churches in Detroit, Mich., in 1922. Factions of the St. Paul church on S. Warren-av disagreed with the merger to such an extent that the church group split in half.

The second group left the church and met for an entire summer in a building at Eldon and Broad-st, formerly occupied by the Hillcrest Baptist church. Later in 1924 the group disbanded, but in 1926 the merger group was united with the Franklin Heights congregation, forming the present church body.

Four Mile House

A spacious country tavern, known as the Four Mile House, because of the distance it was located from High-st, was long a landmark in the community. It was razed in 1913.

Originally constructed and operated by Timothy Biglow, it was located on what is now W. Broad-st near the present Chase-av.

Concordia

The church was established in June, 1837, as a vacation Bible school.

Birth Rate Down

Downward trend of the birth rate in Columbus during depression years is indicated in the school attendance figures. Enrollment in the first six grades in 1939 was eight per cent less than it was in 1927 while enrollment of the junior and senior high schools was increased 27 and 73 per cent respectively over 1927

Camp Chase Post No. 96, American Legion was officially presented with colors by Theodore J. Arnold, GAR veteran, on Memorial Day, May 26, 1929, Commander Claude V. Hasson receiving them.

Young People Active At Hillcrest

Prominent in young people's activities on the Hilltop is the Hillcrest Baptist church, 2480 W. Broad-st, of which Rev. G. J. MacDonald is the pastor. The organization sponsors a Boy Scout group, Troop 181, and a Cub pack, junior order of the Boy Scouts.

In addition to these two worthy groups the church has several other social organizations for the younger people.

The church now stands on the site planned for a theatre project. The Hillcrest congregation moved into its new home on the first of March, 1924.

Claggett Store Here 14 Years

One of the pioneer business houses in the Sullivant-av section is the Claggett confectionery, 2432 Sullivant-av, opened for business more than 14 years ago. The confectionery, owned by Ira Claggett, has specialized in quality luncheon meats, cheese, soft drinks, legal beverages, magazines, cigars, cigarettes and staple food stuffs.

The business is modernly equipped and renders a high class of delicatessen service.

11th Ward Club To Meet

The Eleventh Ward Women's Democratic club will resume its regular schedule of monthly meetings at the home of Mrs. Pauline Brokaw, 189 Bidon-av, Thursday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 o'clock.

Dailey-For-Mayor Clubs To Meet

The tenth and eleventh ward Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

All candidates for municipal court, council, auditor and the general public are invited.

W. Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, will be the principal speaker. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for those in attendance.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

The Ritz Theatre is located at Sullivant and S. Richardson Aves.

1913 FLOOD PLAYED PART IN DEVELOPMENT

The famous 1913 flood played an important part in the development of the Hilltop. Just after the high water had subsided there was a great rush for lots in this section and homes were placed under construction immediately.

Large numbers of the Hilltop's present residents formerly lived on the lowest West Side.

CAMP CHASE HAD APPEARANCE OF TOWN

Camp Chase had not been opened long before it assumed the appearance of a large town.

Within a few months after its establishment there were, within its boundaries, about 160 buildings. These included officers' quarters, private quarters, men's halls, stables, hospitals, cooking and baking houses and the prison. There was also a large parade ground.

A Good Place To Live

An Editorial

THE HILLTOP of today . . . pictured as it is in this Progress edition of The Hilltop Record, is a modern community, the finest example in Columbus . . . yes, anywhere in Ohio . . . of a neighborhood most suited for "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

The Hilltop is a good place to live!

This statement implies that the people here are friendlier, they get along well together and are progressive. They are cooperative and have worked toward a common goal —a better community.

This is a community of fine schools . . . an abundance of churches . . . the best of merchandising facilities and services of all kinds . . . everything that goes to make a complete community.

Most proud are Hilltoppers of the fact that "once a Hilltopper, always a Hilltopper" . . . Most proud are they of the fact that this section of the fine city of Columbus boasts of a greater percentage of home owners than any other section.

Yes, "Out Where the Hilltop Begins" . . . out where pure air, sunshine and the spirit of neighborliness prevails . . . is a good place to live.

Dick Weber

Dick Weber, 13-year-old 9B honor student at West Junior high school, has spent most of his summer vacation working and preparing his dancing and singing, of which he has been promised a professional engagement at the close of the next school semester.

He has been declared one of the youngest professional tap dancers in the country, having entertained for some of the largest theatres, hotels and clubs in the state, and has often been mentioned in Ohio's leading newspapers as being the second Fred Astaire and Al Jolson.

One of his first theatre engagements was at the Ritz theatre on the Hilltop. Dick is not only a tap dancer and singer but is exceptional at the piano, after studying three years under the direction of one of Columbus' leading musicians. He resides with his parents at 376 S. Burgess-av.

BAND GIVES CONCERTS

The West High school band presented its first concert in February of this year for the purpose of securing new uniforms for the group. H. E. Hutchinson, music instructor at the school, was in charge.

Dr. L. O. Linville

For 33 years Dr. L. O. Linville has been a Hilltop optometrist. In 1902 he started in the wholesale optical business and installed the shop of the Columbus Pharmical Co. and worked there for three years. He was then in charge of the shop of the White Haines Optical Co. for 16 years.

October, 1918, he opened the first retail optical office on the Hilltop. Then three years later he opened a downtown office and 13 years ago came back to the Hilltop.

At his present office at 2434 W. Broad St., corner of Eureka, he operates one of the most up-to-date optical businesses in the city. He is assisted in his business by his wife.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administra-

MILLIKIN ANSWERS NEWSPAPER STORY

L. Millikin president of council, has chosen this channel ing the editorial attacks of the Columbus Dispatch. The has accused council of misfeasance and negligence of o public in agreeing to a $300,000 light rate reduction ompany could easily have afforded a $700,000 reduction s of its own published financial reports.

000,000, an amount which makes the much hooted $300,000 seem insignificant by comparison.

"As a representative of the people I do not intend to let the case of electric rates ride with this last reduction. The $650,000 rate reduction of five years ago and the $300,000 reduction of this year have set precedents for other reductions in the future.

"Ever aware of my duty to the public, I will never pass up the opportunity of securing lower and lower rates for the consumer.

"I have it from reliable sources that the gas company has vowed to defeat present council members because of their failure to arrive at a rate favorable to that company. The front page editorial method is being used to that end."

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hillton-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 19 due to election day, Sept. 18.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Neshoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3048 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Chunk

Has Fine Record For 11 Years In Columbus Police Work

This is "bashful" Leo Phillips, "Chunk" to his wife, and "copper" to many Hilltoppers. He was born in 1903 in Pomeroy, spent two years at Ohio university where he was a three letter man and has been on the police force in Columbus for 11 years. Four years of that time were spent on a Hilltop cruiser, two years on foot. He has been a member of the robbery squad.

According to his records there have been but two major hold ups on the Hilltop since he's been on the force, that of the First Federal and the Hilltop branch of the Ohio National Bank. He's been in practically everybody's home on the Hilltop but has never been called into the inspector's office at headquarters during his 11 year record.

He doesn't particularly aspire to becoming chief of police but would like to be "head of something," for in his 11 years he's seen service in nearly every phase of police work and hasn't given orders at any time.

Leo Phillips is the youngest of three brothers, all policemen, John, the oldest, being a detective on the pawn shop assignments, and O. W. a detective on the accident prevention squad. All are Hilltoppers.

Phillips is a member of Glenwood M. E. church, and resides with his wife, son Leo jr. and dog—at 617 S. Ogden-av.

He is probably noted more for his singing than any one man on the Hilltop and his popularity revolves around one song, "Dinah." Since his first rendition of "Dinah" as a solo number in the Hilltop minstrel he has sung it as an encore in every performance since then.

Asked for his opinion of crime today, he states that in the past crimes have been committed by older men. "Eighty per cent of the crimes today are committed by youths 21 years or under."

Parental guidance, church and school influences are the most important factors in the prevention of crime in his opinion. In regard to the Hilltop Phillips feels that there is less crime here than any other part of Columbus.

Good judgment, he feels, is the best qualification for a good policeman and he feels there will be a time when all policemen will be college graduates.

Leo Phillips

Greetings

May I herewith extend the congratulations of the Hilltop Business Men's Association to a most progressive Hilltop institution in the publishing of its Progress Edition.

The Record, through 23 years of cooperation with Hilltop organizations and Hilltop people, has aided in securing many needed improvements and in making the Hilltop a finer place in which to live.

Dr. R. J. Miller Here Eight Years

Dr. Raymond Miller

Dr. Raymond James Miller, 2493 W. Broad-st, has been practising chiropractic on the Hilltop for the past eight years. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Ohio State and D. C. and Electro-Therapy degrees from the Palmer School of Chiropractic. Prior to beginning his practice in the Hilltop, Dr. Miller's office was in downtown Columbus for eight years.

He is a member of the Hilltop Business Men's association, Westgate Lodge of Masons, Mt. Vernon Commandery Knights Templar and of the board of directors of the International Society of Radionics.

Dr. Miller is married and has two sons in college. Thomas, the elder son, is a senior in the Kirksville (Mo.) College of Osteopathy and Surgery. Robert, the younger son, is in his first year of medicine at Ohio State. Dr. Miller also has a daughter, Martha Jane, 16, a senior in West high.

His chief hobbies are hunting and fishing. While a student at Ohio State he was catcher on the baseball team. He maintains his interest in baseball by attending the Red Bird and Cincinnati Reds

Minstrel

Is Annual High Spot In Amateur Performances In Community

Ten years of minstrelsy presented by the Hilltop's funniest funny men passed in review in March of this year, with H. G. Deems and C. Carlton Hartley directing. Since the winter of 1930 the Hilltop business men have performed at West high school once a year, offering outstanding musical, olio and minstrel numbers.

Hilltop minstrels are popular throughout the city.

In 1938 the minstrel was given for a third straight night and this year that same plan was continued. It has been estimated that nearly 4,400 persons attended the production this year.

The first minstrel presented was under the direction of Harry Freeman with L. E. Saunders as chairman of the affair. End men for the first show were George Painter, Dick Becker, Paul Hubbard and C. C. Hartley.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

"I'm Going to the Economy Variety"

This has been a common expression on the Hilltop for 21 years and it still holds good. If it is a spool of thread, a package of gum, a can of paint, a gift for the kiddies, a piece of household hardware, a package of garden seed, a birthday card . . . or one of a thousand things to be found in a variety store, you will find it at Fred Raether's Economy Variety Store.
We are proud of the fact that we have served the progressive Hilltop so long. We hope to be able to continue for many years.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

Millikin Has Served City For 12 Years

W. L. Millikin, 38 S. Warren-av, for 12 years a member of council, will seek re-election on the basis of his record in that office.

By way of illustration, he listed the following achievements. He introduced legislation which led to the establishment of branch libraries in the city. He introduced legislation, which brought the Hilltop territory, north of Steele-av, west of Hague, and south of Sullivant into the corporation. He introduced resolutions, which resulted in the elimination of the grade crossings of the Big Four R. R. at W. Broad-st, and the Pennsylvania R. R. at Cleveland-av. He was instrumental in getting the present sewer system for the Hilltop.

Millikin was born Sept. 28, 1875 in Madison county. He attended the county school and later the Marysville school. For the past 44 years he has been a resident of Columbus. In 1904 he opened a hardware store and has been in the business ever since.

At one time or another affiliated with every organization on the Hilltop, Millikin is also a member of the Masons and the K. of P. He has been a director of the First Federal Savings and Loan association since the time of its organization. For the past two years he has been president of council.

Millikin likes golf, horse racing, baseball, fishing and hunting, but says that he hasn't had much time for any of these since he has been in council.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administration.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3048 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

11th Ward Club To Meet

The Eleventh Ward Women's Democratic club will resume its regular schedule of monthly meetings at the home of Mrs. Pauline Brokaw, 189 Eldon-av, Thursday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 o'clock.

Dailey-For-Mayor Clubs To Meet

The tenth and eleventh ward Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

All candidates for municipal court, council, auditor and the general public are invited.

W. Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, will be the principal speaker. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for those in attendance.

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Carthage fairgrounds near Cincinnati this week was Eugene Constance, 19, of 416 S. Hague-av.

"As a representative of the people I do not intend to let the case of electric rates rise with this last reduction. The $650,000 rate reduction of five years ago and the $300,000 reduction of this year have set precedents for other reductions in the future.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken. "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was, that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 160 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she said.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

Holloway Stresses Experience

"It's been my policy to render efficient service impartially, honestly, and to eliminate duplication of effort." This was the statement made by Blaine T. Holloway, present city auditor, when he was interviewed in regard to his candidacy for re-election. By way of emphasizing the importance of the auditor's position, he said: "All of the several millions of dollars which are spent annually by the city must pass through the auditor's department, and the job requires a man of practical accounting experience and executive ability to successfully perform the duties."

Holloway came to Columbus in September, 1914, studied bookkeeping for one year at Bliss Business college, and then entered the employment of the Gwinn Milling Co. He remained with this firm until February of this year, when he resigned to become city auditor on appointment by council. In 1928 he took his B. S. degree from Franklin university.

Not at all inactive in the discharge of the duties of his office, Holloway has brought to light several financial inconsistencies.

He branded the practice employed by the county budget commissioners of deducting the amounts needed to meet industrial compensation premium payments before budgetary distribution as an illegal deprivation of money due the city sinking fund.

He discovered that $10,000 loaned to the city Metropolitan Housing Authority and to be repaid when funds were available had been "negligently" written off as an expense from revenue.

Referring to another instance of financial mismanagement, Holloway said "When I came here there was a deficit of $375,000. It was necessary to issue delinquency tax bonds to meet that amount. The law stated that all delinquent tax collections must go to the sinking fund. The first $80,000 collected from delinquent taxes, however, was used for general operation, so I increased the general fund deficit by that amount. My action worked to the detriment of the general fund," he concluded, "but any other procedure would have been illegal."

Holloway is an active member of several civic and fraternal associations. He is a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of the Shrine, the Columbus Lodge of Elks, the Loyal Order of Moose, the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the Columbus Athletic club, the American Legion, the Democratic Ex-servicemen's club and the "40&8".

Holloway says he is a lover of all sports. He likes baseball, football and basketball, plays a mean game of left handed golf, bowls at 186, attends all ABC national tournaments, and is an active member of the Old Timers' Baseball association.

Holloway is married and lives at 834 Berkley-rd.

Lewis Seeks Mayor Job

John M. Lewis, scholar, lawyer, and for the second time in eight years a candidate for mayor of Columbus on an anti-utility platform, was born in Granville, Nov. 13, 1875. Here he attended the public schools and later Denison university. He was awarded the Phi Beta Kappa key for excellency of scholarship.

While teaching Greek at Central university, Iowa, Lewis studied law "on the side." He was admitted to the Ohio bar in 1899. This marked the beginning of 40 years' active service as a practicing lawyer in Columbus and as a member of the Franklin County Bar association.

Lewis was a member of council from 1924 to 1936. Here he began his much discussed utility fight. He repudiated the oft repeated claim, that he is a "utility baiter." "This is not the case at all," he said. "All I ask is a fair rate for the consumers of Columbus."

Defending the city's past action in "carrying the fight to the gas company," Lewis emphasizes the fact that a total of $12-15,000,000 has been saved the gas consumer over a 15 year period as a result of the prolonged litigation. In his opinion the $500,000 spent by the city in maintaining its stand adds up to a "good investment."

Asked for an opinion on the recent 2-1 decision of the state utility commission approving a 56¾ cent rate for Columbus gas consumers, Lewis made the following comments. Characterizing the state utility laws as a "hodgepodge of inconsistencies," he pointed out the need for a drastic overhauling. "The present appointive commission," he said, "should be replaced by an elective commission. The present set up makes it possible to fill up the commission with politicians generally favorable to the utilities. The public should have more adequate representation," he added. "By all means," he concluded, "the city should appeal the case to the supreme court of Ohio."

Lewis favors the extension of the municipal light plant, which is now in litigation. He characterizes the electric power business as "exceedingly profitable" as evidenced by a 20 to 1 spread between cost of production and selling price.

At recent political gatherings, Lewis has branded the sewer tax (he calls it a nuisance tax) as "unpopular, unjust, obnoxious, and possibly illegal." The revenue for the operation of the sewage disposal plant, he feels, should come out of the general fund instead of being assessed separately.

Lewis maintains that the present administration has been using traffic arrests to produce revenue. "This is a repulsive thing," he said. "Such arrests should be made solely with an eye to safety."

In regard to the city's financial dilemma Lewis made these comments. "If I am elected, my first job would be to see what it actually costs to run the city government. In view of the fact that the city is receiving considerably more money in taxes than it did, when I was in council, it should be able to take care of the relief burden without additional taxes."

Welch In Council Race

Several weeks ago Russel S. Welch, candidate for council, was interviewed for this story. Feeling it was yet too early to announce a platform, he was, however, sure of one thing. "If I am elected," he said, "I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." He said that the Hilltop has all but been ignored in the matter of distribution of improvements.

Welch, who is 29 years old, was born in Plain City. In Columbus, he attended the Dana Avenue elementary school and graduated from Central high school in 1928. He attended Ohio State and Franklin universities, receiving his A. B. degree from the latter. He graduated from Franklin university law school this last June. At present he is in the realty business with offices at 749 E. Broad-st.

Welch is a member of the Columbus Athletic club, the IOOF, the Columbus Real Estate board, and the Order of Curia (honorary law fraternity).

This campaign is his first experience in city politics. Last year he ran unsuccessfully for state representative.

Welch hit what he termed the "financial jugglery" of the city administration. "A city should be operated like a business," he said. Although he is affiliated with the Republican party, Welch refuses to become involved in the political machinations of any local party organization. "I'm keeping my hands off politics," he said.

WEST HIGH OCCIDENT PUBLISHED SINCE 1910

The first publication of any kind at West High school was published in the Christmas season of 1910. There was no journalism class at the time and contributions were voluntary. Frank Randall served as editor and Miss Wirth as adviser while Mr. Otto Magly selected the name Occident (setting sun) and designed the cover for the issue.

The magazine continued at irregular intervals for 10 years. The first annual was published at commencement time in 1919 as a memorial to West high boys who served in the World war. It was dedicated to Bruck Fleming, the only graduate who failed to return.

In the fall of that year was begun the publication of a school paper by a regularly organized class in journalism. Both of these forms of publication have continued to the present.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

BUILDING the HILLTOP

BETTER living comes through home ownership. This is our contribution to the growth of the Hilltop.

Downtown skylines reflect the city's growth . . . but out where there's grass and flowers, and children playing . . . out where the air is finer, out where the homes are . . . that is where the real growth of the city has been. And the Hilltop has been a leader in this city growth.

No "audit" of the years past could begin to appraise the record of this institution since it was founded as the Hilltop Building & Loan Assn. But those hundreds of men and women whose homes have been made possible through our financing, know how well we have served.

Scarcely less constructive have been the investment facilities afforded the people of this community. Through savings accumulated here and good dividends regularly received, investors in all walks of life have been aided in achieving financial independence, and investment accounts with us have facilitated business progress in the community.

We look with confidence upon the future growth of the Hilltop and embrace the opportunities for still greater service.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administration.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 3539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 495 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gumbiers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3040 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray C. Haunts, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years in business experience, Haunts has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Hoys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

MILLIKIN ANSWERS NEWSPAPER STORY

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Secured At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

11th Ward Club To Meet

The Eleventh Ward Women's Democratic club will resume its regular schedule of monthly meetings at the home of Mrs. Pauline Brokaw, 169 Eldon-av, Thursday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 o'clock.

West High Lauded For Advances

West high school is taking rapid strides forward toward becoming one of the outstanding high schools in the state. Not long ago an unaccredited institution, exceptional advances have been made in the past two years, as is indicated in a report to Supt. George E. Roudebush from the state department of education.

The letter from L. L. Louthian, high school supervisor, and approved by E. N. Dietrick, director of education; and Franklin H. McNutt, division of instruction, follows:

"I was glad to find that the school enjoys unusually desirable leadership. It is making much progress in the long journey from the traditional. The tone and spirit, fine and growing capabilities of the staff, the unique program in guidance, the broader and richer program of studies, the increasing pride in democratic administration, and the sound system of encouraging children to remain in school through the senior high school years are a few of the desirable points.

"The building and to a large extent the equipment, and certainly the library, deserve a word of appreciation. Although this school is not crowded, it should be noted that it has no room to spare.

"A special need in this school is a trained assistant in the library. It would be helpful also if there were more reading room. The present one is well appointed but it is inadequate for the needs of such a large number of children.

"The West Senior high school is continued on the list of schools approved by this department."

High School Supervisor

Improvements In Local Schools Suggested

Receiving a rating far above the schools of any other section of Columbus, few recommendations for physical improvements were made in the recent report of the Ohio State university committee.

The suggestions that were made concerned the older buildings, Starling Junior high and Highland elementary. They follow:

Starling: New heating plant, toilet fixtures, site addition, fireproofing, new floors and miscellaneous items.

Burroughs: Miscellaneous items.

Highland: New heating plant, site addition, assembly room, cleaning systems, new floors. Highland has more non fireproof corridors than any of the city's elementary schools.

West Broad: Artificial lighting in the old part of the building. No recommendations were made for West Junior-Senior High school.

STARLING JR. HIGH HAS LARGE ENROLLMENT

Starling junior high school, formerly West high school, is located between State and Town-sts, on S. Central-av. The school accommodates the larger per cent of west side junior high students. At the end of the school year an enrollment of 1,189 students was recorded. The building was opened as a junior high school in 1929.

Education Is Hilltop's Big Business

Education, a hundred times over, is the BIGGEST business on the Hilltop.

Without mentioning the profits derived from a business that is enriching the lives of 8,000 Hilltop children year after year in terms of learning, increased abilities, moulded personalities and the like, the cold dollars and cents figures involved are enormous.

Within the Hilltop area, according to figures of the Columbus board of education, is more than a million and a half dollars worth of physical equipment in the form of school buildings and furnishings, playgrounds and athletic fields. All this exclusive of the two parochial schools, St. Mary Magdalene and St. Aloysius, where additional thousands have been spent which would probably bring the total invested capital to approximately $2,000,000.

The public schools of the community, West Senior-Junior high schools, West Broad, Highland and John Burroughs elementaries and Starling Junior high, are located on sites which include more than 30 acres, sites which cost the board of education $119,341. Buildings on these sites, including the old and relatively inexpensive Starling and Highland structures, originally cost the board $1,451,814. Additions to the system since their original construction have added $283,892 to the total outlay for equipment alone.

In the utilization of this magnificent array of physical equipment, another half million dollars is needed annually to operate it. Official figures from the offices of the board show that the cost per pupil in the elementary grades per year is $73.98; of a junior high pupil, $105.92; and of a senior high student, $105.77. These figures were compiled for 1938.

It all adds up to a total of $170,000 for 2,299 elementary school pupils; $269,360 for 2,543 junior high students; and $13,250 for 1,205 senior high students.

For building sites	$ 119,341.00
For buildings	1,451,814.00
For additions to bldgs.	283,892.00
Total	$1,855,047.00

2,299 elementary students at $77.98 per yr.	$170,080.02
2543 junior high students at $105.92 per yr.	270,364.96
1205 senior high students at $105.77 per yr.	13,221.25
Total	$452,666.83

By far, education is the Hilltop's biggest business. The expense, however, is insignificant compared to the immeasurable returns.

Williams, Collins On Coaching Staff

Heading the West high school athletic fortunes at the lone local high school is George Williams, a graduate of Ohio university in 1929 and coach at West junior high school for five years prior to his appointment as head Cowboy mentor.

Assisting the popular Buck coach is George Collins, also an Ohio university grad, who began his service career at West under Harold E. Wise back in 1934, after a year at Rutland high school. Dale Rose, present West junior coach, is also assisting Williams with the Buck gridders, now working out at Magly Field.

West High Principal

Dr. H. H. Reighley

West High school has made rapid strides under the leadership of Dr. Reighley, who has been active in Columbus educational circles for many years.

At the end of the school year the total enrollment was 635 students. Miss Harriett Judd, principal of the school retired this summer after 28 years of service. West Broad was constructed in 1916 an addition being made in 1925. Miss Mathilda Stuart is the new principal.

John Burroughs school pictured below, housed 982 elementary students at the close of the recent school year. The school is located on Sullivant-av, at Richardson. John Burroughs was opened as an elementary school in 1921.

ST. MARY MAGDALENE BUILDING CONVENT

St. Mary Magdalene, Catholic school, located on S. Roys-av, is under the supervision of Father Raymond Bauschard and had at the end of the school term an enrollment of approximately 200. A new convent is under construction.

Jr. High Principal

Vance Smith

Mr. Smith is principal of West Junior High school. He succeeded Dr. Reighley when the latter was named to the senior high.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administration.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2630 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hiltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 83 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3048 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Sinns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she ...

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Hilltop residents by the score turned out at the Palace theatre to honor Gracebelle Day when she appeared there with Benny Goodman this spring.

Friday, May 19, was declared Hilltop night in her honor and flowers were presented her by the American Legion, Post 90, and the Hilltop Business Men's association.

A four year scholarship at St. Joseph Academy was won by Ruth Maria Kienle, a student at St. Aloysius school, this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kienle of 48 Clarendon-av.

Charles Kent

Charles Kent, 323 S. Terrace-st, has long been a prominent figure on the Hilltop. (His 210 pounds of bone and muscle lend to his prominence).

The proprietor of a thriving grocery business at 2756 Sullivant-av, "Charlie" always has time to devote to community organization activities. His special promotional abilities along entertainment lines have found their expression in numerous Hilltop minstrel shows of recent years.

He is president of Columbus council No. 1, Smaller Business Men of America and president of the Hilltop Business Men's association.

Kent has been in the grocery business for over 20 years. He began as a truck driver for the E. W. Distelhorst grocery at Mound-st and S. Harmon-av. He later graduated to clerk and four years ago opened his own food market on Sullivant-av.

Fond of hunting (he is a member of the Columbus Beagle club and owns two hounds) "Charlie" once almost got his everlasting as a result of a gun shot wound. He is still carrying around a piece of lead in his back.

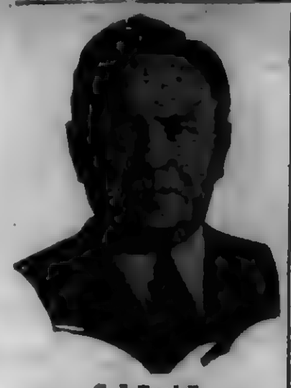
Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.



Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

The West High School Alumni Association

Dedicated to the perpetuity and improvement of the public school system in the belief that it is the true source of progress and the greatest moulder of the community's future.

West Alumni Assn. Active

To the alumni association of West high school goes the greater part of credit for the enthusiasm and loyal interest that is shown by Hilltoppers in support of their local institution.

The class of 1911 was the first to organize an alumni association at West high, keeping the class officers for the year as alumni officers. In November, 1912, Glen Durflinger was elected the new president of the association, at which time the constitution was adopted.

Since that time the association has been active in inumerable functions at West high and for West high, presenting the operetta "Professor Pepp" in 1917. Together with other civic organizations ,the help of Cecil J. Randall, then member of the board of education, the alumni was able to secure the new building on S. Powell-av, for west side and Hilltop students.

In January, 1928, a farewell party was given by the association in celebration of the departure from the old building and the first drive for members started.

Outstanding in service to West high was Miles C. Hoover, elected president of the alumni association in 1924.

In June, 1935, the West high silver jubilee was held and alumni reunion and recognition services were held. Since it's origin the association has presented many needed gifts to the school: included are a display case for the library, a movie machine, drop curtain, stage lights, drum and 25 year service scroll.

Present officers are Jack Sherlck, president; Ruth Lewis, vice-president; W. E. Ferguson, secretary, and Charles Link, treasurer.

IN CHARGE OF RITES

Annual memorial day rites are held for the southern Civil War dead each year at the Confederate cemetery on Sullivant-av. This year the Robert E. Lee chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, were in charge of the ceremonies.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest misstep is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administration.

"For more than 20 years I

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2638 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hiltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 52 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3048 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Steven At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

Hilltopper Burned At County Fair

Severely burned on the arms and hands when a gasoline stove exploded at the Carthage fairgrounds near Cincinnati one week was Eugene Cousins, 18, of 116 S. Ague-av.

Stevens Sells Real Estate

James M. Stevens and associates, licensed real estate brokers and salesmen, 1434 W. State-st, are one of the oldest West Side and Hilltop organizations in the business. Mr. Stevens has been a resident of the Hilltop and West Side for 40 years. He has followed in the footsteps of his father who was for many years a contractor, builder and real estate man.

In 1920, after the World war, Mr. Stevens entered the real estate business and has engaged in that field on the West Side since that time. He and his associates buy, build, sell, rent and exchange real estate in all parts of Ohio. Mr. Stevens is particularly known for his experience in valuation and his sales ability in connection with West Side and Hilltop properties.

The Stevens organization is the largest licensed real estate group west of the river. They are completing two new homes at the present time, both of which are open for inspection: a one floor stone and frame modernistic house with wood burning fireplace and recreation room in basement, located at 3165 Parkside-dr, and a bungalow at 270 S. Warren-av. The public is invited to call in for terms or trade.

Old Camp Building

The little frame building at 87 S. Hague-av is the only Camp Chase structure remaining on the old camp grounds. At the present time Mrs. Charles Pemberton, who will be 93 this month, is living there.

Jerry Spears Civic Worker

Jerry Spears, 255 S. Westmoor-av, has been on the Hilltop since 1923 and during that time he has been active in many organizations and civic improvement groups. He is the owner of the Spears funeral home at 2603 W. Broad-st.

In 1929-30 he was president of the West high PTA; he was patron of the Robert Morris chapter at Westgate temple in 1939; he holds membership in the West Gate Blue lodge, West Gate council, West Gate chapter, Columbus commandery, Knights Templar, Aladin temple, Shrine and Westwood K. of P.

Spears was active on the original committee for bringing a swimming pool to the Hilltop; addressed city council in behalf of securing a booster station for the community; active in bringing about the new stadium at high and presented the first field score board to the school. He sponsors teams in softball, hard ball and both men's and women's bowling teams.

He was educated at Otterbein college, Cleveland college of Embalming, Moody institute, Bonebrake seminary and did work at Ohio State university and Chicago university.

First School

First schoolhouse within the confines of the present Hilltop was located at Highland-av and W. Broad-st. Built in 1861 or shortly after, most of the students were children of the officers at Camp Chase.

State Hospital

Claim Most Floor Space Under One Roof In U. S.

"Our heart and hand were in the cause and with an humble reliance on the aid of Divine Providence we have ventured to throw open the doors of this noble state institution to the poor and needy, the unfortunate and afflicted and in some measure to begin the work as a great moral enterprise upon the principle of Christian charity and according to the active, liberal, and commendable spirit of the times in which we live." This statement was made by Dr. William M. Awl in his first annual report (1837) after his appointment as superintendent of the Coulmbus State Hospital for the Insane.

The first state hospital was located on a 65 acre tract on E. Broad-st about a mile from the state house. After a fire destroyed the original institution in November, 1868, plans were immediately drawn up for a new structure to be built in a new location. Thus on July 4, 1870, the cornerstone of the present hospital on W. Broad-st was laid.

The present 345 acre site was purchased at a cost of $100,000 from the old Sullivant estate. The main structure, which was erected at a cost of $1,521,000, was seven years in the building. It is said that it is still one of the largest buildings under one roof in existence. It is more than one mile around the base. In addition to the main building extra cottages were built from time to time as necessity demanded.

The patient population of the hospital has increased from 114 in 1838 to about 2,585 at the present time. Including nine physicians, three medical externes, one dentist and the superintendent, there are 330 employees.

Patients are admitted to the hospital by order of the probate court. Upon admission they are immediately placed under observation. They are given thorough mental and physical examinations, and an attempt is made to discover something of the nature of the mental disorder and, if possible, the cause. Appropriate remedies are then applied. If surgical procedure is deemed necessary, such surgery is done at the hospital. The hospital is fully equipped to treat patients according to the latest approved methods.

Individuals suffering from mental disorders must be distinguished from the feeble minded. The so-called insane, suffering as a result of organic or functional disorders, under proper treatment, often return to normal ways of thinking and acting from which they have temporarily departed. It is interesting to note that at least one-third of all patients admitted are later discharged as "recovered" or "improved." The feeble minded, on the other hand, never have had and never will have normal intelligence.

In 1887 the first training school for attendants was organized. The training methods employed were greatly improved by Supt. A. B. Richardson in 1893. Under his administration also attention was directed to scientific investigation and the study of pathology. Most important recent discoveries as a result of the scientific approach include the insulin and metrozol treatments for dementia praecox.

Recreational and occupational therapy enter into the treatment of the patients. All of them are encouraged to do some little task on the theory that they are better off occupied than idle. Entertainments of various types are provided for their enjoyment.

One of the first institutions of its kind west of the Alleghenies, the Columbus State Hospital has become a traditional landmark of the Hilltop. No one can doubt the utility of this institution in the performance of a necessary and valuable social function.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administration.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray C. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

MILLIKIN ANSWERS NEWSPAPER STORY

"As a representative of the people I do not intend to let the case of electric rates rest with this last reduction. The $300,000 rate reduction of five years ago and the $300,000 reduction of this year have set precedents for other reductions in the future.

"Ever aware of my duty to the public, I will never pass up the opportunity of securing lower and lower rates for the consumer.

"I have it from reliable sources that the gas company has vowed to defeat present council members because of their failure to arrive at a rate favorable to that company. The front page editorial method is being used to that end."

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken, "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was, that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in 'like sardines,'" she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George F. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Juvenile Research Bureau Seeks Delinquency Causes

"A delinquent child is almost always a neglected child." Thus Dr. C. H. Calhoon, superintendent of the State Bureau of Juvenile Research, indicated in a simple fashion the purpose of the institution which he supervises.

At the instigation of Dr. E. J. Emerick, the bureau was organized in 1914 as a part of the institute for feeble-minded. The present buildings at 2280 W. Broad-st were erected in 1919 and occupied in January, 1920.

At present there are 102 boys and 39 girls under observation. A staff of 42 employees attends. Admissions are made at the rate of about 50 a month. The children remain for about six or eight weeks on the average.

Besides the children living on the grounds, others are brought in from day to day for examination. These are called clinic cases and average about 350 a year. The institution is state subsidized and there is no charge for any service rendered.

A complete study is made of every child brought to the bureau. This is based on medical and physical examinations, a thorough going investigation of home life, personal and developmental history. All this is fitted into a picture and recommendations are made accordingly.

Each child at the institution has some sort of a job at which he works for an hour or so in the morning. Both supervised and unsupervised types of recreation are provided. There is a school, which has a twofold purpose: (1) to help the child keep up on his school work while at the bureau and (2) to locate the child's difficulty in his school work.

"A child with behavior difficulties," said Dr. Calhoon, "often has trouble doing satisfactory work in school. Indeed, this may be an important factor in explaining his delinquency." The teachers are especially trained to handle exceptional children.

Children are brought to the bureau on the recommendation of a juvenile court, a school, or another social agency. Said Dr. Calhoon: "Every child we get here is one with a behavior problem. Our function is to find out what ought to be done with him. We get the most baffling and difficult cases."

"Ours is not a correctional institution in the usual sense of the word," he continued. "Our prime purpose is to discover the cause of delinquency and to recommend

St. Paul's Is One Of Older Churches

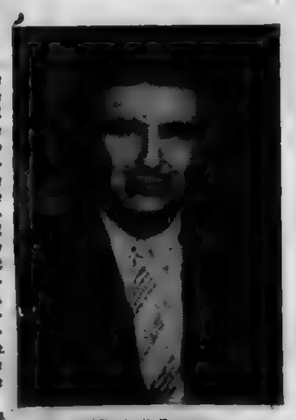
One of the oldest religious organizations on the Hilltop today is the St. Paul Evangelical church, 24 S. Warren-av, of which Rev. Frank Brandfellner is the pastor. The church was established in 1905 as a mission.

Several major improvements in the interior of the church auditorium were made this past summer. Formerly a United Evangelical church, the name was changed to Evangelical Congregational by the general conference in Allentown, Pa., in 1932.

The church now has a membership of nearly 200 and Harry Maupin is the Sunday school superintendent.

BUILT BY DICKERSON--

The two houses shown above at 581 and 585 Crescent Rd. were built by Kenneth Dickerson. Well located in one of the Hilltop's most desirable sections, the houses embody the most modern features of comfort, appearance and good construction.



Quality materials and the finest workmanship characterize every house built by this progressive organization.

"Duke Lauer"

Duke at the age of 11 years started in business with his father at 1345-47 W. Broad St., in selling tires. He worked here from 1921 to 1936, from here he sold insurance for a year to May in 1937. At this time he went to work for the Goodrich Co., he worked here till he opened his dry cleaning shop at Ogden and Sullivant where he has been established since May 1938. A person going down Sullivant Ave. cannot help seeing the shop because Duke has recently put up a large green neon sign which one cannot miss in passing. Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest misstep is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administration.

"For more than 20 years I

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2539 Ridge-pv, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has mirrored unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

MILLIKIN ANSWERS NEWSPAPER STORY

Wyatt L. Millikin, president of council, has chosen this channel answering the editorial attacks of the Columbus Dispatch. The atch has accused council of misfeasance and negligence of to the public in agreeing to a $300,000 light rate reduction the company could easily have afforded a $700,000 reduction he basis of its own published financial reports.

this adds up to over $2,- 000,000, an amount which makes the much booted $300,000 seem insignificant by comparison.

"As a representative of the people I do not intend to let the case of electric rates ride with this last reduction. The $650,000 rate reduction of five years ago and the $300,000 reduction of this year have set precedents for other reductions in the future.

"Ever aware of my duty to the public, I will never pass up the opportunity of securing lower and lower rates for the consumer.

"I have it from reliable sources that the gas company has vowed to defeat present council members because of their failure to arrive at a rate favorable to that company. The front page editorial method is being used to that end."

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 28 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Hilltop Has Library

Under the management of Mrs. H. S. Currier, 45 Eldon-av, the Hilltop branch of the public library has become one of the most popular recreation spots on the Hilltop for both young and old. Contests for children are sponsored every summer, reading classes with instructors are scheduled and new books are continuously being brought in.

The Hilltop branch, located at 21 N. Hague-av, was opened for Hilltop residents Oct. 4, 1928. It was a successor to the Holmes library located on the second floor of the building at Wayne and Broad-sts. Lack of funds caused the Holmes library, a privately managed institution, to close its doors several months before the Hilltop branch was opened.

The Hilltop branch opened with 6,800 volumes consisting of a representative collection of reference, adult and juvenile books and a number of current magazines. The library now subscribes to 30 magazines and has a total of 9,756 volumes.

Enrollment has increased from 871 members at the end of the first month of operation to 12,812 at the present time. Three full time and two part time girls are employed for the summer term.

The Hilltop branch has led all other four branches founded at the same time in total number of members and services.

For those who take to outdoor sports the Hilltop offers numerous athletic possibilities. Adjacent to the Hilltop in the Rome sector is the Beacon Light Golf course, one of the better golfing centers of the city.

The nine-hole course is now under the management of the Kidwell family, L. E. Kidwell, Mrs. Kidwell, Betty and Jack. Jack was the state high school golf champion in 1937 during his school days at Central high school.

West High Stadium

The 2,800 capacity concrete stadium at West High school's Magly Field is the finest athletic plant in the city. Completed in 1938, the structure houses training, equipment and dressing rooms for both senior and junior high athletes, as well as office space for the coaches.

Apr. 26, 1801, marked the settling of the first inhabitants of the Hilltop. Known then as

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the first

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

The Spectator
By C.C. Hartley

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administration.

"For more than 20 years I

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 3639 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hilltonia-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

Council President

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 18.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3048 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray C. Hauntz, 44 Binna-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 W. Roys-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

11th Ward Club To Meet

The Eleventh Ward Women's Democratic club will resume its regular schedule of monthly meetings at the home of Mrs. Pauline Brokaw, 189 Eldon-av, Thursday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 o'clock.

Dailey-For-Mayor Clubs To Meet

The tenth and eleventh ward Dailey-for-Mayor clubs will hold a combined meeting tomorrow night at VFW hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

All candidates for municipal court, council, auditor and the general public are invited.

W. Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, will be the principal speaker. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for those in attendance.

MILLIKIN ANSWERS NEWSPAPER STORY

Wyatt L. Millikin, president of council, has chosen this channel answering the editorial attacks of the Columbus Dispatch. The patch has accused council of misfeasance and negligence of ty in the public in agreeing to a $300,000 light rate reduction en the company could easily have afforded a $760,000 reduction the basis of its own published financial reports.

"With the interests of the citizenry in mind I can frankly say that well satisfied with the arrangement made by council with the company in agreeing to a $300,000 light rate reduction to pay-ers.

"Recent editorial blasts have it that the light company could ly have afforded a much greater reduction on the basis of its own cial statements.

his is ignoring the vital fact the same company which ishes light to the public also rates the city's transportation em. The $300,000 is not all the company is foregoing. In ition it is setting aside $716,- for improvements in equip- new coaches, new trolley and new poles.

ore than $900,000 of equip- on the W. Broad-Mt. Ver- line will have to be scrapped e result of substituting trol- coaches for street cars.

he company is paying two t of its gross receipts on coaches for the mainte- of the city streets. This is alf of one percent more than other city is getting to our dge.

l this adds up to over $2,- 000,000, an amount which makes the much hooted $300,000 seem insignificant by comparison.

"As a representative of the people I do not intend to let the case of electric rates ride with this last reduction. The $950,000 rate reduction of five years ago and the $300,000 reduction of this year have set precedents for other reductions in the future.

"Ever aware of my duty to the public, I will never pass up the opportunity of securing lower and lower rates for the consumer.

"I have it from reliable sources that the gas company has vowed to defeat present council members because of their failure to arrive at a rate favorable to that company. The front page editorial method is being used to that end."

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken. "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was, that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 15 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

West Gate Masonic Temple

First Masonic lodge in Columbus was organized June 11, 1815. It had as its place of meeting a structure on the corner of W. Broad and Green streets in the section which at the time was known as Franklintown.

In December, 1816, the lodge was moved across the river where it continued until December, 1834. At this time it was disbanded because of the country-wide anti-Masonic movement of the day. It was reorganized as the Columbus Lodge No. 30 F. & A. M. in the spring of 1841 and at present is one of the strongest lodges in the state.

Early in 1918 a few Masons met at Web Davis' grocery at the corner of W. Broad-st and Burgess-av. Out of the meeting West Gate Lodge No. 623 was born. It received its charter from the Grand Lodge of Ohio on Oct. 23, 1913.

A previous attempt to form a lodge on the West Side failed because no meeting place had been provided for the organization. This situation was now remedied by the erection of a building on the corner of W. Broad-st and S. Burgess-av. Web Davis must be given a large part of the credit for its construction. The building is at present occupied by Westwood Lodge of the Knights of Pythias.

Two other Masonic bodies were chartered in March, 1921, and December, 1922, respectively. These are West Gate chapter No. 216 and West Gate Council No. 129. All three bodies are housed in the temple at 2935 W. Broad-st, dedicated March 30, 1925.

The Robert Morris chapter of the Order of the Eastern Stars, an affiliated organization, was instituted in April, 1914. It also occupies rooms in the new building.

The present presiding officers and secretaries of the four Westgate organizations are as follows:

West Gate Lodge No. 623, Leo A. Peoples, master; Malcolm P. Grove, secretary.

West Gate chapter No. 216, Geo. Borror, high priest; Walter Elder, secretary.

West Gate Council No. 129, Kenneth Sharadan, master; Walter Elder, secretary.

O. E. S., Mrs. Katie Shroyer, worthy matron; Mrs. Ethel Cranford, secretary.

Male Chorus Is One Of Best In State

Men of every profession are represented in the Hilltop male chorus which is one of the outstanding organizations on the Hilltop. The chorus has been praised by music lovers throughout the state, having won numerous prizes in eisteddfods in Jackson, Marion and Ada.

W. Hayden Jones

The first public appearance of the chorus was made in the Little Theatre at the Columbus Art Gallery, Dec. 27, 1931. The majority of the members prefer Brahm's "Lullaby" and "Shortenin' Bread" to other numbers. W. Hayden Jones is the director of the chorus, which meets at the American Legion hall every Monday night.

Membership has reached a total of 60 with Elzie Radcliffe as president, John Ashton, vice-president, C. H. Campbell, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Zellers, librarian.

The chorus has been an important feature of the majority of Hilltop minstrels and has performed at numerous other functions.

Its most important accomplishment, however, has been the establishment of the eisteddfod on the Hilltop. Having taken place in so many events outside of Columbus the organization has brought to the Hilltop community an annual Welsh custom, by which the best in music is presented for those who enjoy it and the furtherance of fine music in the community is assured.

At the first presentation of the eisteddfod over 200 contestants took part and the interest of Hilltop residents was assured by the over capacity crowd attending at Hillcrest church.

Prizes amounting to $120 were given at the May 26 performance and contestants of every age were permitted to enter.

Adjudicators for the event were Prof. Joseph A. Leeder, Ohio State university, and John T. Davies, literary critic and writer. Active in the affair were W. H. Jones, E. H. Gildersleeve, Elzie Radcliffe, C. H. Campbell, Floyd Green was master of ceremonies.

The Valleybrook riding academy has built a dance pavilion in the hay loft of the horse barn where square and round dances are to be held.

Four Generations Are Neighbors

When George E. Wagner was eight years old he lived in Noble county. When his mother died he and his father moved into a house which had recently been vacated by a family named Reed. Mr. Reed was the father of Miss Mary Reed, well known missionary who died in India several years ago.

Two years later, when Mr. Wagner was 10 years old, his father moved to Morgan county and the same Reed family lived on the adjoining farm.

Recently, Mr. Wagner discovered that the family of Reeds with whom he had gossiped over the back fence and had done work for (Mr. Wagner is a tailor) was a grandson of the

MORE RESULTS VIA RECORD

Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, 640 S. Ogden-av, is another satisfied user of Hilltop Record want ads, she reports this week.

Last week she advertised a three piece living room suite for sale. She reports that the furniture was sold before 9 a. m. the morning the paper came out.

This is but a repetition of the many, many such reports received weekly at the Record office. Such results as those obtained by Mrs. Kuhn are within the reach of any Hilltopper by calling RA. 1125 and asking for a want ad taker.

Hilltoppers Seek Municipal Posts

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

Traffic Regulations

Traffic regulation is one thing. Unreasonable arrest for the slightest mismove is another. Enforcements of the traffic laws on the Hilltop in the past week have been made with what appears to be extreme bad judgment on the part of someone.

The following comments were made by a Hilltop business man of long standing in the community, who is obviously displeased with present traffic methods of the administration.

"For more than 30 years I have conducted a business in this community. Never before have I seen a situation where the police can abuse a business man's customer by grabbing him off for double parking for less than a minute.

"This is precisely what happened in front of my place of business this morning. It makes you sick to think that the victim was a tax payer who has to help pay the wages of the officer who arrested him—although it wasn't the officer's fault.

"It is high time for the voters to go to the polls and remove the regime responsible for such tactics from office.

"We have positive proof that the traffic laws are not enforced so rigidly in the downtown banking and department store districts.

"It is time that this situation is remedied by the voters at the polls."

"Name on request.

As Implements Of War Roll Through

On Tuesday I had a first hand glimpse of the implements of war that Uncle Sam might press into action should this country get into the conflict.

The completely motorized Seventh Cavalry Brigade passed through Washington C. H. enroute to Fort Knox, Ky.

In a procession between ten and twelve miles long and one that took an hour to pass through town there were 561 machines and 2200 men presenting a stirring picture.

And we dare say, had the procession slowed down, and a couple of pounding bands blasted forth their martial strains, and the invitation been extended to join up, many a young man on the sidelines would have been willing to do so. It is little wonder that the government is expecting no trouble at all in increasing the army to a much stronger peace time basis. But it does give ample time for us to do a little thinking about it all before we become too anxious to join in the conflict.

* * *

Do You Want More War?

A timely bit of information has come to our attention wherein the cost of the last war has been outlined as follows:

The war killed twelve million men and boys, many as young as 14, wounded twenty million more and cost ten million an hour.

It is estimated America's share in the total cost, four hundred billion dollars, would have provided every family in the United States a home worth $2500 on a $500 lot and $1000 worth of furnishings. In addition it would have given every town of 20,000 population a five million dollar library, a ten million dollar university with a permanent endowment for teachers' salary.

5,336,475 responded to their country's call.

2,058,000 Americans landed in Europe.

74,000,000 men of all nations were in the war.

6,400 were killed per day for 1558 days.

10,000,000 were driven from their homes, men, women and children.

7,000,000 were made prisoners.

3,000,000 missing.
10,000,000 disabled.
9,000,000 orphans.
5,000,000 widows.

These are figures worth pondering over at this time when neutrality measures are being discussed and the nation is making up its mind what to do about another war.

A CORRECTION

Last week's edition of the Record erred in the story relative to the Hilltop library. The staff of the library should have read: Mildred Phelps, librarian; Mrs. Nannie Currier, first assistant; Emogene Hastings, second assistant; part time employees, Dorothy Hauntz and Margaret Armour.

Glenwood Has New Pastor

At the recent session of the Ohio annual conference of the Methodist church, held at Delaware, Rev. J. B. Shellhaas was appointed to serve as pastor of Glenwood Methodist church, 74 Highland-av, succeeding Dr. O. L. Seward, who has been pastor at the local church for the past four years.

Rev. Shellhaas has been pastor of the Bellefontaine Methodist church for the past four years.

Dr. Seward has been assigned to the Oakley Methodist church in Cincinnati. A reception for Dr. and Mrs. Seward was held at the church Tuesday evening by the Epworth League group and another is being planned next Tuesday in the social rooms. All members and friends are cordially invited to this gathering.

The Sunday evening church services at Glenwood will be resumed Sunday after being closed for the summer vacation season. The new pastor, Rev. Shellhaas, will deliver the sermon both morning and evening.

Buckaroos, Newark Clash In Grid Opener Tonight

With preliminary practice sessions out of the way and a hard nine-game schedule straight ahead, West high's battling Buckaroos will take the field at Newark tonight under the lights to begin what faithful followers hope will be a successful grid campaign.

In preparation for the night fracas the coaching staff for the cowhands has given the boys two sessions under the lights at Mifflin. The first session was held Tuesday evening and the second, a light workout, Thursday. Tuesday the squad looked fine in bottling up the offensive maneuvers of their opponents in the scrimmage, while the West backs broke through, behind an aggressive line, for several long gains.

Hart Injured

A second casualty, but one less serious than that which took Paul Rogers from the squad, put Bill Hart, fine end prospect, on the bench for the evening's play shortly after the session had started. Hart suffered a broken nose, but this will not keep him from taking part in the Newark contest tonight. He will wear a nose guard to protect the broken part.

Another game involving West gridmen is planned for this afternoon. The second squad will tangle with West Jefferson on the Jefferson gridiron. The game will start at 3:30 p. m.

Although a definite line-up has not been announced as yet for the locals, it is likely that the initial eleven for the fray will include those lads who have been performing on the varsity during the past week. Included in the Buck line-up when the whistle blows opening the game and the season will probably be Hart and Jack Carpenter at the flanks, Bill Garnes and Jack Frederick at the veteran McConnell at the tackles, Brandenburger and Westerman at the guards, and Russ Alban at the pivot.

Carter, Williams Threats

In the backfield the quartet will be Bill Mack at the blocking post, Al Williams and Warren Carter at the halves, and the ever-steady Ned Bell at the fullback post, replacing the injured Rogers. The Bucks should pack considerable more punch than last year's team which lost to the Wildcats by a 13-6 count, but the Newark squad, with the home team advantage, will enter the contest as the favorites.

Heading the quartet of balltoters will be the colored halves, Carter and Williams. From past performances this early in the campaign both appear to be a constant running threat, with speed being their main ware. Williams is a dash man on the track team. Bell will take care of the line-bucking and line-backing, with Russ Alban also supporting the forward wall. Bell will probably do the punting.

Backs Average 164

The weight average for the locals in the backfield for tonight's game will be 164 pounds. Carter,

Live Wire Fatal To Hilltopper

Carter Moore, 2262 Safford-av, met sudden death while checking a power line in the rear of 2819 Powell-av Wednesday morning.

Moore, an employe of the Alvin Love Contracting Co., had been working on a home building project for Mr. John V. Dudley, 90 Latta-av.

A fuse had blown while a sanding machine was in operation. Moore checked the lines against the warnings of Mrs. Dudley who had already telephoned the power company.

The coroner returned a verdict of accidental death by electrocution.

Surviving Moore are his wife, Sylvia; three children, Evelyn, William and Bernadine; his father, W. F. Moore; three brothers, Clarence, Raymond and Clayton; two sisters, Mrs. Judith Jones and Mrs. Mildred DePew.

Jerry Spears, Football Star, Likes Music, Studies Sociology

When the Ohio State university football squad went into early practice at the stadium this week, the Hilltop was represented in the group by one Jerry G. Spears, listed in the university football directory as a right guard and a letter winner last season. But the ladder to this success was not an easy one.

Jerry was born in Columbus, lived in Logan for a short while, and then returned to Columbus. When a sophomore at West High he took to the sporting world and to football especially. A sprained back was the answer. Later he played baseball and basketball while in high school, but never any more football.

Following graduation from West young Jerry entered Oberlin college and then came to Ohio State. He didn't have a playing record with the Buckeyes in 1937 but in the following season his name was in the line-up on six occasions. In the NYU-Ohio contest last season he entered the scoring column with an extra point place-kick.

But Jerry isn't all football, although he plays it well. He played with Burgess Avenue U. B. church in the West Church basketball league and in 1937 teamed with several Ohio State greats to win the Fraternity league championship. On that fraternity team, Delta Upsilon by the way, were Jim Langhurst, sensational sophomore back last year; Steve Andrako, captain of the State grid team this season; Cliff Morgan, Hilltopper and captain-elect of the State baseball team; and Billy Southworth jr.

He stays at the Spears Funeral Home, owned by his father, Jerry G. Spears sr., and is studying sociology in arts college at the university. Jerry will graduate in March. He was a former violin student, but "my fingers got too big and clumsy, so I gave it up." However, he likes all types of music.

Jerry is six feet tall, weighs 200 pounds. His nickname: "Doc."

Gessaman Addresses GOP Clubs Wed.

A stifling hot night dampened any appreciable amount of enthusiasm that might have been evidenced at the combined tenth and eleventh ward "Gessaman-for-mayor" meeting at John Burroughs school Wednesday night. Some 300 or more persons attended the rally, many of them wandering in and out of the auditorium between speeches.

Mayor Gessaman gave the principal talk of the evening, confining his remarks to 10 or 15 minutes. His talk centered around the disputed "sewer tax" controversy. Candidates arrived at various intervals, were introduced and hastily departed to make two or three more meetings that night.

Kimball Bros. Have New Plymouth Display

Now on display at the Kimball Bros. garage is the new 1940 Plymouth automobiles, the first dealers in this section of the city to have the new models on display. The new 1940 DeSoto will be on display in the near future.

CAMP CHASE POST TO ELECT OFFICERS TODAY

Annual nomination and election of officers for Camp Chase post No. 96, American Legion, will be held tonight at post headquarters.

The meeting will open at 8:15 and elections will be the first order of business. Members are urged to attend and exercise their voting privilege.

Successful candidates will be installed Oct. 9. Arthur J. Bellar is retiring commander.

HBMA Meets

James Neal, 2639 Ridge-av, was presented with a top flite, Wright and Ditson racket by the Hilltop Business Men's association at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening at Westgate shelter house. Neal won the intermediate city recreational tennis championship recently.

Six Local Candidates Are Tuesday Primary Contenders

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls in order to register their choice of candidates for municipal offices. Among the host of candidates seeking nomination are several worthy Hilltoppers.

Henry A. Koontz, 486 Hillcrest-av, is bound and determined to get those 186 votes by which he was defeated four years ago when he was a candidate for city council.

In his present campaign Koontz is wisely refraining from making what he terms "impossible and irresponsible promises." He says he will meet issues to the best of his ability when they come up.

Russell S. Welch, 364 S. Brinker-av, dynamic young lawyer and real estate broker, is also in the council race. Some time ago he made this statement: "If I am elected, I will see to it that the Hilltop takes its proper place in the city." Of late he has attracted considerable attention because of his tirades against gamblers.

Welch is basing his candidacy on his record as a successful business man.

[redacted]

Wyatt L. Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av, for the past two years president of city council, is seeking re-election to that body on the basis of past accomplishments. He has been instrumental in securing several improvements for this community. Since 1904 Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop.

The regular meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club will be postponed until Oct. 17 due to election day, Sept. 19.

The community's one and only candidate for city auditor is Avard R. Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av. Coyle has had more than ordinary response to his campaign. Though quiet and unassuming he has built up a considerable following all over town.

He has continually stressed the need for a man of technical ability in the auditor's office. "Experience" is his watchword. He has been chief deputy auditor for 14 years.

Little need be said of Floyd Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, candidate for mayor. Practically every one on the Hilltop at some time or another has come under the spell of his amiable "good morning."

He is basing his candidacy on experience in both business and government affairs. In recent political speeches he has attacked unsparingly the administration's methods of traffic regulation and law enforcement.

Ray G. Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd, prominent Hilltop grocer and for the past eight years member of the school board, is seeking election to city council.

Disclaiming any political ambitions, he says that he entered the race as a matter of community spirit. Having learned the value of cooperation through long years of business experience, Hauntz has stressed the need of more of this kind of thing in city council.

Because he will not have to weather the rigors of a primary campaign, Robert M. Draper, candidate for school board, in his own words has "just been going around and getting acquainted." Draper lives at 74 N. Hoyt-av. He has been practicing law for the past eight years.

MILLIKIN ANSWERS NEWSPAPER STORY

Wyatt L. Millikin, president of council, has chosen this channel for answering the editorial attacks of the Columbus Dispatch. The Dispatch has accused council of misfeasance and negligence of duty to the public in agreeing to a $300,000 light rate reduction when the company could easily have afforded a $700,000 reduction on the basis of its own published financial reports.

"With the interests of the citizenry in mind I can frankly say that I am well satisfied with the arrangement made by council with the light company in agreeing to a $300,000 light rate reduction to consumers.

"Recent editorial blasts have it that the light company could easily have afforded a much greater reduction on the basis of its own financial statements.

"This is ignoring the vital fact that the same company which furnishes light to the public also operates the city's transportation system. The $300,000 is not all that the company is foregoing. In addition it is setting aside $716,000 for improvements in equipment, new coaches, new trolley wires and new poles.

"More than $900,000 of equipment on the W. Broad-Mt. Vernon line will have to be scrapped as the result of substituting trolley coaches for street cars.

"The company is paying two percent of its gross receipts on trolley coaches for the maintenance of the city streets. This is one-half of one percent more than any other city is getting to our knowledge.

"All this adds up to over $2,000,000, an amount which makes the much hooted $300,000 seem insignificant by comparison.

"As a representative of the people I do not intend to let the ease of electric rates ride with this last reduction. The $950,000 rate reduction of five years ago and the $300,000 reduction of this year have set precedents for other reductions in the future.

"Ever aware of my duty to the public, I will never pass up the opportunity of securing lower and lower rates for the consumer.

"I have it from reliable sources that the gas company has vowed to defeat present council members because of their failure to arrive at a rate favorable to that company. The front page editorial method is being used to that end."

Teacher Tells Of Trip From War Torn Area

When the passengers of nations armed to the teeth still fresh in her mind, Edith Skilken, 757 S. Eighteenth-st, fourth grade teacher at John Burroughs school, returned to the hum drum of the classroom last Thursday.

Miss Skilken arrived in Columbus last week after spending 11½ weeks in Europe. Her travels carried her through Scotland, England, Russia, Poland, Switzerland, France and the Netherlands.

"Every country in Europe was teeming with soldiers," she said. "Apprehension was rife. But the people seemed to be grimly reconciled to what was to come."

Miss Skilken's boat was one of the first to return with a cargo of "refugees" from war torn Europe. The boat sailed from Glasgow, Aug. 27 and was this side of the mid-ocean when the Athenia was sunk.

"There was no panic among the passengers," said Miss Skilken. "But that night the stewards placed cardboards in the dining room windows. Their excuse was, that the light bothered the men on the bridge."

Deeming herself lucky to get passage at all, Miss Skilken said that she was one of 180 passengers traveling on a boat that had accommodations for about a hundred.

"The three public rooms on the ship were used as sleeping quarters. Small cots had been brought aboard at Glasgow. We were packed in like sardines," she added.

Next Tuesday We Nominate

An Editorial

Few souls are saved after the first 15 minutes of a sermon and few votes are to be made for any of the candidates in the coming primaries because of many things that will be done or said in the coming few days before next Tuesday.

We merely review the beliefs of The Hilltop Record at this point.

First, just because it is a primary election, do not refrain from voting. If you do not express yourself by means of your ballot on Tuesday it stands to reason that possibly the best candidates will not be nominated. So go to the polls and vote.

From the beginning we have stated our belief that one of the most important considerations in this primary election is the nomination of Avard R. "Chub" Coyle for city auditor. We have taken this stand because he is not a politician and because he is best qualified for this job by reason of his 17 years experience in the auditor's office, and we like this combination of being qualified and not being a politician. It is a rare combination. It is best exemplified by Coyle over any other candidate.

Coyle is a Hilltopper and has been since he was a boy. He is highly respected and admired by all his friends. He is the one candidate in the campaign who has received a hearty applause from all sides. This is indeed an opportunity for the many thinking people of the Hilltop to express themselves in favor of good government outside the control of the party bosses by voting for Coyle for auditor.

Earlier in the year we suggested that Ray Hauntz be a candidate for city council. Ray Hauntz has been a public servant on the board of education for eight years and has done a most creditable job. His activities in Hilltop and city-wide civic affairs have been multiple and in every event most satisfactory.

We believe city council needs the type of representative that Ray Hauntz will make. For one thing we have always admired him as a gentleman as well as being a very fine business man, which his successful business attests. We believe council can well afford to have this type of member. Certainly the Hilltop will be well off with Hauntz as our councilman.

Two weeks ago we publicly cast our vote in favor of Floyd Green for mayor. We will continue to maintain that he is the best qualified of any of the candidates for this position at the head of the city government.

We believe Green will give the city a business-like administration and one that we may all be well proud of. We sincerely believe he can earn the confidence of the public to the extent that he can be highly instrumental in accomplishing much in the way of needed improvements for the city and the successful operation of the city government.

Let us reiterate: These are merely the opinions of The Hilltop Record, a newspaper independent in every sense of the word and working for the best interests of the Hilltop. We are sincere, above all else, and we believe our judgment well founded.

Antique Melodeon Is Offered For Sale Today

One of the oldest if not the oldest, antiques on the Hilltop was for sale this week in the Record by Edwin C. Bright, former blacksmith and janitor, and a veteran of 36 years standing on the Hilltop. It is a melodeon, 110 years old, having been built in 1829.

Come next February, Mr. Bright will celebrate his eighty-fifth birthday. He was born Feb. 23, 1855, and now makes his home with his son, Charles, at 116 S. Wheatland-av. He formerly managed several blacksmith shops on the Hilltop, one at the intersection of W. Broad-st and S. Eureka-av where the Goodyear plant is located, another on Hague-av, and still a third near the corner of S. Oakley-av and W. Broad-st, where the Hilltop Record offices are now located. He operated the latter in 1905-06 and recalls that the property was owned by the late Hilltopper and city councilman, Milton Westlake.

Served At Glenwood

Prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1904 Mr. Bright operated blacksmithing establishments at Urbancrest and Briggsdale. Following his retirement from the horseshoeing profession he served as janitor at the Glenwood M. E. church on Highland-av for 26 years. Two years ago he retired from active service with the church, having made many friends through this connection.

The melodeon, he relates, was the property of his wife, who was 74 years of age when she died. It was bought by her father when she was 16 years old and was used for her to take lessons on. At present the antique is used for a stand in the home.

Mr. Bright said he would "sorta like to keep the stand in the family." He has spurned several cash offers for the stand in the past for that reason. However, the melodeon is in good condition and would do service for several years to come, he said.

DEATH — cheated by hilltop pilot

"I had 500 feet to go. One second more and it would have been too late." Thus Tom Stauch, Sullivant-av airport flying instructor, described his harrowing experience of last Friday, when his 300 h. p. Chester special racer plunged into a power dive over Port Columbus.

Attempting to execute a roll at 800 miles per hour, Stauch "blacked out" as the result of the centrifugal force which forced the blood to his head.

"When I came to," he said, "I was in a power spin. I tried to pull it out in the conventional way but that didn't work. Next I neutralized the controls and the ship came out of the spin slowly about 500 feet above the ground."

Stauch claims the unique but unenviable record of being the first man to pull a racer out of a power spin.

"Because of the great power and the very small wing span, there is very little control," he explained. "Once in a spin and

NO DRYING OUT OF FOODS WITH ICE

Moist cold, produced only with natural ice, is the only answer to the problem of food drying through mechanical refrigeration. Dry cold is as bad as no cold at all, for it causes loss in weight, shrinkage and wilting of foods. Hilltop housewives have found that in order to retain all the savory flavor of foods, the use of ice refrigeration is necessary.

A Successful Business Man

Mayor of Columbus

Vote For

Floyd F. Green

A vote for Green is a vote for a progressive Columbus. He is capable, experienced and trustworthy. His experience and knowledge of Columbus municipal operations qualify him for this position.
Residents of Columbus will cast a vote for better government by voting for FLOYD F. GREEN.

GET OUT OF THE RED

WITH GREEN.

	For Mayor (Vote for not more than one)
X	FLOYD F. GREEN

Platform of Floyd F. Green, Candidate for Mayor of the City of Columbus, Ohio.

EXPENDITURES.

I pledge myself to the strictest economy in every department of city government, yet rendering every service that is essential.

Regardless of the financial situation confronting the City the personnel of the Police and Fire Departments will not be reduced. A regular and systematic collection of garbage and refuse will be maintained.

FINANCES.

Our people have the right to know the financial condition of their city. When the city is in the red, they should be properly informed. Financial schemes and maneuvering must stop in favor of a modern, simplified bookkeeping system.

APPOINTMENT AND CIVIL SERVICE.

I will select men and women who in my best judgment are qualified to fill and efficiently discharge the duties of the positions to which they are appointed.

I respect and will observe the Civil Service laws of the city of Columbus. Public employees are public servants. Any employee, Civil Service or otherwise, who fails to render the highest type of service will be dismissed. Furthermore, our city payrolls will not be padded with unnecessary employees.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND RELIEF.

I will do everything humanly possible to find employment for able bodied men and women. Adequate relief must be provided for all needy persons.

No person is on relief by choice. Our people desire an opportunity and are willing to work for a living.

They are entitled to receive cash for their labor, cash that can be spent to their greatest advantage, without humiliation, over the counter of any business place, they may select.

UTILITIES.

I will do everything within my power to secure for the citizens of Columbus the lowest possible rate for public utility service.

I will always conform to the provisions of our City Charter, which provide, that all Public Utility Franchises must be submitted to the voters at a regular election, for their approval or disapproval.

The City of Columbus operates two Utilities, the Water Works and the Municipal Light Plant. I pledge efficient and economical operation of these two plants, guaranteeing to their users the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

In my opinion the Citizens of Columbus are paying a much higher rate than necessary to operate the Division of Water on a self-sustaining basis. I will therefore recommend to the City Council a reduction of this rate from $1.20 per thousand cu. ft. to not more than $.90 per thousand cu. ft.

TAXATION.

I am unalterable opposed to taxing any specific property for the maintenance of a general operation.

The Sewage Disposal Plant, built by order of the State Board of Health and paid for by the taxpayers, is a modern necessity, the operation of which should be paid for from the General Operating Fund. I declare myself here and now opposed to the Sewer Tax in any form. As your Mayor I promise to fight this measure until it is repealed or declared unlawful by the courts. I am in favor of keeping our real estate tax at the lowest possible level, yet maintaining every necessary service.

LAW ENFORCEMENT.

I pledge that all laws will be enforced in an honest, sane and intelligent manner.

The office of Mayor is administrative, and under the jurisdiction of the Mayor comes the question of Law Enforcement and the protection of our citizens. Law enforcement must be continuous 365 days in the year. I am definitely opposed to spasmodic drives in any form of Law Enforcement.

TRAFFIC.

There must be continuous year around enforcement of our Traffic laws. A quota system which compels a police officer to bring in so many dollars in fines each working day, will not be tolerated during my administration.

I propose that every street intersection in the city have a uniform system of street markers placed in their proper location.

I pledge myself to a greater system of street and alley lighting.

There must be closer cooperation between the board of education and our police department for the protection of our children, going to and from our public and parochial schools.

Our respectable citizens arrested for traffic violations will not be placed in city prison and treated as criminals because of their inability to pay a cash fine.

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS.

I believe in proper civic and recreational centers, conveniently placed for the use of all groups and classes of our citizens.

Our children must have real playground facilities, with the highest type of supervision and protection. The children of today will be our leaders of tomorrow. It is our duty to prepare these young people for their future responsibilities. No better preparation for life can be given the youth of any community than clean sports, good schooling and proper religious training.

BUCKS—

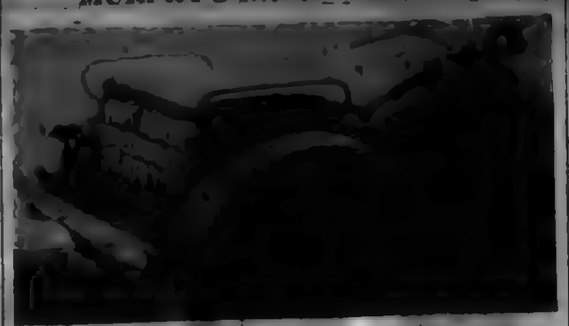
Williams and Mack each tip the scales at the 165 pound mark with Bell weighing 160 even. The line will average about 163 pounds per man, or practically the same as the backfield. The bulk of the weight in this department is with the tackles, with the guards and center weighing only 150 per man in round numbers.



Among the substitutes, of which many are almost sure to see action, the left-end seems to be the best fortified. Hart leads the candidates for the post, but is being closely pressed by Cliff Lerum, sub back last season, and Frank Blackstone. Bob Colmery will assist in the right flank duties. The principals in the tackle position include McConnell, Garnes and Frederick, with Smith and Russel serving as the sub guards. Byerly is playing second team center.

Stettler Back

In the backfield for the second team Ruder is playing quarter, and Earl Webb, back from last season, is playing full. Outstanding among the sub halves are Jack Stettler, 118 pounds of fight, who broke his collar bone last year, the hard-driving Medlick, Keith Williams and Bland.

The game is scheduled to get under way at 8 p. m.

VOTERS BEWARE

Failure to cast your vote at the primary will throw control of nominations into the hands of the politicians. Politicians are interested in getting men in office whom they can manipulate. They are not interested in getting the best man for the office.

Avard R. Coyle

though in no sense a politician, is technically qualified for the position of city auditor by virtue of 14 years experience as chief deputy in the auditor's department.

Though he has never held an elective office, Coyle has made public service a career. The long years during which he served the city faithfully and efficiently have given him an aquaintance with the peculiarities of the auditor's department that no other individual could possibly possess.

Vitally important to the taxpayer in terms of dollars and cents, the office of city auditor is a position of public trust. This requires an executive of ability and integrity. It is a matter of public record, that Coyle possesses these qualities.

Whether or not he will continue to serve the city during the next two years depends on you, the voter.

Once again we urge you to do your part in taking city government out of the hands of the politicians and giving it back to the people. A vote for Coyle is a vote for better government in Columbus.

A Message to Hilltop Voters:

THE Hilltop and every section of the city of Columbus should have the type of representative in City Council that Ray G. Hauntz will make. It is vitally important that voters bear this in mind and go to the polls next Tuesday to cast a vote for Ray Hauntz.

If you believe in Good Government and want to exert your influence in seeing that it can be provided for Columbus you can do much in this direction by calling your friends in other sections of the city and asking them to vote for Hauntz. Make these calls now. Ask your friends to call their friends and add their vote for Hauntz.

RAY G. HAUNTZ has for the past 20 years been identified with every worthwhile movement on the Hilltop as well as very active in city-wide affairs. His most recent record of service as a member of the Columbus Board of Education for the past eight years, three terms of which he has served as president of the group, stands as one of the finest testimonials of the type of public official he is.

City Council needs members of the type of Ray Hauntz. His election will assure a cooperative member, capable of performing the duties of the office, and with a knowledge of public service that makes him most prominently qualified for the position.

Calvary Captures City Title

Calvary Presbyterian, West Church league entrant in the city championship scramble, won the city church team championship last Thursday evening by trouncing Holy Name 5-2 in the finals of that division. It was the fifth church title for the Presbyterians in the history of the event.

The Presbyterians climbed on Holy Name for all of their runs in the second frame on five hits and a costly error. Meanwhile Fred Comer granted only six blows. Comer pitched the Calvary aggregation to straight victories over Hansberger Memorial, Washington U. B., Hope Lutheran and Holy Name in its drive to the city title.

The Hilltop entrant replaced Hoge Memorial Presbyterians as the champs in this division, the Hoge team having held the church championship for the past two years.

In the first game for the playoff of the Hilltop Independent circuit, Kent's Modern Market edged Sullivant Ave. Merchants 6-5 at the State Hospital field Tuesday. Eberhard twirled the win for the Grocers, who will tangle with Corner Cafe in the near future for the title.

FLE Club To Meet Sept. 16

The FLE club of the Hilltop, composed of West high graduates, will hold its September meeting Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Miss Bernice Nieder, 137 S. Westgate-av.

At this meeting five new members will be formally taken into the club. They are Misses Jennie-belle Evans, Retha Baird, Betty Finney, Clair Ett and Doris Shubert. Refreshments will be served later in the evening.

At present there are 17 members of the club which meets monthly.

Gregg In Race For Council Seat

Albert B. Gregg, 1270 S. Ohio-av, candidate for city council, attended Syracuse university, majoring in the manufacture of pulp and paper, a chemical engineering course. At the age of 17 he enlisted in the air corps and was discharged after the armistice as a sergeant, one of the youngest in his division.

Marrying a Columbus girl, Hazel Stelzer, a graduate of South high school and Ohio State university, he settled here and opened his own general insurance agency which he has operated successfully for 10 years. For the past two years he has also operated a commercial photography business. In addition he has been active in civic and political affairs. Last year he served as president of the Buckeye Republican club and is a member of the board of trustees of that organization as well as of the executive committee of the Franklin County War Veterans Republican club.

He is a member of Franklin Post American Legion and the Blue Lodge of Masons. He attends South Congregational church.

A city-wide "Shade-for-Mayor" rally will be held tonight, 8 o'clock, at the Southern hotel All tenth ward Democrats are invited to attend.

Do not read this . .

UNLESS YOU ARE INTERESTED IN YOUR CITY GOVERNMENT.

As a candidate for city council I initiate and sponsor the following issues:

(1) Pledge myself for legislation requiring a license fee for trolley buses as a substitute for the unjust sewer tax and the equally unfair street rental for parking privileges, resorted to by the present city council.

(2) Retention of the present "water rate" as is, and the allocation of any surplus that might accrue to extending and enlarging the water mains in interest of fire protection.

(3) The exercise of every means possible to break the legal shackles that have been transfixed against the development of the municipal light plant.

(4) A strict enforcement of the civil service rules and regulations with due regard to the merit system in all departments.

(5) Expansion of the playgrounds, swimming pools and parks, without partiality to any particular section, properly equipped and supervised, consistent with available revenue.

(6) As previously recommended in the gas rate case, I suggest a citizens' advisory committee shall be selected from each of the 19 wards, by the citizens of each respective ward, composed of business, professional, public and labor groups, for the purpose of making a thorough study of and in turn making recommendations in all matters affecting the efficiency and economy of our city government. This to provide a more democratic procedure in the handling of the many complex problems, since only SEVEN councilmen are now provided and this is not regarded as sufficiently representative of all interests and sections of the city.

(7) Sufficient appropriation shall be made to provide for the burial of all aged deceased indigent poor, who are residents of the city and not at time of death receiving aid from the State division of aid for the aged." Such allowances to be made on the basis of similar allowances now being granted by the townships surrounding our city as well as other cities in the State, approximating $75.00 to represent cost only, (non-profit) and to include cemetery charges. This to stop the present practice of sending the bodies of the indigent deceased poor to the research laboratory (pickling vat) at the University hospital, and paying the Morticians of the city $5.00 for such transportation. A number of these bodies are now floating in this vat as "a symbol of man's inhumanity to man." Note: The stray dogs and cats of our city are receiving more humane consideration at the present time; for instance the "dog-haven" on Groveport pike, for which $7,000 was allocated last year, the county and city together.

(8) Favor some specific means to provide for the "relief" service. Recommendations made under item "6 herein suggested as a means to this end.

AVOIDING THIS WASTE is easy!

For convenience and thrift, Great Heart coal holds place No. 1. Use Great Heart and you get less than a bushel of ash per ton. This means less waste and more heating element. You get easily controlled heating power to quickly meet every change in temperature. You can hold a fire with drafts closed from 24 to 48 hours. And your fuel cost per season will be as low—or lower—than with coals not nearly as good. There's no reason why you should not enjoy all of these advantages. Let your next coal order call for Great Heart.

Dixieland Band Plays At Glenwood

Glenwood playground supervisors have engaged the services of "the WPA Dixieland Band" for Sept. 14, 21 and 28. Everyone is invited to these "jam sessions" which have proved popular in the past.

It is very probable that WPA will arrange to have teachers of several musical instruments at Glenwood this fall. Miss Gertrude Harriman now teaches piano each Tuesday from 5 to 7 p. m.

On Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 7 p. m. there will be a candy kiss scramble for the kiddies. A girl's horseshoe tournament is now in progress. Winners will be announced next week.

First and second prizes in the croquet tournament went to Dorothy Thomason, 1357½ W. Broadst, and Mary Bentz, 1968 Sullivant-av.

Ogier In Race For Judgeship

West side chairmen of Ogier-for Judge committees, Charles Edmiston, A. A. Bunner and Brough Richey, maintain that the candidate's training and experience qualify him for the post of long term municipal judge.

Ogier has tried cases in all courts of the state, including municipal, common pleas, court of appeals, probate, and supreme court and has been admitted to practice in the federal district court and the treasury department at Washington.

REMEMBER THE MAINE

They blew up the battleship Maine—
Do you remember the day;
When the good ship Maine was destroyed by Spain,
In the waters of Manila bay.

How many went down I can't say,
Or who, on the battleship Maine—
They went to their graves beneath the cold waves,
Not far from the waters of Spain.

It was in April of ninety eight,
George Dewey they could not restrain;
He held the bay until the first day of May,
And captured the fleet of Spain.

Once again we may have to fight,
And show others that the USA;
Will protect with guns from the greed of the huns,
It's citizens at work or play.

Some say we should stay at home
And not venture to a distant land;
That's a hard thing to ask and it would be a hard task
To enforce any such a command.

To prevent the sinking of ships,
Congress should not parley or pause;
But with a firm hand and without our command,
They should fix up a bunch of new laws.

Green, Millikin, Hauntz And Koontz Win In Primary Election

Bell Makes First Score As West Wins Opener

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

It's Time To Be Calm

The beginning of another World war has thrown the world's economy into confusion. What it will mean no one knows. What is the best policy to pursue is equally unknown. The whole situation is confused with uncertainties to which no previous precedent applies.

The first reaction in the United States has been the change of markets from a dull and bearish to a violently active and bullish condition. Outright speculation and urge to cover underlie the new business psychology. Whether or not this speculation is justified time only will tell.

Nevertheless, it is well to keep in mind these two possibilities: If the war is of short duration speculation will undoubtedly prove to be unjustified. If the war is of long duration, there is plenty of time for reasonable adjustment without loss. Certainly, placards that we are told appear in England, carry good advice to Americans: "Be Calm."

When you're hating good, you're slipping bad.

In these days of quick decisions and the matter of not knowing what to believe it may be well to keep your old letter from working overtime.

On the Primary

Many conclusions are being drawn following the primaries on Tuesday.

As for ourselves we are satisfied with the fine showing made by Floyd Green, Ray Hauntz, and Avard Coyle in the 10th and 11th wards, all territory served by the Hilltop Record. We believe this fine vote given these candidates was an indication that Hilltop voters think b[illegible] ney vote.

The Rec[illegible] as taken no stand in politics because of anything we ever expect to gain from politics. We have merely maintained that careful thought should be exercised by the voters in selecting public officials. We shall continue to work for better government in Columbus and Franklin county through this method.

We are indeed grateful for an opportunity to work in this direction with and alongside the type of independent voters found on the Hilltop which we believe can not be duplicated in any other section of the city.

On Neutrality

Revision of the Neutrality Act along the lines advocated by the administration so that arms and munitions may be exported to warring nations is a proposal fraught with dangers.

Such a revision would mean neutrality in name only, since the motive behind the proposal is materially to aid the so-called democracies.

Such a revision would be a first step toward war, which might easily be followed by another and another, until active participation would be unavoidable.

Let us not begin playing favorites so early in the race. Let us not create the situation where, in defense of that vague thing called national honor, young American blood must once again be spilled on foreign soil.

And if we should get into the war, what assurance do we have that the same old situation wouldn't arise afterwards with our old foe, power politics, still in the saddle?

Once before we went to war for the purpose of ridding the world of German militarism. But as a result of German defeat we now have a worse breed of the same thing. We went to war in 1917 to make the world safe for democracy. Now look at the doggone thing.

European countries are now laden with debt to the breaking point. Fifty percent of German incomes are appropriated by the government. Equally heavy demands are facing the English and French people. All of Europe has borrowed to the limit.

But money for financing the war must be obtained. This will be obtained from the banks in the form of credits. In this case credits are created by making money where none was before. This is inflation and after inflation comes the inevitable collapse.

Should we tie our economy to the war economy of Europe and should our prosperity come to depend on the success of the democracies, will then face the alternative of lending money once again to England and France or of sustaining internal

Boy Scouts To Receive Awards

A dream will come true for scouts and scouters of the Southwest district next Thursday when a Boy Scout Court of Honor ceremony, beginning at 7:30 p. m., will be held in the auditorium of West high school. Troop 46, West junior high school, will be the host troop. Much effort has been spent by Hilltop scouters to gain the court.

District officers of the scouting organization will take an active part in the ceremonies while executives from the regional office will be present. The program will be topped by a magic show by Oscar Gutheil, an Ohio State university student and magician.

C. C. Hartley, publisher of the Hartley Newspapers, is chairman of advancement in this district and will deliver the welcoming address. Tom Boardman, field executive, will announce the governor's citation standing and C. M. Riggs, district chairman, will present the district flag.

During the course of the court, the awards for scout advancement will be made. The meeting will close with the benediction by the host troop, No. 45.

Hilltop Parks Are Busy

The three Hilltop summer recreational centers, Glenwood, Holton and Westgate parks, will be open during the fall it was announced by the City recreational department. According to advance notices, Glenwood and Holton will have representatives in the bantam weight league of the city. Last year the Hilltop bantam weight squad was one of the best in the city and was coached by Woody Goupe.

Al Adrams, supervisor at Glenwood and coach of that park's team, announced Tuesday that the grid team had been organized and had entered the city league. The first practice game will be held Saturday, 10 a. m., at Sunshine park, with the Sunshine Bantams furnishing the opposition. The regular season is scheduled to begin Sept. 30.

The Holton park softball team will play Glenwood Saturday at 10 a. m. Other fall sports beside football and softball include horse-shoe pitching and tennis. Present supervisors at Holton are Gertrude Thomason and Lyle Baughman. Other activities there include sewing on Wednesday, muslin coloring on Thursday, and library work on Friday.

At Glenwood plaque classes are in session on Thursdays at 7 p. m. Tuesday at 4 p. m. piano lessons are given free; Tuesday evenings at 4:30 a treasure hunt will be held, while Thursday the WPA Dixieland swing band will present a two hour show at the shelter house.

Brown Heads Legion

E. H. Brown

Ernest H. Brown, 209 N. Burgess-av, is the new commander of Camp Chase post No. 98, American Legion as the result of annual elections held last Friday night at post headquarters.

Other officers elected were: first vice commander, Milton P. Hain; second vice-commander, Jay G. Bowser; finance officer, Robert C. Hitchcock, chaplain; James F. Hurd; sergeant at arms, Frank Morgan; executive committee, Michael H. Austin and Claude Hasson. Dr. Clark Finneran was chosen the post's representative on the executive committee of county council.

Arthur J. Bellar, retiring commander, was chosen delegate to the national convention which will be held Sept. 21 at Chicago.

Hilltop voters registered their emphatic approval of all Hilltop candidates at Tuesday's primary, and with but two exceptions the same approval was reflected by the city as a whole.

Floyd F. Green, candidate for mayor, Ray G. Hauntz, Wyatt L. Millikin, Henry A. Koontz, and Russel S. Welch, candidates for council, and Avard R. Coyle, candidate for city auditor rolled up impressive totals on the Hilltop. Coyle and Welch were defeated by the city-wide vote.

For the first time in the history of Columbus two Republicans were nominated for mayor when a record breaking primary vote was cast.

Myron B. Gessaman, incumbent, led his Republican rival, Floyd F. Green, by slightly over a thousand votes. The question already on a thousand lips is: "Who will the Democrats support in November?"

In both Hilltop wards, 10 and 11, Green led by substantial majorities. But the Gessaman vote in Green's own bailiwicks far exceeded that of any of the other three mayoralty candidates and is testament to the strength of the city hall organization on the Hilltop.

In line with the opinion [illegible] by many that the Democratic or[illegible]

Record endorsed candidates in the primaries Tuesday led the field in votes garnered in the Tenth and Eleventh wards that area served by the Record.

While it was impossible to get tabulated results from a few precincts, in the race for city auditor, Avard R. Coyle led the field with 1933 votes with Rhodes having 1418. Coyle was defeated elsewhere in the city.

For city council Ray Hauntz received 3353 while the closest contender in these wards was Wyatt L. Millikin, Hilltopper, with 2411. Henry Koontz tallied 2154 here.

With complete returns from the two wards Floyd Green led Mayor Gessaman with 3349 to 2307. Green with 2933 votes in the Eleventh ward got more votes than were given any candidate in any ward in the city.

Bucks Meet Wildcats In Night Game There

West High school's football team, having scored a 19-0 decision over a weak Newark eleven in the season's opener last Friday night, will leave the home bailiwick for the second successive week-end tonight when it treks to Springfield to oppose the Wildcats of that fair town in what promises to be an interesting affair. The game, to be played under the lights, is scheduled to get under way at 8 o'clock.

At White Field in Newark last Friday evening the Buckaroos, entering the fray conceded the underdogs, soundly thrashed the Newark squad by a three touchdown margin. In winning its opening start of the campaign, and taking the five game series 4-2, the work of several of the West players was outstanding. But the current Buckaroo representative has no single star.

Backs Work Well

In the backfield the "Gold Dust Twins," Warren Carter and Al Williams, both colored speed merchants, shared the ball-toting honors, the former gaining 78 yards and the latter accounting for 98 of the 225 three-feeters tabulated by the winners. Bell and Mack were outstanding in a defensive way, and the former's ball-carrying and punting, a 31 yard average, left little to want. Mack's generalship in the field was practically flawless.

Tonight the Cowboys will be in for a hard tussle. The only indication of the present strength of the Springfield team is gained by the contest between Aquinas high school, current City League favorites, and the Wildcats last Friday in which the Columbus school gained the verdict by a 4-12 margin. Last year the Bucks were the victims of a 6-0 setback in a well-played game, and this year Coach George Williams is drilling the locals hard in an attempt to keep history from repeating itself.

South Comes Next

Following the Newark fracas, Coach Williams praised the boys for their play but warned against over-confidence in their second start. Several minor points were on the Buck drill card this week as the Buck mentor sought to iron out the small mistakes made by the Cowboys in the tidlifter. The West-Springfield conflict will be the last away-from-home contest until Oct. 27. After Springfield entertains the locals, South, Columbus Academy, Central and Aquinas will appear at Magly Field in that order.

Throughout the initial half of the West-Newark game the Wildcats gained little yardage, in fact they gained only 53 yards by rushing all evening, and the West linemen opened big gaps in the opposing line for their backs to plunge through. West scored in the first quarter when Bell cracked the line for the six-pointer after a 52-yard sustained march downfield.

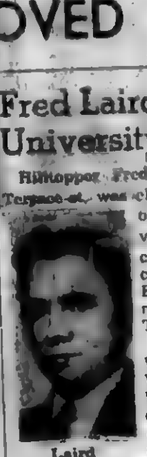
SULLIVANT TRACKS TO BE REMOVED

Number two returns in the Hilltop Business Men's association's drive to gain Hilltop improvements represented in a four-point program made public last spring were evident this week with the passing of legislation by City Council Tuesday evening which will permit the removal of the car tracks on Sullivant-av between Central and Whitethorne-avs.

Two weeks ago the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. promised the removal of street cars on W. Broad-st this fall, these to be replaced with busses. Other improvements suggested by the HBMA included the straightening out of McKinley-av and the extension west of W. Mound-st.

Through participation with the WPA part of the paving on Sullivant-av will be done. From Central-av west to Whitethorne-av is the worst part of the street on which the tracks are placed. Following the removal of the tracks, space between them will be paved.



The cost to the city will amount to nearly $4,500, but according to present plans, $2,000 of this will be met by the sale of the rails. The remainder is said to be on hand in the WPA fund. Cost to the WPA is estimated at $35,000, making a total project of nearly $40,000.

Correction

In the Record of two weeks ago a story was headed "Dr. Breese Only Osteopath West of High Street." This was an error on the part of the Record. Dr. William Lowry, osteopathic physician, has offices at 2528 W. Broad-st. Dr. A. E. Breese has practiced on the Hilltop for the past 14 years. His offices are located at 2405½ W. Broad-st.

Fred Laird Gets University Post

Hilltopper Fred Laird, 215 S. Terrace-st., was elected president of Capital university's junior class as the classes at the Bexley school named officers Tuesday night.

Laird

Laird attended W. Broad school, West Junior and West Senior, but due to business reasons did not attend the S. Powell-av school in his senior year. He received his degree from Triadelphia High school in Wheeling, W. Va., in 1937.

A member of the university's debating team for the past three years, Laird belongs to the national debating fraternity, Tau Kappa Alpha. The family has resided on the Hilltop for nearly 10 years.

Share Store Interest

Effective the first of the year, Jack Merriman, 2520 Sutton-av, and Paul Evans Leighninger, 29 Eldon-av, will share an interest in the operation and management of Seiller's, 2404 W. Broad-st, M. W. Seiller, owner of the store, announced this week.

Merriman, who is now assistant manager and buyer for the store, has been connected with Seiller for the past 20 years. Leighninger, who is Mr. Seiller's son-in-law, has been a traveling salesman and has considerable experience in sales work.

ganization candidate had been placed in the race by the powers that be in order to split hopelessly by the Democratic vote and assure the nomination of one of the other two candidates. Mr. Shade, the Legion organization candidate, ran a poor third.

In the council race Roger N. Addison led the field with 32,728 votes. Wyatt L. Millikin and Ray G. Hauntz, both Hilltop candidates, ran second and third with 22,502 and 21,274 votes respectively. Henry A. Koontz, also a Hilltop man, was one of the eight candidates nominated.

The Democrats whose votes split three ways over a mayoralty candidate redeemed themselves by renominating all three Democratic council incumbents, Addison, Millikin and W. L. Lehman.

The Republican organization also won approval for its council candidates, Koontz and E. H. Trautman.

One of the best showings of any candidate in the field was made by Ray G. Hauntz, who was nosed out of second place in the council race by slightly over a thousand votes.

Hauntz, who has been president of the school board for the past two years, was one of the two successful candidates not accorded organization support.

Although the three other candidates trailed Mr. Coyle in the tenth and eleventh wards, the Hilltop's choice for auditor stood at the bottom of the list when the final city-wide vote was tabulated.

The Republican organization candidate, James A. Rhodes, and T. B. Holloway, incumbent, will be the contenders for the post of city auditor in the November elections.

Successful Hilltop candidates in the following statements have voiced their appreciation of the support given them by Hilltop voters:

Ray G. Hauntz: "I want to express my gratitude and appreciation to the people of the Hilltop for the splendid confidence they have displayed by supporting my candidacy so enthusiastically."

Henry A. Koontz: "I wish to thank the voters of the Hilltop for their fine response to my candidacy. I hope to be able to prove myself worthy of their confidence."

Wyatt L. Millikin: "The large vote given me by Hilltop residents means one thing: that my previous endeavors to be of service to this community have been appreciated. The support given me by Hilltop voters in the primary is a stimulus for further service."

Floyd F. Green: "If I am elected mayor of Columbus, I will do all possible to merit the confidence shown by the voters of this my community, in my candidacy."

Hastings-Line Vows Exchanged Sunday

Simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Emma Jean Hastings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Hastings, when she became the bride of Mr. Norman C. Line, son of Mrs. Harry R. Line, 214 S. Sylvan-av, Sunday afternoon, Sept. 17, in Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church.

Preceding the ceremony, which was read at half past four o'clock by Rev. Alfred J. Wold, a short program of music was presented by Mr. F. L. Buckingham, organist, and Mrs. Robert L. Gilliam who sang "I Love You Truly." The organ selections were Schubert's "Serenade," "At Dawning" and "Liebistrum."

With the first strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal party proceeded to the candle lighted altar whose background was a profusion of southern smilax, palms and ferns, centered with a tall basket of picardy gladiolus. The bride was preceded by three attendants, Miss Jean Armour and Mrs. James Cooke, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids, and Mrs. Robert Jones, sister of the bride, as matron of honor. Their empire style gowns were of morie taffeta. The two bridesmaids gowns were in the new Spanish taisin shade while the matron of honor's gown was electric blue. They were designed alike with square necklines edged with tiny pleats. Bows of velvet ribbon in contrasting colors trimmed the shoulders and bodice front of their gowns. The bouquets of the bridesmaids were of Minuet gladiolus and Johanna Hill roses and the matron of honor's bouquet was of Picardy gladiolus and Johanna Hill roses. Quarter wreaths of flowers matching their bouquets were fastened to their hair. Each of the bridesmaids wore a dainty gold locket, a gift of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of gleaming white slipper satin. It was princess style with the skirt ending in a two yard train. The neckline was Queen Anne fashion and the leg of mutton sleeves tapered to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a baby bonnet cap of orange glossoms and she carried a bouquet of Stephonotis, Johanna Hill roses, gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley. The bride's only jewelry was a dainty gold brooch, a gift of the groom.

Mr. Line asked his brother-in-law, Mr. James Cooke, to serve as best man and ushers were Mr. James Hastings and Mr. David Hastings, brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 86 S. Ogden-av, for the bridal party, for relatives and a few close friends. For her daughter's marriage the bride's mother chose a street length dress of pidgeon blue sheer crepe with black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white gardenias. The groom's mother was attired in a street length dress of sheer crepe of amethyst shade. She wore black accessories and her corsage was also of white gardenias. Later during the evening the young couple left on a short wedding trip. For going away the bride chose a brown and white shepherd check eton suit trimmed with brown velvet. Her tailored blouse was of white satin and to the shoulder of her jacket was fastened a corsage of gardenias. A toque of brown and green felt with matching accessories completed her ensemble.

Letters To The Editor

The Hilltop Record,
Columbus, Ohio

The HILLTOP RECORD'S "PROGRESS EDITION" is worthy of sincere praise and I wish to congratulate ALL who had any part in compiling it. This special edition and your regular weekly edition is a HILLTOP BENEFACTOR, dispensing the news accurately—its various departments entertaining and enlightening. The HILLTOP RECORD is a paper for EVERYONE, young and old.

Mrs. Walter W. Curlis,
300 South Hague Ave.

I am writing to congratulate you on your most interesting "Progress" copy of the Record. It was both entertaining and informative. I found the answers to many questions concerning which I'd often wondered. But best of all I just liked the whole idea of a fine, comprehensive picture of the Hilltop, which, though we are aware of its advantages, we are apt to take for granted.

And I wish to personally thank you for the space you allotted to the poetry. I believe it would astonish you if you knew how many people enjoy the poetry page. I am among them.

Again, congratulations, and good luck to you in the handling of our community paper.

Yours truly,
Mrs. G. C. Bingham
178 N. Eureka Ave.

Robber Foiled By Hilltopper

Al C. Dale, 487 S. Huron-av, reported to police last Tuesday that he had been held up by a man who entered his car when he stopped for a traffic light at Martin-av and W. Broad-st, jabbed a gun in his ribs and demanded his money.

When Dale refused to relinquish his money the man left his auto and went to a parked car nearby, bent his license plates, and drove away.

C. J. Kohn
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Hilltop Boy Heads Sun Ray Sign Co.

One of the six licensed and bonded sign hangers in Columbus is Paul E. Zellers, head of the Sun Ray Sign Co., 2277 W. Broad-st, a Hilltopper practically all his life and a graduate of West High school with the class of 1928.

One of the most recent signs of the Sun Ray Co. is that of the Tom Thumb restaurant, downtown establishment, operated by Tom Zelkoff, proprietor of the Broad-Hague restaurant. Zellers and his staff built and installed the sign in front of the new establishment.

Lived In Kenton

Born in Columbus, Paul attended West Broad school and then moved with his family to Kenton where his father was employed. He spent three years of his life there, during which time his father was an employe of the government through the war period.

Later the family returned to Columbus and Paul continued his schooling at West high school. Following his graduation he attended Ohio State university for two years, specializing in chemistry. Always a devoted student of chemistry, the work at the university was the background for his present work.

Paul ushered in the new year of 1932 on Dec. 31, 1931, with his marriage to Grace Dale. The Zellers' now reside at 5 Highland-av.

Electric current traveling through the neon gas causes it to light. "When lettering is done the glass is laid on an asbestos sheet, bent to conform to the letters wanted, and then treated so that it will not smoke," Paul told this reporter.

"Neon gas will not hurt you," Paul said. "It has no odor, no color, no taste, and won't combine with anything." The colors in the gas, probably the most popular form of sign advertising at the present, are made by the addition of a fluorescent powder on the interior of the tube. Practically any color is obtainable through this powder.

Bucks—

The second marker was chalked up by the locals just as the half ended. Williams fired a pass to Carpenter as the gun sounded, ending the second quarter, and the lanky acting-captain tucked the ball to his chest over the goal line for the second score. Carter missed goal for the second time.

The best play of the nocturnal affair occurred in the third period when the Buckaroos tallied their final touchdown. Carter took the ball from Bell on a reverse, cut inside tackle and after dashing 10 yards, lateralled the pigskin to Williams who galloped the remaining 35 marks to score. The third time was the charm, and Carter converted.

K of P. Fetes Members and Softball Team

Round About The Hilltop

I Learned

Hayden Jones, director of the Hilltop chorus since its organization 8 years ago, formally announced his retirement from that position two weeks ago. No one has been named to fill his post . . . A choice rose of the Yost variety, Sir Curtis, for a job faithfully done . . . According to reports Frank Richey has finally made up his mind and Ohio State will be his alma mater . . . Jack Simmons seems headed back to Ohio U. for the fall quarter. Former all-high lineman, remember?

Charles Butte will study at Wittenberg, 'tis said . . . and Ed Wolfe and Paul Schlosser have returned to Findlay to begin football practice . . . Woody Wills, former West high and Ohio U. star, was at the same coaching school with Coach George Williams this summer . . . Wills is now coaching at Newcomerstown high . . . Art Bellar is back at Denison U. . . . "Apie" Kimbrel will probably not return to State this fall . . . Paul Rogers, West footballer "wid de" broken collarbone, may play with the Bucks later in the campaign but it's doubtful . . . Bob Rinehart is now on the Record starting staff.

This and That

Curt Wilcox ate three chicken harvests and one drumstick, by his own admission, at a recent dinner. The chicken was passed only three times. Page Emily Post . . . Several Hilltop lads chewed lustily on frequent servings of chewing gum at a recent house party. Did their faces turn red when the chewing gum turned out to be Feenamint . . . Norton Benton, former Hilltopper, is now with the Council of Social Agencies at Hartford, Conn. . . . At least four Hilltop churches have had changes in pastorate during the past two months . . . More than 1000 students reported for class with text books on the opening day at West high last week . . . Our feature in the Progress Edition on the 200 salt shakers accumulated by Mrs. Walter Curtis brings the report that Mrs. Harold Herron, 26 N. Harris-av, has a collection of 280 shakers.

TOURNEY WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Robert Williams won the singles championship in the Hilltop tennis tournament which was concluded this week when he defeated John Hipple in a five set match by scores of 6-2, 6-4, 6-8, 7-5, and 6-1 to take the title.

In the doubles match the team of Francis Harvey and Paul Walton disposed of Charles Merriman and Lyne Price in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4 and 6-2, to grab the banting. Trophies were presented to the winners.

The English sparrow was introduced into America in 1851 as the result of an ill-advised endeavor to populate a few city parks in the east with non-migratory birds.

LOVE'S GIFT

She gave me roses, crimson as her lips
Which said: Because you have been good to me.
Half opened buds like dawning when it slips
Between the gates of day. Their fragrancy
Is haunting as old dreams that wake and stir
When midnight stars burn in a midnight sky;
The flame within their hearts is lovelier
Than any jewel golden coins can buy.

So rich a guerdon for a kindly deed!
Mute eloquence of heartfelt gratitude.
Their loveliness has filled an inward need
More urgent than the body's cry for food.
Love is like that, before each short day closes,
Against some heart is pressed its gift of roses.

WCKY DEDICATES NEW TRANSMITTER; CBS SALUTES 50,000-WATT AFFILIATE

When WCKY affiliates with the Columbia network Sunday, the L. B. Wilson station will formally dedicate its 50,000 watt transmitter and celebrate the fact that it is now as powerful as any station in the entire United States.

Mayor James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati has set aside the week of Sept. 24th by official proclamation as "WCKY 50,000 Watt Week". Festivities start Sunday with a coast-to-coast salute between 5 and 6:30 p. m. (E.S.T.) on the Columbia network with more than a hundred stations carrying the program honoring WCKY.

WCKY returns the salute Monday afternoon. A gala broadcast will originate on Cincinnati's historic Fountain Square and will be attended by many celebrities. L. B. Wilson cordially invites radio listeners in this vicinity to attend the dedication ceremonies on the Square, and to visit the 50,000-watt transmitter, shown above together with the gigantic 350 foot transmitting tower. The other pictures show Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, the former Jean Oliver of stage fame, who dedicated the WCKY transmitter with a bottle of Ohio River water on July 27th at quiet ceremonies attended only by staff members. Public dedications was postponed to the week of Sept. 24th coincident with the station's new network affiliation.

West Teachers Have Interesting Vacations

Summer vacations for many West High school teachers for the most part were spent in additional schooling, it was learned by this reporter this week in separate interviews with teachers. However, several took this period to visit some new and interesting section of the country.

Miss Mae Burrell covered the most territory with a trip to South America. She has become a world traveller in recent years and frequently entertains her history classes with various short stories on the countries she has visited.

Mrs. Eula R. Harris used her vacation time for a delightful trip through the Smoky Mountains. One of the oddities of these mountains is that visitors are prohibited from picking the wild flowers. An additional two weeks were spent in visiting her sister in Union City, Ind.

Otto France studied at Ohio State university in the mornings, practiced accounting in the afternoons, and taught at Franklin university in the evenings. Myron T. Seifert, journalism instructor, did research work and acted as official filer with one of the metropolitan papers. He later retired to his cottage at the Lancaster camp grounds for a rest.

Among those who visited the New York World's fair were Mr. Dickey, the new chemistry teacher; Miss Margaret Campbell and Miss Evaline Harrington, who also visited New England and New Jersey.

Wayne House and Edgar House stayed at home, the former to work in a cigar factory and the latter to renovate his home. A. B. Cole attended summer school, while George F. Neeb, who is in charge of the seniors, taught at Ohio State. He also worked on the revision of the course in democracy now given at West.

After returning from the New York fair, Mr. Dickey also attended Ohio State, taking courses in chemistry and calculus.

Butler Services Held Wednesday

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Butler, 71, mother of Patrolman Charles Butler of the city accident prevention bureau, died Monday at the home of another son, Edward Butler, 337 S. Wayne-av, following a two weeks illness. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon with burial in Milford Center.

Surviving Mrs. Butler are two other sons, John of Milford Center and Walter of Troy; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Walke of Milford Center; and six grandchildren.

Church Resumes Luncheon Meet

The Hilltonia United Brethren church, 532 Columbian-av, will resume the mid-week luncheons at 6:15 Wednesday evening, Sept. 27. Each family will bring dishes of their choice. The first chapter of the book, "God's Will Be Done In the Community," will be studied in connection with the prayer services. Rev. D. S. Mills, district superintendent, will give an address and conduct the quarterly conference session.

Lumber Man's Rites Held Tuesday

Funeral services were conducted last Thursday for Cyrus F. Shover, recently of 414 S. Wayne-av. Known to many Hilltoppers, Mr. Shover had gone to Cleveland 10 days prior to his death with the intention of spending the winter there with his daughter, Mrs. G. T. Sachs. He was 82.

Mr. Shover is survived by his wife, Marguerite; two daughters, Mrs. Sachs of Cleveland and Dr. Grace Shover, connected with the mathematics department of Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.; three brothers, O. M. Shover, Grove City, Elsworth, Grove City and C. R., retired mail man, residing on Brown-rd; three sisters, Mrs. Sadie Holcomb, Grove City, Mrs. Matilda Childers and Mrs. Callie Childers of Stoutsville.

Both Mrs. Sachs and Dr. Grace Shover graduated from West high school and Ohio State university. Dr. Shover received four degrees there. Mrs. Sachs is a teacher in the Shaker Heights High school.

Mr. Shover had been in the lumber business in Columbus and had worked for the county for several years. He came to the Hilltop in 1906. Burial was at Grove City.

West Park Plans Homecoming Day

Sunday will be Homecoming Day at West Park M. E. church and all friends and former members of the church are urged to attend special services which have been planned for the occasion.

The pastor, Rev. I. P. Day, will preach Sunday morning on the topic, "Touching Glory." According to present plans, the afternoon program will be in the form of a surprise.

There will be no preaching services in the evening. The young people will have a fellowship hour and dinner from 5:30 until 8:30 p. m.

Delicatessen Opened On Hill Saturday

One of the latest business establishments to open on the Hilltop is the new delicatessen at Highland-av and W. Broad-st, owned and operated by Elizabeth Adams, for more than 20 years a resident of the Hilltop.

The new establishment, which opened last Saturday, has a complete line of delicacies, the only one of its kind on the Hilltop. The food is all prepared at the delicatessen and the specialty will be the preparation of dinners to take out.

Josina Moore, 9, Seriously Injured

Josina Moore, nine-year-old Hilltop girl, was seriously injured Tuesday night when struck in front of 601 S. Wayne-av by a car driven, police said, by Claude Thompson, 846 S. Eureka-av.

Her condition was said to be "serious" by attaches at Mt. Carmel hospital, where she was taken following the accident. Physicians there said she had suffered a possible skull fracture, a severe scalp laceration, a fractured left arm, a laceration on the knee and back injuries.

MR., MRS. ROSE TOUR CENTRAL STATES

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Rose, 38 S. Richardson-av, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grose, 81 Brevoort rd, have just recently returned from a sightseeing trip through Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. While on their trip through Bay City, Mich., they witnessed the parade of the Townsend clubs of the city.

Christmas Gifts

By Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell
Hilltop Lutheran Church

By Rev. Carveth Peters Mitchell
Hilltop Lutheran Church

Christmas is still pretty far away, but people are already talking and hinting about the things they would like to receive. Incidentally, that may not be a bad idea, because the way the holidays are being changed around it's liable to be here anytime. We in America are not the only ones who are beginning to think about what we want for Christmas, because a letter received just the other day from a friend across the sea—in India—discussed that very thing. She wants some things for Christmas, too. Perhaps you will be interested in knowing what they are, since they are not ordinary things.

1. Nageswara Rao and his family to live as Christmas.
2. Six hundred jackets — at 10c each—for our little school children.
3. Three thousand colored Bible pictures.
4. Health and strength for Lydia the leper.
5. Five hundred Telugu Bibles for our people who are trying to live by its teachings.

Those are the things she wants for Christmas. Somehow when I read a Christmas list like that it makes me very much ashamed of my own, and makes it seem mean and selfish. That list makes me realize more than ever how matter-of-fact, tit for tat, the great season of gifts has become, and how self centered we can become in regard to it.

That list strengthens my assurance that there are still plenty of people who can submerge their own desires, forget themselves, become wrapped up in the welfare and happiness of other people. Thank God for such folks! That list makes me think of the stone above the grave of a man who lived entirely for himself—"Here lies a million dollars worth of insatiable craving for money" and wonder if such a stone—with several of the zeroes omitted, could not be put above my own. When we get the gifts we want, it means a merry Christmas for us. If she gets the gifts she wants, it will mean a merry Christmas for about a thousand others. In the midst of hate and jealousy and selfishness and dishonesty there still stands thoughtfulness and love.

By the way—what do you want for Christmas?

Cloverleaf Club Plans Benefit

The Cloverleaf club of Saint Anthony hospital is sponsoring one large benefit each year to aid in modernizing the charity wards of the hospital. The club was organized last April and has a membership of about 500, which includes active members, junior members, patron members and associate members.

Mrs. W. L. Ohmert, president of the Cloverleaf club, has chosen Saturday, Sept. 23, the first day of autumn, as the day on which the benefit will be given at the Neil House. Cards, games and dancing will furnish the entertainment to which the public is invited.

ANNOUNCE WINNERS

The St. Aloysius' Mothers' Blanket club is announcing the winners for the first three weeks in September. Evelyn Lee, Sept. 1; Miss Slattery, Sept. 8; Lucille Lowther, Sept. 14.

The next meeting will be Friday (today), Sept. 22, at the home of Mrs. V. Hannigan, 283 S. Richardson-av, at 2:30 p. m.

Some Subjects To Write About?

If you want to write some verses
And can't find a subject to use,
I will offer a few suggestions
Which I hope you won't refuse.
Write about the war with Spain
In eighteen ninety eight,
And tell about the sinking ship
With its load of human freight.

Captain Kidd and Jesse James
And the trail of the lonesome pine,
It's a long way to Tipperary
To that sweetheart girl of mine.
The house at the side of the road
And be a friend to man,
There's a name that's never spoken
Guess it if you can.

Two little girls in blue
I will whistle and wait for Kate,
After the ball is over
And the hour was getting late
All about Pure Oil
And the progress they have made
Their broadcast on the air
And about the sports parade.

The south before the war
Nellie Bly and Casey Jones
Bury me not on the lone prairie
Among the buzzards and bleached bones,
There's a rainbow round my shoulder
In the shade of the old apple tree
On the sidewalks of New York
In a land that's brave and free.

Back Home In West Virginia

Few pleasures compare with that of a trip back into the mountains of West Virginia such as we enjoyed the past week.

To begin with, it is home. Eighteen years of associations with the hospitalities afforded by West Virginians, and the West Virginia hills could do little other than leave a lasting impression of the fact that there is something fine in people who live close to Mother Nature and most certainly these people have the rarest of such opportunities.

Industrially West Virginia is pushing itself far to the front and today finds the Kanawah valley a scene of unprecedented activity. Coal, electricity from water power, and natural resources are making it possible for West Virginia to provide much that all the rest of the country needs.

And in the industrial section the scene has changed and numerous new plants have sprung up in recent years. But far into the hills and mountains the scene is practically as Mother Nature laid it and somewhat the same cast is presenting the same daily performance . . . and happily so.

If all the world is a stage we must but observe how fortunate it is to be able to play a small role in that sector wherein the scenes are changed by spring and fall rather than by bombs and destruction.

After listening to radio reports and reading news of events abroad there is a deep feeling present as one looks out over these rocky gorges down some 1,400 feet into a winding river valley below and is forced to reflect that God has blessed America.

John Hess, erstwhile Record reporter, believes he should go far in politics by adopting the slogan, "Get out of the mess with Hess."

Two More Days For Hitler

We pass on the following fantastic tale as reported by Pat Shrock of The Greenville Daily Times:

A Dayton woman was visiting in a local home over the week-end. She told of a feature story which appeared in a Dayton newspaper. It went like this:

A Dayton traveling man was enroute home from a northern Ohio city. As he drove along he saw a car which had slipped off the highway and into a ditch. Stopping, he offered assistance to the occupants of the stranded auto and helped get it out of the ditch.

The driver of the machine, a man, admitted that he had no money to pay for the assistance, which the traveling man said he wouldn't have accepted, any way.

The occupants of the ditched car were gypsies. One woman offered to tell the traveling man's fortune by reading his palm. He permitted her to look at his hand; he sort of laughed it off when she said:

"As surely as a man dies in your car today, so will Adolf Hitler die before the end of September."

Resuming his journey to Dayton, the traveling man became more and more concerned over the gypsy's strange prediction. He drove with extreme care to avoid accident. Finally he reached home safely and placed his car in the garage, entered the house, greeted his family, and sat down to read the evening paper.

Came a knock at the door. A neighbor woman asked him if he would take her husband, who was critically ill, to a hospital. Naturally he consented.

AND THE MAN DIED IN HIS CAR ON THE WAY TO THE HOSPITAL!

That traveling man awaits the waning of September with strange emotions, and scans headlines and doesn't miss a radio newscast from Europe.

Home From New York

Miss Janice Davis

Miss Janice Davis, a graduate of West High school in June of 1939, will return home next week after an all-summer engagement with the Gay Foster girls at the Roxie theatre in New York City.

Miss Davis was a student of the Stella Becker studio and was active in the programs and entertainment presented by West High. She will spend a few days vacationing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Davis, 130 N. Warren-av, before returning to New York for another engagement.

Nazarenes Erase Debt; Plan Building

A $4,000 mortgage will be burned in the morning service of the Warren Avenue Nazarene church Sunday when Dr. Roy T. Williams, general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, brings a special message. At the same time that the mortgage was cleared off Rev. Harris B. Anthony, pastor of the church, announced that plans are under way to begin work on a new church building.

The new building to be constructed of either stone or brick will accommodate approximately 1,500 people. The present structure with 600 seats is inadequate for Sunday school and church services.

During the two years that Rev. Anthony has been at the church 156 members have been added to the church roll. At the same time more than $4,000 was raised to pay off the church debt.

The Sunday service commemorating the event will begin at 10:30.

These Cowboys Meet South Today At 3:15

Pictured above are members of the current West High school football squad who will clash at Magly Field with the pesky South Bulldogs this afternoon. It will be the opening City league fray for both teams. The kick-off will be at 3:15 p. m.

Buck-Bulldog Contest Looms As Toss-Up

With two successive nocturnal wins under their belts in as many starts, over Newark and Springfield, West High's battling Buckaroos will open their home season this afternoon at 3:15 when the South Bulldog waddles into Magly Field in all its glory. The contest, the third for both teams, will also be the opening game for each in the City league race.

South will provide the locals with some tough opposition. They always do. In 1936 West's city championship team was edged by the Bulldogs 7-6; a year later the Cowboys' undefeated squad walloped the Southmen 20-7 to win the title. Last season the Bucks led 7-0 with minutes to play when two quick scoring thrusts gave South a 14-7 verdict.

Have Good Records

In comparing the play of the two squads to date the contest looms as a toss-up. South walloped St. Marys 33-0, and last week lost a wild and woolly fracas to a rough and tough Ironton team, 19-16. Meanwhile the Cowboys have encountered little difficulty in defeating Newark 19-0 and Springfield 12-0. But past performances mean little when worthy gridders of the two schools meet on the gridiron.

Leading the Bulldog attack this afternoon will be one Clarence "Pee-Wee" Nonnemacher, a diminutive backfield ace with a world of speed and all-around play. And on one flank will be another of their key players, Floyd Taylor, the other co-captain with Nonnemacher. These two should make plenty of trouble for the Bucks.

Plenty of Class

Over at Charles Evans stadium at Springfield last Friday evening the Buckaroos showed plenty of class in taming the Wildcats. Only one point was plain to be seen by the 7500 fans gathered for the game; Springfield was no match for West. The Cowboys shoved Springfield all over the field in the first two periods, and once drove to the enemies' 12-yard line, only to lose the ball on a fumble.

But came the start of the second half and the Powell-av representatives really went to work. The Wildcats fumbled the kick-off and West recovered on Springfield's 15. After Williams had picked up two, the Wildcats intercepted a Buck pass and booted to the 24-yard marker, one of their few bad punts. Carter immediately galloped 18 yards, being forced out on the six, and carried the pigskin over on the next play.

Williams Counts

A few minutes later West was knocking at the pay-off door again as Carter, Bell and Williams each took turns in lugging the oval to the four. Here the Wildcats stiffened and four plunges into the line by Bell and Williams failed to pay off. Springfield punted out, as they did most of the time when they had possession of the ball, and

Hilltoppers Favor Neutral Position

Outstanding in the week's news throughout the entire country (possibly second in importance to the Cincinnati Reds' pennant drive, on the Hilltop) is the neutrality question now before Congress. The first point, and one that has no opposition, is to keep America out of war. The question of how to do this and keep all satisfied is now up for debate.

Herewith the Record presents quotations from several Hilltop persons. The main clause in each seems to be "keep our boys home."

Harry Fleming, City Hall employe: "There are several points concerning the neutrality question that I do not understand. Like Senator William Borah I would have to read the motion to understand the entire set-up. However, I am firmly against sending our boys over there to fight in a European war."

Dr. H. H. Reighley, principal, West High school: "I am in favor of the United States protecting her interests but I maintain that we keep a strict neutrality."

Robert Draper, attorney, candidate for school board: "I don't think Congress should change the neutrality law. Although the cash and carry plan would stimulate business it would soon lead us into war with Germany. If we are to fight on England's side, the government should sell munitions to England. On the other hand, if you sell to one, to remain neutral you must sell to the other. And through it all I say that we should remain neutral. With belligerent ships at our ports the war would be carried right into our country."

Harry Hopwood, attorney: "The U. S. should assist England and France directly with food and materials, but no men, to end international land thievery. Hitler must occupy Napoleon's suite on the island of St. Helena.

Hilltop Boy Wins Schlorship

Among the five Columbus freshmen matriculating at Capital university who received scholarships in recognition of superior academic work during their high school careers was one West High graduate, Donald Bachman, 150 S. Warren-av. He is a graduate of the class of 1939.

Don Bachman

Bachman was starred in many musical productions at the school and also belonged to the Student Council, debate team, Latin club, "L" society, and the National Honor society.

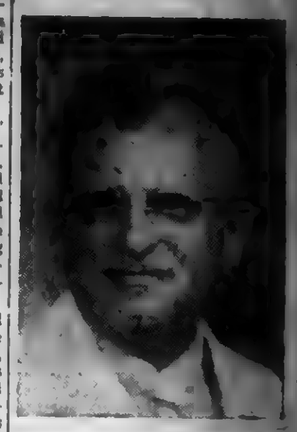
Students at Capital began their courses over a week ago, but Hilltoppers attending Ohio State university will not begin classes until Tuesday, following the annual "freshman week" program. More than 60 students from the Hilltop are expected to enter Ohio State this fall.

Hoge Installs New Pastor Sunday Eve

The installation of Rev. Alfred J. Wold as pastor of the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church will take place Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at a special service under the auspices of Columbus Presbytery.

Rev. Wold was extended a unanimous call by the congregation of the Hoge Memorial church last May upon the retirement of Rev. Harry C. Hutchison, and has been serving the church since the early part of July.

Dr. P. Martin Baker, pastor of Northminster church and Moderator of Columbus Presbytery, will preside, assisted by Rev. T. L. Wilkinson, Rev. H. F. White, Rev. G. L. Willets and Rev. T. L. MacDonald. Special numbers will be given by the choir.



Graduate of Macalester college, St. Paul, Minn., and the Presbyterian Theological seminary, Chicago, Ill., Rev. Mr. Wold took graduate work at Garret Biblical Institute and Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. He formerly held pastorates in Minneapolis, Minn., and Chicago, Ill. The service is open to the public.

Sulzberger Celebrates 25th Year In Business

A quarter of a century of service to the Hilltop and vicinity was completed this month by Dr. Fred L. Sulzberger, local optometrist, who first began practicing his profession here in the latter part of September, 1914.

The cheerful "Doctor Fred" graduated from the Needles Institute of Optometry Sept. 15, 1920. Prior to that time he had attended Highland Avenue school and Central High school and had operated a jewelry store which had opened here in 1914. Along with his jewelry selling Dr. Sulzberger had practiced in the optical field.

Becoming intensely interested in this practice, he went to the Needles Institute in Kansas City, Mo., one of the few optical schools at that time, and there obtained his degree. Coming back to Columbus, Dr. Sulzberger began his present practice a few years later, 1914 to be exact.

Fred Sulzberger

The sports-loving doctor has had three establishments since he began his practice. First stop was the corner of Oakley-av and W. Broad-st, the present site of the Rivoli theatre. Later he moved to the location now occupied by the Robbins Five and Ten store, and last and final stop was his present office located at 2417 W. Broad-st.

Dr. Sulzberger, who now resides at 2948 Crescent-dr, recalls the time when W. Broad-st was a muddy road, was born in Columbus in 1889 "one day in June," and was one of the first students to attend Highland Avenue school. He remembers when W. Broad Street school was built, when W. Broad-st was paved, and when a log cabin occupied the corner of Whittethorne and W. Broad-sts, where Perry Davis' station is now situated.

He was married 16 years ago, has two children, Thomas Frederick, 14, and Betty Ann, 13 . . . is an ardent fisherman, hunter, and garden worker . . . follows football and baseball closely . . . attends OSU grid contests often . . . is fun-loving member of HBMA, American Legion, Camp Chase post; belongs to Glenwood M. E. church and Westgate Temple of Masonic Order . . . has been prominent in Hilltop improvements . . . a worthy Hilltopper.

Howard Miller Injured In Hunting Accident

Reported as the first Columbus hunter wounded on the opening day of squirrel season, Howard G. Miller, 229 Binns-blvd, sustained injuries from gun shot wounds.

Hunting with a companion near Newark Monday, Miller was preparing to return home. He was near his automobile when struck by 70 shotgun pellets fired from a distance of about 40 yards by a Zanesville hunter.

The wounds were superficial and his condition is not considered serious, according to officials at Mt. Carmel hospital where Miller was taken after the accident.

Gun Shoot Planned Sunday

Plans for the holding of two special shooting sessions by the Clearview Gun club, recently organized local group, were announced this week by the president, O. G. Seeds, 136 Columbian-av. The first will be the fall tournament to be held next Sunday, Oct. 8, while the other will be a "hunter's special" to take place three weeks later, with the Sullivant Avenue airport as the scene of activities in each instance.

The first fall tournament of the club will get under way at 10 a. m. The 10 bird merchandise events program will begin at that time. The second part, including 16 yard and handicap targets, with the handicap based on a 16 yard score or the known ability, will begin at 1 p. m. Both will be 25 bird events. Other events are carded during the afternoon and a trophy will be awarded for the high gun total on 150 birds.

The second program, to be held Oct. 29, will also begin at 10 a. m., lasting throughout the day. On this particular day no trap-shooters will be permitted to take part in the shooting, it was made known this week. Those participating must be strictly amateurs. There will be no restrictions on the gun used or the type of shells used. Those not having guns will be supplied at the clubhouse at no charge. Shells will be sold to shooters at cost.

POT-LUCK DINNER

The Personal Workers class of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church will have a pot-luck dinner at the church at 12:30, Monday, Oct. 2.

Following this service the church will observe Holy Communion.

Beginning Oct. 23 and continuing through Nov. 5, special services will be conducted in the church under the direction of H. Max Good. These services are open to all. Cottage prayer meetings have been scheduled Monday and Friday evenings in addition to the regular Wednesday evening prayer service. The following sites have been chosen for [illegible]

Letters To The Editor

ON NEUTRALITY

There is no such animal as pure neutrality, except to the danger of extinction. Every act, every word that is uttered, is for or against something. We may say that we adopt a principle, but if someone chooses to wilfully violate that principle, then we must either fight for it or submit into absorption of another and different principle. There is of course the possibility that the principle upon which one stands is basically wrong.

The question before the American people at this time in relation to the conflict now raging in Europe and Asia is one to be faced courageously. Although not especially of our own making, we have had a part in it up to now. We have been shipping supplies to Japan in her conquest of China, and we have shipped an enormous number of airplane engines to Germany. Now that the forces we have helped to create have been unleashed, are we going to get a bowl of nice clear water, and wash our hands? Up to now every nation that has proclaimed its neutrality has in effect helped one side or the other by so doing. Take the case of Italy. Only a few days before a state of war existed Mussolini declared that if Germany went to war, Italy would march. Let no one be misled by Italy's neutrality. It was of more help to Germany for the moment than one million soldiers. In order for us to understand with what kind of forces we are dealing, it is significant for us to consider that both Germany and Russia had treaties of non-aggression with the very nation they have ravished, and it is also vitally important to us as a people with our background, that both Hitler and Stalin have ignored spiritual values, and have virtually destroyed the churches in their respective countries.

Congress has been called into special session to debate our position of so-called neutrality, a tenable place for us to stand, with the least danger to life and limb and sovereignty. Debate should be free and above board, and from men in Congress it should be worthy of the position they hold. Merely straining at the vocal chords and frothing at the mouth will not suffice.

It isn't any secret, neither will it change the picture to say that a very large majority of American people stand with Britain and France in this issue even though in some particular they may have erred. The philosophies involved in the opposing forces would find us arrayed against the arrogance and insolence of the Hitler prototype. If we fail to support Britain and France with our material resources now, we may be compelled to go the whole way later, and possibly against overwhelming odds. Under the present arrangements we are allies of Germany and Russia.

There is one other possible course. Complete severance of relationship with all foreign governments. There are those who believe we have the elements of self sustenance within the borders of our own country. A policy of complete isolation would mean a different brand of internal management than we have shown to be capable of, or suffer the danger of revolution within, which would be worse even than war with an external foe.

O. H. CRAFT

Edidtr, The Record:

The following is a copy of a letter that has been mailed to Mayor Gessaman. We will appreciate having it reproduced in your paper.

Honorable Myron B. Gessaman,
Mayor
City Hall
Columbus, Ohio
Dear Sir:

You have on many occasions made the emphatic statement that you are running for re-election on your past record. If you are really sincere, shouldn't you explain your past record to the people of Columbus?

Representing a large block of voters who have not as yet decided how they will vote in November, we are asking you to please answer the following questions:

1. Why, if you believe in law enforcement, did you allow every type of gambling a free hand during the first three and one-half years of your administration?

2. Why, after allowing the city to run wide open for three and one-half years, did you just before the primaries start a vigorous campaign against certain number writers and other places of vice, while allowing a few favorites to operate as you did in the past?

3. Why did every type of gambler and gambling house so loyally support you for mayor four years ago?

4. What has become of all the money collected from the gamblers during your term of office? Newspapers report as high as $15,000.00 a month in fines. Your book "Progress in Municipal Government," published just before the primaries, shows only $38,487 in 1937 and $186,430 in 1938, while the municipal court records show $425,298 in 1938. We would like for you to explain these figures.

5. Why did you promise the voters four years ago to operate the city within its budget, and then within two weeks after you assumed the office of mayor, come out and ask the people to vote for a three mill levy?

6. After the people voted down your three mill levy, why did you lay off police and firemen, board up our engine houses and bring disgrace to our city, if it wasn't designed to frighten the people into voting for your next levy of two and three-tenths mills?

7. After the voters passed your two and three-tenths levy, why didn't you endeavor to keep your promise and operate the city within its budget?

8. The city deficit, 1937 to 1938, jumped from $377,041 to $480,172. We would like you to explain this.

9. In 1938-1939 the tax payers have paid $550,000 in sewer tax rentals. Is it right to soak some tax payers and give others a 15 per cent reduction?

10. Why did you promise better street lighting four years ago and not fulfill your promise?

11. Why take credit for a low real estate tax, pure drinking water, a leading convention city and many things of a like nature that Columbus enjoyed long before you became mayor?

12. Why, during your term in the state legislature, did you vote for the three per cent sales tax and against the income tax bill, thereby throwing the tax burden on the shoulders of the working man?

13. Why did you vote in favor of soaking the small loan borrower three per cent a month on chattel loans?

14. Why did you vote against free school books? Against eight hours a day work for certain state employees? Against H. B. No. 330 to protect coal purchases? Against H. B. No. 68 to regulate power and light rates?

15. Why did you while in the legislature vote against every bill designed to help the working man?

We believe the above fifteen questions are fair and honest, and request from you fair and honest answers.

Respectfully,
Martha Sanderson

Don't Throw Fuel Out Your Window, Dealer Says

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw coal out the window, says W. H. Jones of Jones Lumber and Coal. Yet that is what a great many residents of Columbus are doing every winter if they do not have window conditioning, he declares.

Window conditioning means any modern form of double glazing, either storm sash or prefabricated double panes. This treatment of a residence's window areas has been shown in scientific tests to save 20 to 30 percent in fuel consumption, he points out, so that in effect any householder who does not have it is tossing coal away.

Jones cited tests by heating and ventilating experts at the University of Illinois, University of Wisconsin and elsewhere which demonstrated that window conditioning saves coal, oil or gas, makes more even temperature possible, eliminates drafts and prevents fogging of windows and undesirable condensation of moisture.

Results of a survey in 15 states among home owners who have window conditioned their homes in the past year showed that fuel savings of 26.5 were averaged. In addition to this financial return on their investment, those interviewed reported that they felt more than repaid, aside from the savings involved, by the increased comfort and cleanliness.

Experiments conducted at University of Wisconsin and University or Illinois further substantiate the economies possible through double glazing. It was shown that in many sections this form of insulation would pay for itself in two seasons.

"One of the most desirable results of window conditioning is that it keeps out dirt," Mr. Jones said. "Double glazing prevents the entry of soot and thus cuts down laundry and cleaning bills and makes housework easier."

West High School through its Athletic Committee extends to people of Columbus and particularly the Hilltop an invitation to participate in this year's athletic program at West High School. We have appreciated greatly your help in the past. Now with some debt still owing on the stadium we need it more than ever.

The coaches have done an efficient job of training; the teams look good; school enthusiasm is running high. Join with us this fall in the most enjoyable sport of all and enable us to provide the best equipment and the best athletic plant for our students that money can buy.

Members of the "W" Association may secure tickets to games at half price by presenting their current membership card at the box office (lobby West High School) before 3:30 p. m. on the day of the game.

Hilltop Construction Continues At Steady Pace Through Fall

Hilltop home construction has surged upwards in the past few weeks as part and parcel of a city-wide building boom.

Charles W. DeVoss, Harrisburg, will have work started immediately on the construction of a one-family frame home on Westmoor-av. Edwin E. Pruitt is the architect.

William Ireland, 810 Chestershire-rd, will have work started soon on the construction of a one-family frame dwelling at 731 Wiltshire-rd.

Orr & Day, 2975 W. Broad-st, will have work started at once on the construction of a single family stone and frame house on Palmetto-av. Orr & Day drew the plans and are the contractors.

Plans are nearing completion for the construction of a one-family frame and stone residence on Powell-av. R. E. Rusk is the contractor.

Howard L. Pennell, 418 Townsend-av, will have work started at once on the construction of a single family stone and frame dwelling on Westgate-av. The architect is E. B. Fling, E. 6 Welch Construction Corp. is the contractor.

M. P. Entwisle, 347 S. Hague-av, will have work started immediately on the construction of a single family frame dwelling at 100 N. Westgate-av. Arthur Dupre drew the plans. Larcomb Construction Co. is the contractor.

The part of the storeroom occupied by the Martin W. Sellier dry goods store at 2404 W. Broad-st was re-leased for a period of 10 years recently. The owner of the storeroom is Lucy A. Hamblin, 135 Binns-blvd.

Glenwood Shelter House Notes

Supervisors of Glenwood park are urging Hilltop residents, young and old, to make use of the many educational and recreational facilities made available at the park.

At Glenwood clean sports may be enjoyed under trained supervision. The city recreation department and the WPA pick the supervisors from hundreds of applicants. Those accepted are then sent to training schools.

An educational program is also carried on at Glenwood. Music, art, crafts, and dancing are among the many subjects taught free of charge. Anyone may enroll in these classes.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock Glenwood Bantams will play Holton park at McKinley field.

Next Friday Glenwood will feature a WPA orchestra.

A spelling contest for kiddies between ages six and 10 will be held Thursday. Prizes will be awarded the winners.

BUCKS—

Carter picked up two to the 34-yard line. Williams broke through the line on the next play, traveled 15 yards, and lateralled to Russ Alban who went to the three. Williams took it over on the next play. Carter again failed to make the extra point.

This concluded the scoring for the evening although Bell again pounded over the Springfield goal in the final period, only to have the play called back for backfield in motion, and a 5-yard penalty given the locals. A pass, Williams to Carter, was dropped by the latter over the goal minutes later, and Springfield took over, making two first downs and driving to the West 20 before they lost 15 yards on an attempted pass. The Bucks took the pumpkin and drove from their 20 to the Wildcats' 25 on successive plays ere the second team took over festivities and relieved the tired first-stringers.

Bucks Outgain Cats

Some comparison may be made between the two clubs by statistics. The Bucks gained 255 yards by rushing and had a net gain of 240 as compared to 63 yards rushing and a net of 54 for Springfield. West tallied 14 first downs to 3 for their opponents and each team completed two passes. The Bucks had no individual star, although Carter undoubtedly played one of the best games of his career and Al Williams, his running mate, was a close second in the yardage gained department. On the line Hart and Westerman broke through consistently on defense while Garnes and Carpenter, along with Ned Bell, played steady games. Mack continued to show improvement as the signal barker, and Russ Alban's work was his best to date.

To Be Installed

Rev. Alfred J. Wold

Rev. Wold, pastor of the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church, will be installed Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Adult School Registration Opens Monday Evening

With the announcement that all who are interested in attending should register at once, officials of the Ohio State University adult evening school announced this week that classes will begin the same night of registration Monday evening, Oct. 9.

Because of the material reduction in the aid which the WPA can give this year, the university board of trustees voted in their September meeting that an incidental fee of one dollar per person could be charged. Upon payment of this fee the students will receive a card which will admit them to all the classes which they wish to attend.

The schedule of classes for this quarter has not yet been completed but several new courses are being planned along with a large majority of the courses which have been given in the past.

Further information concerning the school may be secured by calling station 564 at the university, UN. 3184, or by inquiring at the information desk in room 201, Derby hall, Monday, Oct. 9, or during the first four evenings of the week after that date.

ATTENDANT ROBBED

W. C. Moler, 594 Larcomb-av, attendant at the Sun Oil filling station, 714 W. Broad-st, was held up early Tuesday morning by two young, well dressed bandits. The pair escaped with $70 and a money changer.

More trees were felled for timber in Germany in 1938 than in any previous year, the result being a definite blow to timber conservation rules.

AN UNDERSTANDING WIFE

It is nice if your wife don't cause you strife
And not grumble around or pout,
But accept her fate and act sedate
When she knows you won't catch many trout.

A wife with knowledge that was gleaned in college
Don't expect a very large crop,
She does no yearning for she is very discerning
And will fix up a meal of pork chop.

When you come back from your fishing shack
You may come with a limp and a hop,
An understanding wife will cause no strife
But fix you a warm place to flop.

When you come back from your fishing shack
Your engine may be trying to stew,
This is my theme—we will take out the steam
If we take out the carbon for you.

Revival Meeting At Friends Church

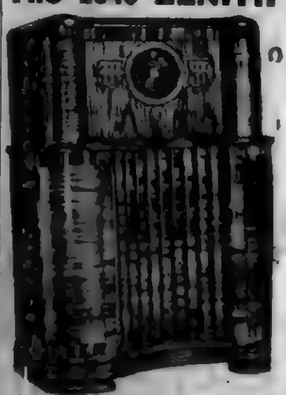
Rev. Herbert A. Handy

Revival services will be conducted at Highland Avenue Friends church from Oct. 8 to Oct. 22 under the direction of Rev. Handy, pastor of the church. There will be special singing. Services will be held each evening except Saturday, beginning at 7:30.

Waste Space Can Be Put To Use

Waste space upstairs can easily be fashioned into a modern laundry, brightened up with paint and hung with some of those attractive low-priced curtains that are always bobbing up in such variety. If you read floor plans of modern houses you have discovered the growing trend for off-the-kitchen-laundries. Equipment designed for such rooms includes washers that pump themselves empty.

Ironing has always been an upstairs operation, possibly because it is easier to transfer ironed clothes to proper storing places without danger of over-mussing. Many ironers have table tops that serve a real purpose in the small kitchen, and there are washers tailored to kitchen size, too.



Catches Garfish
Chillicothe—Frank Oyer's trout line in the Scioto river cast of the city yielded nothing but a one-eyed garfish when he raised it recently, after baiting it with live minnows. The fish showed no sign of ever having but one eye and was 27 inches long and weighed a pound and a half.

Alumni Association Boosts Draper

Members of the West Alumni association are interested in having a Hilltop man serve on the Board of Education and so have endorsed the candidacy of Robert Draper for that position.

Draper is the only candidate for school board who lives west of the Scioto river and so Hilltoppers and West Siders can well afford to give him their hearty support.

West Side schools have had much more attention and consideration since these communities have been represented on the Board of Education. It is well to insure these good things for our schools by having a voice in this governing body.

Hasty Fire Runs May Make Waste

Fire trucks passing out Broad street at a speed of 55 miles per hour are providing distinct hazards at intersections.

There seems to be very little in the way of value to be had by such a speed of a large fire truck or of that of the chief's car. But a very little bit of time can be saved in the extra speed at which these trucks are being driven, and certainly the hazards presented far exceed any property damage that might be done by fire.

A more moderate speed of the fire trucks may mean lives saved.

Rally Should Not Be Rowdy

West High students came very near conducting a rally one evening last week that might have taken on proportions of one of the year before when they caused considerable disturbance. But the event was halted before it got out of control.

The spirit that is shown at West and the enthusiasm they have is something we have hammered for in this column for some ten years and now that it's present it should be properly conducted.

There is a very definite place for this spirit and all the steam the students have should be let out at the opportune time but most certainly it is not fitting that they should circulate through the business section and in and out of stores and theatres and cause themselves to become a nuisance. Yes; sir, we're all for this fine spirit but let's be certain it is fine.

Giving Recognition Where It Is Due

We always have been for giving the football teams, basketball teams, etc., of West High their due recognition. And yearly the Hilltop Business Men's association and the athletic committee so honor these lads who have given their time and energy in presenting the school with good teams.

But for some time we have contended that a large group of students in the school are being overlooked. We have reference to that group that publishes the school paper, the dramatics classes and others who deserve recognition for scholastic ability and accomplishment.

The West High Alumni association, too, thinks well of a plan whereby proper recognition can be accorded deserving students in the extra curricular and scholastic fields. The organization can be complimented on any step in this direction.

Alumni Start Drive

A membership drive in the West Alumni association got under way last Thursday evening when the council met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ferguson.

A Buff and Brown team will line up in the contest with the losers providing an evening of entertainment for the winners.

The Buff side is headed by Robert Marvin Draper and the following are workers on this team: Mrs. Rose Ferguson, Jack Shedrick, Mrs. Clyde Moore, George Hardy, Mrs. Jos. Briggs, Dorothy Clark, Mrs. Edna Watts, C. C. Hartley, Lovia Mae Cranston, Martha Rustemeyer, Marverite Mohn, Robert Ferguson, Robert Franklin.

The Browns are headed by Richard Hemmerley and assisted by Joe Briggs, Mrs. Elma Waddington, Ed. Ferguson, Ray Clark, Evelyn Griffith, Tink Grubbs, Sally Link, Edgar House, Bill Ferguson, Ed. Miller, George Jones, Marvin Clark, Fred Watts.

Paving To Start Oct. 15

The $40,000 project involving the removal of street car tracks on Sullivant-av between Central and Whitethorne-avs and the repavement of the street center after the tracks have been removed will begin about Oct. 15, according to word received this week from the city chief engineer's office.

The city will bear approximately $4,500 of the cost of the program, but according to recent estimates, nearly $2,000 of this will be realized from the sale of the rails. Although final approval on WPA aid has not been received from officials it is felt that help will be forthcoming from that source.

It is hoped that next year the improvements may be extended on beyond Whitethorne-av, but whether or not this will materialize depends on WPA aid, city officials said. They said further that the ideal situation would be the repavement of the entire street, which, because of depleted finances, is out of the question at the present. Since most of the traffic difficulties are caused by the tracks in the middle of the street, the carrying out of the present program will be a substantial improvement.

The repavement of Sullivant-av has long been agitated by Hilltop residents and is a major objective in the four point program of the Hilltop Business Men's association.

Laughridge Rites Held Monday

Funeral services for Rev. J. Wilfred Laughridge, retired Baptist clergyman, who died Saturday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Maud Jennings, 45 N. Powell-av, were held at 8 p. m. Monday in the Spears chapel. Further services and burial took place at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at Waynesburg, Pa.

Rev. Laughridge retired from a Duluth, Minn., pastorate several years ago and came to Columbus to make his home with his sister. He attended Hillcrest Baptist church.

A brother, D. G. C. Laughridge, and a niece, Mrs. Mary Stroenider, both of Waynesburg, also survive.

Quartet Has Low Cost Trip To Colorful West

William I. Monaghan, 2915 Olive-st, and Dale Jenkins, 38 N. Chase-av, accompanied by Donald Doty, Westerville, and Harry Fabert, Lewis Center, recently returned from an extended trip through the west to California.

On the trip they visited Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Reif (Marian Monaghan) of Rochelle, Ill., Chicago, the Bad lands and Black hills of South Dakota, Yellowstone national park, Salt Lake City, Lake Tahoe, San Francisco and the San Francisco exposition.

They saw Yosemite National park which they believe to be the most beautiful of the parks they visited. Their longest stop was at Los Angeles, where they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanders. They went through Hollywood and the west coast colleges. On the return trip they stopped at Boulder dam, Zion National park, Bryce Canyon National park, Grand Canyon, the petrified forest in Arizona, and continued home through Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and Missouri.

The trip extended over four weeks and 7,000 miles were covered. A total of $125 was spent for gasoline and oil, at an average expense of 1.6 cents per mile.

Mr. Monaghan received his B. S. degree in business administration following the summer quarter at OSU, just completed, and will go to Cincinnati to begin work on Nov. 1. Mr. Jenkins received his master's degree from OSU at the same time in biology.

150 Awards Presented At Honor Court

Amid fanfare of trumpets last Thursday evening in the auditorium of West High school, bedecked with many colored flags and seething with proud parents and eager young men in uniforms, the Boy Scouts of the southwest district held their court of honor. Troop 46, West junior high school, was the host troop.

After the invocation, presented by P. A. "Pop" Campbell, well-known Hilltopper and scout enthusiast, C. C. Hartley, district scout advancement chairman, delivered the welcoming address. Marley Sutton read the governor's citation standings and the district flag was presented by Tom Boardman, field executive.

The Dionnes at least were born in the same mohth!

But Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Byers, 554 Nashobs-av, may claim the distinction of having twin daughters born in different months.

Twin Theodora Ann will celebrate her birthday on the last day in September; twin Dorothea Elizabeth will celebrate hers on the first day in October. The former was born at 11:28 p. m. Saturday; the latter at 12:26 a. m. Sunday, each on different days in different months.

Born in Grant hospital, each infant weighed four pounds and 13 ounces.

It's Off To N. York For Gracebelle

Miss Day continued to New York by train Tuesday, where she will fulfill a three months' engagement at the Waldorf-Astoria with Benny Goodman's band.

A graduate of West high school, Miss Day has played extended engagements in all the major cities of this country and in Europe.

Bucks Edge South: Seek Fourth Win

Playing courageous, heads-up football, reminiscent of the Cowboy City championship clubs of 1936 and '37, West High's Buckaroos opened their City league sked with a hard-earned 3-0 triumph over the South Bulldogs at Magly field Friday afternoon. Today the Cowhands will play host to the Columbus Academy eleven in what should be victory number four for the locals.

The only undefeated, untied and unscored on team in the city, the Bucks have edged Newark, Springfield and South in successive contests. Included in the array of grid talent to be presented by the Academy lads this afternoon will be two Hilltop boys, Harry Hopwood, 2653 Sullivant-av, and Robert Davis, 97 Powhatan-av, left and right guards respectively on the visiting eleven.

Triple-Threat Star

Another star gridder who will attract the attention of West fans is Chuck Downey, triple-threat back for the Nelson-rd squad. Downey didn't perform in the opener with Bremen last week, but Kientz, subbing for him, scored the only touchdown as the Bremenites lost a 7-0 decision.

By virtue of the South win, the Bucks are now tied with Aquinas, victor over East, 13-7, for the City loop lead. North and Central, both having played non-league opposition last week, will engage in the headline league feature Friday night on the Riversiders' gridiron. It will be the North offensive maneuvers pitted against the strong defensive strength of the Pirates.

Line Dominates Play

Star of the South-West game was the West iron man, Ned Bell, who tallied the lone Buck touchdown in the third period after a sustained march of 53 yards by the Buckaroos. Principal gain in this scoring drive was a 23-yard gain on an end-around play by Bill Hart, reformed back. Bell scored from the South six behind perfect blocking.

The other two points were garnered by the locals on a South safety. Preceding the West touchdown Bell punted out of bounds on the South 10. Nonnemacher, South ace, elected to pass; it was incomplete. Again it was a pass and before he could get it away he was swarmed under by Westerman, Garnes, Carpenter and Hart, all of whom played well on the line. The principal defensive stand by the locals was made in the second period when the Southmen drove to the West two, only to be hurled back by a hard-charging Buckaroo forward wall. The Cowboy line completely dominated the play.

President

Dr. H. C. Shetrone

Unanimously elected to the presidency of the Garden club council of Franklin county at the annual meeting Monday evening was Dr. H. C. Shetrone, 75 N. Chase-av, director of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society and its museum at Fifteenth-av and High-st.

Earlier this year Dr. Shetrone celebrated his twenty-sixth year at the museum. He was born in Millersport, served in Cuba during the Spanish-American war, attended Denison university, has written many scientific papers and explored scores of mounds left by the old mound-builders and for a time served on the staff of the New York Sun.

Impressed By Celebrites, Says Art Bellar

Arthur J. Bellar, retiring commander of Camp Chase post of American Legion, returned from Chicago last Thursday, where he attended the national convention of the legion as a representative of the local post.

Bellar was especially impressed with speeches made by General Hugh S. Johnson who was "doggoned good" and Henry Ford who got "an exceptionally fine hand." Mary Pickford and Ann Sheridan were present, and Man Mountain Dean was sergeant-at-arms, he said.

In Hospital

C. J. Kohn, Hilltop funeral director at 2456 W. Broad-st, who has been confined in Mt. Carmel hospital during the past week, is "coming along fine," according to attendants.

Hilltoppers Vs. Hilltoppers

It'll be Hilltopper versus Hilltopper this afternoon at Magly Field when the undefeated West High Buckaroos tangle with the undefeated Columbus Academy eleven, the game being scheduled to begin at 3:15.

On the Academy roster are two veteran guards, both outstanding in the 7-0 win scored by the Nelson-rd squad in its opener with Bremen last week. Performing in the center of the Academy line will be Robert Davis, 97 Powhatan-av, the son of Herbert Davis, of the Lewis and Noon Coal Co., and Harry Hopwood, 2653 Sullivant-av, son of Harry Hopwood, Hilltop attorney.

The average weight of the two lads will be about 165 pounds, the Davis lad topping the scales at close to 180 and the Hopwood boy scaling 178. Opposing them will be Les Westerman and Les Brandenberger, West guards, who each weigh about 180.

Rome Incorporation Plans Delayed

Plans for the incorporation of Rome as a city, which was being sponsored by the Rome Community club, were halted temporarily this week, according to Rome representatives.

Members of the incorporation committee include A. W. Kimes, Jack McAndrews, William Unglaub, Lawrence Karnes and O. H. Craft, had circulated petitions recently which were to be presented to the township trustees who in turn would submit the question of incorporation to the voters.

Due to the conflict of opinion among attorneys, however, the committee has decided not to submit the proposal at the present time. It is thought that the new corporation might be assessed for the construction of the new highway now being planned.

Plans for construction have been completed by the state highway department, and according to department attaches, are now ready to be sent to the capital for official confirmation. It is expected that contracts will be released late next month and work will begin shortly before the close of the year.

In view of the possibility of assessment, although federal aid will be given for the project on Route 40, directly west of the city, it has been decided by Rome officials to let the incorporation plans stand until the highway has been completed. The committee is still functioning, members said, and the proposal will be presented again in the near future.

Man Of Year To Be Named

Continuing a custom established by Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, in cooperation with the Hilltop Business Men's association three years ago, "the Hilltop man of the year," an award presented annually to the Hilltopper who has rendered the greatest services to the community during the year, will be announced at the regular meeting of the post on Nov. 3.

The three-man committee in charge of the selection this year is composed of Dr. A. C. Myers, chairman; D. C. Finneran, past commander of the local Legion post; and Charlie Kent, president of the HBMA.

The first recipient of the award was Rev. Talmadge Magann, former pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist church. A year later, in 1937, Ray G. Hauntz, Hilltop grocer and president of the board of education, was given the honor. Last year the award was bestowed upon Dr. J. Freemont Bateman, state hospital superintendent, at present on a leave of absence, for his work in developing a recreational program at the state institution.

Several names have already been suggested for the 1939 citation and are now under consideration, Dr. Myers said this week.

A resident of the city of Columbus for 36 years, "Pop" lived on the West Side for several years prior to his coming to the Hilltop in 1914. He opened his present meat market and grocery shop seven years ago. In addition to being a member of the HBMA, he belongs to the Masonic Order and the K. of P.

Former West Gridders Performing In Colleges

Feature attraction of local football fans at present is the West High Buckaroos eleven which has bowled over three straight opponents in a trio of contests to date. Second to this will be the Ohio State squad which opens its season with a strong Missouri representative tomorrow afternoon at the Buckeye stadium.

Two years ago the S. Powell-av school had one of the better grid teams in the state. One of the main cogs in that well-oiled machine was one Jack Bellar, six feet two in his stocking feet and topping the scales at 220 pounds, a bulwark for the Buckaroos at his tackle post.

Bellar, along with Robert Richardson and "Apie" Kimbrel, were chosen on a squad of 22 players from 380 high schools in Ohio to compete with an all-Florida eleven in the Kumquat bowl in Florida Dec. 23, 1937. The three lads, all All-High members in the city here, were instrumental in the Ohio boys bouncing the southern footballers by a 12-0 margin.

West Grads Star

Today young Bellar, 20 years of age and a sophomore at Denison, is holding down a tackle post after a bang-up freshman year on the frosh eleven. One of the prize sophomores at the Granville college, he played four quarters last week as the Denison team walloped Transylvania 26-2 and seems headed for a good season.

Several other members of that undefeated, untied team have matriculated in colleges and all are doing well. Frank Richey, following an excellent record at Hun Prep, is enrolled at Ohio State university and is a candidate for that university's grid squad. Robert "Rowdy" Harrison is one of the prize prospects at Ohio university, Kimbrel played freshman ball at Ohio State and may matriculate at Ohio U., and Paul Schlosser, Findlay soph, has been the one-man show in that college's only start, a 14-0 defeat, with the Ohio Northern team scoring their tallies with the Hilltopper out of the line-up with an injury.

Another Hilltopper who is a candidate for Findlay's eleven is Ed Jones, former West gridder. Ed Hughes, an Ohio Wesleyan soph, will probably be a candidate for that school's basketball squad after a year with the freshmen while Charles Weigand, former Ohio Wesleyan and West athlete, will probably matriculate at Ohio State this fall.

Hades was the Greek name for the underworld and for its ruler.

Political Slants

By John Hess

Congress was called into special session a little over two weeks ago in order to consider one particular problem, that of keeping the United States out of the European war.

All of our representatives are agreed on one point, that this country must be kept out, but they are at odds to find the method. The administration and its supporters, cognizant of the potentiality of America's stand in world affairs, favor a policy of discouraging aggressors by applying methods short of war.

This involves the present embargo on arms and munitions to all warring nations. It is the contention of the administration that this provision should be repealed in order that material aid could be given Europe's status quo nations.

A minority in congress is opposing this move on the ground that such a proposal is far from a state of genuine neutrality, that within it are contained the germs of war and that because of the intricate ramifications and background of the present European struggle we are in no position to hand down a judgment.

Although public opinion in this country is overwhelmingly in favor of the Allied cause and the destruction of "Hitlerism," the proposal to repeal the embargo is fraught with real danger.

A state of prosperity may well be built on our war trade with England, France and the dominions. This would be a false prosperity which would fall after the holocaust had passed. The resulting deflation of industry synchronized to a war time situation would be disastrous.

Far more serious as far as our own hides are concerned, however, is this. With all Europe rapidly running short of money with which to finance a long war, we might eventually have to choose between internal collapse and lending money to the Allies in order that they may continue buying our war materials. Once we have let down the bars to loans abroad, active participation would be practically unavoidable.

Many believe that our participation in the last war was largely due to our financial stake in the Allied cause, and that congress was obliged to take the final step in order to protect our investment.

The real choice that congress must make is whether to take every step designed to keep war from our doorstep or to take the risk of involvement by giving material acquiescence to the Allied cause.

By seemingly designating its willingness to sacrifice all else to the end of repealing the arms embargo, the administration is fighting the proposal which would most likely insure our position above and away from Europe's flames of wrath. This is the proposal to put American trade on a cash and carry basis and to keep American ships out of zones of war.

All America knows well how an incident may sway a nation. This is the lesson of the Lusitania. The assurance that our ships and citizens will not go down to watery graves in the north Atlantic is the best guarantee we could give ourselves against involvement.

In line with its reputation as one of the most progressive schools in the city, West High school has announced the production of two musical shows.

The chief musical production of the year will be Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "H. M. S. Pinafore," tryouts for which are to be held within the next two weeks, according to H. E. Hutchison, music director.

A variety show, which will feature the concert band, the boys' and girls' glee clubs, and include a minstrel act in which all skits are performed in reverse, is the other musical of the season and is scheduled for production within the next six weeks.

Timely Suggestions and Recipes For Beginners in Art of Cookery

Parents Should Provide Opportunity for Children to Practice This Most Important Phase of Successful Homemaking

Young people are going back to school now, and in every home where there are children, the household will again bubble with the tales brought home from the classroom about the new problems of the day. These must be received by the parents with matched enthusiasm. The children need this support and want it. If parents think it makes their lives too complex, they had better remember there is no better recipe than this for staying young.

Girls, and many boys too, are interested in foods and cooking. They may be introduced to this important phase of homemaking at school in home economics classes, or in scout and other club work—all of these activities aim at the family and home problems of cooking, so parents should at least offer their children the setting and opportunity for them to put into practice some of these cooking ideas.

There is one point worth remembering when considering children in the kitchen. Be sure to let them have fun at their work. To most children, washing dishes is not fun, but, on the other hand, practically any child will grant that washing the dishes they use in the preparation of a meal is certainly part of the responsibility of that job. In other words, let the fun of the job and the pleasure of serving an attractive and perhaps a little bit glamorous dish be the high spot, and you'll find the other worries will be little ones.

Single dishes are probably the best place to start and as skill is developed, give them more and more independence in the kitchen, and soon whole meals will be as easily accomplished as learning a new sport and giving equally as much enjoyment, if not more, to the whole family.

Recipes used by children in the beginning stages of learning to cook must not be too complicated, yet by the simple addition of some of the ready-to-serve foods so common in all American homes, the single dish may often come to the table almost a complete meal. Teach the children simple and colorful tricks in garnishing — and you'll find canned vegetables a grand help in rounding out menus as well as adding color and balance. Any child can learn to open a can and heat a vegetable ready for serving, so let them use them often. They are so inexpensive and convenient that to be without them is not good homemaking.

The wholesome goodness and universal appeal of canned peas make them a popular accompaniment to many main dishes. This year's pack is of extra high quality because the growing and ripening conditions were ideal. The crop was harvested and packed at the height of its excellence, thus making canned peas the year's "best bet in vegetables." Homemakers know that canned peas are especially economical because of the many uses they have in cookery. The natural green color of canned peas and the uniformity in their quality make them daintily attractive for frequent use.

Here's a grand recipe for your young son or daughter to try as his or her first great culinary triumph.

Frankfurter, Rice and Canned Pea Platter

Frankfurters (desired number)
2 cups boiled rice
1 can peas
4 tbs. butter
Cheese, if desired

Arrange on a baking platter a layer of rice and over this place the peas and frankfurters. Dot with butter and bake at 350° until the frankfurters are done—about 30 minutes. If cheese is desired, slit each frankfurter and insert thin strips of cheese before baking.

Since not enough children are born in the cities to replace their parents there is a constant influx of young people from the farms into the cities.

Rug Beating Is Thing of Past

The days are gone forever when, to clean a rug thoroughly, it was necessary to hang it on a clothesline or lay it on the grass and beat it with a bamboo or steel wire contraption.

Today, thanks to electricity and the vacuum cleaner, rug beating is a thing of the past in millions of homes. Moreover, in addition to eliminating much work and drudgery, the vacuum cleaner raises practically no dust and thus greatly reduces the time required for dusting.

Household Refrigerator

To get the best results from the household refrigerator, it is well to decide in advance which foods are to go in and which ones to be taken out instead of pondering the question while the door is open. Every time that happens a temperature goes up and the longer the door stays open the higher up it goes. Another wise precaution is to make sure that cooked foods are well cooled before putting them into the food chest, otherwise the heat and moisture generated will also cause the temperature to rise.

Yellow for Light

To brighten a poorly lighted bedroom, a color scheme includes walls painted daffodil yellow, a paler yellow ceiling and white woodwork with thin lines of orange color.

Care of Dishcloths

To save your dishcloths use a medium-sized cork dipped into scouring powder when polishing paring knives or other cutlery.

The service flag was originated during the World war by Capt. R. F. Queisser of Cleveland in honor of his sons.

IT'S UNDOUBTEDLY TRUE

But there's no exaggeration about the steady flow of warmth put out by Great Heart coal – or its lasting quality that will hold a fire with drafts closed from 24 to 48 hours. There's no question about its heating power being ample for the coldest weather, and the fact that it makes less than a bushel of ash per ton of coal.

Great Heart is sold with a money back guarantee of satisfaction. And you'll find it thrifty in its cost per season.

Modern Poetry

Edited by Esther Weakley

THE VICTOR

A year ago I would, in phrase polite,
Have begged your pardon had I brushed
By accident your sleeve, however slight,
Though we, just strangers, in a crowd were crushed
You would, no doubt, have turned to me and said,
"No harm; don't mention it, the fault was mine."
Such courtesies are shown by men well bred;
And so our manners we the more refine.

Or had you met some minor accident,
I might have sickened at the sight of blood,
But of my means and strength I would have spent
To ease your pain and stop the vital flood.
If such mishap to you had been more grave
I should have thought of those whom you hold dear,
Devised as best I could some way to save
Their hearts from pain; to mitigate their fears.

But now I see you lie in gory mud;
You groan and clasp your hand upon the hole
From which my bayonet let out your blood.
You are another added to the roll
That I must kill for glory to my state.
Though you nor I have done the other wrong
Our flesh must feed some patriotic hate,
Our death give fervor to some victor's song.

While blood between your fingers forms a clot
Mine strip the blood off my bayonet,
Wipe on my breeches leg a bloody spot.
Why not for, ere this mad day's sun is set,
My clothes will be befouled in every thread
As into this mad butchery I pitch,
Or I'll be mingled with the filthy dead;
Lie rotting in a brain bespattered ditch.

Upon your fall I do not wish to gloat,
Although you rushed on me to take my life.
It had to be my stomach or your throat;
By strength or luck I yet survive our strife.
But is your part or mine, poor wretch, the worse?
You rest from all this blood and fire; the hell
Of memories that all my life will
Your cry I'll hear; I'll see you as you fell.

Yours is the crime to speak a foreign tongue—
You beg for water? I know what you mean.
The last I have to you, so fair and young.
I freely give. Here, drink from my canteen.—
Ah! Here am I, a soldier, turning soft!
We both were trained in methods most approved
To blast and rend; by drill repeated oft
To strike down other men and stand unmoved.

But why should either you or I complain?
They'll place upon a flag a gilded star
For you, upon a plaque they'll carve your name,
And thus proclaim you fought a holy war.
A star for me in widely distant land
Likewise may—my—died in righteous cause;
Although by violence I stayed your hand
Which strove to further sacred, righteous laws.

But what is all this insane slaughter for?
Our financiers must have their dividend;
Old men, [illegible] called to go to war;
Would have high prices, see their trade extend.
These all get shining dollars for their precious gains.
Our shattered bidies save their foreign loans.
To you and me the glory all remains.

—George E. Wagner.

Here's a Tip

A window shade should be six inches longer than window, to keep it from pulling off the roller when lowered. Have shade four inches wider than window pane to keep out light from along the sides. Raise and lower shades slowly and if it rolls unevenly start it over again. To pull it straight might tear it.

This Is Good

Cut regular garden yellow squash in one-half inch crossway slices. Discard rind and roll slices in corn meal. Season well and brown quickly in bacon fat heated in frying pan. Cover and cook four minutes. Lightly spread with chili sauce.

Round About The Hilltop

From the Bleachers at the West South Game

Boy Scouts buster chasing hats in the stiff breeze than doing their good turn . . . Said wind gave attendants no end of trouble what with canvases flapping in the breeze. The band members, too, had their troubles. One tuba player with his eyes full of sand rammed the bell of his horn into a post . . . Came the shower of rain just as the half ended and there was a general scurry for the shelter beneath the bleachers. In the north end of the stadium braving the elements sat one Ed House, only person in the crowd of 4,000 who had thought to bring a raincoat. Fell a few drops of rain and the sun began to shine again and Ed's look of triumph quickly faded . . . The Lutz had one good quality. Late comers who had to stand around the edges got an opportunity for better seats when the exodus to shelter started.

Seen in the student section gayly decked with brightly colored scarfs were Phyllis Ross, Florene Williams, Jane Hartley, Mrs. Ray Paullin, and five-year-old daughter . . . Art Bellar back from the Legion convention in Chicago . . . C. S. Kennedy hunting for some one supposed to have his pay check . . . Dr. C. B. Marquand, former West instructor, greeting old friends . . . Ray Hauntz and Ed Stauch discussing football, politics, etc. . . . School-board member Joe Ray and Page Plattenberg getting their first glimpse of Buck strength.

Things I've Learned

Apie Kimbrel reported to Ohio university for the fall semester. Looks as if Coach Wise may have one of his proteges out for football next year . . . Carl Holland hasn't missed a Fairfield County fair in 16 years . . . The theme song at Circleville will soon be "Roll Out The Pumpkins" . . . Frank Andrix, former West and OSU grad, is now with the General Electric Corp. in Schenectady, N. Y. . . . S. W. Renner has a radiator painted nine different colors in his paint store . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fancy have moved in their new home at 1935 Fairmont-av . . . We understand that a certain candidate in another town by the name of Hess uses as a campaign slogan: "Vote for Hess and Hope for the Best." (Not a bad slogan for candidates to adopt universally).

Hat Losers

Masculine Hilltoppers accustomed to going without hats all summer are now finding it difficult to remember to pick up their hats in offices and eating places. Prominent among the hat losers are Don Smith, Ed Melvin, C. C. Hartley (already lost one this fall) and yours truly. Melvin is purposely wearing an old chapeau just to get in practice of remembering.

Of This and That

B. A. Ashcraft reports that a peach tree at his home burst forth in full bloom last week during the unseasonable "hot spell." B. A. also has a cotton plant that is almost ready to open up its stores of snowy cotton fiber . . . No more pleasant conversationalist on the Hilltop than A. G. Mechem, local shoe man . . . Crochet fans attention: a partly completed table cloth (36 medallions) was left at the Hauntz Market several days ago. Owner may have same by applying to Christine with proper identification.

• • •

Reports have it that Jack Shank had two, five to one bets that the Giants would not beat the Reds in Thursday's game . . . Post card in this a. m.'s mail from Dansville, N. Y., where C. O. Wright is visiting . . . Val Boehm, former Aquinas and Xavier football star and all-around athlete, is now playing with the Columbus Bullies pro team . . . A. C. "Pop" Waymer and wife, "Effie" attended their first football game Sunday when they watched the local pro team beat Chicago. In an exciting moment "Effie" unthoughtedly whacked a fellow spectator in the seat in front of her with her program. Both are now enthusiastic fans of the gridiron sport.

The House at the Side of the Road (Remodeled)

(Apologies to Sam Walter Foss)

I wish for a house at the side of the road,
And ground for miles around;
Where folks in tears could stay for years,
And peace and joy would abound.

We would find no fault with the lame and halt;
They'd be welcome therein without tin;
The poor and needy would find nothing greedy
And all would be wearing a grin.

The scorners sort would be obsolete,
And I would ban the cynic's clan;
We'd have good food that'd be understood;
To spread cheer without fear I would plan.

We'd have Auto's galore, perhaps ten or more,
And fill them with Pure Oil gas;
Our hands wouldn't sell nor they'll put in the oil,
Pure service is always first class.

I like the plan to be a friend to man,
But my creditors might roar and howl;
I've studied it out, it will work without doubt,
Only I'm a little bit short of the kale.

Fire Chief Welch spoke on fire prevention.

There were exhibitions of first aid and flag signaling. The most entertaining event of the evening was a marionette show given by Paul and Raymond Haughn, who received special award for their accomplishments.
